Clause 1.—Having regard to the fact that a number of rules and orders will be required under the new law, we have empowered the Governor General in Council to fix the date of its commencement by notification in the Gazette.

Clause 3.—In addition to certain drafting alterations designed to make the scope of the clause more clear, we have added a proviso to sub-clause (1) exempting railways or tramways which have been brought under the operation of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, from the operation of this clause.

Clause 4, sub-clause (1).—We have modified sub-head (a) which required the consent of a local authority before a license was granted, though it empowered the Local Government, for reasons to be recorded and communicated to the local authority, to dispense with such consent, by providing that the Local Government shall not grant a license without previously consulting the local authority and considering any objections which it may have to urge. Our Colleague, the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale, objects to this modification. We have omitted sub-head (b) which permitted licenses to be granted subject to a time-limit. We have, in sub-head (f) (formerly sub-head (g)), made the sanction of the Governor General in Council necessary to any variation of the provisions in the schedule and made it clear that additions are included in variations.

Clause 4, sub-clause (2).—We have omitted sub-head (c) which permitted the revocation of a license in the case of a local authority for mere default in executing works or supplying energy and thus put these licenses in the same position as those granted to other persons.

Clause 5.—We have inserted words in clause (b) requiring a local authority to have received an intimation from the Local Government that it is at liberty so to do before it may call on the licensee to sell its undertaking to such authority. We have added a new clause (c) giving the Local Government an option of purchase when no sale has been effected to a local authority or other person. Another new clause (g) provides for the working of the undertaking by an intending purchaser pending the completion of the sale if this has not been effected before the date fixed for the revocation of the license.

Clause 7.—We have, in sub-clause (1), made the sanction of the Local Government necessary to a purchase by a local authority. Sub-clause (3) is new and confers on the Local Government the option of purchasing the portion of an undertaking which is outside the local area for which a local authority is constituted when the local authority has elected to purchase the portion within such area. Sub-clause (5) is also new and permits the local authority, with the sanction of the Local Government, to waive its option of purchasing and, instead of purchasing, to arrange with the licensee for his continuing to work the undertaking until the expiration of the next period after which the option of purchase again arises.

Clause 8.—For the former clause 8, which related to licenses subject to a time-limit, we have substituted a new provision giving the licensee, where neither the local authority nor the Local Government has purchased his undertaking, the option, to be exercised within six months, of disposing of his land and works in such manner as he thinks fit before the Local Government can take steps to have the works removed as provided by clause 5, sub-clause (f), of our revised Bill.

Clause 9.—This clause takes the place of another clause relating to licenses with time-limits. Sub-clause (1), which deals with the purchase by the licensee of other undertakings, corresponds to clause I of the Schedule to the Bill as introduced. Sub-clauses (2) and (3) are new, the former prohibits the licensee from transferring his undertaking or any part thereof without the consent of the Local Government, and the latter clause declares all agreements made in contravention of sub-clauses (1) and (2) to be void.

Clause 10.—We have simplified the provisions of this clause which now empowers the Local Government to vary the terms upon which a licensee shall be bound to sell his undertaking.

Clause 12—By a slight addition we have made it clear that sub-clause (2) refers to the placing of wires over, as well as on, private property. We have expanded the proviso to the sub-clause so as to give power to the Magistrate or Commissioner of Police to order the position of any stay or strut to be altered, and further, on the application of the owner or occupier, to order any stay or strut which has been already fixed to be removed altogether.

Clause 13.—In addition to prescribing the minimum scale at which plans may be drawn we have provided, in sub-clause (1), sub-head (a), that the licensee shall intimate to the repairing authority or owner the time at which it is proposed to commence the execution of any new works, and we have added a new sub-head (f) providing for the giving, except in cases of emergency, of 48 hours' notice of works which consist of the repair, renewal and amendment of existing works and requiring such works to be carried out with all reasonable despatch. We have also provided in sub-clause (3) that a temporary aërial line shall in no case be used for a period exceeding six weeks.

Clause 14.—In sub-clause (2), sub-head (a), we have made provisions for plans and notice of time of commencing work similar to those in clause 13 and we have further extended the time for notice under this sub-head from fourteen days to one month, and have in sub-head (b) given the owner fourteen days instead of one week for serving a requisition that any question shall be settled by arbitration.

We have omitted clause 16 of the Bill as introduced, which was taken from the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, and empowered the licensee to carry out works himself in default of the person or authority responsible for repairs, as the clause appeared to us to be unnecessary, having regard to the general scheme of this Bill and the powers herein conferred on a licensee.

Clause 17 (formerly clause 18).—We have in sub-clause (1) required the Local Government to consult the local authority before communicating to a licensee its approval of any proposed aërial line and in sub-clause (3) we have restricted the power to cause trees to be removed to Magistrates of the first class.

Clause 19 (formerly clause 20).—We have provided in sub-clause (1) that the licensee or any person duly authorized by him should inform the occupier of his intention before actually entering any premises in pursuance of the power conferred by this sub-clause, while in sub-clause (2) we have substituted the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police for the Local Government, as the authority which is to give the special order necessary under that sub-clause.

Clause 21 (formerly clause 22).—We have recast the proviso to this clause so as to make its intention, which appeared to us to be somewhat ambiguous, more clear.

Clause 23 (formerly clause 24).—In sub-clause (2) we have required the licensee to obtain the consent of the Local Government before charging for energy at different rates for lighting and for other purposes, and we have added a new sub-clause (3) providing for the reference of differences or disputes under the clause to arbitration.

Clause 24 (formerly clause 25).—By a new proviso to this clause we have prohibited the licensee from exercising the power of discontinuing the supply to any consumer in any case in which a dispute as to whether the meter is in proper order has arisen and is not yet determined.

Clause 26 (formerly clause 27).—We have extended the protection conferred by this clause to docks, wharves and piers vested in or controlled by local authorities.

Clause 27 (formerly clause 28).—We have added words to sub-clause (3) to meet the case of disputes arising between licensees under the proposed law and licensees of private telephone wires and we have provided that all disputes under the sub-clause shall be referred to the Governor General in Council instead of to the Local Government.

Clause 28 (formerly clause 29).—We have required notices of accidents to be sent within twenty-four hours to the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police as well as to the Local Government and we have specifically included accidents from electric shock or fall of an aërial line among the accidents of which notice is to be given. Sub-clause (2) of this clause formed sub-clause (2) of clause 31 of the Bill as introduced. The rest of that clause has been relegated to the rule-making clause.

Clause 30 (formerly clause 32).—The alteration in the opening words of sub-clause (4) is similar to that we have already explained in reference to sub-clause (1) of clause 19, whilst the new proviso to the sub-clause is designed for the protection of the consumer in the event of any dispute arising between him and the licensee as to the condition of the meter.

Clause 31 (formerly clause 34).—We have added a proviso to this clause exempting railways and tramways under the Indian Railways Act, 1890, and we have slightly widened the second proviso by extending it to cases in which the energy is generated in connection with, as well as on, the premises where it is used.

Clause 32, which provides for the constitution of Advisory Boards, is new. It will be seen that the clause contemplates the appointment of a general Board and of provincial Boards, consisting of either five or three members, of whom a certain number are to be nominated by such local authorities, Chambers of Commerce or other Associations as the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may by rule prescribe, and that provision is made for the payment of the travelling expenses incurred by any member in the performance of his duty.

Clause 33, which contains the rule-making power, corresponds to clauses 33 and 35 of the Bill as introduced. Besides reproducing the subject-matter of those clauses with considerable amplifications, this clause gives power to make rules for the appointment of Electric Inspectors by Local Governments, and, with the sanction of the Local Government, by local authorities, and for prescribing their qualifications, remuneration and duties and for the appointment of the members of Advisory Boards and defining their duties and procedure.

Clause 34, which follows the lines of sub-sections (3), (4), (5) and (6) of section 20 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, is new. Sub-clause (3) prescribes the main duty of an Advisory Board, which is to report on the expediency and suitability of all proposed rules before publication.

Clause 36 (formerly clause 38).—To provide for a case in which the Local Government may be concerned in a dispute we have by this clause conferred a power on the Governor General in Council as well as on the Local Government to appoint an arbitrator.

Clause 39 (formerly clause 41).—We have made various alterations in this clause, the most important of which are—

(a) the increase of the term of imprisonment prescribed in sub-clause (2) from one year to two years ;

(b) the introduction of a new sub-head (b) in sub-clause (3) providing for the case of a licensee failing to prevent any excessive variation of pressure ;

(c) the increase of the daily fine prescribed under sub-clause (5) from twenty to fifty rupees ;

(d) the increase of the fine prescribed under sub-clause (6) from one hundred to two hundred rupees ;

(e) the increase of the two fines prescribed under sub-clause (8) from fifty and ten rupees to one hundred and twenty rupees, respectively ; and

(f) the addition of a new sub-clause (10) making it clear that the Government is entitled to claim the benefit of the protection afforded by certain of the penal clauses there enumerated in the case of energy supplied by or of works belonging to it.

Clause 40 is new and provides for the performance by the Governor General in Council of the functions assigned by Part II to the Local Government when the area of supply is a cantonment, fortress, arsenal, factory, dockyard, camp or other building or place occupied by Government for naval or military purposes.

Clause 42 (formerly clause 43).—We have added the Howrah Bridge Electric Lighting Act, 1902, which extended the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, to the Howrah Bridge, to the Acts to be repealed. We have also added saving clauses covering all licenses under the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, and all licenses granted by or agreements made with the sanction of the Government for the supply of electricity before the commencement of the proposed Act and then in force.

The Schedule.—We have already explained that clause 1 of the Schedule has been transferred to the body of the Bill as clause 9. With regard to the other clauses of the Schedule we only think it necessary to note that we have omitted the provisos to sub-clause (2) of clause VIII (formerly clause IX) and sub-clause (2) of clause IX (formerly clause X) as unnecessary, that we have extended the distances within which owners or occupiers under clause IX and the Local Government under clause X (formerly clause XI) can requisition the licensee for a supply of energy to one hundred yards in both cases, that we have recast the fourth proviso to sub-clause (1) of clause IX so as to make the Electric Inspector or other specially appointed officer the judge as to whether the electric wire, fittings and works in any premises to which the licensee has to supply energy are in good order, that we have made it a condition of a requisition by the Local Government for a supply of energy under clause X that it should ask for the supply for at least one year, that we have made the provisions of the first, fourth, fifth and sixth provisos to sub-clause (1) and of sub-clause (2) of clause IX applicable to every case in which a requisition for the supply of energy is made by the Government under clause X, and, lastly, that we have expanded the provisions of clause XV (formerly clause XVI) so as to make it clear that it covers the inspection and testing of the generating, converting and testing stations of the licensee and all parts of his electric system.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Section 4).

Supply of energy to the public or for traction to be licensed.

electric traction or to the public for any purpose except under, and in accordance with the terms and conditions of, a license granted by the Local Government under this Part:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any railway or tramway subject to the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890. X of 1890.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether energy is or is not supplied or to be supplied for electric traction or to the public for any purpose within the meaning of sub-section (1), the matter shall be referred to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

[Ben. Act IX of 1895, s. 3.]

Grant and revocation of licenses.

4. (1) The Local Government may grant a license to any person to supply energy for any purpose in any specified local area, and also to lay down electric supply-lines for the conveyance and transmission of energy from a generating station situated outside such specified local area to the boundary of such specified local area in any case in which the energy to be supplied is to be generated outside such specified local area; and in respect of every such license and the grant thereof the following provisions shall have effect, namely :—

(a) Before granting a license under this Part the Local Government shall consult every local authority concerned, and where such local authority advances any objection to the grant of a license, the Local Government shall take such objection into consideration and, if in its opinion it is insufficient, shall record in writing and communicate to such local authority its reasons for such opinion.

[Ben. Act IX 1895, s. 3 (ii); 45 & 46 Vict., c. 56, s. 3 (5).]

(b) Any person applying for a license under this Part shall publish a notice of his application in such manner and with such particulars as the Governor General in Council may by rule direct, and no such license shall be granted until three months from the date of the first publication of such notice as aforesaid have expired and until all representations or objections received by the Local Government within that period with reference thereto have been considered by it.

[45 & 46 Vict., c. 56, s. 3 (6).]

(c) No application for a license under this Part shall be made by any local authority except in pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of such authority held after one month's previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof has been given in the manner in which notices of meetings of such local authority are usually given.

[Ben. Act IX 1895, s. 3, (...)]

(d) A license under this Part may prescribe such terms as to the limits within which, and the conditions under which, the supply of energy is to be compulsory or permissive, and as to the limits of price to be charged in respect of the supply of energy, and generally as to such other matters as the Local Government may think fit.

[51 & 52 Vict., c. 12, s. 1.]

(e) The grant of a license under this Part for any purpose shall not in any way hinder or restrict the grant of another license to another person within the same area of supply for a like purpose.

[62 & 63 Vict., c. 19, s. 1.]

(f) The provisions contained in the schedule shall be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under this Part, save in so far as they are expressly added to, varied or excepted by the license, and shall, subject to such additions, variations or exceptions (if any) which the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, is hereby empowered to make, apply to the undertaking authorized by the license, and shall be binding in like manner and to the same extent as if enacted in this Act.

(2) The Local Government may, if in its opinion the public interest so requires, revoke a license, as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, in any of the following cases, namely :—

(a) where the licensee, in the opinion of the Local Government, makes wilful and unreasonably prolonged default in doing anything required of him by or under this Act;

(b) where the licensee breaks any of the terms or conditions of his license the breach of which is expressly declared by such license to render it liable to revocation;

(c) where the licensee not being a local authority fails, within a period of six months after the date of his license or such further period as the Local Government may determine and before exercising any of the powers conferred on him thereby in relation to the execution of works, to show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that he is in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license, or fails to make the deposit or furnish the security required by his license;

(d) where the licensee is, in the opinion of the Local Government, unable, by reason of his insolvency, fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license;

(e) where the licensee, not being a local authority, shows, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, at any time after the commencement of his license, that his undertaking cannot be carried on with profit and ought to be abandoned;

The Indian Electricity Bill.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 5-6.)

(g) in any other case, with the consent of the licensee and, if the licensee is not a local authority, with that of the local authority (if any) concerned, and upon such terms and conditions as it thinks just :

Provided that the Local Government shall not revoke the license as to part only of the area of supply if the licensee represents that he desires to be relieved of his liabilities in respect of the whole.

(3) Where the Local Government might, under sub-section (2), revoke a license, it may, instead of revoking the license, permit it to remain in force subject to such further terms and conditions as it thinks fit, and any further terms or conditions shall be binding upon, and be observed by, the licensee, and shall be of like force and effect as if they were contained in the license.

Provisions where license of licensee, not being a local authority, is revoked.

5. Where the Local Government revokes the license of any licensee, not being a local authority, as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) The Local Government shall serve a notice of the revocation upon the licensee and upon any local authority concerned, and shall in the notice fix a date on which the revocation shall take effect, and on and with effect from that date all the powers and liabilities of the licensee under this Act shall absolutely cease and determine.

(b) Within one month after the service of such notice as aforesaid any local authority concerned may, if the Local Government has intimated to the local authority that it is at liberty so to do, by notice in writing, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, to the local authority the undertaking or such part thereof as is carried on within the area for which it is constituted, on payment of the value of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant of the licensee suitable to, and used by him for, the purpose of the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid, such value to be, in case of difference or dispute, determined by arbitration :

Provided that the value of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant shall be deemed to be their fair market-value at the time of purchase, due regard being had to the nature and condition for the time being of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant, and to the state of repair thereof, and to the circumstance that they are in such a position as to be ready for immediate working, and to the suitability of the same for the purposes of the undertaking, and, where a part only of the undertaking is purchased, to any loss occasioned by severance, but without any addition in respect of compulsory purchase or of goodwill or of any profits which may be or might have been made from the undertaking, or of any similar considerations.

(c) Where no purchase has been effected by a local authority under clause (b), and any other person is willing to purchase the undertaking or such part of it as aforesaid, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, with the consent of the licensee, or without the consent of the licensee in case the price is not less than that for which the local authority might have purchased the same, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, to such other person the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid.

(d) Where a purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c), the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid, shall vest in the purchasers free from any debts, mortgages or similar obligations of the licensee or attaching to the undertaking; and the revocation of the license shall extend only to the revocation of the rights, powers, authorities, duties and obligations of the licensee from whom the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, is purchased, and, save as aforesaid, the license shall remain in full force, and the purchaser shall be deemed to be the licensee.

(e) Where no purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c), the Local Government shall have the option of purchasing the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, and, if the Local Government elects to purchase, the licensee shall sell the undertaking or part thereof to the Local Government upon terms and conditions similar to those set forth in clauses (b) and (d) save that where the Local Government is the purchaser the license shall, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation.

(f) Where no purchase has been effected under any of the foregoing clauses, the Local Government may forthwith cause the works of the licensee to be removed and the street to be reinstated and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

(g) If the licensee has been required to sell the undertaking or any part thereof, and if the sale has not been completed by the date fixed in the notice issued under clause (a), the purchaser may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, work the undertaking or such part thereof pending the completion of the sale.

[Ibid, cl.

Provisions where license of local authority is revoked.

6. Where the Local Government revokes the license of a local authority as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, it may forthwith cause the works of the licensee to be removed and the street to be reinstated, and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

(2) In any such case as aforesaid, if a local authority does not elect to purchase, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions save that where the Local Government purchases the undertaking or any part thereof under such option the license shall, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation.

(3) Where, in exercise of the option conferred by sub-section (1), a local authority has elected to purchase the portion of the undertaking which is within the area for which it is constituted, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions in respect to any portion of the undertaking which is without such area.

(4) Not less than twelve months' notice in writing of any election to purchase under this section shall be served upon the licensee by the local authority or the Local Government, as the case may be.

[New sub-s. (5) of s. 7.]

(5) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the local authority may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, waive its option of purchase and enter into an agreement with the licensee for the working by him of the undertaking, or such portion thereof as is in the area for which such authority is constituted, until the expiration of the next subsequent period referred to in sub-section (1), upon such terms and conditions as may be stated in such agreement.

[New s. 8.] Provisions where license revoked with consent of licensee on expiration of periods referred to in section 7 (1).

8. Where, on the expiration of any of the periods referred to in section 7, sub-section (1), neither the local authority nor the Local Government purchases the undertaking or any portion thereof, and the license is, with the consent of the licensee, revoked, the licensee shall have the option of disposing of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant belonging to the undertaking in such manner as he may think fit:

Provided that, if the licensee does not exercise such option within a period of six months, the Local Government may proceed to take action as provided in section 5, clause (f).

[62 & 63 Vict., c. 19, sch., cl. 3.] Licensee not to purchase, or associate himself with, other licensed undertakings or transfer his undertaking.

9. (1) The licensee shall not, at any time without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government, acquire, by purchase or otherwise, the undertaking of, or associate himself with, any person supplying, or intending to supply, energy under any other license, and, before applying for such consent, the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice of the application to every local authority, both in the licensee's area of supply, and also in the area or district in which such other person supplies, or intends to supply, energy.

(2) The licensee shall not at any time transfer his undertaking, or any part thereof, by sale, mortgage, lease, exchange or otherwise without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government.

(3) Any agreement relating to any transaction of the nature described in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) which may be made without such consent as aforesaid shall be void.

[51 & 52 Vict., c. 12, s. 3.] General power for Local Government to vary terms of purchase.

10. Notwithstanding anything in sections 5, 7 and 8, the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, in any license granted under this Act, vary the terms upon which a licensee shall be bound to sell his undertaking.

[Ibid, s. 9.] Annual accounts of licensee.

11. (1) Every licensee shall prepare and render to the Local Government, on or before such date in each year as the Local Government may by rule fix, an annual statement of accounts of his undertaking made up to such date, in such form, and containing such particulars, as may be prescribed by the said rule.

(2) The licensee shall keep copies of such annual statement at his office and sell the same to any applicant at a price not exceeding one rupee per copy.

[Ben. Act IX of 1895, s. 6. 62 & 63 Vict., c. 19, App.] Provisions as to the opening and breaking up of streets, etc.

12. (1) Any licensee may, from time to time but subject always to the terms and conditions of his license,—

(d) repair, alter or remove the same; and

(e) do all other acts necessary for the due supply of energy within the area of supply.

(2) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee, without the consent of the local authority or of the owner and occupier concerned, as the case may be, to lay down or place any electric supply-line or other work in, through or against any building, or on, over or under any land not dedicated to public use, whereon, whereover or whereunder any electric supply-line or work has not already been lawfully laid down or placed by such licensee:

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Section 13.)

Provided that any stay or strut required for the sole purpose of securing in position any support of an aerial electric supply-line may be fixed on any building or land or, having been so fixed, may be altered, notwithstanding the objection of the owner or occupier of such building or land, if the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, by order in writing so directs:

Provided also that if at any time the owner or occupier of any building or land on which any such stay or strut has been fixed shows sufficient cause, the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, may by order in writing direct any such stay or strut to be removed or altered.

(3) Every order made by a District Magistrate or a Commissioner of Police under sub-section (2) shall be subject to revision by the Local Government.

[45 & 46 Vict., c. 56, s. 13.]

(4) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to open or break up any street not repairable by a local authority, or any railway, tramway or bridge, without the consent of the person by whom the same is repairable, unless with the written consent of the Local Government:

Provided that the Local Government shall not give any such consent as aforesaid, until notice has been given, by advertisement or otherwise as the Local Government may direct, to the person by whom the street, railway, tramway or bridge concerned is repairable, and until all representations or objections received in accordance with the notice have been considered by the Local Government.

[62 & 63 Vict., c. 19, sch., cls. 14 & 15.]

Notice of new works.

13. (1) Where the exercise of any of the powers of a licensee in relation to the execution of any works involves the placing of any works in, under, over, along or across any street, part of a street, railway, tramway, canal or waterway, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) Not less than one month before commencing the execution of the works (not being a house-service or the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered), the licensee shall serve upon the person or authority responsible for the repair of the street or part of a street (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the repairing authoriry") or upon the person or authority for the time being entitled to work the railway, tramway, canal or waterway (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), as the case may be, a notice in writing describing the proposed works, together with a detailed plan thereof, on a scale which shall not be smaller than 88 feet to an inch, or such other scale as the Local Government may approve, and intimating the manner in which, and the time at which, it is proposed to interfere with or alter any existing works, and shall, upon being required to do so by the repairing authority or owner, as the case may be, from time to time give such further information in relation thereto as may be desired

(b) If the repairing authority intimates to the licensee that it disapproves of such works or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, the licensee may within one week of receiving such intimation appeal to the Local Government, whose decision, after considering the reasons given by the repairing authority for its action, shall be final.

(c) If the repairing authority fails to give notice in writing of its approval or disapproval to the licensee within one month, it shall be deemed to have approved of the works and plan, and the licensee, after giving not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing to the repairing authority, may proceed to carry out the works in accordance with the notice and plan served under clause (a).

(d) If the owner disapproves of such works or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, he may, within three weeks after the service of the notice under clause (a), serve a requisition upon the licensee demanding that any question in relation to the works, or to compensation, or to his obligations to others in respect thereof, shall be determined by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration.

(e) Where no requisition has been served by the owner upon the licensee under clause (d), the owner shall be deemed to have approved of the works and plan, and in that case, or where after a requisition for arbitration the matter has been determined by arbitration, the works may, upon payment or securing of compensation, be executed according to the notice and plan, subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties.

(f) Where the works to be executed consist of the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered, the licensee shall, except in cases of emergency, give to the repairing authority, or to the owner, as the case may be, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention to execute such works, and, on the expiry of such notice, such works shall be commenced forthwith and shall be carried on with all reasonable despatch and, if possible, both by day and by night until completed.

(2) Where the licensee makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the licensee may, in case of emergency due to the breakdown of an underground electric supply-line, after giving notice in writing to the repairing authority or the owner, as the case may be, of his intention to do so, place an aërial line without complying with the provisions of sub-section (1):

Provided that such aërial line shall be used only until the defect in the under-ground electric

Alteration of pipes, wires, etc.

14. (1) Any licensee may alter the position of any pipe (not forming, in a case where the licensee is not a local authority, part of a local authority's main sewer), or of any wire under or over any place which he is authorized to open or break up, if such pipe or wire is likely to interfere with the exercise of his powers under this Act; and any person may alter the position of any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee under or over any such place as aforesaid, if such electric supply-lines or works are likely to interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in him.

(2) In any such case as aforesaid the following provisions shall, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary between the parties concerned, apply, namely:—

(a) Not less than one month before commencing any alteration, the licensee or other person desiring to make the same (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall serve upon the person for the time being entitled to the pipe, wire, electric supply-lines or works, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), a notice in writing, together with a plan, on a scale which shall not be smaller than 88 feet to the inch, or such other scale as the Local Government may approve, describing the proposed alteration, and intimating the time when it is to be commenced, and shall subsequently give such further information in relation thereto as the owner may desire.

(b) Within fourteen days after the service of the notice and plan upon the owner, the owner may serve upon the operator a requisition to the effect that any question arising upon the notice or plan shall be settled by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration.

(c) Every arbitrator to whom a reference is made under clause (b), shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owner is under, and may require the operator to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid as far as possible interference therewith.

(d) Where no requisition is served upon the operator under clause (b), or where such a requisition has been served and the matter has been settled by agreement or determined by arbitration, the alteration may, upon payment or securing of any compensation accepted or determined by arbitration, be executed in accordance with the notice and plan and subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties.

(e) The owner may, at any time before the operator is entitled to commence the alteration, serve upon the operator a statement in writing to the effect that he desires to execute the alteration himself and requires the operator to give such security for the repayment of any expenses as may be agreed upon or, in default of agreement, settled by arbitration.

(f) Where a statement is served upon the operator under clause (e), he shall, not less than forty-eight hours before the execution of the alteration is required to be commenced, furnish such security and serve upon the owner a notification in writing intimating the time when the alteration is required to be commenced, and the manner in which it is required to be made; and thereupon the owner may proceed to execute the alteration as required by the operator.

(g) Where the owner declines to comply, or does not, within the time and in the manner prescribed by a notification served upon him under clause (f), comply, with the notification, the operator may himself execute the alteration.

(h) All expenses properly incurred by the owner in complying with a notification served upon him by the operator under clause (f) may be recovered by him from the operator.

(i) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Laying of electric supply-lines, etc., near sewers, pipes or other electric supply-lines or works.

15. (1) Where a licensee requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down any new electric supply-lines (not being service-lines) or other works, near to which any sewer, drain, watercourse or work under the control of the Local Government or of any local authority, or any main, pipe, syphon, electric supply-line or other work belonging to any duly authorized person, has been lawfully placed, or where any duly authorized person requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down or constructing any new mains or pipes (not being service-pipes) or other works, near to which any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee have been lawfully placed, the licensee or such duly authorized person, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall, unless it is otherwise agreed upon between the parties interested or in case of sudden emergency, give to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorized person, or to the licensee, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing before commencing to dig or sink the trench, and the owner shall have the right to be present during the execution of the work, which shall be executed to the reasonable satisfaction of the owner.

(2) Where the operator finds it necessary to undermine, but not to alter, the position of any pipe, electric supply-line or work, he shall temporarily support it in position during the execution of the work, and before completion shall provide a suitable and proper foundation for it where so undermined.

(3) Where the operator (being the licensee) lays any electric supply-line across, or so as to be liable to touch, any mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines belonging to any duly authorized person or to any person supplying or using energy under this Act, he shall not, except with the consent of such person and of the Local Government, lay his electric supply-lines so as to come into contact with any such mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines, or, except with the like consent, employ any such mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines as conductors for the purpose of supplying energy.

(4) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof.

(5) Where any difference or dispute arises under this section, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

[45 & 46 Vict., c. 56, s. 14.]

(1) Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee to place any aërial line along or across any street unless and until the Local Government, after consulting the local authority, has communicated to him a general approval in writing of the methods of construction which he proposes to adopt:

Provided that the communication of such approval shall in no way relieve the licensee of his obligations with respect to any other consent required by or under this Act.

(2) Where any aërial line has been placed or maintained by a licensee in breach of the provisions of sub-section (1), the Local Government may require the licensee forthwith to remove the same, or may cause the same to be removed and recover from the licensee the expenses incurred in such removal.

[Cf. XIII of 1885, s. 18.]

(3) Where any tree, standing or lying near an aërial line, interrupts or interferes with, or is likely to interrupt or interfere with, the conveyance or transmission of energy, a Magistrate of the first class may, on the application of the licensee, cause the tree to be removed or otherwise dealt with as he thinks fit.

(4) When disposing of an application under sub-section (3), the Magistrate shall, in the case of any tree in existence before the placing of the aërial line, award to the person interested in the tree such compensation as he thinks reasonable, and such person may recover the same from the licensee.

(a) inspecting and testing the electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus for the supply of energy belonging to the licensee;

(b) ascertaining the quantity of energy consumed or supplied; or

(c) removing, where a supply of energy is no longer required, or where the licensee is authorized to take away and cut off such supply, any electric supply-lines, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to the licensee.

[Ibid, s. 17.]

Restrictions on licensee's controlling or interfering with use of energy.

20. (1) A licensee shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of appliance for utilizing energy supplied by him, or, save as provided by section 23, sub-section (2), or by section 30, sub-section (6), in any way to control or interfere with the use of such energy:

[Ibid., s. 18.]

Obligation on licensee to supply energy.

21. Where energy is supplied by a licensee, every person within the area of supply shall, except in so far as is otherwise provided by the terms and conditions of the license, be entitled, on application, to a supply on the same terms as those on which any other person in the same area is entitled in similar circumstances to a corresponding supply:

22. (1) The electrical power at which any consumer shall be entitled to be supplied by a licensee, shall not exceed what is necessary for the maximum consumption of energy on his premises:

Provided that, where a consumer has required a licensee to supply him at a specified maximum power, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum except after one month's notice in writing to the licensee, and the licensee may recover from the consumer any expenses incurred by him by reason of the alteration in respect of the service-lines by which energy is supplied to the consumer's premises, or of any fittings or apparatus of the licensee upon those premises.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between a consumer and a licensee as to the power at which energy is to be supplied under sub-section (1) or as to the amount of the expenses incurred under the proviso thereto, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

[Ben. Act IX of 1895, s. 19.]

24. Where any person neglects to pay any charge for energy or any other sum due from him to a licensee in respect of the supply of energy to him, the licensee may, after giving not less than seven clear days' notice in writing to such person and without prejudice to his right to recover such charge or other sum by suit, cut off the supply and for that purpose cut or disconnect any electric supply-line or other works through which energy may be supplied, and may discontinue the supply until such charge or other sum, together with any expenses incurred by him in cutting off and re-connecting the supply, are paid, but no longer:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply in any case in which any difference, or dispute of the nature described in section 30, sub section (7), has been referred for determination by an Electric Inspector or other person as therein provided until such Inspector or other person has given his decision.

[45 & 46 Viet., c. 56, s. 26.]

Protection of telegraphic, telephonic and electric-signalling lines.

27. (1) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to lay down any underground, or place any aërial, electric supply-line or other works, or to make any alterations in any telegraph line, maintained or worked by the Government or by any person licensed under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, without the previous sanction of the telegraph-authority, to whom the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice in writing of his intention, specifying the course of the works or alterations proposed, the manner in which the works are to be utilized, the amount and nature of the energy to be transmitted, and the extent to, and manner in, which (if at all) earth returns are to be used; and the licensee shall conform with such reasonable requirements, either general or special, as may be laid down by the telegraph-authority for preventing any telegraph line from being injuriously affected by such works or alterations:

XIII of 1885.

Provided that, in case of emergency (which shall be stated by the licensee in writing to the telegraph-authority) arising from defects in any of the electric supply-lines or other works of the licensee, the licensee shall be required to give only such notice as may be possible after the necessity for the proposed new works or alterations has arisen.

(2) Every licensee shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, laying down and placing his electric supply-lines and other works and in working his undertaking, so as not injuriously to affect, whether by induction or otherwise, the working of any wire or line used for the purpose of telegraphic, telephonic or electric-signalling communication, or the currents in such wire or line.

[62 & 63 Viet., c. 19, sch., cl. 20 (1).]

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises between the licensee and the telegraph-authority or any person licensed under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, as to whether the licensee has constructed, laid down or placed his electric supply-lines or other works, or made alterations in a telegraph line, or worked his undertaking, in contravention of sub-section (1), or sub-section (2), or as to whether the working of any wire, line or current is or is not injuriously affected thereby, the matter shall be referred to the Governor General in Council; and the Governor General in Council, unless he is of opinion that the wire or line has been placed in unreasonable proximity to the electric supply-lines or works of the licensee after the construction of such lines or works, may direct the licensee to make such alterations in, or additions to, his system as may be necessary in order to comply with the provisions of this section, and the licensee shall make such alterations or additions accordingly:

XIII of 1885.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the repair, renewal or amendment of any electric supply-line, so long as the course of the electric supply-line and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby are not altered.

(4) Where a licensee makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a telegraph-line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected by a work if telegraphic communication by means of such line is, whether through induction or otherwise, prejudicially interfered with by such work or by any use made thereof.

[Ben. Act IX of 1895, s. 24 (7).]

Notice of accidents to be sent to Local Government.

explosion, fire, electric shock or fall of an aërial line and also of any other accident resulting or likely to have resulted in loss of life or personal injury in any part of the licensee's works or circuits, or in connection with the same, and also notice of any loss of life or personal injury actually occasioned by any such accident.

(2) The Local Government may also, if it thinks fit, appoint any Electric Inspector or other competent person to inquire and report as to the cause of any accident affecting the safety of the public, which may have been occasioned by or in connection with a licensee's works, or as to the manner in, and extent to, which the provisions of the license and of this Act, so far as these provisions affect the safety of the public, have been complied with by the licensee.

[Ibid, cl. 69.]

Power for Local Government to interfere in cases of defective works, etc.

29. If at any time it is established, to the satisfaction of the Local Government,—

(a) that a licensee is supplying energy otherwise than by means of a system which has been approved of by the Local Government or (except in accordance with the provisions of his license) has permitted any part of his circuits to be connected with earth, or

(b) that any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee are defective ; or

(c) that any works of a licensee or his supply of energy are or is attended with danger to the public safety ;

the Local Government may, by order in writing, specify the matter complained of and require the licensee to remedy it in such manner as shall be specified in the order, and may also in like manner forbid the use of any electric supply-line or works until the order is complied with or for such time as is specified in the order.

[Ibid, cls. 49 & 52.]

Meters.

30. (1) In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the amount of energy supplied to a consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply (such amount or quantity being hereinafter referred to as "the value of the supply") shall be ascertained by means of a duly certified meter, and the licensee shall, if required by the consumer, cause the consumer to be supplied with such a meter :

Provided that the licensee may require the consumer to give him security for the price of a meter and enter into an agreement for the hire thereof, unless the consumer elects to purchase a meter.

[Ibid cl. 6.]

(2) Where the consumer so enters into an agreement for the hire of a meter, the licensee shall keep the meter in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, and, in default of his doing so, the consumer shall, for so long as the default continues, cease to be liable to pay for the hire of the meter.

[Ibid, cl. 54 (1).]

(3) Where the meter is the property of the consumer, he shall keep the meter in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, and, in default of his doing so, the licensee may, for so long as the default continues, cease to supply energy through the meter.

(4) The licensee or any person duly authorized by the licensee shall, at any reasonable time and on informing the consumer of his intention, have access to, and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect and replace, any meter whereby the value of the supply is ascertained or to be ascertained ; and, except where the meter is so hired as aforesaid, all reasonable expenses of, and incidental to, such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting and replacing, and the procuring the meter to be again duly certified, where that is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter is found to be otherwise than in proper order, be recovered from the consumer ; and where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such reasonable expenses, the matter shall be determined by arbitration :

Provided that the licensee shall not be at liberty to take off or remove any such meter if any difference or dispute of the nature described in sub-section (7) has arisen until the matter has been determined as therein provided.

(5) A consumer shall not connect any meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained or to be ascertained with any electric supply-line through which energy is supplied by a licensee, or disconnect the same from any such electric supply-line, without giving to the licensee not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention.

(6) In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of a consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the licensee may place upon such premises such meter or other apparatus as he may think fit for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to the consumer, or the number of hours during which the supply is given, or the maximum power taken by the consumer, or any other quantity or time connected with the supply :

Provided that the meter or apparatus shall be of a construction and pattern approved of by the Local Government, and shall be fixed and connected with the service-lines in a manner so approved, and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the licensee, and shall not, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the licensee and the consumer's terminals.

(7) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether any meter, whereby the value of the supply as to pressure or quantity is ascertained or to be ascertained, is or is not in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, or as to whether such value has in any case been correctly registered by the meter, the matter shall be determined, upon the application of either party, by an Electric Inspector or by a competent person specially appointed by the Local Government in this behalf; and, where the meter has, in the opinion of such Inspector or person, ceased to work for a period not exceeding one month, such Inspector or person shall estimate the value of the supply for such period on the basis of the value of the previous supply; and the decision of such Inspector or person shall be final, and the costs of or incidental to such determination shall be recoverable as such Inspector or person may direct: but, save as aforesaid, the register of the meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive proof of such value.

[Ibid, cl. 50.] Explanation.—A meter shall be deemed to be "duly certified" if it is certified by an Electric Inspector or by a competent person appointed by the Local Government in this behalf to be a correct meter, and to be of a construction and pattern approved by the Local Government, and to have been fixed and connected with the electric supply-lines in a manner so approved:

Provided that, where any alteration is made in a duly certified meter, or where any such meter is unfixed or disconnected from the electric supply-lines, it shall cease to be a duly certified meter unless and until it is again duly certified as aforesaid.

street or part of street within the area of supply or by the Local Government or a local authority charged with the public lighting thereof, requiring the licensee to provide and lay down distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout such street or part thereof, the licensee shall comply within six months with the requisition, unless,—

(a) where it is made by such owners or occupiers as aforesaid, the owners or occupiers making it do not, within fourteen clear days after the service on them by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, tender to the licensee a written contract, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding themselves to take or guaranteeing that there shall be taken, a supply of energy for not less than three years to such amount as will in the aggregate produce annually, at the current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee; or,

(b) where it is made by the Local Government or a local authority, the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, does not, within the like period, tender a like agreement binding itself to take a supply of energy for not less than three years for the public lighting of such street or part thereof.

Requisition for supply to owners or occupiers in vicinity.

IX. (1) Where a requisition is made by the owner or occupiers of any premises situate within one hundred yards from any distributing main in which the licensee is required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply, requiring the licensee to supply energy for such premises, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy in accordance with the requisition, unless the person making it fails, within fourteen days after the service on him by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, to tender to the licensee a written contract, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding himself to take a supply of energy for not less than two years to such amount as will produce, at current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee:

Provided, first, that the cost of so much of any electric supply-line as may be laid for the purposes of the supply upon the property in respect of which the requisition is made, and of so much of any electric supply-line as it may be necessary for the said purposes to lay for a greater distance than one hundred feet from the licensee's distributing main, although not on that property, shall, if the licensee so requires, be paid by the owner or occupier making the requisition:

Provided, secondly, that the licensee may, after he has furnished a supply of energy for any premises, by notice in writing require the owner or occupier within seven days after the date of the service of the notice, to give him security for the payment of all money which may become due to him in respect of the supply, in case the owner or occupier has not already given that security, or in case any security given has become invalid or is insufficient; and, if the owner or occupier fails to comply with the terms of the notice, the licensee may discontinue to supply energy for such premises so long as such failure continues:

Provided, thirdly, that if the owner or occupier of any such premises as aforesaid adopts any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the licensee for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner, so as to interfere unduly or improperly with the efficient supply of energy to any other person by the licensee, or fails to keep his meter in proper order, the licensee may discontinue the supply of energy for such premises so long as such lamp or burner is so adopted, or the energy is so used or dealt with, or the meter is not kept in proper order, as the case may be:

Provided, fourthly, that the licensee shall not be bound to furnish a supply of energy to any premises if an Electric Inspector or other competent person appointed by the Local Government is satisfied that the electric line, fittings, works and apparatus therein are not in good order and condition and are likely to affect injuriously the use of energy by the licensee or by other persons:

Provided, fifthly, that in the event of any alterations of, or additions to, any electric wires, fittings, works or apparatus within such premises as aforesaid, all such alterations or additions shall be notified to the licensee by the owner or occupier before being connected to the source of supply, with a view to their being examined and tested: and

Provided, sixthly, that, in the event of any requisition being made for a supply of energy from any distributing main of which the licensee can prove, to the satisfaction of an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf,—

(a) that it is already loaded up to its full-current-carrying capacity, or

(b) that, in case of a larger amount of current being transmitted by it, the loss of pressure will seriously affect the efficiency of the supply to other consumers in the vicinity, sition for such reasonable period, not exceeding six months, as such officer may think sufficient for the purpose of amending the distributing main or laying down a further distributing main.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the sufficiency of the security offered by such owner or occupier or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any wires fittings, works or apparatus, or as to any alleged excess or defect in the pressure or quantity of the energy supplied, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government and either decided by it or, if the Local Government so directs, determined by arbitration.

(3) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

[Ibid, cl. 29.] Supply for public lamps.

X. (1) Where a requisition is made by the Local Government or by a local authority requiring the licensee to supply for a period of not less than one year energy for any public lamps within the distance of one hundred yards from any distributing main in which the licensee is required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy for such lamps in such quantities as the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, may require.

(2) The provisions contained in the first, fourth, fifth and sixth provisos to sub-clause (1) and in sub-clause (2) of Clause IX shall, so far as may be, apply to every case in which a requisition for the supply of energy is made under this clause as if the Local Government or local authority were an owner or occupier within the meaning of those provisions.

Charges.

[Ibid, cl. 31.] Methods of charging.

XI. In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the licensee may charge for energy supplied by him to any consumer—

(a) by the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(b) by the electrical quantity contained in the supply; or

(c) by such other method as may be approved by the Local Government:

Provided, first, that, where the licensee charges by any method so approved by the Local Government, any consumer who objects to that method may, by not less than one month's notice in writing, require the licensee to charge him, at the licensee's option, either by the actual amount of energy supplied to him or by the electrical quantity contained in the supply, and thereafter the licensee shall not, except with the consent of the consumer, charge him by another method:

Provided, secondly, that, before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the licensee shall give notice, by public advertisement, of the method by which he proposes to charge for energy so supplied; and, where the licensee has given such notice, he shall not be entitled to change that method of charging without giving not less than one month's notice in writing of such change to the Local Government, to the local authority (if any) concerned, and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by him from such distributing main:

Provided, thirdly, that, if the consumer is provided with a duly certified meter for the purposes of ascertaining the value of the supply and the licensee changes the method of charging for the energy supplied by him from the distributing main, the licensee shall bear the expense of providing a new duly certified meter if such is necessary for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to the new method of charging.

[Ibid cl. 32.] Maximum charges.

XII. The price charged by the licensee for energy supplied by him shall not exceed the maximum fixed by his license, or, in the case of a method of charge approved by the Local Government, such maximum as the Local Government shall fix on approving the method:

Provided that, if, at any time after the expiration of seven years from the commencement of the license, the Local Government considers or is satisfied that the maximum so fixed or approved as aforesaid should be altered, it may, after such inquiry (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order accordingly, which shall have effect from such date as may be mentioned therein:

Provided, also, that where an order in pursuance of the foregoing proviso has been made, no further order altering the maximum fixed thereby shall be made until the expiration of another period of seven years.

[Ibid, cl. 43.] Charge for supply for public lamps.

XIII. The price to be charged by the licensee and to be paid to him for energy supplied for the public lamps, and the mode which those charges are to be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the licensee and the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, and, where any difference or dispute arises the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Testing and inspection.

[Ibid, cl. 41.] Licensee to establish testing station and keep instruments for testing.

XIV. The licensee shall, at any place within reasonable distance from any main, establish at his own cost and keep in proper condition such number of testing stations as the Local Government

[Ibid, cl. 99]

Testing of mains.

XVII. On the occasion of the testing of any main of the licensee by an Electric Inspector, reasonable notice thereof shall be given to the licensee, and the testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of the Electric Inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the licensee, and in such manner as the Electric Inspector may think fit; but, except under the provisions of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government, the Electric Inspector shall not be entitled to have access to, or interfere with, the mains of the licensee at any points other than those at which the licensee has reserved for himself access to the same:

Provided that the licensee shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by or required by the Electric Inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid:

Provided, also, that the testing shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government.

Plans.

Plan of area of supply to be made and kept open for inspection.

XVIII (1) The licensee shall, after commencing to supply energy, forthwith cause a plan to be made of the area of supply, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line and the height above or the depth below the surface of all his then existing mains, electric supply-lines, street distributing boxes and other works, and shall once in every year cause that plan to be duly corrected so as to show the mains, electric supply-lines, street distributing boxes and other works for the time being in existence. The licensee shall also, if so required by the Local Government, cause to be made sections showing the level of all his existing distributing mains and underground works other than service-lines.

(2) Every such plan shall be drawn to a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to an inch or to such other scale as may be approved by the Local Government.

(3) Every such section shall be drawn to a horizontal scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to an inch and to a vertical scale which shall not be smaller than eleven feet to an inch, or to such other horizontal and vertical scales as may be approved by the Local Government.

(4) Every plan and section so made or corrected, or a copy thereof, marked with the date when it was so made or corrected, shall be kept by the licensee at his principal office or place of business within the area of supply, and shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of all applicants, and copies thereof shall be supplied on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(5) The licensee shall, if required by the Local Government, or, where the licensee is not a local authority, by the local authority (if any) concerned, supply to the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, a copy of every such plan or section duly corrected so as to agree with the original kept at the principal office or place of business of the licensee.

Additional notice of certain works.

Notice to Electric Inspector.

XIX On the day next preceding the commencement of any such works as are referred to in section 13 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1903, the licensee shall, in addition to any other notices which he may be required to give, serve upon the Electric Inspector or such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf for the area of supply a notice in writing stating that he is about to commence the works and the nature and position of the same.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 26th February 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There has been no storm of any importance during the week under review and the weather has been generally quiet and settled over India. Slightly disturbed and showery weather was, however, experienced over North-East India on the 20th and 21st and again on the 23rd and 24th. During the first showery period rain fell over parts of Bengal, Assam, the East Satpuras and the East Coast North. The rainfall was generally light but 0·75 inch of rain was reported from Sibsagar and over 0·50 inch from Balasore and Cuttack on the 21st During the second showery period rain again fell over parts of Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the East Gangetic Plain and the East Himalayas but did not extend to the East Satpuras and only partially to the East Coast North. Jessore received nearly 1 inch of rain on the 23rd, while Calcutta, Dibrugarh and Shillong received about 0·50 inch on the 24th. Showers of snow fell during the last three days of the week over Kashmir and local showers have been received during the week on the Madras Coast. Elsewhere the weather has been practically rainless.

The following table shows that rain averaging over 0·10 inch in amount has been received during the week in the following places, viz., the Burma Coast, the Calcutta sub-division, the Brahmaputra Valley, the Dinajpur sub-division, the Burdwan sub-division, the Cuttack sub-division, the Raipur sub-division, the Calicut sub-division and the East Coast South, the average actual rainfall ranging from 0·52 inch in the East Coast South to 0·11 inch in the Burma Coast and the Dinajpur sub-division. Over the remainder of the country the weather has been actually or practically rainless. The week's rainfall has been slightly heavier than usual over North-East India and along the Madras Coast.

There has been no change of importance in the seasonal condition. Over Upper India the season's rainfall has been very deficient. Thus in the Patna sub-division the total average rainfall, since the 18th November 1902, has been 0·22 inch instead of 1·34 inches, in the Simla Hills 4·07 inches instead of 7·71 inches, in the Ludhiana sub-division 1·46 inches instead of 4·64 inches, in the Cawnpore sub-division 0·35 inch instead of 1·74 inches, in the Lahore sub-division 0·65 inch instead of 2·53 inches, in the North-West Dry Area 0·35 inch instead of 1·75 inches, in the Jhansi sub-division 0·19 inch instead of 1·7[illegible] inches and in the Jaipur sub-division 0·21 inch instead of 0·93 inch. Over the whole of the area the seasonal rainfall has been only 34 per cent. of the normal amount.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 21st February, 1903.

Madras.—Rainfall light in the Circars, in parts of the Carnatic and the Central and Southern districts. Irrigation supplies are insufficient in parts of Ganjam, the Deccan and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices of some grains have risen in several districts, but are generally stationary or have slightly fallen.

Bombay.—There was slight rain during the week in parts of Karachi and Larkana. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur and Larkana. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Hyderabad; by rats in parts of Ahmedabad and Nasik; and by frost in parts of Karachi, Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sind Frontier and Ahmedabad. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Nasik, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops continues in parts of Dharwar. Threshing is almost over in Larkana, Colaba and Ahmednagar, and is progressing in parts of the Upper Sind Frontier, Nasik and Poona. Harvesting of spring crops has commenced in parts of Thar and Parkar, Hyderabad, Broach, Surat, the Deccan, the Karnatak and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Wadhwan, poor in Bijapur; and generally in fair condition elsewhere. Picking continues in parts of Broach, Surat, Belgaum, Rajkot and Baroda. Preparation of lands for next season has commenced in parts of Nasik, Satara and Belgaum. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Sukkur and Larkana. Agricultural stock is generally in good condition and sufficient. The water supply is deficient in parts of Bijapur. Prices have fallen in two districts, risen in three districts and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered.

Bengal.—Rain is reported from every district, except Backergunge and the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The rain has done good, but crops are slightly damaged by hail storms in Hooghly, Darjeeling and Gaya. More rain is wanted in Tippera, Monghyr and Malda. The spring crop is being harvested; the outturn of oilseeds is estimated at 90 per cent. of a normal crop. Poppy is doing well. Prospects are generally good. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Preparation of lands for early rice and jute is in progress. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, has fallen in ten and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—Slight rain has fallen in fifteen districts. Rain is said to be needed in Budaun and also in Agra; in the latter district the crops are reported to have been damaged to some extent in one tahsil for the want of it. The spring crops are maturing and harvesting has begun. The poppy crop is doing well, and the extraction of opium has begun in places. Fields are being prepared for autumn crops, and sugarcane and extra crops are being sown. In some districts mustard and sugarcane have been slightly damaged by frost; and in Meerut and in Banda by insects Prospects are otherwise good. Food stocks and fodder are adequate. Prices remain stationary.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Hissar, Umballa, Ferozepore, Lahore and Rawalpindi. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Lahore and Mooltan, and falling in Jullundur and Amritsar. The prices of other food grains are generally unchanged. Sugarcane is being pressed in Jullundur, Lahore and Amritsar. Sowings of extra spring crops continue. The condition and prospects of standing crops are generally good on irrigated lands. The crops on unirrigated lands are withering for want of rain in most districts. Rain is badly wanted throughout the province. Caterpillars are damaging the crops in parts of Ferozepore. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is said to be sufficient in all districts except Amritsar, Sialkot, Mooltan, and parts of Ferozepore, Shahpur, and Mianwali.

North-West Frontier Province.—Rainfall—22 cents at Abbottabad and 5 cents at Bannu and Dera Ismail Khan. More rain is badly wanted. Prospects of irrigated crops are good, but unirrigated crops require more rain Fodder is procurable but is scarce in parts of Dera Ismail Khan. Canals are runnning well in Peshawar. Prices are steady.

Burma.—Slight showers of rain have fallen in Pegu, Myitkyina, Kat and the Ruby Mines district. Threshing and winnowing of wet weather paddy is approaching completion.

Cultivation of dry weather paddy is completed in the Thayetmyo district except in one township. Gathering of peas has commenced in Sagaing. Miscellaneous crops generally promise well. In Yamethin and in Myingyan the crops on islands are good, but fodder and water are reported to be scarce in the Salé township. The price of paddy has risen slightly in twelve and fallen in three districts.

Central Provinces.—Showers have been received in the Nagpur country and in the Mandla, Seoni, Chhindwara, Raipur and Sambalpur districts. The falls in Balaghat and Raipur approximated to an inch. The winter crops are generally in good condition. The recent rain is reported to have benefited immature crops in Mandla. Insects and cloudy weather have caused some damage in Raipur and caterpillars in Jubbulpore. Some damage by hail is reported from Seoni and Balaghat. The harvesting of spring crops is now generally in progress. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices have generally fallen in the northern districts, but there is a sharp rise from 11 to 9¾ seers in the price of rice in Chanda. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 19, gram 22½, rice 17, and juar 30. The standing crops have been benefited and ploughing operations facilitated by rain in Sylhet, but more rain is still wanted. Hoeing and pruning of tea, pressing of sugarcane, gathering of mustard, and ploughing for rice and jute are in progress. Gathering of pulse still continues in the Surma Valley where the outturn is bad. The outturn of sugarcane is good in Lakhimpur, bad in Cachar, Kamrup and Nowgong, and fair in other districts. The outturn of mustard is fair in Sylhet, Darrang and Sibsagar; but is poor elsewhere. Fodder is insufficient in parts of Cachar and the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. REVIEW OF THE PROGRESS REPORT OF THE IMPERIAL FOREST SCHOOL, DEHRA DUN, FOR THE YEAR 1901-2.

Calcutta, the 20th February 1903.

Read—

(i) Report of the Forest School for the year 1901-2.

(ii) Letter from the Inspector General of Forests, No. 1280, dated the 24th December 1902, submitting the above report.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. J. W. Oliver held the post of Director of the Imperial Forest School during the year. Mr. F. Gleadow, who had creditably filled the post of Deputy Director for nearly six years, was replaced in February 1902 by Mr. H. Jackson, Deputy Conservator, on the Burma List. The rest of the staff remained unchanged throughout the year.

2. The number of candidates presenting themselves at the Entrance Examination for Upper Class Students held in October 1901 was slightly less than in 1900-1, but the number who passed the test was practically the same. Out of the 51 who qualified, 29 joined the School, together with 4 who had passed in the previous year, and 2 Rangers already in the Department who were exempted from the Entrance Examination, the total of admissions being thus 35. The number of students admitted to the Lower Class was 10, exclusive of 2 men deputed by the Jhang District Board in the Punjab to study road arboriculture. In all there were 89 students at the School at the close of the year, as compared with 97 on the same date in 1900-1.

3. The results of the final examinations held in March 1902 were good, and proved that the Upper Class students possessed an adequate knowledge of English, which has not always been the case. It is observed with satisfaction that only three of the 43 students in this Class failed to satisfy the Examining Board, while two passed with Honours.

The lectures given to the Lower Class students are in the vernacular, and as the number in this Class is limited, there is opportunity for much individual attention at the hands of the Instructors. There have been no failures in this class during the past two years, all the students having succeeded in qualifying for certificates.

4. The results show that the standard of education was well maintained during the year.

Ordered that the above Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India, and that copies be forwarded, for information, to the Governments of Madras and Bombay, the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, and the Comptroller and Auditor General; also to the Inspector General of Forests for information and for communication to the Director of the Forest School and the Superintendent of Forest Surveys.

2. Title and preamble.—We have amplified these to show more clearly that the restrictive provisions of the Bill relate, not to proprietary title, but to the use and enjoyment of land. The procedure for determining compensation occupies the greater portion of the Bill and should, we think, be expressly specified in the title and preamble.

3. Clause 2.—Owing to the altered procedure which we propose for adoption in Part II, the maximum period, which may elapse between the publication of the preliminary notice of a declaration to impose restrictions and the issue of the subsequent notice calling for the presentation of claims to compensation, will, in ordinary cases, amount to eighteen months, and this period may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, be extended to three years. The actual proceedings in assessment up to the making of the award may not impossibly, at any rate in complicated cases, occupy a further period of a year. In these circumstances, houses and other constructions, which will be affected by the restrictions imposed under clause 7, may, unless the owner is given facilities for keeping them in repair, fall into ruin long before the investigation for purposes of assessment is completed, with the result that the difficulty of proving the actual amount of damage occasioned by proceedings under the Bill will be greatly enhanced. Even where the emergent powers conferred by clause 6, sub-clause (3), are exercised, a period of several months, during which the condition more especially of small and unsubstantial structures may be seriously altered by rain, may easily elapse before demolition commences; and, in these cases, the report of the demolishing officer with respect to the buildings demolished by him is not unlikely, from the necessity of the case, to be most tangible evidence to which the parties can afterwards appeal. We think it desirable, therefore, to define the expression "maintained" for the purposes of clauses 6 and 7, in such a manner as to leave unaffected the liberty to repair buildings and other constructions during the interval from the publication of the preliminary notice to the making of the award or, in case of emergency, to demolition in anticipation of the award.

4. Clause 3.—To prevent the recurrence of misconception, we have sought to render it clear that the initial declaration under this clause need only be accompanied by a "sketch-plan", illustrating, by way of general notice to the public, the outline of the zones within which all or any of the restrictions specified in clause 7 will attach. The "detailed plan" referred to in clause 8 is a separate document which is required for the purposes of minute and detailed attachment of compensation and for the preparation of which the initial declaration cannot be postponed.

5. Clauses 4 and 5.—In view of the importance of accuracy and completeness in the "detailed plan" referred to in clause 8, we have considered it safer to take a legal power of entry for survey, with compensation for damage, on the lines of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (I of 1894), sections 4 and 5.

6. Clause 6.—The original Bill, following the lines of the Defence Act, 1860 (23 & 24 Vict., c. 112), section 31, purported, in all cases, to authorize the exercise of the powers of demolition conferred thereby after the expiration of fourteen days from the preliminary notice. On the other hand, it restricted to six months the period of three years during which, under the English Statute, acts in pursuance of those powers must be completed. One result of this abridgment of time was that the issue of the notice calling upon persons affected to present their claims for compensation was postponed until after the demolition was complete. We think that this procedure is, in several respects, capable of improvement. At the outset, we see no necessity, in ordinary cases, for exercising any power of demolition until after the Collector has completed his assessment and made his award. On th contrary, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to arrive at a really reliable estimate on the basis of statements relating to structures which have ceased to exist. In the case of emergency, the exigencies of defence in this country may render impracticable the delay of fourteen days, which, on the analogy of peace conditions in England, the original Bill would have rendered obligatory in all circumstances alike. We propose to recognize the distinction by enacting expressly that the acts of demolition, for the completion of which we would retain the very abridged period of six months, shall not commence until after the making of the award; and from this rule we would except only the case, not of mere urgency as contemplated by the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, section 17, but of actual emergency sufficiently grave to warrant a notification to which the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council is required. As an additional safeguard, we suggest that emergent powers, so notified, shall not be exercised after the expiration of a period of six months after the publication of the preliminary notice. Having thus narrowed down these powers to absolutely extreme cases, we consider it inexpedient to hamper the discretion of the officer exercising them by accepting a suggestion to enact a proviso directing, on the analogy of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, section 17, sub-section (1), that no building shall be entered or demolished without giving the occupier reasonably sufficient notice to enable him to remove his moveable property without unnecessary inconvenience. To give as much notice as appears reasonably practicable is always a convenience to all parties concerned; but we are reluctant to prescribe, for cases of emergency, a proviso, necessarily in general terms, which would only result in claims raising the difficult question of fact whether, in the particular circumstances, an hour or two longer might or might not have been allowed.

7. Clause 7.—We have removed the reference to the Director-General of Military Works, because it is more convenient for the public to apply for authority to one officer who should be the General Officer of the Command. The expert advice which the General Officer should obtain before granting permission, can be more appropriately regulated by executive orders.

In paragraph (a), sub-head (ii), we have relaxed the stringency of the first proviso in favour of road repairs.

Sub-head (iii) of the same paragraph, as originally worded, might, if strictly construed, have been read as precluding the military authorities from surveying land under their own control without the sanction of the Collector. In such cases, the order of the Commanding Officer, as defined in clause 2, paragraph (e), seems to us sufficient.

8. Clause 9.—Our proposal, as explained under clause 6, to postpone the exercise of powers of demolition, except in emergent cases, until after the award referred to in clause 11, removes the principal reason for fixing at six months the period after which the second notice calling for claims to compensation must issue. It is necessary to fix some definite period because clause 38 invests the Local Government with a power of withdrawal from the initial declaration and, if the survey, planning and valuing operations preliminary to the actual assessment are unduly prolonged, we apprehend that owners, whose property is transferred in the interim and who cannot, therefore, claim compensation, may suffer owing to the depreciated market-value. There seems to be a consensus of opinion that six months will often be insufficient for the purpose; but a period of three years over which the proceedings under the Statute may extend, will not usually be required: and we would, therefore, suggest eighteen months which, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may be extended to three years. Where emergent powers are exercised under clause 6, sub-clause (3), any lapse of time after the demolition of a building increases the difficulty of proof of damage; and in such cases, therefore, we think it reasonable to impose upon the periods defined in sub-clause (1) the further limitation that notice must be given as soon as may be after the exercise of any such power.

We have defined with greater distinctness, in sub-clause (2), the particulars to be contained in the second notice calling for claims. A precise statement of damage caused or to be caused under clause 6 will be necessary in view of the altered procedure by which the award will ordinarily precede such damage. A consequential amendment has been made in clause 13, sub-clause (1).

From sub-clause (4), the reference to registration under the Indian Post Office Act, 1898 (VI of 1898), has been omitted as sufficiently covered by the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), section 27. A similar alteration will be found in the proviso to clause 31, sub-claue (3).

9. Clause 17.—It is not always possible to anticipate exactly, before demolition commences, every item of damage for which occasion may arise. On the contrary, the demolition of one obstruction may render apparent the necessity for removing another. If the time-limit imposed by clause 9 is not exceeded, it is neither necessary nor convenient to require a fresh declaration under clause 3. We would, in such cases, provide for proceedings supplementary to the notice, inquiry and award referred to in clauses 9 to 16.

10. Clause 23.—We have recast the wording of sub-clause (1), paragraph (a), to preclude argument to the effect that Court must take into consideration the decrease in market-value which has actually occurred between the two points of time specified, irrespective of the question whether such decrease was occasioned by the publication of the declaration under clause 3 or any damage caused or to be caused under clause 6. From paragraph (b) we have removed the reference to "trees" which, in the case of removal of obstruction, must, we think, be taken into consideration under paragraph (a).

11. Clause 24.—We have omitted the words "of the land or", which the original Bill reproduced from the fifth clause of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, section 24 The position in the two cases appears to us to be essentially different. Under the enactment cited, the land is acquired by the Government which benefits by the increase. The Bill, however, contemplates a continuance of the owner's title and occupation with compensation for any damage occasioned by restrictions upon use and enjoyment; but, if the value of any portion of the land is actually increased, the damage must, of necessity, be proportionately reduced, and the point must, therefore, be taken into account under clause 23, sub-clause (1), paragraph (a).

12. Clause 34.—There seems to be a consensus of opinion that the period of seven days, after which, in default of payment the Bill directed interest to accrue on the award, is too short for the completion of the necessary formalities. We have accordingly increased the period to fifteen days on the analogy of clause 9, sub-clause (2), and clause 10, sub-clause (1).

13. Clause 37.—A Commissioner of Police has now been appointed for the town of Rangoon, and has accordingly been given, on the suggestion of the local authorities, the same powers as are exercisable by the same officers in the presidency-towns.

14. The other amendments suggested by us are of a verbal or consequential character and do not require separate notice.

I sign subject to one reservation. I am unable to concur in the concluding portion of paragraph 6 of this Report. The power to turn a man out of his house, bag and baggage, without any notice whatever, appears to me to be too dangerous, even when its exercise is limited to cases of emergency, and made dependent upon the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council. I am of opinion that the Bill should provide for "reasonably sufficient notice" or, at any rate, for "such previous notice as, under the circumstances, may be practicable" before a man's house is entered and demolished, even in emergent cases, so as to enable him to remove his moveable property elsewhere.

(Part II.—Imposition of Restrictions.—Sections 7—8.)

powers conferred by sub-section (1) may be exercised at any time within six months after the publication of the notice referred to in section 3, sub-section (2), and such powers may be exercised accordingly and the said notification shall be conclusive proof of emergency.

(4) Nothing in sub-section (2) shall be deemed to preclude any such officer or his servants or workmen from exercising at any time the said powers for the purpose of removing, wholly or in part, any building or other obstruction maintained, created, added to, altered, planted, stacked, stored or otherwise accumulated in contravention of this Act or of any rule or order made thereunder or of any condition prescribed in accordance therewith.

(i) no variation shall be made in the ground-level, and no building, wall, bank or other construction above the ground shall be maintained, erected, added to or altered otherwise than with the written approval of the General Officer of the Command, and on such conditions as they may prescribe ;

(ii) no wood, earth, stone, brick, gravel, sand or other material shall be stacked, stored or otherwise accumulated :

Provided that, with the written approval of the General Officer Commanding the District and on such conditions as he may prescribe, road-ballast, manure and agricultural produce may be exempted from the prohibition :

Provided, also, that any person having control of the land as owner, lessee or occupier shall be bound forthwith to remove such road-ballast, manure or agricultural produce, without compensation, on the requisition of the Commanding Officer ;

(iii) no surveying operation shall be conducted otherwise than by or under the personal supervision of a public servant duly authorized in this behalf, in the case of land under the control of military authority, by the Commanding Officer and, in other cases, by the Collector with the concurrence of the Commanding Officer ; and

PART III.

REFERENCE TO COURT AND PROCEDURE THEREON.

Reference to Court.

18. (1) Any person interested who has not accepted the award may, by written application to the Collector, require that the matter be referred by the Collector for the determination of the Court, whether his objection be to the measurement of the land, the amount of the compensation, the persons to whom it is payable, or the apportionment of the compensation among the persons interested:

Provided that every such application shall be made,—

(a) if the person making it was present or represented before the Collector at the time when he made his award, within six weeks from the date of the Collector's award;

(b) in other cases, within six weeks of the receipt of the notice from the Collector under section 13, sub-section (2), or within six months from the date of the Collector's award, whichever period shall first expire.

(2) The application shall state the grounds on which objection to the award is taken.

Collector's statement to the Court.

19. (1) In making the reference the Collector shall state, for the information of the Court, in writing under his hand,—

(a) the situation and extent of the land with particulars of any damage caused under section 6 or of restrictions imposed under section 7;

(b) the names of the persons whom he has reason to think interested in such land;

(c) the amount of compensation awarded under section 11; and,

(d) if the objection be to the amount of the compensation, the grounds on which the amount of compensation was determined.

(2) To the said statement shall be attached a schedule giving the particulars of the notices served upon, and of the statements in writing made or delivered by, the parties interested respectively.

Service of notice.

20. The Court shall thereupon cause a notice specifying the day on which the Court will proceed to determine the objection, and directing their appearance before the Court on that day, to be served on the following persons, namely :—

(a) the applicant;

(b) all persons interested in the objection, except such (if any) of them as have consented without protest to receive payment of the compensation awarded; and,

(c) if the objection is in regard to the area of the land, the nature of the obstructions or the amount of the compensation, the Collector.

Restriction on scope of proceedings.

21. The scope of the inquiry in every such proceeding shall be restricted to a consideration of the interests of the persons affected by the objection.

22. Every such proceeding shall take place in open Court, and all persons entitled to practise in any Civil Court in the Province shall be entitled to appear, plead and act, as the case may be, in such proceeding.

The Indian Works of Defence Bill.

(Part III.—Reference to Court and Procedure thereon.—Sections 23—28. Part IV.—Apportionment of Compensation.—Section 29.)

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

23. (1) In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded for damage caused, or to be caused, or for restrictions imposed under this Act, the Court shall take into consideration—

(a) the actual decrease in market-value of the land owing to the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 3 and any damage caused or to be caused under section 6;

(b) the damage sustained by the person interested, by reason of the removal of any standing crops in the exercise of any power conferred by section 6;

(c) the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, by reason of ceasing to be able to use such land conjointly with his other land;

(d) the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested by anything done or ordered under sections 6 and 7 injuriously affecting his other property, moveable or immoveable, in any other manner, or his earnings; and,

(e) if, in consequence of the imposition of restrictions, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change.

(2) In addition to the amount representing the actual decrease in the market-value of the land as above provided, the Court shall in every case award a further sum of fifteen per centum on such amount.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

24. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded for damage caused, or to be caused, or for restrictions imposed under this Act, the Court shall not take into consideration—

(a) the degree of urgency which has led to the damage or the imposition of restrictions;

(b) any disinclination of the person interested to submit to damage or restrictions;

(c) any damage sustained by him, which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to a suit;

(d) any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested, accruing or likely to accrue from anything done under this Act; or

(e) any outlay or improvements on, or disposal of, the land commenced, made or effected without the sanction of the Collector after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 3.

Rules as to amount of compensation.

25. (1) When the applicant has made a claim to compensation, pursuant to any notice given under section 9, the amount awarded to him by the Court shall not exceed the amount so claimed or be less than the amount awarded by the Collector under section 11.

(2) When the applicant has refused to make such claim or has omitted without sufficient reason (to be allowed by the Judge) to make such claim, the amount awarded by the Court shall in no case exceed the amount awarded by the Collector.

(3) When the applicant has omitted for a sufficient reason (to be allowed by the Judge) to make such claim, the amount awarded to him by the Court shall not be less than, and may exceed, the amount awarded by the Collector.

Form of awards.

26. Every award under this Part shall be in writing signed by the Judge and shall specify the amount awarded under section 23, sub-section (1), clause (a), and also the amounts (if any) respectively awarded under each of the other clauses of the same sub-section, together with the grounds of awarding each of the said amounts.

Costs.

27. (1) Every such award shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the proceedings under this Part, and by what persons and in what proportion they are to be paid.

(2) When the award of the Collector is not upheld, the costs shall ordinarily be paid by the Collector, unless the Court is of opinion that the claim of the applicant was so extravagant or that he was so negligent in putting his case before the Collector that some deduction from his costs should be made or that he should pay a part of the Collector's costs.

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation.

28. If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the Court may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of his award to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

PART IV.

APPORTIONMENT OF COMPENSATION.

Particulars of apportionment to be specified.

29. Where there are several persons interested, if such persons agree in the apportionment of the compensation, the particulars of such apportionment shall be specified in the award, and as between such persons the award shall be conclusive evidence of the correctness of the apportionment.

The Indian Works of Defence Bill.

(Part IV.—Apportionment of Compensation.—Section 30. Part V.—Payment.—Sections 31—34.)

Dispute as to apportionment.

30. When the amount of compensation has been settled under section 11, if any dispute arises as to the apportionment of the same or any part thereof, or as to the persons to whom the same or any part thereof is payable, the Collector may refer such dispute to the decision of the Court.

PART V.

PAYMENT.

Payment of compensation or deposit of same in Court.

31. (1) On making an award under section 11, the Collector shall tender payment of the compensation awarded by him to the persons interested entitled thereto according to the award, and shall pay it to them unless prevented by some one or more of the contingencies mentioned in sub-section (2).

(2) If they do not consent to receive it, or if there is no person competent to alienate the land, or if there is any dispute as to the title to receive the compensation or as to the apportionment of it, the Collector shall deposit the amount of the compensation in the Court to which a reference under section 18 would be submitted:

Provided, first, that any person admitted to be interested may receive such payment under protest as to the sufficiency of the amount:

Provided, secondly, that no person who has received the amount otherwise than under protest shall be entitled to make any application under section 18:

Provided, thirdly, that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of any person, who may receive the whole or any part of any compensation awarded under this Act, to pay the same to the person lawfully entitled thereto.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the Collector may, with the sanction of the Local Government, instead of awarding a money-compensation in respect of any land, make any arrangement with a person having a limited interest in such land, either by the grant of other lands in exchange, or by the remission of land-revenue on the same or on other lands held under the same title, or in such other way as may be equitable having regard to the interests of the parties concerned.

(4) Nothing in sub-section (3) shall be construed to interfere with or limit the power of the Collector to enter into any arrangement with any person interested in the land and competent to contract in respect thereof.

Investment of money deposited in respect of lands belonging to persons incompetent to alienate.

32. (1) If any money is deposited in Court under section 31, sub-section (2), and it appears that the land in respect of which the same was awarded belonged to any person who had no power to alienate the same, the Court shall order the money to be invested—

(a) in the purchase of other lands to be held under the like title and conditions of ownership as the land in respect of which such money was deposited is held, or,

(b) if such purchase cannot be effected forthwith, then in such Government or other approved securities as it thinks fit ; and shall direct the payment of the interest or other proceeds arising from such investment to the person or persons who would for the time being have been entitled to the possession of the said land, and such moneys shall remain so deposited and invested until the same are applied—

(i) in the purchase of such other lands as aforesaid ; or

(ii) in payment to any person or persons becoming absolutely entitled thereto.

(2) In all cases of moneys deposited to which this section applies, the Court shall order the cost of the following matters, including therein all reasonable charges and expenses incident thereto, to be paid by the Collector, namely :—

(a) the costs of such investments as aforesaid ;

(b) the costs of the orders for the payment of the interest or other proceeds of the securities upon which such moneys are for the time being invested, and for the payment out of Court of the principal of such moneys and the costs of all proceedings relating thereto, except such as may be occasioned by litigation between adverse claimants.

Investment of money deposited in other cases.

33. If any money is deposited in Court under this Act for any cause other than that mentioned in section 32, the Court may, on the application of any party interested or claiming an interest in such money, order the same to be invested in such Government or other approved securities as it thinks fit, and may direct the interest or other proceeds of any such investment to be accumulated and paid in such manner as will, in its opinion, give the parties interested therein the same benefit therefrom as they might have had from the land in respect of which such money was deposited or as near thereto as may be.

Payment of interest.

34. When the amount of any compensation awarded under this Act is not paid or deposited within fifteen days of making the award, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of the award until it is so paid or deposited.

The Indian Works of Defence Bill.

(Part VI.—Miscellaneous.—Sections 35—39)

PART VI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

35. (1) Service of any notice under this Act shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof signed, in the case of a notice under section 3, sub-section (2), by the officer therein mentioned, and, in the case of any other notice, by or by order of the Collector or the Judge.

Service of notices.

(2) Whenever it may be practicable, the service of the notice shall be made on the person therein named.

(3) When such person cannot be found, the service may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him; and, if no such adult male member can be found, the notice may be served by fixing the copy on the outer door of the house in which the person therein named ordinarily dwells or carries on business, or by fixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of the officer aforesaid or of the Collector or in the court-house and also in some conspicuous part of the land upon which restrictions are to be imposed:

Provided that, if the Collector or Judge so directs, a notice may be sent by post in a letter addressed to the person named therein at his last known residence, address or place of business and service of it may be proved by the production of the addressee's receipt.

(2) Whenever the Local Government withdraws the imposition of any declared restrictions, the Collector shall determine the amount of compensation due for the damage suffered by the owner in consequence of the notice or of any proceedings thereunder, and shall pay such amount to the person interested, together with all costs reasonably incurred by him in the prosecution of the proceedings under this Act relating to the said restrictions.

(3) The provisions of Part III shall apply, so far as may be, to the determination of the compensation payable under this section.

39. (1) The provisions of this Act shall not be put in force for the purpose of demolishing or acquiring the right to demolish a part only of any house, manufactory or other building, if the owner desires that the whole of such house, manufactory or building shall be demolished or that the right to demolish the whole of it shall be acquired:

Demolition of part of house or building and imposition of restrictions on part of land.

Provided that the owner may at any time before the Collector has made his award under section 11, by notice in writing, withdraw or modify his expressed desire that the whole of such house, manufactory or building shall be demolished, or that the right to demolish the whole of it shall be acquired:

Provided, also, that, if any question shall arise as to whether any building or other construction proposed to be demolished under this Act does or does not form part of a house, manufactory or building within the meaning of this section, the Collector shall refer the determination of such question to the Court and such building or other construction shall not be demolished until after the question has been determined.

In deciding on such a reference the Court shall have regard to the question whether the building or other construction proposed to be demolished is reasonably required for the full and unimpaired use of the house, manufactory or building.

(2) If, in the case of any claim of the kind referred to in section 23, sub-section (1), clause (c), by a person interested, on account of ceasing to be able to use the land, upon the use and enjoyment of which restrictions are to be imposed, conjointly with his other land, the Local Government is of opinion that the claim is unreasonable or excessive, it may, at any time before the Collector has made his award, order the

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to empower District Judges in certain cases to grant Probates of Wills and Letters of Administration having effect throughout British India was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 6th March, 1903—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to empower District Judges in certain cases to grant Probates of Wills and Letters of Administration having effect throughout British India was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us, annexed thereto.

From Government, Punjab, No. 134, dated 14th February, 1903, and enclosures [Papers No. 1].
Telegram from Chief Commissioner, Coorg, No. 12, dated 13th February, 1903; ditto from Government, Madras, No. 120, dated 15th February, 1903; from Resident, Hyderabad, No. 62J, dated 14th February, 1903 [Papers No. 2].
From Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara, No. 1517C., dated 15th February, 1903, and enclosure, [Papers No. 3].
From High Court, Calcutta, No. 478, dated 19th February, 1903 [Paper No. 4].
Telegram from Agent, Governor General, Baluchistan, No. 057, dated 20th February, 1903 [Paper No. 5].
From Government, Burma, No. 515—L-7, dated 16th February, 1903, and enclosures [Papers No. 6].
From Government, Bengal, No. 1183J., dated 21st February, 1903, and enclosure [Papers No. 7].

2. Preamble.—The object of the Bill as introduced was only to empower District Judges in certain cases, i.e., in the case of certain small estates, to grant probates and letters of administration with effect throughout British India. We propose to widen its scope by extending the power of granting such probates and letters to all High Courts, and thus put Judicial Commissioners and the Sadr Court of Sind on the same footing in respect of these grants as Chartered High Courts and Chief Courts.

3. Clause 2.—Proposed proviso to section 242, Act X of 1865.—We have omitted the words "after the first day of April, 1875" as unnecessary, having regard to the provisions of section 6 of the General Clauses Act, 1897.

Proposed section 242A, Act X of 1865.—We have, in addition to simplifying the form of the first sub-clause, provided for the sending of a certificate by a District Judge to his own High Court as well as to other High Courts.

Proposed addition to section 250, Act X of 1865.—The further words we are now suggesting make this addition more complete.

Proposed sections 246A and 277A, Act X of 1865.—These are existing provisions, added to the Indian Succession Act by sections 4 and 5 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1875, which we are simply reproducing here.

4. Clause 3.—Proposed proviso to section 59, Act V of 1881.—The object of the alterations suggested by us is to give effect to our proposal that all High Courts should be put on the same footing as regards the grant of probates and letters of administration.

Proposed section 60, Act V of 1881.—The alterations proposed in sub-clause (1) correspond to those proposed by us in sub-clause (1) of section 242A of Act X of 1865 as explained above.

Proposed addition to section 69, Act V of 1881.—The further words proposed are the same as those in the case of section 250 of Act X of 1865, as explained above.

5. Clause 4.—We propose by this clause, which is new, to repeal (a) the four sections of the Probate and Administration Act, 1875, relating to the proviso to section 242 and to sections 242A, 246A and 277A of the Indian Succession Act, which are reproduced in the Bill, and (b) the one existing section of the Probate and Administration Act, 1877, by which the term "High Court" as used in the above mentioned sections of the Indian Succession Act was given the restricted meaning which we think should no longer be maintained.

6. It has been suggested by the Chief Judge of the Punjab Chief Court that it is desirable in the case of that Province to confer the powers of the District Judge under the Bill on the Divisional Judge. We are disposed to concur in this suggestion but, as section 23 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, enables the Local Government to direct that the Divisional Court shall be deemed to be the District Court for any purpose, we have not thought it necessary to make any provision for the matter in the Bill.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the levy of customs duty on Indian tea exported from British India, and to amend Section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 6th March, 1903 :—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to provide for the levy of customs-duty on Indian tea exported from British India, and to amend section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us, annexed thereto.

From Secretary, Indian Tea Association, to Finance and Commerce Department, No. 1051-O., dated 15th December, 1902. To ditto, No. 283-S. R., dated 21st January, 1903, with endorsement [Papers No. 1].

Telegram from Chief Commissioner, Assam, No. 116-T., dated 12th February, 1903, [Paper No. 2].

Telegram from Chief Commissioner Coorg, No. 11-L., dated 3rd February, 1903; ditto from Punjab, No. 38, dated 14th February, 1903; from United Provinces No. 44-XIII-763-S., dated 14th February, 1903: telegram from Government, Burma, No. 38, dated 16th February, 1903; ditto from Government, Bombay, No. 1146, dated 17th February, 1903, from Government, Bengal, No. 996 S. R., dated 19th February, 1903 [Papers No. 3].

From Government, Punjab, No. 172, dated 16th February, 1903, and enclosure [Papers No. 4].

From Government, Madras, No. 165, dated 17th February, 1903, and enclosure [Papers No. 5].

2. Preamble.—As we understand that the term "Indian tea" is not sufficiently general, we have substituted the phrase "tea produced in India" here and elsewhere in the Bill.

3. Clause 4.—In accordance with a request of the local Chamber of Commerce, which is supported by the Local Government, we have provided that one member of the Committee shall be appointed on the recommendation of the Madras Chamber of Commerce.

4. Clause 5.—We have added words to sub-clause (2) including in the fund to be administered by the Committee any other moneys received by them in this behalf. We understand that the States of Travancore and Cochin propose to levy similar cesses on tea exported from their territories, and to hand over the proceeds to the Committee to be appointed under our law.

5. Clause 6.—Apart from a slight amendment in sub-clause (2) consequential on the amendment last explained, we have added a new sub-clause (3), providing for an appeal to the Governor General in Council when the auditors disallow any item.

6. Clause 7.—We have provided that rules shall only be made by the Governor General in Council after consulting the Committee, and we have in a new sub-clause (2) specified the principal objects to be dealt with in the rules.

7. The other alterations suggested by us do not call for notice.

C. W. BOLTON.

Note of Dissent.

I am constrained to record my dissent from the decision of the majority of the Select Committee to insert in clause 7 of the Bill the words which impose on the Governor General in Council an obligation to consult the Tea Cess Committee before making rules to carry out the purposes of the Act. First, the amendment is inconsistent with the new sub-clause (2), which provides that rules may be made relating to the nomination and appointment of the members of the Committee. Such rules must obviously be made before the Committee is constituted, and the Committee cannot, therefore, be consulted. Secondly, the amendment has the objectionable effect of placing the Governor General in Council in some degree of subordination to the Committee, and introduces a restriction on the rule-making power conferred on the Government by Indian legislation which may establish an embarrassing precedent. The case is not analogous to that of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, where the rules to be framed were of a technical character and the advice of experts was necessary. Here, the rules will relate entirely to procedure. The clause provides for the previous publication of the rules, and the Committee, when constituted, will have the opportunity of submitting objections, which will be duly considered. It seems to me that this is sufficient.

APPROPRIATION REPORT ON THE ACCOUNTS OF 1901-1902.

GENERAL REVIEW.

Throughout the report the rupee figures are in thousands of rupees and the sterling figures in hundreds of £; thus 10,64 reads as ten lakhs and sixty-four thousands of Rupees, and £ 71,2 reads as seventy-one thousand and two hundreds of pounds sterling. The rupee figures are converted into sterling amounts at R15=£1.

The Budget Estimate of 1901-2 provided for a small surplus of £690,9. The country was not then free from the consequences of famine, and the estimates were framed with great caution. Provision was made for grants-in-aid to Provincial revenues amounting in the aggregate to £1,096,2, to enable Local Governments to incur necessary expenditure on administrative improvements postponed for want of funds. In addition, new expenditure for the improvement of the efficiency of the Army was estimated to cost £1,066,0.

2. The actual results of the year proved to be much more favourable than the Budget anticipations. There was an improvement of revenue under almost all the heads of account, with considerable decreases in expenditure. Land revenue collections showed an increase of £117,4, with a decrease of £79,3 in charges chiefly for District Administration and Survey and Settlement. The average price realized at the sales of Bengal Opium was R1,297 a chest, whereas the Budget assumed a price of R1,100 only. The receipts in Bengal consequently exceeded the estimate by £630,3. The revenue from Pass Fees in Bombay was, however, less by £324,0, in consequence of smaller exports of Malwa Opium, but the yield of the opium crop in Bengal was below the average and resulted in a saving of £154,5 in the payments to cultivators. Under Customs revenue, excluding refunds, there was a large improvement of £623,0, contributed principally by larger imports of petroleum, sugar, cotton manufactures, silver and manufactured articles. The Excise revenue also increased by £109,6.

3. The largest improvements, however, occurred under Railways and Army. The net Railway earnings exceeded the Budget Estimate by £1,011,4, an excess to which, with a few exceptions, all the principal railways contributed their share, and which was attributed principally to ordinary development of goods and passenger traffic. Under Army expenditure there was a saving of £1,371,3. The continued absence of Indian troops in South Africa and China, which had not been assumed in the Budget, was the principal cause of this large saving. There were also lapses from the amounts provided for new expenditure, and the War Office refunded to His Majesty's Secretary of State over-payments of £320,9, in the two previous years, on account of British forces serving in India.

4. The result of these and other improvements was a surplus of £4,950,2, showing an increase over the Budget of £4,259,3. The surplus would have been higher, but for additional grants of £266,7 in aid of Provincial revenues, which transferred a portion of the general improvement from the Imperial to the Provincial Section of the Accounts.

5. No important change in classification was made during the year in regard to revenue and expenditure. A change was, however, made in respect of the adjustment of the capital raised in England by the issue of debentures of Railway Companies for expenditure on Railways purchased by Government, as explained in paragraph 257 of the Financial Statement for 1902-3.

6. The following summary gives the Budget and Account figures of 1901-2, which are reviewed in this report. The details will be found in the statements on pages 161 to 176:—

9. Under Land Revenue the collections were better in the Central Provinces (39,86), Burma (11,52), the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province (24,00) and Bombay (49,02). Recovery from the effects of famine accounts for the improvements in the Central Provinces and the Punjab. In Burma it was due to the extension of cultivation, and an increase in the area assessed to revenue, and is an indication of the continued prosperity of the Province; and in Bombay to an improvement in the agricultural condition of some districts, and a large collection of arrears. Under Opium there was a decrease of 43,87, due to a decline in the exports of Malwa Opium from Bombay, owing to the partial failure of the crops, counterbalanced to the extent of 6,16 by an increase in the number of chests of Bengal Opium sold in 1901-2. The decline of the salt trade at Sambhar, owing to the inferior quality of the salt manufactured, accounts for the decrease under Salt. Under Stamps the improvement was contributed by all the Provinces, except the Punjab, and was mainly due to increased litigation; the largest increases were in the Central Provinces (2,46), Bengal (5,70) and Bombay (3,86). Under Excise there was an increase in the consumption of liquors, and better settlement of licenses in all the Provinces except India, where the consumption fell off, and in Assam, where the revenue was affected by the prevalence of smuggling. The greatest improvement occurred in Madras (7,21) where there was an unexpected recovery from the depression in this source of revenue which began in 1897-98. Under Provincial Rates the improvement was general. In the Central Provinces, the Punjab, Madras and Bombay, it was mainly due to the collections of arrears and an improvement in the agricultural conditions, and in Burma to the large collections of land revenue. Under Customs the increase occurred chiefly in Import Duties in Bengal (9,87), Madras (5,56) and Bombay (43,76). Under Forest the decrease occurred chiefly in Burma, owing to restricted extractions of timber and of sales, due to a bad floating season, and in Bombay, owing to the discontinuance of the famine grass operations. The largest improvement under Other Heads occurred in Assessed Taxes (7,09) and was due to more careful assessment.

10. Under Interest the increase was due to larger recoveries from Native States and to large withdrawals of capital by Railway Companies in India, and to the investment of larger sums in England. Under Post Office the improvement is an indication of the growth of the Department. Under Telegraph the expansion of traffic resulted in an increase of 5,42 in the revenue of the Indo-European Telegraphs, which was reduced by a decrease of 3,26 under Indian Telegraphs due to a decrease in the number of messages in connection with the wars in China and South Africa, and to a reduction in rates between India and Europe. Under Mint the decrease occurred in the gain on coinage operations, which in the previous year was very large in consequence of the exceptionally large coinage. Under Civil Departments there was an increase of 1,63 under Education and of 98 under Medical owing chiefly to certain contributions from Municipalities in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh having, for the first time, been credited under these heads, and, in the former also to large sales of articles manufactured at Reformatory schools, and an increase of 92 under Scientific and other Minor Departments owing to the transfer of the Hissar cattle farm from the Military Department in India, and to large sales of aluminium ware in Madras. Under Miscellaneous 3,82 of the increase occurred under Exchange and 9,80 under Miscellaneous due to large recoveries of famine expenditure in the Central Provinces, to large lapses of unclaimed Deposits, and recoveries from Municipalities of plague charges, and to large sales of land and old stores in Bengal, and to an improvement in England, chiefly in connection with stores procured for the China Expeditionary Force.

11. Under Railway Revenue the large improvement was due partly to the inclusion of the traffic receipts of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway and the Northern Section, East Coast Railway, for the whole year, as against 9 and 3 months respectively, in the previous year and partly to an improvement in the traffic in cotton and oil-seeds, to the revival of the export traffic in grain and seed viâ Karachi, to the continued expansion of the coal traffic, to large imports of Burma rice into districts affected by drought and to exports of grain to Colombo. The principal improvements were the following:—

Great Indian Peninsula Railway	1,59,11
North-Western Railway	1,04,22
East Indian Railway	35,44
Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway	19,11
Bengal and North-Western Railway	15,56
Bengal-Nagpur Railway	13,92
South Indian Railway	13,47
Burma Railways	8,99

12. The more noticeable decreases of revenue occurred on the Southern Mahratta Railway (6,63), due to the absence of the special troop traffic of the previous year; on the Indian Midland Railway (5,47,) due to a falling off in traffic in wheat and other food grains; and on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway (3,46), due chiefly to fluctuations in suspense.

13. Under Irrigation the decrease was due to the seasonable rainfall in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, which reduced the area irrigated by the canals. The increase under Other Public Works was chiefly due to the credit to the head Military Works, of a recovery from the Military Department on account of stores originally debited to the head 47.—Special Defences which has since been closed. Under Receipts by Military Department the increase occurred entirely in England, and was mainly due to the contributions by the Imperial Government in respect of the cost of transport of troops, and military charges for Aden, reduced by smaller recoveries, than in the previous year, from the Imperial Government on account of animals and stores sent to South Africa and China.

14. A comparison of the expenditure side is given below:—

15. Under Direct Demands on the Revenues the decreases were 26,58 under Opium and 3,69 under Forest. The former was the result of a smaller outturn of the crop than in the previous year, while the latter was due to small expenditure in connection with famine grass operations. These improvements were, however, partly counterbalanced by increases under other heads, the more important being 6,91 under Land Revenue, owing chiefly to high charges for District Administration in Burma, Bengal, and the Punjab; 2,19 under Refunds and Drawbacks mainly in Land Revenue, Salt and Customs refunds; and 1,01 under Assignments and Compensations owing to large payments in the Central Provinces for resumption of certain abkari rights. Of the saving under Interest, 14,20 occurred in the payments in England, mainly in the charge for discount; the decrease in India was due to the favourable rate of discount at which the loan of one crore was issued. Under Post Office and Telegraph the increases were consequent on the expansion and development of the Departments Under Mint the decrease occurred in the profits on silver coinage transferred to the Gold Reserve Fund. Under Civil Departments the principal increases were 14,94 under Political, 6,18 under Education, 5,86 under Police, 5,47 under Scientific and Other Minor Departments, and 5,00 under Law and Justice—Courts of Law. The excess under Political was due to the larger drawings of the Amir of Afghanistan, and to charges connected with the Waziristan Militia and Mahsud Blockade That under Education was contributed by all the Provinces. That under Police was due to increases in the District Executive and Railway Police Forces in Bengal, the extension of the Village Police Act in the Orissa District, to high expenditure on arms and accoutrements, petty construction and repairs, and purchase and carriage of supplies in Burma, and to the Police force in that Province having been below the sanctioned strength in the previous year. That under Scientific and Other Minor Departments was due to the large expenditure in connection with the census; and that under Law and Justice—Courts of Law chiefly to the Judges of the Chief Court in Burma having drawn pay for the whole year, against ten and-a-half months in 1900-1, and to an increase in the number of Myoôks, to revision of salaries of District and Sessions Judges in Bengal, and the appointment of a Judicial Commissioner in the North-West Frontier Province. Against these increases there were savings of 3,81 under Law and Justice—Jails, due to the high prices of food grains in 1900-1 and the payment in that year of compensation to jail ration contractors in Bombay, and of 11,55 under Medical, in charges connected with the plague. Under Miscellaneous there were increases of 17,70 under Miscellaneous due to the writing off of irrecoverable taccavi loans in the Central Provinces, the United Provinces, and Bombay, of 6,64 under Superannuation Allowances both in India and England, and of 5,21 under Stationery and Printing, chiefly in the charges in England, and decreases of 4,78 under Exchange, due to the exchange adjustments of the year resulting in a net credit instead of a net debit as in the previous year, and of 2,24 under Territorial and Political Pensions, chiefly in England, due to a loan having been granted in 1900-1 to Prince Victor Dhuleep Singh. The disappearance of famine, except in parts of Bombay, accounts for the decrease under Famine. Under Railways there was an increase of 1,54,00 in working expenses of State Railways, owing to increased traffic and the consequent larger mileage run, and to the inclusion of the charges of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway for the whole year, against nine months in the previous year. The payment of Interest and Annuities in India and England for State Railways also exceeded the previous year's charges by 1,44,25, but there were decreases of 2,60 in the Surplus Profits of Guaranteed Companies, and of 86,99 in the Guaranteed Interest paid in England. Under Irrigation the increase was due to the maintenance and repair of greater lengths of canals opened for irrigation, and to increased interest charges on additional capital outlay. Under Other Public Works the increase was due to a large number of military works being under construction, to the construction of new public offices in Calcutta, Simla and Peshawar, and to the improvement in the provincial finances having rendered a larger programme of work possible. Under Army Services there was an increase of 1,10,60 in the expenditure in India, and a decrease of 8,43 in the expenditure in England The excess in India was principally due to high charges in connection with the Blockade of the Mahsud Waziris, to the payment of special bounties gratuities to British soldiers for extension of service in India, to the formation of Native Infantry Regiments to replace those serving in the colonies, to the re-organization and improvement of the Commissariat-Transport Service, to large purchases of malt liquor, to increased movements of European troops owing to the suspension of home reliefs, to smaller credits than in the previous year for local stores issued to South Africa and China, and to a debit for the value of stores returned from China. These excesses were partly counterbalanced by decreases in the charges for the special services in the North-West Frontier, other than that mentioned above, and in the purchase of horses, owing to the large purchases in 1900-1, for remounting British Cavalry Regiments and Batteries of Artillery on their return from South Africa. The saving in England was mainly due to the absence of troops in South Africa, to the refund by the War Office of over-payments of the two preceding years in respect of troops serving in India, and of a moiety of the special bounties granted to British soldiers for extension of service in India.

Comparison of Accounts with Budget Estimates of 1901-2.

16. The following figures exhibit the differences in the net accounts between the Budget and the Actuals, those in India and England being shown in separate columns. A comparison of the gross figures has been given before in para 6:—

COMBINED SURPLUS, IMPERIAL AND PROVINCIAL	+6,96,66	+4,644,4	+869,8	+5,514,2

17. Under Principal Heads of Revenue the largest improvements were 96,74 under Customs, and 46,41 under Opium. The former was due to large imports chiefly in Bengal, Madras and Bombay, and the latter to the high prices obtained for Bengal Opium and to a decrease in charges, owing to the outturn of the crop having fallen below the estimate, partly counterbalanced by a decline in the exports of Malwa Opium, owing to a partial failure the crop. Under Land Revenue there was an increase of 17,61 in the revenue collections chiefly in the Central Provinces, Burma and Bombay, and a saving in the expenditure on District Administration and Survey and Settlement. An increase in litigation improved the revenue under Stamps by 14,87. Excise revenue showed an improvement of 16,44, chiefly in consequence of large receipts from license fees in Burma and Bengal, increased consumption in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and Bombay, and to an unexpected recovery in Madras from the decline in this source of revenue which began in 1897-98. More careful assessment resulted in an increase of 9,81 under Assessed Taxes. Under Forest there was a deterioration of 14,57 in the revenue due to small extractions and sales of timber in Burma owing to a bad floating season, and a fall in the price of teak, and to a postponement of the supply of sleepers to the Burma Railways Company. Small expenditure on works of construction and improvement, and restricted timber operations in Burma and Bombay resulted in a saving of 8,21 in Forest expenditure. Under Tributes there was a decrease of 8,60 chiefly due to the continuance of famine conditions in some Native States in Bombay.

18. Under Interest there was an increase in England of £67,2 arising from the investment of a larger amount of the available cash balance, and at a higher rate of interest, than was expected for a portion of the year, and of 5,43 in India owing to large recoveries from Native States. In addition to this there were savings in the charges, both in England and in India, due in the former mainly to the discharge, without replacement, of £1,000,0 India Bills, and in the latter to the reduction of the rupee loan from two crores to one crore, and to the favourable rate of discount at which it was raised. Under Post Office the improvement was due to the normal growth of the revenue, and a decrease in the expenditure for the conveyance of mails. The improvement under Telegraph was due to better message receipts than was expected, reduced by increased expenditure in England on account of the Indo-European Telegraphs. The increase under Mint was due to a larger dollar coinage, recoinages undertaken for Native States, and to a gain on copper coinage, arising out of an unexpected demand for copper coin. The actual gain on coinage operations, for which the Budget made no provision in accordance with the procedure explained in paragraph 191 of the Financial Statement for 1901-2, amounted to 72,10, and the transfer to the Gold Reserve Fund to 62,26. Under Civil Departments the improvement was mainly due to savings in expenditure, the largest of which were 18,78 under Medical, 14,02 under Political, 13,75 under Police, and 10,25 under Scientific and Other Minor Departments. Under Medical the saving was due to small expenditure on account of plague in India, Bengal and Bombay, reduced by higher charges than were expected in the Punjab and Madras. That under Political was due to the subsidy of the Amir of Afghanistan not having been fully drawn. That under Police was chiefly due to the lapse of certain provisions in Burma, to the District Executive Force in Bengal having been below the sanctioned strength, and to a delay in the re-organization of the supervising staff of the District Executive Force in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and to the Village Chaukidari system in Oudh not having been carried out to the extent anticipated. That under Scientific and Other Minor Departments occurred chiefly in the charges of the Survey of India, Geological and Other Surveys, Veterinary and Stallion Charges, and in the expenditure in connection with the Census. In addition to these, there was a saving of 6,30 under Education due chiefly to certain provisions not having been utilized, and to over-estimating in respect of Local Charges chiefly in Bengal and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh. Under Marine there was an excess in the charges of 8,90, due to extensive alterations and repairs to Royal Indian Marine Vessels, and to large supplies of coal to His Majesty's ships in the Persian Gulf, but this was reduced to the extent of 2,63 by large recoveries in connection with the employment of Royal Indian Marine Vessels on Imperial Service. Under Miscellaneous the improvement was chiefly due to large lapses of unclaimed deposits, and recoveries from municipalities on account of plague charges in Bengal, and large receipts of rents in the Central Provinces and Madras, and to receipts in England in connection with stores procured for the China Expeditionary Force, and penalties incurred by contractors. In addition there was an increase of 1,43 under Exchange. There was, however, an increase of 5,58 in the expenditure in England on account of purchase of stationery, reduced by saving in India of 2,73 in the charges of Government Presses, and of 1,40 in payments of Territorial and Political Pensions.

19. The total loss due to Famine has been brought together in the following table which is framed on the model of the statements given in past reports. It is based on estimates framed by the most competent local authorities, and may be accepted as giving approximately the loss of revenue assignable to Famine. Suspensions of Land Revenue and Provincial Rates, which are not final loss, have been distinguished from remissions under those heads. The countervailing improvements under Railways and Irrigation have been taken account of. The total net loss of revenue assigned to famine in 1901-2 is thus 52,60, as shown below:—

20. The expenditure was chiefly upon actual relief of famine and distress, but the charges on this account fell short of the Budget Estimate by 21,75. Bombay was the only Province in which any considerable expenditure was incurred. The total charge under this head includes a debit of 42,70, on account of Reduction or Avoidance of Debt against an estimate of 37,52. The better result shown in the table at para 16, represents the net charge on the Revenues on account of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, shown under the Railway Revenue Account. Besides the charges on actual relief, expenditure under several heads was incurred in the purchase of supplies for men and animals, or in the grant of compensation for dearness of provisions. There were also charges which arose indirectly out of the scarcity, such as increased payments of travelling allowances, and the entertainment of additional establishments not concerned with the direct administration of famine relief. These charges have been estimated by the local authorities, and are brought together in the following table. The total loss on this account may be set down as about 1,07,73 :—

21. The total loss of revenue and increase of expenditure due to famine may therefore be put down at about 1,60,33.

22. The net improvement under Railways was due generally to large movements of passengers in connection with marriages and fairs, the absence of famine, the removal of plague precautionary measures, and the revival of traffic in cotton, grain and seeds following on the abundant harvest of 1901. The following are the more important increases :—

North-Western Railway	54,01
Great Indian Peninsula Railway	35,10
Rajputana-Malwa Railway	33,51
East Indian Railway	16,74
South Indian Railway	15,83
Bengal and North-Western Railway	10,70

23. Of the Railways which did not contribute to this improvement, the most important is the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, in which there was a decline of 12,50, due to there being no demand for food grains from other Provinces.

24. Under Irrigation, the net improvement was due to an increase in the revenue, contributed by all the Provinces, and to expenditure in Burma not having been as high as was expected. The saving under Other Public Works was due to the progress of works not having been as rapid as was anticipated, and to the transfer, to the head Capital of Local Boards, of the amount of the Government share in the Mayaveram-Mutupet Railway, which it has been decided should be treated as a loan to the Tanjore District Board. Under Army Services the net improvement in India was due chiefly to the absence of troops in South Africa and China, to credits for value of horses and stores sent to South Africa and China, and of stores issued to the regiments of Native Infantry raised to replace those serving in the colonies, to lapses of certain grants, to short strength of British and Native troops and Medical Officers, to small purchases of transport animals, horses and ordnance mules, and to credit for value of stores supplied to the Australian Government, partly counterbalanced by increased charges on account of the Blockade of the Mahsud Waziris, owing to the prolongation of the operations, and the subsequent increase of the force forming the blockade, to the payment of special bounties to British soldiers for extension of service in India, to large purchases of malt liquor, to large consignments of commissariat and ordnance stores by rail and water and to the hire of transports for conveyance of troops between India and England. The improvement in England was due to the causes stated in para 15.

25. The Budget provided for an increase of £508,3 or R76,25 in the revenue on the whole account, but as a sum of £182,6 or R27,40, out of the Provincial and Local Expenditure, was payable from past accumulations of balances, there was a net surplus in the Imperial accounts of £690,9 or R1,03,64. The accounts closed with a surplus on Imperial account of £4,950,2 or R7,42,53, and a surplus on Provincial and Local account of £1,072,3 or R1,60,84. The net Imperial revenue has therefore been better by £4,950,2—£690,9= £4,259,3 or R6,38,89, and the net Provincial and Local receipts by £1,072,3+£182,6= £1,254,9 or R1,88,24.

26. The details of these fluctuations are given below, the sign + meaning better, and — worse, than the estimate :—

29. The Budget grants have been exceeded under several heads. The excesses, distinguishing those requiring sanction from those for which extra grants have already been made, have been noticed under each head of expenditure, and the detailed reasons for the excess have been also there stated. The following table brings together the excesses under each head still requiring sanction:—

30. The receipts in this section exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by £1,224,8 or R1,83,74 and £1,304,6 or R1,95,69, respectively. As compared with the Budget there was an increase of £117,4 or R17,61 under Land Revenue, contributed chiefly by the Central Provinces, Burma and Bombay in ordinary land revenue collections; of £309,3 or R46,41 under Opium, due to the high prices obtained for Bengal opium, reduced by a decline in the exports of Malwa opium from Bombay, owing to the crop having been seriously affected by drought; of £99,1 or R14,87 under Stamps, due in Burma, Bengal, and Bombay to increased litigation, and an increase in the number of applications for probate and letters of administration, in the United Provinces to the institution of a large number of ejectment suits in view of the amendment in the Rent Law, and in the Punjab to increased litigation following the passing of the Alienation of Land Act; of £109 6 or R16,44 under Excise, due in Burma and Bengal to large receipts from license fees, in the United Provinces to increased consumption, in Madras partly to an under-estimate, and partly to an unexpected recovery from the decline in the revenue which began in 1897-98, and in Bombay to increased consumption and to improvement in agricultural conditions in parts of the Presidency; of £20,6 or R3,08 under Provincial Rates, due in the Central Provinces and Madras chiefly to collection of arrears owing to the favourable condition of the year, and in Burma to the large collections of land revenue; of £645,0 or R96,74 under Customs, due to large imports of articles of food and drink, silver bullion and coin, cotton goods, manufactured articles, petroleum, sugar (ordinary duties), and to increased receipts from sugar countervailing duties, of £65,3 or R9,81 under Assessed Taxes, due to more careful assessment; and of £11,5 or R1,73 under Registration, due to an increase in the number of documents registered. These increases were partly counterbalanced by decreases of £97,0 or R14,57 under Forest chiefly, in Burma due to small extractions of timber and small sales owing to a bad floating season, to a fall in the price of teak, and to the postponement of the supply of sleepers to the Burma Railways Company; and of £57,4 or R8,60 under Tributes, chiefly in Bombay, due mainly to the continuance of famine conditions in some Native States.

31. The improvement, as compared with the previous year, was contributed by all the heads except Opium, Salt, and Forest, and was due mainly to the causes stated above. The more important increases are £785,0 or R1,17,75 under Land Revenue, £139,5 or R20,92 under Excise, £180,5 or R27,06 under Provincial Rates and £461,4 or R69,21 under Customs. The decrease of £250,2 or R37,53 under Opium was due to a decline in the exports of Malwa opium from Bombay, partly counterbalanced by an increase due to the larger number of Bengal opium chests sold in 1901-1902; that of £27,7 or R4,16 under Salt to the decline in the salt trade of Sambhar; and that of £140,5 or R21,08 under Forest, due in Burma to the cause stated above, and in Bombay to the discontinuance of famine grass operations.

32. The receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 17,61 and 1,17,75 respectively. As compared with the Budget Ordinary Land Revenue collections account for 21,62 of the increase, and Fisheries and other Miscellaneous Receipts for 7,65. These improvements were partly counterbalanced by a fall in Bombay under Assessment of Alienated Lands, and in Burma under Thathameda Tax. As compared with the previous year the increase occurred under Ordinary Land Revenue, and was contributed chiefly by the Central Provinces, Burma, the Punjab and Bombay.

33. Under Ordinary Land Revenue the improvement in the Central Provinces (6,03) was due to a recovery from the effects of famine. In Burma (8,65) it was due to the extension of cultivation, to increase in the area assessed to Land Revenue, and to a well distributed rainfall; and in Bombay (27,43) to a large collection of arrears of previous years, and an improvement in the agricultural condition of certain districts. The falling off in India (2,51) occurred chiefly in the collection of arrears in Ajmer. The decline in Assam (3,02) was due to an abatement of 1,80 sanctioned by the Government of India, in the revenue demands of certain districts which suffered greatly from the effects of the earthquake of June 1897, and to short collections in some districts. In Bengal (4,61) it was due to delay in collections in the Midnapur District, owing to the failure of the winter rice crop. In the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province, (6,87) it was due to suspensions, and the non-recovery of arrears anticipated in the Estimate; and in Madras (3,70) to postponements and remissions granted in certain districts owing to an unfavourable season, and to retarded collections in Malabar. As compared with the previous year the improvements in the Central Provinces, Burma and Bombay were due to the causes stated above. The increase in India occurred in Ajmer. In the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province, it was due to better collections owing to recovery from the effects of famine, and in Madras, to the realization of arrears, and a more favourable season generally. The decrease in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was due to small collections of famine arrears. Under Assessment of Alienated Lands less Quit Rents the decrease in Bombay (1,21) was due to lapses of inams by deaths. Under Sale of Proprietary Rights, etc., the receipts in Burma represent the capitalized value of the abatement of Land Revenue on land taken over by the Burma Railways Company. The decreases in Bengal and the Punjab were due to over-estimates. Under Capitation Tax, etc., the decrease in Burma was due to a falling off in the collection of Thathameda Tax, (3,38), owing to the introduction of direct assessment of land in commutation of Thathameda, and to a reduction in the demand necessitated by the failure of crops in certain districts, counterbalanced, to the extent of 1,50 by an increase in the Capitation Tax, due chiefly to the growth of population. Under Fisheries and other receipts classed as Miscellaneous, the increase in the Central Provinces (16) was due to the royalty realized on the Mohpani Coal Mines in the Nursinghpur District. In Burma (4,19) it was due to an improvement in the revenue from fisheries (1,98) owing to high prices obtained at auction sales, to an increase in Petroleum revenue (1,63), Patta Survey fees, (17), and miscellaneous revenue (42). The improvement over the previous year is attributable to the same causes. In Bengal, the increase (1,40) was due to large recoveries of Survey charges (74) and high miscellaneous receipts (61), and in Madras (1,14) to high rents realized for fisheries owing to a favourable season, and keen competition.

34. The explanation of the variations in the Portion of Land Revenue due to Irrigation, is given in the Public Works portion of this report under the head Irrigation—vide paragraph 242.

36. The receipts under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate by 46,41 and fell short of the actuals of the previous year by 37.53. Under Sale of Bengal Opium the actuals exceeded the Budget by 94·55. The improvement was due to the higher average price obtained at the sales; the average price realized was R1,297 per chest against an estimate of R1,100. Under Bombay Opium Pass Fees there was a decrease of 48,60 due to diminished exports of Malwa Opium, owing to the crop having been seriously affected by drought. Under Excise Opium there was an improvement of 54. There were increases in Burma (34), due to the opening of new shops, and an increase in the number of opium consumers, and in Bengal (54), and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (28), owing to larger sales than were anticipated. On the other hand there were decreases in the Central Provinces (20), and Assam (44). The former was due to smaller sales than was anticipated, and the latter partly to the prevalence of smuggling, and partly to the scarcity of food-grains in several districts.

39. The receipts under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate by 22, and fell short of the actuals of the previous year by 4,16. The small improvement as compared with the Budget, was mainly the result of an increase of 1,52 under Excise on Local Manufacture, and a decrease of 1,32 under Sale of Government Salt. The latter occurred entirely in India and was due to a decline in the Salt Trade of Sambhar, owing chiefly to the inferior quality of the salt manufactured. The decrease, as compared with the previous year, was due to the same cause. The increase under Excise on Local Manufacture was contributed mainly by Bengal (3,56), and Bombay (2,65), and was due to large sales, attributed in Bengal to a reduction in the selling price, and in Bombay to improved conditions, and to the growth of population in Sind. These increases were largely counterbalanced by a decrease in India (5,31), due chiefly to the decline in the Sambhar Salt Trade mentioned above. As compared with the previous year the decrease in India was also due to this cause. The increase in Bengal was due to large sales, and that in Madras to large realizations on account of credit sales. Under Duty on Imported Salt the increase in Burma was due to large importation owing to low rates of freight. The excess as compared with the previous year was contributed by Burma and Bengal. Under Miscellaneous the decrease in India (15), was in the Through Traffic collections, owing to the decline in the Sambhar Salt Trade, and that in Bombay (50), to a falling off in the customs duty on salt, owing to the abnormal demand for Goa Salt in the previous year. The increase in Madras (17), was due to large receipts of fees on account of works undertaken on behalf of the licensees in Excise Factories.

40. The receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 14,87 and 15,51, respectively. As compared with the Budget, the increase occurred chiefly under Court-fee Stamps in Burma (1,57), Bengal (2,29), the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (4,00), the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province, (2,06), and Bombay (3,29), due mainly to increased litigation. The increase as compared with the previous year, also occurred chiefly under this head and was due to the same cause. The increases in Burma, Bengal, and Bombay were also partly due to an increase in the number of applications for probate and letters of administration. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh a large number of ejectment suits were instituted by landlords, with the object of reducing, as far as possible, the length of occupancy by tenants-at-will before the Tenancy Bill became law, and in the Punjab the increase in litigation was temporary and followed the passing of the Alienation of Land Act. Under Commercial and other Stamps the increase in Bengal (2,57), was chiefly due to the enhanced stamp duty on perpetual leases under the Stamp Act, and the execution of a large number of bonds. The Central Provinces and Madras contributed 35 and 72, respectively. On the other hand there was a decrease of 2,91 in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province taken together, which is attributed to the passing of the Alienation of Land Act. Under Fines and Penalties and Miscellaneous there was an increase of 19 in Bengal due to large realizations of stamp penalties, and of 35 in Bombay due to large receipts of duty on impressing documents. In Madras there was a fall of 35 in the receipts under this head.

41. The receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 16,44 and 20,92, respectively. The improvement occurred chiefly under License and Distillery fees, etc., and was contributed by all the provinces except India, where there was a decrease of 1,54 due to a fall in the consumption of arrack, owing to shop-keepers having raised the retail price of the liquor, and to a less keen competition at auction sales of rights of retail vend. The increase in Burma (1,00), was due to large receipts from license fees for country spirits and toddy, and would have been larger but for a falling off in the duty on spirits manufactured in India after European methods, and in opium license fees. The increase in Bengal (2,81), was due to the better settlement of licenses; that in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (6,12), to increased consumption of country liquor; that in Madras (5,33), partly to the estimate having been placed low with reference to the decline in the revenue which began in 1897-98, and partly to an unexpected recovery from the depression; and that in Bombay (2,87), to a large consumption of malt liquor, to high prices realized at auction sales of the non-privileged licenses in the City of Bombay, to the improvement in agricultural conditions in parts of the Presidency, and to the celebration of a large number of marriages in the Surat District. The increase over the previous year was contributed to by all the provinces except India and Burma, and was mainly due to the reasons stated above. Under Opium the decrease occurred chiefly in Assam (1,46), where the prevalence of smuggling, and scarcity of food grains affected the sales, and in Bombay (1,56), where the consumption was reduced owing to famine. There were also smaller decreases in the Central Provinces (34), due to small sales, and in Bengal (39), due to an over-estimate. These decreases were partly counterbalanced by improvements in the other provinces, but chiefly in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (48), due to large sales, and in Madras (57), due to the change of system, by which Government has become the sole importer of opium into the Presidency. Under Duty on Ganja the improvement in Bengal (90) was chiefly due to the increased consumption of the variety of the drug which pays the highest rate of duty; that in Madras (20), to large removals to Travancore and Cochin, and that in Bombay (1,16), to the introduction of the Hemp Drugs Act from 1st August 1901, under which high quantitative duties have been imposed. Under Other Receipts the decrease in the Central Provinces (37), was due partly to the transfer of license fees from farmed zamindaries to the head License and Distillery fees, etc., and partly to low receipts of store-house fees, owing to the failure of the Ganja crop; that in Bengal (7) to an over-estimate, and that in Bombay (12), to contribution from opium farmers having been adjusted by deduction from charges. The increase in Burma (13), is attributed to an under-estimate.

42. The receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 3,08 and 27,06, respectively. As compared with the Budget the increase occurred in the Central Provinces (2,96), Burma (1,26) and Madras (2,94). Bengal showed a falling off of 4,33. In the other provinces the variations were not large. The improvements in the Central Provinces and Madras were mainly due to the collection of arrears, owing to the favourable conditions of the year. In Madras the increased collections of house-tax, and the increase in the rate of village-cess enhanced the increase. The increase in Burma was due to large collections of land revenue. The falling off in Bengal was due to the improvement anticipated from the re-organization of the Certificate Department and valuation and re-valuation in certain districts not having been realized. The increase in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province taken together (68), was due to an under-estimate, and that in Bombay (46), to an increase in village-cess, consequent on an extension of cultivation in Sind. The decrease in India (27), was mainly due to the failure of rains in Ajmer, and that in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (83), to the reforms in the rural police system not having been carried out to the extent anticipated. As compared with the previous year the increase was contributed to by all the provinces. In the Central Provinces, the Punjab and Bombay it was mainly due to the collection of arrears, and an improvement in the agricultural conditions. In Burma and Madras it was due to the reasons given above, and in Bengal to the valuation and re-valuation work carried out in some districts.

43. The receipts under this head showed an improvement of 96,74 as compared with the Budget Estimate, and of 69,21 as compared with the actuals of the previous year. The increase was contributed by all the heads, but chiefly by Import Duties. Under this head the improvement in Bengal (21,54), occurred chiefly under articles of food and drink (2,37), countervailing sugar duties (8,45), silver bullion, etc., (4,51), cotton goods (3,32) and manufactured articles (3,78), partly counterbalanced by a falling off under raw materials (2,46). In Madras (6,57), there was a general revival of the import trade, especially in petroleum, sugar (ordinary duties), cotton manufactures and manufactured articles; and in Bombay (60,28), the principal increases occurred under sugar countervailing duties (14,78), silver bullion and coin (10,85), cotton manufactures (9,97), sugar (ordinary duties) (9,26), manufactured articles (6,10) petroleum (3,90), articles of food and drink (3,48) and spirits and liquors (1,02). Under Export Duties the increase in Burma (6,49), was due to an excellent harvest, and an increased demand for Burma rice in foreign ports, while the falling-off in Bengal (6,51), was due to reduced exportation of rice to foreign ports, consequent on the shipments from Burma. In Madras (99), and Bombay (72), the improvement was due to large exports of rice. Under Excise duty on Cotton Manufactures the increase in the Central Provinces (25) was due to the good cotton crop of 1901-2, and to additional duties realised from certain mills, and, that in Bombay (4,76), to the increased outturn of the cotton mills. Under Land Customs and Miscellaneous the increase in Madras (36), was chiefly in the import duties on other than cotton goods, and that in Bombay (21), to increased receipts from fees for overtime work. The improvement as compared with the previous year, which occurred chiefly under Import Duties, was due mainly to the causes stated above.

44. The revenue under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 9,81 and 7,09, respectively. The improvement was contributed by all the provinces except the Central Provinces and Assam. In India the improvement (15), occurred chiefly in the Military and Public Works Departments, while there was a decrease in the Civil Departments. That in Burma (86), the Punjab with the North-West Frontier Province (61) and Madras (1,69), may be attributed to the growth of this source of revenue. In Bengal (4,52), where the increase was greatest, it was mainly due to a generally prosperous trade, chiefly in the jute and coal industries. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (34), it is ascribed to the high profits of grain dealers consequent on the prevalence of famine in other parts of India, and in Bombay (1,84), to recovery of arrears of the tax from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company, and to the recovery of the tax from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway not expected in the Budget (22). The amalgamation of the Indian Midland with the Great Indian Peninsula Railway brought in an increase of 28 in the tax on salaries, while the re-opening of mills which had been closed, and greater care exercised in fixing assessments, and increase in the number of persons taxed. resulted in improvements of 47 and 86, respectively. The decrease in the Central Provinces (16), was due to the write-off by money lenders, after the famines, of large irrecoverable debts.

45. The India figures include, in addition to the collections made in the Districts directly administered by the Government of India, the recoveries by the Non-Civil Departments from the salaries of Government Officers. The details are given below :—

46. The receipts fell short of the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 14,57 and 21,08, respectively. The decrease, as compared with the Budget, occurred almost entirely in Burma (18,26), due to small extractions of timber and restricted sales, owing to a bad floating season, and to a fall in the price of teak, and to the supply of sleepers to the Railway having been deferred. The Punjab and Bombay contributed 40 and 51, respectively, to the decrease. There were improvements in all the other Provinces, especially in the Central Provinces (1,16), Bengal (1.17), and Madras (1,43). The increase in the first was due to the revival of trade after the famine, while that in Bengal was the result of an increased demand for sundri timber for boat building, for fuel and for golpatha for thatching purposes, and that in Madras to a generally favourable season, careful supervision, and to a large supply of fuel to Railway companies. As compared with the actuals of the previous year the decrease was contributed by Burma (21,80), and Bombay (5,81). The former was due to the causes stated above, and the latter to the special receipts in connection with famine grass operations in 1900-1. The falling-off was partly counterbalanced by improvements in all the other provinces except Assam, where there was a small deterioration, but chiefly in the Central Provinces (1,53), due mainly to the return of prosperity to the Province; in the United Provinces (1,50), due to the imposition of a royalty on the export of timber and bamboos, and to high receipts from grazing fees, and auction sales of preserves; in the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province (1,09), due to better sales than in the previous year, and in Madras (2,03), due to the large collection of arrears of the previous year.

47. Under Timber and other produce removed by Government Agency, the decrease in the Central Provinces (8), was due to the partial failure of the hurra crop; that in Assam (21), partly to difficulties of transport, and partly to Government plantation rubber not having been sold before the close of the year; that in Bengal (35), to a small demand for fuel from the Commissariat Department in the Darjeeling Division, and for bamboos in the Sonthal Parganas, and to a short crop of myrabolam in the Singhbhum Division. In the United Provinces (26), it was due to the cessation of Departmental works; and in the Punjab (86), to short receipts of timber at sale depôts, and to a small demand for resin. The increase in India (22), was due to large local sales and exports of Andamans timber to Europe, and to favourable rates obtained at auction sales of sandal wood in Coorg, while that in Bombay (1,46), was due to larger sales of timber than expected, and to large supplies to the Southern Mahratha Railway, and Gun Carriage Factory (1,85), partly counterbalanced by the curtailment of firewood and timber fellings in consequence of the stagnation of trade. Under Timber and other produce removed by consumers or purchasers, the decrease in Bombay (1,89), was due to the postponement of sales of teak from occupied lands in the Peint Range, to remissions of grazing fees, and to a slack demand for forest produce, owing to a general depression in trade caused by famine and plague during the last few years. Under Other Receipts the improvement was generally due to better receipts than were expected from drift timber, and to an increase in miscellaneous revenue. The decrease in Bombay was due to a falling off in the imports of timber and other forest produce from Native States.

48. The receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 1,73 and 6, respectively. The improvement occurred mainly under Fees for registering Documents. The increase in Bengal (1,28), was due to high prices of food grains, and the growing popularity of registration. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (23), it was due chiefly to abnormal registration of leases owing to the contemplated change in the Rent Law, which ceased when the Tenancy Bill became law on 1st January 1902. In Madras (1,27), it was due to under-estimates. These increases were partly counterbalanced by decreases in the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province, (1,00), and Bombay (25). The former was due to the introduction of the Alienation of Land Act and the latter to the alarm taken by money-lenders at the extension of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act to Sind. The decline in the Punjab under Fees for copies of Registered Documents is also attributable to the last-named cause. Under Other Receipts the increase in Madras was due to the large demand for "no-incumbrance" certificates of land offered as security for State loans.

Section A—PRINCIPAL HEADS OF REVENUE—concluded.

XI.—Tributes from Native States—concluded,

49. The receipts under this head are for the most part fixed. The variations that occur arise generally from the non-payment of dues or from advance or arrear collections. The receipts fell short of the Budget Estimate by 8,60, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 86. Under Tributes the decrease in India was due to a delay in the recovery from the Boondee State (60), to the suspension of the tribute payable by the Banswara State (28), and to variations in the rate of exchange of the local currency in which tributes were paid by Rutlam (21) and by some petty States (21). In Bombay the arrears expected to be recovered from the Kathiawar and Baroda States were not realized, owing to the continuance of famine conditions in Gujarat and Kathiawar. Under Contributions the decrease in India was due chiefly to the suspension granted to Jowrah under Fees for Succession to Native States; the receipt in the Punjab chiefly represents the payment by the Maharaja of Patiala on his installation. In Bombay the decrease was due to the non-recovery from Savantvadi State (2,15), owing to the amount payable not having been finally settled, to the recoveries from Sunth and several petty States in Kathiawar having been postponed owing to famine (50) and to the reduction in the amount recoverable from the Akalkot State (35). As compared with the previous year the increase was contributed to chiefly by the Central Provinces (58), due to a remission of 16 in 1900-1, and to collection of arrears in the year under review, and by Bombay (88), due to large recoveries (50), on account of succession fees, and to the Kathiawar State having paid more on account of annual tributes (35), than in the previous year. Burma contributed 29, chiefly in tributes from the Shan States, and the Punjab 11. These improvements were counterbalanced to the extent of 1,00 by a decrease in India due to the causes stated above.

50. The expenditure in this Section showed a saving of £325,6 or R48,84 as compared with the Budget Estimate, and of £108,1 or R16,21 as compared with the actuals of the previous year. As compared with the Budget the principal savings were £79,3 or R11,90 under Land Revenue, chiefly in the charges for District Administration and Survey and Settlement; £163,1 or R24,46 under Opium, owing to the outturn of the crop having fallen short of the estimate; £54,7 or R8,21 under Forest, due to small expenditure on works of construction and improvement, to restricted timber operations in Burma owing to an unfavourable floating season and to curtailment of timber operations in Bombay. The more important of the smaller savings under the other heads are £21,2 or R3,18 under Assignments and Compensations, chiefly in Land Revenue, Salt, and Miscellaneous Compensations; £18,0 or R2,70 under Salt owing to less expenditure than expected on Preventive Establishments in India and Bengal, and on petty works of construction and rewards in Madras; £9,2 or R1,38 under Excise, owing to the lapse of the provision for improving the Preventive Establishment in Bengal, the partial lapse of that for distillery reforms in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and to the amalgamation of the Customs, Salt and Excise Departments in Madras; and £7,9 or R1,19 under Provincial Rates, chiefly in Bengal. The only excess occurred under Refunds and Drawbacks (£32,6 or R4,89) chiefly in Customs refunds in Burma and Bombay, and in Land Revenue refunds.

51. Of the saving as compared with the actuals of the previous year, £177,2 or R26,58 occurred under Opium, due to the cause stated above; and £24,6 or R3,69 under Forest, chiefly in Bombay, owing to small expenditure in connection with famine grass operations. These decreases were partly counterbalanced by increases of £14,6 or R2,19 under Refunds and Drawbacks chiefly in Land Revenue, Salt and Customs refunds; of £6,8 or R1,02 under Assignments and Compensations mainly in excise compensations in the Central Provinces, owing to large payments for resumption of certain abkari rights; of £46,1 or R6,91 under Land Revenue, owing to high charges for District Administration, chiefly in Burma, Bengal and the Punjab; to increased charges of the Patwaris' Fees Fund in the Punjab, to charges for demarcation and division of waste lands in Sind and increase in the charges for Village Accountants in Bombay, and to large payments on account of Commission on Collections in Burma; of £8,5 or R1,28 under Provincial Rates, chiefly in Bengal. There were smaller savings under all the other heads except Customs, where there was a small decrease.

52. The expenditure exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 4,89 and 2,19, respectively. The excess as compared with the Budget, occurred chiefly under Land Revenue (95), Salt (71), and Customs (3,29). Under Land Revenue, the excess was due generally to the fluctuating character of the charges. In the Central Provinces (12), it was due to a special refund in the Jubbulpur District; in Bengal (37), to a special payment of 44 to Maharani Beni Pershad Kunwar of Dumraon, and in Bombay (43), to large refunds of canal revenue in the Shikarpur District, and of over-collections in previous years in the Surat District. Under Salt, the excess in India (6), was chiefly in the refund of half-duty on sales to the Bikaneer Durbar; in Madras (22), it was due chiefly to large exports of duty-paid salt to Burma, and in Bombay (28), to arrear charges of wastage allowance. Under Customs the excess in Burma (43), was due to special refunds of both Import and Export duty, and that in Bombay (2,95), to the refunds of countervailing duties on sugar. The total payment on this account during the year amounted to 2,91—Sind 2,67, and Presidency Proper 24. The excess over the actuals of the previous year also occurred chiefly under Land Revenue (1,55) and Salt (93). Under Land Revenue, the excesses in the Central Provinces, Bengal and Bombay were due to the reasons given above. In Assam and the Punjab the actuals of 1900-1 were exceptionally high, while in Madras they were exceptionally low. Under Salt, the excess was mainly due to the reasons given above. Under Assessed Taxes in Bombay the actuals of 1900-1 included a special payment of 35 to the Great Indian Peninsula Railway on account of refund of Income Tax. Under Other Revenue Refunds, the difference in the total is small, but the variations in Madras and Bombay are considerable. The excess in Madras (60) occurred chiefly in Excise, Forest, and Village Service Fund refunds, while the saving in Bombay (60), was mainly due to low Excise refunds, owing to a falling off in the revenue under this head, and to savings under Drawbacks, due to a falling off in the exports, chiefly of silver bullion and coin, oils and cotton goods.

53. The total expenditure under this head fell short of the Budget Estimate by 3,18, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 1,01. The saving, as compared with the Budget, was contributed by all the heads, except Excise Compensations, where there was an excess of 74. The savings of 2,27 under Land Revenue Compensations occurred chiefly in Bengal (13), and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (17), on account of claims not having been fully drawn, and in Bombay (1,85), due to lapses of inams (1,34), and to grants to Inamdars and other grantees not having been fully claimed. Under Salt Compensations the saving occurred chiefly in India (53), in the Salt Royalty payable to the Jodhpur and Jaipur States, owing to the smallness of the sales at the Sambhar Lake during the previous year. The decrease under Miscellaneous Compensations occurred in the Punjab (89), and was due to the compensation payable in connection with "Cho" torrents in the Hoshiarpur District not having been paid, while the increase of 74 under Excise Compensations occurred in the Central Provinces (97), in the payment of compensation to the Jagirdars of the Chhindwara and Hoshangabad Districts for resumption of certain abkari rights. The excess (1,25), over the previous year was partly due to this cause and partly to the small payments on this account during 1900-1. In Bombay, the saving was due to certain grants not having been drawn. There were excesses in the Imperial Section in the Central Provinces (94), and the North-West Frontier Province (13), which have been sanctioned by the Government of India, and 1 in Burma and 3 in Bengal which await sanction.

54. The Indian expenditure showed a saving of 11,90 as compared with the Budget Estimate, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 6,85. As compared with the Budget the saving was contributed by all the heads, except Commission on Collections, but chiefly by Charges for District Administration (1,15), mainly under salaries and establishment, by Survey and Settlement (7,96), due mainly to an over-estimate of the India Survey Charges, and to certain provisions not having been utilized in Burma, to an over-estimate in Bengal, to a delay in starting certain settlement operations in the Punjab, to a change in programme in Madras, and in Bombay to the transfer to the next head of charges on account of the demarcation and division of waste lands in Sind, and to low expenditure in the local section in the Jámrás Canal Colonization charges, and by Land Records and Agriculture (2,13), due to the programme of supplementary survey operations not having been fully carried out in Burma, and to savings under Kanungo establishment, and Land Record Surveys in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh. As compared with the previous year the excess occurred mainly under Charges of District Administration (1,08), Land Records and Agriculture (2,70), and Commission on Collections (2,10) The principal contributors to the first were Burma (85), due to an increase in the number of Myoôks, further extension of the system of revenue collections by village headmen, and to an increase in the charges for patta surveys; Bengal (76), and Punjab with the North-West Frontier Province (53), chiefly in salary and establishment charges. Under Land Records and Agriculture the excess was mainly due to an increase in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province (1,05), chiefly in the Patwaris' Fees Fund charges, and in Bombay (1,32), due to special charges on account of demarcation and division of waste lands in Sind, training of talatis in Survey work, and an increase in the charges for Village Accountants. Under Commission on Collections the increase occurred in Burma, and was due partly to the large increase in the amount of land revenue collected, and partly to the payment in March of the ommission earned in that month.

3.—Land Revenue—concluded.

55. Under Charges of District Administration the variation occurred mainly under salaries, due to vacancies, deputations and absence of officers on long leave. The saving in Burma was also partly due to the system of revenue collections by village headmen not having been introduced to the extent anticipated (10), to low charges on account of Patta Survey establishments (8), and Travelling Allowances (13), and to an over-estimate on account of lands taken up for public purposes; in Assam the estimate for land required for public purposes also proved too high (6). The excess in the Punjab, considered with the North-West Frontier Province, (50), was due to an over-estimate of the probable savings in salaries (21), to increased establishment charges (5) and travelling allowances (10) and contingencies (11); the excess of 14 in the latter Province, as compared with the Revised Estimate occurred in contingent charges. In Madras the excess was due to an over-estimate of probable savings in salaries (14), to grant of privilege leave (5), and to payment of costs decreed against Government in connection with certain suits in the Godavari District, partly counterbalanced by the transfer of certain temporary establishment charges to the head Survey and Settlement. In Bombay the increase was due to high payments to officers of other Provinces, owing to the introduction of the new leave rules (28), to high postage, telegram and other contingent charges owing to famine (23), to increased expenditure on temporary establishments on famine duty (8), and boundary marks charges (4), and to short recoveries for foreign service of the third kind. These excesses were, however, partly counterbalanced by decreases due to the absence of officers (32), large recoveries of contributions on account of Talukdari Settlement Officers (5), and to low grain compensation charges (10). Under Land Record and Agriculture the principal savings have been explained above. The decrease in the Central Provinces (30) was due to the salaries of Patwaris of some districts not having been drawn, and to several Revenue Inspectors not being paid at the rates sanctioned and provided for, and that in Madras (33) to an over-estimate in the Local Section. The only excess occurred in the Punjab, taken together with the North-West Frontier Province (66), and was due to an under-estimate in the Local Section on account of the Patwaris' Fees Fund (59), and to the Director of Land Records having drawn a higher rate of salary than was provided for. Under Management of Government Estates the provision in Bengal for improvements was not utilized, and that in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh were only partially used. Under Allowances to District and Village Officers the saving in Madras (1,16) was due to an over-estimate, while the excess in Bombay (39) was due to too large an allowance for probable savings, and to the transfer to this head from 20.—Police of certain charges on account of Assessment of Alienated Lands. Of the excess in the North-West Frontier Province 2,22 Imperial and 36 Local have been sanctioned by the Government of India, the balance 3 under Local and the excess of 1 (Imperial) in India await sanction.

56. The Indian expenditure fell short of the Budget Estimate by 24,37 and of the actuals of the previous year by 26,61. These differences were mainly the result of the outturn of the crop, which, in the year under review, amounted to 89,682 maunds only, against 105,563 maunds taken in the estimate, and 98,190 maunds, the actual production of the previous year. The Payments to Cultivators, which form the bulk of the expenditure, fell short of the estimate by 23,17 in both Agencies taken together. Under Opium Factory, the excess of 29 in the Behar Agency was due to an increase of 36 under freight, counterbalanced by a saving of 10 under Manufacturing Charges, while in the Benares Agency there were excesses of 22 under Manufacturing Charges, and of 25 under Miscellaneous charges, counterbalanced by savings of 28 under freight. Under District Staff, the decrease of 43 in the Behar Agency occurred under establishment (29), and Supplies and Services (24), counterbalanced by an excess of 10 under Allowances; and that in the Benares Agency (1,11) chiefly under Salaries (16), Establishment (35), and under Supplies and Services (56).

The decrease in England (£6 or R9) was due to the small demand for stores.

57. The Indian expenditure showed a saving of 2,72 as compared with the Budget, and an excess of 94 as compared with the actuals of the previous year. In India there was a saving of 48 under Salaries, Establishment, etc., in the charges for Preventive Establishments. There was also a saving of 19 in the grant for petty construction and repairs at the Mines, which, however, was more than covered by an increase in the Through Traffic charges at Pachbudra (16), where the trade was brisk, and by heavy travelling and contingent charges. Under Manufacture and Excavation charges, a saving of 70 at Sambhar, due to an unfavourable season, was partly counterbalanced by excesses of 26 at Pachbudra and 14 at the Mines, due to a brisk trade. As compared with the previous year, there were excesses of 72 at Sambhar and of 30 at Pachbudra. In Bengal, the saving of 68, as compared with the Budget was due to the full complement of establishment not having been entertained, and to the provision for petty construction and repairs not having been fully utilized. In Madras, the saving under Salaries, Establishments, etc., occurred chiefly under rewards, petty works of construction, excise licensees' works, and salaries and establishment. In Bombay, the saving occurred under Purchase and Freight (53), in the Presidency Salt Department, and was due to a falling off in production during the year, partly counterbalanced by an excess under Salaries, Establishment, etc., (12), owing to high bagging and sewing charges. The excess of 1 (Imperial) in Burma has already been sanctioned by the Local Government.

58. The Indian expenditure exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 35 and 31, respectively. The variations are small and occurred under Charges on sale of Stamps, including discount, and were due to the increase or decline in the sales of stamps.

59. The short expenditure in England was due to smaller demands for stores than was expected.

64. The Indian expenditure fell short of the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 8,66 and 4,04, respectively. The saving, as compared with the Budget, occurred under Timber and other produce removed from the Forests by Government Agency (2,32), Other Charges (4,63) and Establishment (1,88). The saving under the first head occurred chiefly in Burma (2,21), due to restricted felling and extraction operations owing to a bad floating season, and to curtailment of timber operations in Bombay; that under Other Charges was contributed by all the Provinces except India and the United Provinces, and was due generally to works of construction and improvement not having been carried out to the extent estimated for; and that under Establishment, which occurred in all the Provinces, to the absence of officers on leave and to savings in the pay of subordinate forest and office establishments. As compared with the previous year, the saving occurred chiefly in Bombay (6,88), and was mainly due to heavy charges in 1900-1 on account of famine grass operations.

65. Under Timber and other produce removed by Government Agency, the savings in Assam (14) Bengal (20), and the Punjab, including the North-West Frontier Province, (39), were due to the curtailment of departmental operations, and that in Bombay (30) partly to this cause and partly to a decrease in grain compensation charges. The excess in the Central Provinces (67) was chiefly due to extensive sleeper operations to meet the demand of the Satpura Railway; that in the United Provinces (18), to large sleeper operations, to the construction of new fuel sheds and extended turpentine operations; while that in Madras (11) was due to the large supplies of fuel made to Railway Companies. Under Timber and other produce removed from the Forests by consumers or purchasers, the excess in Burma (24) was due to an under-estimate, while the saving in Bengal (10) occurred in the charges for temporary launch establishments owing to the sale of the "Cygnet" and to the "Hawk" not having been completed within the year. Under Other Charges, the excess in India (21) was mainly due to the purchase of elephants, while that in Bengal (41) was due to the part payment to the Porohat State of the profits of the quinquennial period ending March 1901 on the working of the Estate Forests, to payment of a portion of the cost of a new steam launch, and to increased expenditure on roads and buildings.

The excesses of 17 in India, 2 in the United Provinces and 20 in the North-West Frontier Province have already been sanctioned.

66. The excess in the expenditure in England (£3,0 or R 45) was due to a demand for stores not provided for.

Section A.—DIRECT DEMANDS ON THE REVENUES—concluded.

12.—Registration—concluded.

67. The expenditure fell short of the Budget Estimate by 12, and exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 32. The saving, as compared with the Budget, occurred chiefly in Burma, Punjab and Madras, counterbalanced by an excess in Bengal. In Burma the saving was due to an over-estimate; in the Punjab to small receipts from registration fees; and in Madras to the provision for opening new offices not having been fully utilized. The excess in Bengal was due chiefly to increased expenditure on commission to Rural Sub-Registrars in consequence of the gradual expansion of the operations of this Department. The excesses of 14 (Imperial) and 14 (Provincial) in Bengal, and 3 (Imperial) in the North-West Frontier Province have already been sanctioned, and the excess of 1 (Imperial) in the United Provinces requires to be sanctioned.

68. The receipts in this section exceeded the Budget by £103,4 or R15,51 and the actuals of the previous year by £134,2 or R20,13. As compared with the Budget R5,43 or £36,2 of the increase occurred in the Indian receipts, and is attributable to the recovery from the Hyderabad State of 7,73 against an Estimate of 3,00, and of 2,74 from certain other Native States, not provided for in the Budget, for the want of the necessary data, counterbalanced by a decrease in Bombay in the recoveries from certain Native States and cultivators, owing to continued agricultural distress. The increase in England as compared with the Budget and actuals of the previous year was due to the investment of larger sums and at higher rates of interest than was expected for a portion of the year.

69. The excess in India as compared with the actuals of the previous year is attributable to the causes stated above, and to the large withdrawals of capital by Railway Companies.

70. The receipts in India under this head arise chiefly from the Paper Currency Investment and from Loans granted to Municipalities and other public bodies, Native States and cultivators. No alteration was made in the amount of the first during the year.

72. The interest paid in 1901-2 by Local Governments to the Government of India on account of loans held on the Provincial Account amounted to R16,21 or £108,1, while the actual sum realized and credited to Provincial Revenues amounted in the aggregate to R16,35 or £109,0.

73. Interest on Loans to Native States shows an increase of 6,36 over the Budget. The actuals in India, where the increase occurred, include 7,73 recovered from Hyderabad against an estimate of 3,00, on account of the loan of 2 crores fully taken up in July 1901, and 1,86 from Jodhpur, 55 from Kota and 33 from Tonk, not anticipated in the Budget. In Bombay, the Native States in Gujrat and Kathiawar were not able to pay the amounts expected, owing to the continuance of famine. The excess in the Punjab represents the interest realized from the Jhind State on the loan granted to it in connection with the construction of the Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal Railway.

74. Under Interest on Loans to Municipal and other Public Corporations the Budget in Bengal was pitched too high; while the increase in Bombay was due to the recovery of arrears from the Ahmednagar Municipality. This also accounts for the increase over the actuals of the previous year.

75. Under Interest on Loans to Landholders and other Notabilities the receipt in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, represents the interest on a loan of 10 lakhs granted during the year to the Sardhana State in the Meerut District, and the decrease in Bombay was due to the postponement of an instalment expected to be recovered from the Jath State.

76. The short receipts under Interest on Advances to Cultivators and Advances under Special Laws occurred chiefly in Central Provinces and Bombay, due mainly to over-estimate, and in the latter, partly to the prevalence of famine. The decrease was to some extent counterbalanced by an excess in India, due to an under-estimate.

77. There was an excess receipt of 20 under Interest on Securities of Provincial Funds, due to an excess in Madras (38) and a deficiency in Bombay (19). In Madras the Budget anticipated the sale of the Government Securities held by the Tanjore District Board on account of the Railway Guarantee Fund; none were however sold, but, on the other hand, the invested capital was raised by the portion of the Railway Debenture Loan realized in the shape of Government Securities. The falling off in Bombay was due to the interest on Government Securities remaining undrawn, owing to the death of one of the joint receivers of interest on some of the Educational Trust Funds.

78. Under Interest on Overdrawn Capital of Railway Companies the Budget did not anticipate high overdrawals by the Guaranteed Railway Company, while in the case of other Railway Companies it was overestimated.

79. Under Miscellaneous the excesses in India (12) and Bombay (13) represent special receipts from the Banks of Bengal and Bombay, respectively, on advances made to them. The excess in Madras (12) mainly represents increase in interest on arrears of Land Revenue, while the deficiency in Bengal was due to smaller realizations of Interest on arrears of Public Works and Road Cess.

80. In England the cash balances available for investment were larger, and the rate of interest obtained during a portion of the year was much higher than was estimated.

81. The total charges in this section showed a saving of £155,1 or R23,26 as compared with the Budget, and £194,6 or R29,19 as compared with the actuals of the previous year. The saving as compared with the Budget was due, in India, to the reduction of the rupee loan of the year under review from two crores to one, and to the favourable rate of discount at which it was raised. The decrease in England was due to the discharge, without replacement, of £1,000,0 India bills, causing a saving of £45,2, and to the provision of £10,0 for interest on temporary loans which was not required. These savings were to some extent counterbalanced by an excess of £37,8 representing discount on the issue and sale of £2,009,5 India 3 per cent. stock, which was not provided for in the Budget, and by an increase of £2,0 in interest on India 3 per cent. stock, owing to sales of stock in excess of the amount entered in the Budget.

83. A probable rupee loan of 2,00 lakhs was announced in the Financial Statement of the 20th March 1901 with the usual reservation as to varying the programme if necessary. The satisfactory progress of the revenue made it apparent that it would not be necessary to borrow so large an amount, and in July 1901 the Government announced a 3½ per cent. rupee loan of 1,00 lakhs only. It was raised, on 14th August 1901 at an average rate of R97-4-10. Of the balance of loans previously notified for discharge R2,05 was paid consisting of 35,41 and 1,29 of the 4½, 4 and 3½ per cent. loans, respectively. Of the loans bearing interest 12,00 was paid on account of the Gwalior loan agreeably to the terms of agreement with the Durbar under which the loan was taken.

84. The only transaction in India in connection with the Temporary Debt was the payment of R45,29 to His Highness the Maharaja of Scindhia on 31st August 1901.

85. In England the Budget provided for an addition of £1,000,0 to the sterling debt. But when the time came for the issue of sterling Loan, it was considered desirable to increase the amount by two millions—one million to discharge a Temporary Loan, and one million to make advances to Railway Companies. The loan was accordingly advertised, but, owing to a fall in prices, the Secretary of State decided to withdraw it, allowing those, who had already applied, to receive their allotments if desired. The amount actually allotted was £709,5 and further stock of the value of £1,300,0 was sold later, raising the total issue during the year to £2,009,5.

86. In regard to the Temporary Loans there was a provision of £5,000,0. But as the sales in excess of Budget anticipations explained in the previous para to the extent of £1,000,0, were applied towards the discharge of India Sterling Bills, the issues of India Sterling Bills during the year under review were limited to £4,000,0.

13.—Interest on Ordinary Debt—concluded.

89. The total payment of interest in India was less than the Budget by 21,41. The decrease was mostly due to the favourable rate of discount at which the reduced amount of new loan of 100 lakhs was raised, and to the large amount of interest on the 3½ per cent. loans remaining unclaimed at the end of the year. The saving on Provincial Debenture loans occurred chiefly in the additional payment on account of surplus profits of the Cawnpore-Achneyra Section of the Rajputana-Malwa Railway. The actuals on the Temporary Loans represent interest on the Gwalior Loan repaid on 31st August 1901. There was an excess of 1 in the United Provinces, which has already been sanctioned by the Local Government.

90. In England there was a saving of £45,2 on account of interest on India Bills, largely due to £1,000,0 discharged in June 1901 not having been replaced, and of £10,0 included in the Budget for interest on Temporary Loans from the Bank of England which was not required; on the other hand, there was an excess of £37,8 on account of Discount, which was not provided for in the Budget, and of £2,0 in interest on India 3 per cent. Stock, owing to sales of stock in excess of the amount entered in the Budget.

91. The expenditure was more than the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 58 and 2,70 respectively. The most important fluctuation occurred in India, and was almost entirely confined to interest on Savings Bank Deposits, sufficient allowance not having been made for the growth of the transactions of the Post Office Savings Bank. The excess over the actuals of the previous year was due to the same cause. In Madras the decrease is an effect of the transfer of the East Coast Railway to the Madras, and the Bengal Nagpur Railway Companies, which has caused a large diminution in the balance of the Provident Fund of that Railway on which interest is payable at Madras. The excess of 11 on Treasury Notes and Service Funds in India was chiefly on account of non-transferable Treasury

Notes (Madras), and to an under-estimate of interest payable to the Uncovenanted Service Family Pension Fund. The excess of 6 under Miscellaneous in India occurred in the payment of interest on Guaranteed Railway Fund.

93. Under Post Office the net receipts showed an improvement of £54,8 or R8,22, but fell short of the actuals of the previous year by £31,8 or R4,77. The improvement as compared with the Budget was due to the normal increase in the receipts from sale of Postage Stamps, the growth of the operations of the Money Order Department, and a decrease in the expenditure, chiefly for the conveyance of mails, in the payments to Railways and Road Establishments.

94. The decrease as compared with the actuals of the previous year was due to increased expenditure, chiefly in Establishment charges, arising out of the expansion and development of the Department, partly counterbalanced by the improvement in the receipts from sale of Stamps and Money Order Receipts.

95. The net results of the transactions of the Postal Department for the last five years are shown by the following figures:—

	Net Receipts.
	R
1897-98	14,97
1898-99	18,90
1899-00	18,91
1901-02	15,47

96. Under Telegraph the net receipts showed an improvement of £43,1 or R6,46 as compared with the Budget Estimate, and a falling off of £109,2 or R16,38. The improvement was due to better message receipts than was expected, reduced by increased expenditure in England on account of the Indo-European Telegraphs.

97. Under Mint the net receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by £87,4 or R13,11 and £31,3 or R4,69, respectively. The improvement as compared with the Budget was due to a large dollar coinage, re-coinages undertaken for Native States, and to gain on copper coinage arising out of an unexpected demand for copper coin.

98. The total revenue exceeded the Budget Estimate by R6,82 or £45,4 and the actuals of the previous year by R3,99 or £26,6. The increase, as compared with the Budget, occurred chiefly under Sale of Postage Stamps, in Ordinary (5,11) and in Service (39), and under Money Order Receipts (1,29), owing to the growth of the operations of the department being larger than was expected. There were small improvements under Parcel and other Postage collected in Cash (26), due to an under-estimate, under Mail Cart, Parcel Van and Passenger and Goods Service (5), and under Other Receipts (7), but these increases were partly counterbalanced by a larger deduction than was expected under Payments to English, Colonial, and other Foreign Post Offices (41), owing to arrear payments. The improvement, as compared with the previous year, occurred chiefly under Sale of Postage Stamps, Ordinary (1,37) and Money Order Receipts (69), and was due to the causes given above. The decrease under District Post Collections in the Central Provinces (8), was due to short recovery of contributions from Feudatory States. In the Punjab (19), it was due to the transfer of these receipts, from 8th November 1901, to the North-West Frontier Province. The increase of 10, taking the two provinces together, was due to increased business on account of the Mahsud Blockade.

99. The expenditure in India showed a saving of R95 or £6,3 as compared with the Budget Estimate, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by R9,10 or £60,7.

100. The saving under Chief Office, Calcutta, occurred chiefly in the office of account and audit, under establishment (17), owing to vacancies, under travelling allowances (6), and contingencies (3), counterbalanced by excesses under Direction in salaries (4), due to leave vacancies, and in contingencies (5), due to the installation of electric fans and lights. The excess over the previous year was due mainly to the last two causes and the entertainment of additional establishment. Under Presidency and District Offices, the saving of 44 was chiefly due to leave arrangements and deputations of officers (72), and to gain in working combined offices (34), partly counterbalanced by increased charges under salaries, due to the appointment of temporary Superintendents (9), under temporary establishment (11), under grain compensation (32), and under contingencies (9). The increase of 6,04 as compared with the previous year, was mainly due to increased expenditure under establishment (4,10), salaries (30), travelling and local allowances (41), Aligarh Workshop and other supplies (70), and under contingencies (85), owing to the expansion and development of the Department. The saving of 54 under Road Establishment and Contingencies was chiefly due to over-estimate, under subsidy for conveyance of mails (31), and for allowances for horses and camels (16), and to the allotment for revision of runners' lines not having been fully utilized (5). The excess over the previous year was chiefly due to extension of runners' lines. Under Railway Charges the saving of 87 occurred chiefly in the payments to the East Indian, Madras, Great Indian Peninsula, South Indian, Bombay, Baroda and Central India and the Indian Midland Railways. The excess over the previous year was due to the more extensive use of Railways. Under Discount on Sale of Postage Stamps the excesses (7), over the Budget and (4) over the actuals of the previous year were due to the larger sales of ordinary stamps. The excesses under Stationery and Printing as compared with the Budget and the actuals of the previous year, were due to larger supplies of stationery and more printing work done. Under Miscellaneous the saving occurred in the payment of compensation for lost articles.

101. Under District Post Charges the saving in the Central Provinces (7), occurred in the pay of Village Postmen and runners, and in grain compensation allowance. In Burma the saving (10), was due to the provisions for the Akyab-Chittagong mail service and certain other charges not having been fully utilized; the excess over the previous year (51), was due to the establishment of a new line of postal communication between Akyab and Chittagong, and the re-adjustment of certain subsidies. The saving in the Punjab is covered by the excess in the North-West Frontier Province, to which the charges were transferred from the 8th November 1901.

102. The expenditure in England fell short of the Budget Estimate by £2,9 or R43, due to smaller demands for stores than anticipated. Of the excesses in Bengal (6), and the North-West Frontier Province (26), 3 in the former and 25 in the latter have been sanctioned, and 3 (Provincial) and 1 (Imperial), respectively, await sanction.

103. The decrease as compared with the preceding year is due to a fall of R5,33 in the message revenue, attributed as regards State messages, to a reduction in the number of telegrams in connection with the wars in China and South Africa, and, as regards private messages, to the greater use of deferred telegrams, the reduction in the rates between India and Europe, and to the opening of an alternative route between England and Australia viâ South Africa. Under rents of wires and instruments leased to railways and canals, there is an increase of R1,92, due to an increase in the wire mileage of railways and canals. The receipts exceeded the Budget by 5,22, of which the message revenue accounted for 3,36, and rents of wires and instruments leased to railways and canals for 1,61.

Indo-European Telegraphs.

104. The receipts in India during 1901-2 were better than those of the previous year by R5,42 and the Budget by R5,22. The increase is attributed to large message receipts owing to the expansion of traffic. The increase of £4,3 in the receipts in England over the Budget Estimate was chiefly due to large receipts from the Imperial Ottoman Telegraph administration on account of traffic balances.

105. The total expenditure during 1901-2 exceeded that of the previous year by £60,0. The increase was due partly to the construction of a larger number of departmental, railway and canal lines of telegraph than in the previous year, and partly to the expansion of operations of the Department necessitating an increase in the Signalling charges, and the maintenance and repair of greater lengths of lines. The short outlay of £11,1, as compared with the Budget Estimate, was mainly due to the payments made by the Secretary of State on account of stores being less than was estimated by the India Office.

Indo-European Telegraphs.

106. The expenditure in 1901-2 was more than that of the previous year by £61,5 and the Budget Estimate by £41,9. The increase was due partly to construction of a new cable between Jask and Muscat, and partly to larger payments in England in respect of revenue. The short outlay of £12,8, as compared with the Revised Estimate, was due to the expenditure on the Jask-Muscat cable, and to the message out-payments in England being somewhat less than allowed for. The subsidy payable to the Eastern Telegraph Company (£10,0), on account of the Zanzibar-Mauritius Cable, ceased from 1st April 1901.

107. The actuals under this head show an increase of 78,43 over the Budget and a decrease of 3,92,63 as compared with those of the previous year. The greater part of the increase over the Budget occurred under Gain on Coinage Operations (71,55) and was due to no provision having been made in the estimates for profits on coinage in accordance with the procedure explained in paragraph 191 of the Financial Statement of 1901-2. The gross receipts represent chiefly the gain on coinage of silver which remained to be coined at the end of 1900-1, and also on recoinages undertaken for the Kotah, Jhalawar, Bundi and Cambay States. The large receipts in the previous year were due to profits on the extraordinary coinage of rupees to supply the demand for increased currency and on the recoinage of Baroda rupees. The increase under Fees for coining Silver was due to a larger dollar coinage than was expected. In view of the large issues of copper coin during the famine, the Budget made no provision for a net issue during the year but a large demand sprang up and resulted in the receipt under Gain on Copper Coinage.

108. Under Other Receipts the excess in Calcutta was due to the supply of brass weights to the Benares Opium Agency and to the charges levied for coinage of Straits cents.

109. The charges in India under this head exceeded the Budget by 65,98 but were less than the actuals of the previous year by 3,97,24. The cause of the excess, as compared with the Budget, was chiefly the transfer of the net profits on silver coinage to the credit of the Gold Reserve Fund, for which no provision was made as explained in last year's Financial Statement. Under Establishment the excess of 19 in Calcutta and 1,02 in Bombay was mainly due to heavy coinage operations, which necessitated increased expenditure for temporary establishment, overtime allowances and contingent charges; the higher rate of pay drawn by the Mint Master and the appointment of a probationer in the Assay office, not provided for in the Budget, also contributed to the excess in Bombay. The excess under Loss on Coinage was due to the recoinage of the currency of the native states and by wear in uncurrent coin received into Mint for recoinage. Of the excesses of 27,82 in Calcutta and 38,16 in Bombay, 26,43 and 37,93 were, respectively, sanctioned, and the remainders, 1,39 and 23, await the sanction of the Government of India. As compared with the previous year the decrease was due to the large transfer of profits to the Gold Reserve Fund in 1900-1 in consequence of the large coinage in that year. The payments in England were smaller than were indicated in the estimates.

110. The receipts in this Section showed an improvement of £51,5 or R7,72 over the Budget Estimate, and of £18,1 or R2,72 over the actuals of the previous year. As compared with the Budget, £24,1 or R3,62 of the increase occurred under Law and Justice—Jails, due to the large number of prisoners employed on manufactures throughout the year in Bengal, and to unusually large supplies in Madras of Jail manufactured articles to the Military Department, in connection with the operations in South Africa and China; £17,5 or R2,63 under Marine, due chiefly to large recoveries in connection with the employment of Royal Indian Marine Vessels on Imperial Service; £5,2 or R78 under Education, due mainly to the credit to this head of certain contributions from municipalities in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, hitherto shown under XXV—Miscellaneous; £6,6 or R99 under Medical, due to large contibutions from municipalities and private persons in aid of dispensaries in Bengal, to the transfer to this head of similar contributions from XXV—Miscellaneous in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and to high receipts of Medical College fees in Bombay, and £3,8 or R57 under Scientific and other Minor Departments, due to the large demand for quinine in Bengal and Madras, and to the transfer of the Hissar Cattle Farm from the Military to the Civil Department. These increases were partly counterbalanced by a decrease of £2,8 or R42 under Law and Justice—Courts of Law, due to a decrease in the receipts from court-fees realized in cash, and in magisterial fines, and of £2,9 or R43 under Police, due mainly to low receipts for police supplied to private persons in Bengal, and for private watchmen or ramoshis in Bombay.

111. The improvement, as compared with the previous year, £5,4 or R81 occurred chiefly under Law and Justice—Jails, due to recoveries of arrears from Native States of the cost of maintenance of their convicts at Port Blair; £10,8 or R1,63 under Education, due partly to the causes stated above and partly to large sales of articles manufactured at Reformatory Schools: £6,5 or R98 under Medical, due to the causes stated above, and £6,2 or R93 under Scientific and other Minor Departments, due to the transfer of the Hissar Cattle Farm in India and large sales of aluminium ware in Madras. There were, on the other hand, decreases under Police (£5,3 or R79), and Marine (£9,1 or R1,36), due, in the former case, partly to the cause stated above, and partly to smaller receipts on account of Punitive Police in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh than in the previous year, and to a large contribution in 1900-1 from the Aden Port Trust, and in the latter to smaller recoveries than in 1900-1 in connection with the employment of Royal Indian Marine vessels on Imperial Service.

112. The receipts under this head fell short of the Budget Estimate by 42, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 54. The decrease, as compared with the Budget, occurred under Court-fees realised in Cash (26), and General Fees, Fines and Forfeitures (34), counterbalanced by an increase of 17 under Other Receipts. As compared with the Budget, the decrease under the former head occurred chiefly in Bengal and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, due to low receipts from Amins' fees. Under General Fees, Fines and Forfeitures the decrease of 34, occurred chiefly in Assam (25), Madras (12) and Bombay (32) due to less receipts of Magisterial fines, counterbalanced by an increase of 37 in Burma, due to high receipts from criminal fines. The increase of 1,09, as compared with the actuals of the previous year, occurred chiefly in Burma (41), due to the above cause, and in Madras (46), due to increased receipts from translation and printing fees of the High Court. Under the first head, the receipts in India and Bombay, as compared with the Budget, were low and high, respectively, owing to receipts from lapsed Administrator General's deposits being small in the former and high in the latter province. In Madras the actuals of the previous year under this head included a special credit of 38 on account of the balance of the Audit Fund of the Administrator General's office which was closed under the orders of Government. Under Other Receipts the increase in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was due to improved receipts from pleadership examination fees and that in Madras to fees for petroleum licenses.

113. The receipts under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 3,62 and 81, respectively. Under Sale-proceeds of Jail Manufactures the improvement of 2,62, as compared with the Budget, was chiefly contributed by Bengal (2,37) and Madras (72). In Bengal it was due partly to the increased jail population employed on manufactures, and partly to the jails being more fully employed throughout the year, and to the better working of the Manufacture Department, and in Madras to the unusually large supplies to the Military Department in connection with the operations in South Africa and China, and to the general development in the manufacturing industry in jails. The increase in the Punjab was attributable to a special effort made to recover outstandings. These increases were partly counterbalanced by low receipts in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (53), due chiefly to the factory work in several jails having been brought to a standstill, for long periods, owing to epidemics of cerebro-spinal fever and cholera, to the great rise in the price of raw moonj, and to the check to the export trade in carpets, durries and mattings owing to the plague.

114. The net receipts under this head, after deducting the corresponding charges under 19B, are given below :—

115. Under Other Receipts the increase in Bombay (62), was due to the Deccan gang having been employed on remunerative work during the year; that in the Punjab (12), to the employment of a large number of prisoners on extra-mural labor, while the decrease of 11 in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, was due to low receipts from the Dairy Farm at Lucknow. Under Convict Receipts at Port Blair, the increase was due chiefly to arrear recoveries from Native States of the cost of maintenance of their convicts.

116. The receipts under this head fell short of the Budget Estimate by 43 and of the actuals of the previous year by 79. Of these decreases 36 and 53, respectively, occurred under Presidency Police. In Bengal the decline was due to low receipts from Police supplied to private persons, and in Bombay to a falling off in the receipts from private watchmen (Ramoshis). Under Police supplied to Municipal Cantonment and Town Funds the receipts in India represent recoveries from the Quetta Cantonment and Municipal Funds towards Cost of Quetta-Pishin Police Force, which was not anticipated in the Budget; while those in Burma were less, owing partly to the reduction, with effect from 1st July 1901, of the rate of contribution payable by the Rangoon Cantonment Fund in consequence of the curtailment of the Cantonment area, and partly to portions of the contributions payable by that Fund and by the Thayetmyo Cantonment Fund, not having been collected. Under Police supplied to Public Departments, Private Companies and Persons the improvement, as compared with the Budget, occurred in all the provinces except Bengal and Bombay, and was due in the Punjab (1'4) and in Madras (19) to large recoveries on account of Punitive Police, and in the Central Provinces (3), to realizations from the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company on account of pay, etc., of guards supplied to the Superintending Engineer, Satpura Railway. The actuals of the previous year, in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and the Punjab, included large receipts on account of Punitive Police, and those in Bombay large contributions from the Aden Port Trust. Under Fees, Fines and Forfeitures the decreases, in Assam (13), the Punjab (19), Madras (34) and Bombay (29), on account of cattle pound receipts, were partly counterbalanced by an increase of 39 in Burma, due to large receipts from fines in gambling cases, and from steam-boiler inspection fees and slaughter-house license fees. Under Other Receipts the improvement in Bengal was due to recoveries on account of Village Police, and the decline in Burma to the adjustment of the value of arms returned to the arsenal, by reduction of expenditure under 20.—Police instead of by credit to this head.

Dockyard Services, etc., due principally to large recoveries in connection with the employment of Royal Indian Marine vessels on Imperial Service. The recoveries on this account were, however, smaller than in the previous year. In Bengal there was an increase of 25 under Pilotage Receipts, which depend on the number and tonnage of vessels entering and leaving the port, and in Burma the postponement of the sale of certain launches caused a fall of 8 under Sale-proceeds of Vessels and Stores.

118. The receipts under this head were higher than the Budget Estimate, and the actuals of the previous year by 78 and 1,63, respectively. Under Fees from Schools and Colleges the only variations that need be noticed are the decrease in Bengal, due to low receipts from Fees from Government Schools, and that in Bombay due to an over-estimate in the local section, and the increases in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and Madras, due in the former to high receipts from the Civil Engineering College fees and schools under the control of District Boards, and in the latter to improved attendance in the Law Colleges. Under Contributions the largest increase occurred in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (52), owing to the credit to this head of contributions by Municipalities to District Boards, hitherto credited under XXV—Miscellaneous. The increase in Bengal was in the contributions from Native States and private persons. Under Other Receipts the improvement occurred in all the provinces except the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, where there was a decrease due to the Book Depôt system of Oudh not having been extended to the extent anticipated, and to the low receipts from the Roorkee College Workshop. The increases in the Central Provinces, Burma, Bengal, and Bombay were due chiefly to large receipts from sale-proceeds of articles manufactured at the Reformatory Schools, and that in Madras to larger sales in the School of Arts.

119. The Indian receipts under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate by 1,00, and the actuals of the previous year by 98. The largest improvement occurred under Contributions in Bengal (22), due to large receipts from Municipalities and private persons in aid of dispensaries, and in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (59), due to the transfer of contributions from Municipalities for dispensaries from XXV—Miscellaneous to this head. There was, however, a decrease of 3 in the Central Provinces in subscriptions from private persons towards the support of local dispensaries and for village sanitation. The improvement under Medical College and School Fees occurred chiefly in Bombay (30), due to increased attendance at the Grant Medical College. Under Hospital Receipts there was a decrease of 8 in Bengal in the receipts from paying patients. Under Lunatic Asylum the decreases in the Central Provinces and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh were due to low receipts from the Dairy Farms attached to the Nagpur and Bareilly Lunatic Asylums, respectively, while the increase in Bombay was due to large receipts from paying patients. Under Other Receipts the decrease occurred chiefly in Bombay (15), due to the discontinuance, under Government of India orders, of fees for the inspection of vessels on Sundays and holidays.

120. The Indian receipts under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 53 and 92, respectively. The improvement, as compared with the Budget Estimate, was spread over almost all the heads. Under Receipts on account of Experimental Cultivation the improvement of 4 in the Central Provinces was due to a good outturn of crops. Under Botanical and Other Public Garden Receipts the improvement of 15 in Bengal occurred in the receipts of the Birch Hill Park, Darjeeling. The increase of 72 under Cinchona Plantations was due to considerable increase in the demand for quinine both in Bengal and Madras. Under Receipts on account of Public Exhibitions and Fairs the increase in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was due to high receipts from the Batesar Fair in the Agra District, while the decrease in the Punjab occurred chiefly in the receipts from cattle fairs at Hissar and Rohtak. The heavy increase in India under Veterinary and Stallion Receipts was due to the transfer of the Hissar Cattle Farm from the Military Department. Under Labour and Emigration there was a decrease of 29 in Assam owing to a decrease in the number of labourers imported under the Act, counterbalanced by an increase of 10 in Madras due to an unexpected increase of emigration. Under Other Receipts the decrease in Madras was due to smaller sales of aluminium ware at the School of Arts than was anticipated, though they exceeded the sales of the previous year.

121. The expenditure in this Section showed a saving of £312,0 or R46,80 as compared with the Budget Estimate, and an excess of £175,2 or R25,28 as compared with the actuals of the previous year As compared with the Budget there was a saving of £91,7 or R13,75 under Police, due, in Burma, to the lapse of the provisions for increasing the number of Commandants and Assistant Commandants, and for the addition of eight companies of Military Police for the Shan States, and to the adjustment of the cost of re-arming some battalions of Military Police in 1900-1. In Bengal, it was caused by the District Executive Force being below the sanctioned strength, and by changes in personnel, and in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh by the absence of officers, by delay in re-organizing the supervising staff of the District Executive Police, and by the revision of the Village Chaukidari system not having been carried out to the extent anticipated. There were savings of £125,2 or R18,78 under Medical, due to the provision for plague expenditure having proved too high, chiefly in India, Bengal and Bombay, partly counterbalanced by high expenditure on this account in the Punjab and Madras, of £93,5 or R14,02 under Political, due to the subsidy of the Amir of Afghanistan not having been fully drawn, of £68,3 or R10,25 under Scientific and other Minor Departments, chiefly in charges of the Survey of India, Geological and other surveys, Veterinary and Stallion charges, and in the expenditure in connection with the Census. There were smaller savings of £42,0 or R6,30 under Education, contributed by all the Provinces, but chiefly by Bengal and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, due mainly to certain special provisions not having been utilized, and to over-estimating in respect of local charges; and of £10,5 or R1,58 under Ecclesiastical, due partly to the transfer, from the Civil to the Military Department, of charges for capitation and travelling allowance of Wesleyan Presbyterian Ministers. These savings were partly counterbalanced by excesses of £31,5 or R4,72 under General Administration, due mainly to the extended tours of the Viceroy, to high Secretariat charges in nearly all the Provinces, and to high charges under Staff and Household in Bengal and Bombay; of £28,3 or R4,24 under Law and Justice—Jails, due to large purchases of raw material for jail manufactures in Bengal, and to an increase of jail population in some Provinces, and a rise in the price of food grains; and of £59,3 or R8,90 under Marine, due mainly to extensive alterations and repairs to certain Royal Indian Marine vessels, and to the supply of coal to a large number of His Majesty's ships in the Persian Gulf.

122. Of the increase, as compared with the previous year, £23,1 or R3,46 occurred under General Administration in Staff and Household, and Secretariat charges; £33,3 or R5,00 under Law and Justice—Courts of Law, due chiefly to the Judges of the Chief Court in Burma having drawn pay for the whole year against ten and-a-half months only in the previous year, and to an increase in the number of Myoôks, to the revision of salaries of District and Sessions Judges in Bengal, and to the creation of the appointment of Judicial Commissioner in the new North-West Frontier Province; of £39,1 or R5,86 under Police, due chiefly to the District Executive and Military Police Forces in Burma having been below the sanctioned strength in 1900-1, and to high expenditure in 1901-2 on Arms and Accoutrements, Petty Construction and Repairs and Purchase and Carriage of Supplies, and to increases in the District Executive and Railway Police Forces in Bengal, and the extension of the Village Police Act in the Orissa District; of £8,3 or R1,25 under Marine, due to the causes stated above; of £41,2 or R6,18 under Education in all the Provinces; of £99,6 or R14,94 under Political, due to the drawings of the Amir of Afghanistan having exceeded those of 1900-1, and to charges in connection with the Waziristan Militia, and the Mahsud Blockade in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province; and of £36,5 or R5,47 under Scientific and other Minor Departments chiefly in the expenditure in connection with the Census. These excesses were partly counterbalanced by a decrease of £25,4 or R3,81 under Law and Justice—Jails, due to the high prices of food grains in 1900-1 and to the payment in that year of compensation to jail ration contractors in Bombay; and of £77,0 or R11,55 under Medical in charges connected with the plague.

123. The expenditure in India exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 3,71 and 2,88, respectively. The excess as compared with the Budget occurred mainly under Staff and Household (1,36), chiefly in Bengal, and Bombay, due to the construction of new saloon carriages, and high hill journey charges in Bengal, and the purchase of new tents in Bombay for the Delhi Durbar: under Secretariat (2,21), in all the provinces except Burma, chiefly in salaries, and telegram and hill journey charges, and under Tour Charges in India, owing to the more extended tours of the Viceroy. As compared with the previous year, the excess occurred chiefly under Staff and Household and Secretariat and was due mainly to the causes stated above.

124. Under Salaries of Governor-General, Governors, etc., the excess was due to the creation of the North-West Frontier Province from the 9th of November 1901. Under Staff and Household the excesses in Bengal and Bombay have been explained above. The excess in the Central Provinces (4) was due to the appointment of a Personal Assistant to the Chief Commissioner for six months, while, the saving in Assam (4), was due to the appointment of Personal Assistant having remained vacant for a part of the year. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh there was a saving of 11, covered by an excess under Tour Charges, there being one consolidated grant under the two heads. There was also an excess of 9 due to the enhancement of the taxes on Government House, at Naini Tal, and to payment of arrears on this account. The charge of 6 in the North-West Frontier Province represents the sumptuary allowance of the Chief Commissioner, and the salary of his Private Secretary. Under Durbar Fund, the excess was due to the increase sanctioned in the annual contract allowance for household expenditure of the Viceroy, after the Budget was framed. Under Executive Council, the charge in the Punjab represents the salary of Sir Charles Rivaz as a member of the Viceroy's Executive Council. Under Legislative Council, the saving in India (27), was due to too large a provision for salaries and travelling allowances of official members, and in Madras (6), to the Madras member of the Supreme Council not having drawn his salary in Madras, while the excess in Bombay (4) was due to an additional member of that council having drawn his pay in Bombay.

125. The Secretariat charges exceeded the Budget Estimate by 2,21, of which 77 were in India, 14 in the Central Provinces, 1 in Assam, 38 in Bengal, 16 in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, 7 in the Punjab, 30 in the North-West Frontier Province, 16 in Madras, 30 in Bombay, and a saving of 8 in Burma. The details in the India Secretariat charges are given below :—

126. The excess in the Statistical Department (14), was due mainly to the transfer of the Bengal Statistical Establishment; that in the Foreign, Revenue and Agricultural and Military Departments, chiefly to high telegram charges; in the Foreign Department, it was also partly due to revision of establishment, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department, to the grant of privilege leave to both officers and clerks, and in the Military Secretariat, to the entertainment of an additional officer for the revision of the Army Regulations, and to the senior rank of the second Deputy Secretary. In the Central Provinces the excess was due to the appointment of an officer on special duty, and to increased charges on account of purchase of furniture and office expenses; in Bengal and the United Provinces of Arga and Oudh it was mainly due to the grant of privilege leave, and, in the latter, partly also to the deputation of officers on special duty. The excesses in the Punjab, and the North-West Frontier Province was mainly due to the creation of the latter Province. In Madras it was due to the grant of privilege leave to the Chief Secretary, and to increased contingent charges, and that in Bombay to the appointment of an additional temporary officer, to an increase in charges for establishments on famine duty, and to the grant of leave. Under Tour Charges the excess in India has been explained above; the excess in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was covered by a saving under Staff and Household as stated above; in the North-West Frontier Province the charges represent the tour expense of the Chief Commissioner, while in Madras the excess was due to expenditure in connection with the Coronation Durbar at Delhi. The saving in the Punjab was partly in the tour charges of the Lieutenant-Governor, and partly in travelling and deputation allowances of the Civil Secretariat. Under Board of Revenue and Financial Commissioner, the excess in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was due to the deputation of officers in connection with the Tenancy Bill, that in the Punjab and Madras to the grant of privilege leave, while the expenditure in the North-West Frontier Province is accounted for by the creation of that Province. The saving in Bengal was due to the charges for keeping record rooms in order, provided for under this head, having been adjusted under appropriate heads. Under Commissioners the decrease in the Central Provinces was due to the transfer of establishment from offices of Divisional Commissioners to Courts of the Divisional Judges, and to savings in salaries, and that in the Punjab, to the abolition of the appointment of Commissioners of Peshawar, owing to the separation of the North-West Frontier Province. These savings were partly counterbalanced by an excess in Bombay, due to unusually large payments to officers of other Provinces, and to an increase in contingent charges, chiefly on account of famine, reduced by savings under salaries due to absentees and changes in personnel.

Accounts	1901-2	23,01	3,00	26,01	2,36	28,37

128. The saving in Civil Account Offices was chiefly due to absence of officers, and to deputation of Superintendents to act as Chief Superintendents, partly counterbalanced by privilege leave arrangements. The saving under Public Works Office of Account was due to the appointment of Deputy Accountant General for Inspection having remained vacant for a portion of the year. Under General Establishment of Local Fund Offices the excess in Bengal, which occurred in establishment and contingent charges of the District Fund, was partly counterbalanced by savings in the other provinces, chiefly in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, in establishment and contingent expenditure of District Boards, and in the Punjab, due partly to an over-estimate, and partly to the transfer of ·13 to the North-West Frontier Province.

129. The expenditure in England shows an excess of £6,7 or R1,00, due to an increase of £2,0 in telegram and contingent charges, of £4 in the charge for Parliamentary Papers supplied to India, and of £4,3 in the cost of currency note forms, which proved higher than was anticipated in the estimates.

130. The expenditure in India exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 2 and 4,98, respectively. The increase over the previous year was contributed by all the provinces except the Central Provinces and Madras. The principal increases were in Burma (1,01), Bengal (2,70) and Punjab with the North-West Frontier Province (95). In Burma it was due to the salaries of the judges of the Chief Court having been drawn for the whole year, against 10½ months only in 1900-1, to an increase in the number of Myoôks, and to high expenditure on travelling allowances and diet and road money, and to leave arrangements. In Bengal it was mainly due to the revision of salaries of District and Sessions Judges, and in the Punjab the increase was chiefly in the charges for salaries and contingencies, but partly also owing to the creation of the appointment of Judicial Commissioner in the new North-West Frontier Province.

131. The variations from the Budget are small, and it is only necessary to explain the more important ones. Under High Court, Chief Courts, etc., there was a decrease of 19 in Bengal, due to the post of one Puisne Judge having been vacant for three months, and to the provision for commission to the Receiver not having been utilized, and an increase of 25 in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Provinces together, due mainly to the creation of the appointment of Judicial Commissioner for the latter, and an increase in the pay of the Chief Judge in the former. Under Law Officers, the excess in India (11), was due to the inclusion of the charges of the Administrator General, Bengal, under the reorganisation; those in Burma, (7), Bengal (10), and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (23), were mainly due to high payments on account of pleaders' and barristers' fees, in criminal cases, enhanced, in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, by the deputation of the Legal Remembrancer on special duty in connection with the Tenancy Bill. Under Civil and Sessions Courts, the excess in Bengal (48), was due to the revision in the salaries of District and Subordinate Judges (73), and to an increase in expenditure on supplies and services (38), partly counterbalanced by savings in salaries of Munsiffs (31), establishments (11), process-serving establishments (16) and under contingencies (10), while the excess in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province together (39), was due to an over-estimate of the probable savings in salaries. These excesses were almost covered by savings in the other provinces which occurred mainly under salaries. Under Courts of Small Causes, the saving in Bombay (12), was due to the absence of officers on long leave, and to a decrease in the establishment charges of the Mofussil courts. Under Criminal Courts the variations occurred chiefly in salaries. In Burma the saving was enhanced by smaller expenditure than was anticipated on travelling (12), contingencies (16), and remunerations to copyists (8), and partly counterbalanced by high expenditure on account of diet and travelling allowance of witnesses (16). The last named cause enhanced the excess in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh by 7, high expenditure on travelling, due to some extent to the plague, increased the excess in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province, while that in Bombay was enhanced to the extent of 29 by large payments to officers of other provinces. Under Other Courts of Justice the excess in Bengal was chiefly due to expenditure on account of the Municipal Magistrate's establishment for which no provision was made. The excess 67 in Bombay, and 1,68 of the excess in the North-West Frontier Province have alreary been sanctioned; and the balance 3 (Imperial) in the latter requires to be sanctioned.

132. The Indian expenditure exceeded the Budget Estimate by 4,14, but fell short of the actuals of the previous year by 3,95. The excess under Jail Manufactures occurred almost entirely in Bengal (3,19) and was due to large purchases of raw materials. The outlay on this account in the Central Provinces and Burma was small. The excess under Other Jail Charges was contributed by all the Provinces except the Central Provinces, Burma and the Punjab, and was due chiefly to an increase in jail population, and a rise in the price of food grains, in Madras it was also partly due to high expenditure for moving prisoners, and for sanitation, while in Bombay it was chiefly due to the creation of the appointment of Inspector-General of Prisons from 1st April 1901. The decrease in the Central Provinces and Burma was due to the jail population having been less than was provided for, while in the Punjab it was due to a fall in jail population and favourable rates for food grains. The decrease as compared with the previous year was mainly due to the high prices of food grains in 1900-1, and in Bombay also to the payment of compensation to jail ration contractors in that year.

133. The excess in the expenditure in England was due to an under-estimate for Stores.

134. The Indian expenditure was less than the Budget Estimate by 13,78, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 5,90. As compared with the Budget, the saving was chiefly contributed by Burma (9,07), Bengal (1,50) and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (2,27). In Burma the saving occurred mainly under Special Police, and was due chiefly to the provision for an increase in the number of Commandants and Assistant Commandants, and for the addition of eight companies of Military Police for the Shan States, not having been utilized, and to the cost of re-arming some battalions of Military Police having been adjusted in 1900-1, though provided for in 1901-2, and partly also to the adjustment by deduction from expenditure of the value of old rifles returned to the arsenal; in Bengal it occurred chiefly under District Executive Force, and was due to change of officers and short strength of the force; and in the United Provinces it occurred chiefly under District Executive Force (98), Village Police (63) and Other charges (45) due in the first case mainly to absence of officers on furlough, and to a delay in the re-organization of the supervising staff, in the second, to the revision of the chaukidari system in Oudh not having been carried out to the extent anticipated, and to savings in the Rural Police (Province of Agra), while under Other Charges the lump provision of 40 was utilized in meeting extra expenditure connected with plague and other items of expenditure. As compared with the previous year the increase was contributed by all the Provinces except India, the Central Provinces, and Bombay, but chiefly by Burma (3,36) and Bengal (1,62). In the former of these Provinces it was due to the District Executive, and Military Police forces having been below the sanctioned strength in 1900-1, and to high expenditure in the year under report on arms and accoutrements, petty construction and repairs, and purchase and carriage of supplies, and in the second to increases in the District Executive and Railway Police forces and to the extension of the Village Police Act in the Orissa Division. The decrease in the Central Provinces (65) was due to the strength of the Police force having been reduced owing to the cessation of famine and the return of the Province to its normal condition.

135. Under Presidency Police the saving in Bengal (31) was chiefly due to the force being below the sanctioned strength, while the excess in Bombay (31), was due to grain compensation having been paid for a longer period than was anticipated, and to a decrease in the contribution from the Bombay Municipality towards the cost of the City Police, which is adjusted by deduction under this head. There were, on the other hand, savings in the cost of Municipal Police, due to absences and changes in personnel, and to reduced expenditure on travelling allowances, clothing and rents, and in the charges for private watchmen. Under Superintendence the saving in Burma (11) was due to the absence on long leave of the Inspector-General of Police; the excess in Bengal (10), was due to the grant of privilege leave, and to the officer in charge of the special branch drawing a higher pay than was provided for; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (10) it was also partly due to the grant of privilege leave and partly to high contingent charges, and in the Punjab, and North-West Frontier Province taken together, the excess of 11 was due to the creation of the appointment of Inspector-General for the latter. Under District Executive Force the saving in Burma (24) is spread over several heads; in Assam (30), it was due partly to leave vacancies (14) and partly to low expenditure on petty construction and repairs; and in Bombay (43) to payment of grain compensation for a shorter period than was anticipated (57) to small establishments employed on famine and plague duties (72), to savings under Salaries and Police Force (28) and under Mounted Police (11), partly counterbalanced by large payments to officers of other Provinces (19), to high expenditure on clothing (41), contingencies (21) owing to famine, petty constructions (15) and on travelling allowances (22) owing to famine. The savings in Bengal (1,36) and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (98) have been explained above. These savings were partly counterbalanced by excesses in India (53), due mainly to the contributions from the Local Funds in Indore (47) not having been recovered, partly counterbalanced by an unexpected recovery of 12 from the Quetta Cantonment Fund; in Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province (19), due to high charges for Punitive Police, and in Madras (9), due to high expenditure on clothing, arms and accoutrements, and petty works of construction. Under Government Railway Police the saving in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (19) was chiefly due to the re-organization of the supervising staff having been delayed; that in the Punjab (11), occurred in the pay of the force, and that in Madras (17), was mainly due to the provision of 12 for a railway carriage not having been used. The excess in Burma (6), was due to the recovery from the Burma Railway Company having fallen short of the Government share of the cost of the Railway Police. Under Village Police the saving in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh has been explained above; that in Bombay (37), was due partly to the transfer to 3—Land Revenue, of assessment of alienated lands (24) and partly to the grant for Pugis not having been fully utilized. Under Special Police the saving in Burma has been explained above, that in Bombay (18) was due to absences, and to the provision of 10 for Police in lieu of Military Guards at Sadra having been only partially used. The high figures of the previous year were due to indirect famine charges. The excess in the Punjab, taken together with the North-West Frontier Province (24), was due to the supply of ordnance stores by the Military Department to the Border Military Police (40) and to the re-organization of the force. Under Cattle Pounds the charges are of a fluctuating character; the saving occurred chiefly in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (12) in feed of cattle, in Madras (24) the decrease followed the decrease in the receipts, and in Bombay (30) where the low expenditure was due to famine. Under Other charges the savings occurred chiefly in India (22) due to the provision of 30 for revision of Thuggy and Dacoity Establishments not having been utilized, partly counterbalanced by short recoveries from Native States for Mooghia operations, and in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (45), where, in addition to the 40 explained above, there was a saving of 5 due to low expenditure on account of refunds. The excess in Burma (8) occurred in the charges of the Steam Boiler Inspection establishment; that in Bengal was due to special refunds; and that in Madras (23) to large refunds on account of Punitive Police cess collections in the Tinnevelly District. The excess of 3,62 in the North-West Frontier Province has already been sanctioned, and that of 43 (Imperial) in India requires to be sanctioned.

134. The Indian expenditure was less than the Budget Estimate by 13,78, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 5,90. As compared with the Budget, the saving was chiefly contributed by Burma (9,07), Bengal (1,50) and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (2,27). In Burma the saving occurred mainly under Special Police, and was due chiefly to the provision for an increase in the number of Commandants and Assistant Commandants, and for the addition of eight companies of Military Police for the Shan States, not having been utilized, and to the cost of re-arming some battalions of Military Police having been adjusted in 1900-1, though provided for in 1901-2, and partly also to the adjustment by deduction from expenditure of the value of old rifles returned to the arsenal; in Bengal it occurred chiefly under District Executive Force, and was due to change of officers and short strength of the force; and in the United Provinces it occurred chiefly under District Executive Force (98), Village Police (63) and Other charges (45) due in the first case mainly to absence of officers on furlough, and to a delay in the re-organization of the supervising staff. In the second, to the revision of the chaukidari system in Oudh not having been carried out to the extent anticipated, and to savings in the Rural Police (Province of Agra), while unde, Other Charges the lump provision of 40 was utilized in meeting extra expenditure connected with plague and other items of expenditure. As compared with the previous year the increase was contributed by all the Provinces except India, the Central Provinces, and Bombay, but chiefly by Burma (3,36) and Bengal (1,62). In the former of these Provinces it was due to the District Executive, and Military Police forces having been below the sanctioned strength in 1900-1, and to high expenditure in the year under report on arms and accoutrements, petty construction and repairs, and purchase and carriage of supplies, and in the second to increases in the District Executive and Railway Police forces and to the extension of the Village Police Act in the Orissa Division. The decrease in the Central Provinces (65) was due to the strength of the Police force having been reduced owing to the cessation of famine and the return of the Province to its normal condition.

135. Under Presidency Police the saving in Bengal (31) was chiefly due to the force being below the sanctioned strength, while the excess in Bombay (31), was due to grain compensation having been paid for a longer period than was anticipated, and to a decrease in the contribution from the Bombay Municipality towards the cost of the City Police, which is adjusted by deduction under this head. There were, on the other hand, savings in the cost of Municipal Police, due to absences and changes in personnel, and to reduced expenditure on travelling allowances, clothing and rents, and in the charges for private watchmen. Under Superintendence the saving in Burma (11) was due to the absence on long leave of the Inspector-General of Police; the excess in Bengal (10), was due to the grant of privilege leave, and to the officer in charge of the special branch drawing a higher pay than was provided for; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (10) it was also partly due to the grant of privilege leave and partly to high contingent charges, and in the Punjab, and North-West Frontier Province taken together, the excess of 11 was due to the creation of the appointment of Inspector-General for the latter. Under District Executive Force the saving in Burma (24) is spread over several heads; in Assam (30), it was due partly to leave vacancies (14) and partly to low expenditure on petty construction and repairs; and in Bombay (43) to payment of grain compensation for a shorter period than was anticipated (57) to small establishments employed on famine and plague duties (72), to savings under Salaries and Police Force (28) and under Mounted Police (11), partly counterbalanced by large payments to officers of other Provinces (19), to high expenditure on clothing (41), contingencies (21) owing to famine, petty constructions (15) and on travelling allowances (22) owing to famine. The savings in Bengal (1,36) and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (98) have been explained above. These savings were partly counterbalanced by excesses in India (53), due mainly to the contributions from the Local Funds in Indore (47) not having been recovered, partly counterbalanced by an unexpected recovery of 12 from the Quetta Cantonment Fund; in Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province (19), due to high charges for Punitive Police, and in Madras (9), due to high expenditure on clothing, arms and accoutrements, and petty works of construction. Under Government Railway Police the saving in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (19) was chiefly due to the re-organization of the supervising staff having been delayed; that in the Punjab (11), occurred in the pay of the force, and that in Madras (17), was mainly due to the provision of 12 for a railway carriage not having been used. The excess in Burma (6), was due to the recovery from the Burma Railway Company having fallen short of the Government share of the cost of the Railway Police. Under Village Police the saving in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh has been explained above; that in Bombay (37), was due partly to the transfer to 3—Land Revenue, of assessment of alienated lands (24) and partly to the grant for Pugis not having been fully utilized. Under Special Police the saving in Burma has been explained above, that in Bombay (18) was due to absences, and to the provision of 10 for Police in lieu of Military Guards at Sadra having been only partially used. The high figures of the previous year were due to indirect famine charges. The excess in the Punjab, taken together with the North-West Frontier Province (24), was due to the supply of ordnance stores by the Military Department to the Border Military Police (40) and to the re-organization of the force. Under Cattle Pounds the charges are of a fluctuating character; the saving occurred chiefly in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (12) in feed of cattle, in Madras (24) the decrease followed the decrease in the receipts, and in Bombay (30) where the low expenditure was due to famine. Under Other charges the savings occurred chiefly in India (22) due to the provision of 30 for revision of Thuggy and Dacoity Establishments not having been utilized, partly counterbalanced by short recoveries from Native States for Mooghia operations, and in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (45), where, in addition to the 40 explained above, there was a saving of 5 due to low expenditure on account of refunds. The excess in Burma (8) occurred in the charges of the Steam Boiler Inspection establishment; that in Bengal was due to special refunds; and that in Madras (23) to large refunds on account of Punitive Police cess collections in the Tinnevelly District. The excess of 3,62 in the North-West Frontier Province has already been sanctioned, and that of 43 (Imperial) in India requires to be sanctioned.

136. The Indian expenditure exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 5,03 and 6,90, respectively. Both excesses occurred chiefly under Dockyards and Other Charges, due, in the former case mainly to extensive alterations and repairs of Royal Indian Marine Vessels "Clive," "Lawrence" and "Mayo" at the Bombay Dockyard, and in the latter, chiefly to the presence of a large number of His Majesty's ships in the Persian Gulf which received coal at the expense of India.

137. Under Dockyards there was a large increase in expenditure in connection with alterations and repairs of certain Royal Indian Marine Vessels, and with the work of fitting transports for expeditions and the conveyance of troops from China, and details to England at both Kidderpore (1,59) and Bombay (4,18), which were partly covered by increased recoveries (3,06) on account of fitting the transports. The excess over the previous year was partly due to the work in connection with the Royal Indian Marine Vessels, and partly to smaller recoveries in 1901-2. Under Salaries and Allowances and Victualling of officers and men afloat, the excess in India (45) was chiefly due to the Royal Indian Marine Vessels "Canning" and "Hardinge" having been in commission throughout the year, and to a revision of the complement of the latter. The saving in Burma (21) was due partly to steam launches having been lent to other Departments, and partly to the provision for the officers of the

"McIvor" not having been utilized, and to the partial lapse of the provision for the crews of new launches. Under Marine Stores and Coal for building and repairs of ships there was an excess in India, due to the purchase of stores to replace stores issued from stock in 1900-1 for fitting transports for expeditions, for extensive alterations and repairs of certain Royal Indian Marine Vessels, and for fitting of transports for expeditions and for conveyance of details to England (4,82), and to the purchase of coal by the "Hardinge" during her voyage to England, and by the "Dalhousie" in Australia, and by the "Canning" in China (2,15). These excesses were, however, almost covered by large recoveries on account of coal supplied to His Majesty's ships in the Persian Gulf, and for work done in connection with the fitting of transports, and on account of the adjustment of departmental commission on supplies of coal to transports in previous years. In Burma the excess (20), was due to the outlay on stores and fuel for steam launches having proved larger than was anticipated, and that in Bombay (10) to the special repairs to the Steamer "Jhelum" and the flat "Mooltan". The expenditure in Bengal under Pilotage, Pilot Establishment and vessels, which is dependent on the tonnage of vessels visiting and leaving the port, was larger than was anticipated. Under Other Charges the excess in India has been explained above. The saving in Burma (84), was due to the lapse of the provision of 1,00 for lighting the Burma coast, to smaller outlay than expected on supplies and services for light-houses (37), and on subsidies to steam-boat companies, owing to the Sandoway Kyaukpyu service not having been established, and to a reduction in the subsidy for the Mergui Coasting Mail service (15), and to low expenditure on account of the clearance of the Irrawaddy-Chindwin river, and piloting and towing vessels (13). These savings were reduced by an excess of 74 on account of construction of several launches, and of 7 on account of miscellaneous expenditure due to the visit of His Excellency the Viceroy. The excesses in India, Assam, Madras and Bombay have already been sanctioned; that of 1 (Provincial) in Bengal requires to be sanctioned.

138. In England the expenditure exceeded the estimate by £25,7 or R3,85, due chiefly to a larger demand than was expected for stores, and to payments made for stores ordered for 1902-3 (£23,3 or R3,49), to an increase in the cost of coal used by His Majesty's ships in the Persian Gulf (£4,3 or R65), and to the enhancement of the subsidy to the Admiralty for manning and maintaining Indian Government Defence Vessels (£8 or R12). On the other hand there was a decrease of £2,7 or R41 on account of alterations to the Defence Vessels not covered by the subsidy.

139. The Indian expenditure showed a saving, as compared with the Budget Estimate of 6,44, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 6,18. The saving was contributed by all the Provinces, but chiefly by Bengal (2,77) and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (1,28). The excess over the previous year was contributed by all the Provinces.

140. The savings under Inspection and Government Colleges occurred chiefly under salaries, and were due to absences on leave and deputation ; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, however, the decrease due to this cause was increased by savings (6) in the grant for the equipment of the laboratory of the Muir Central College, and counterbalanced to the extent of 10 by high expenditure on account of machinery and plant for College workshops. Under Government Schools the decrease in the Central Provinces (45), occurred chiefly in the local section under Secondary and Primary Schools, but partly also under salaries in Training schools, and under petty construction and repairs; in Burma (20), it was due to the absence of an officer on deputation, to the opening of the Taunggyi school from the 1st December 1901 instead of from the beginning of the year as provided for, and to low expenditure on Surveying and Reformatory schools, in Bengal (79), it was due to the revision of establishment in some of the Zillah schools, the abolition of some High and Vernacular schools, and to the provision for training of Gymnastic teachers not having been utilized ; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (26), the Punjab(29), Madras (13), and Bombay (37), it was due to over-estimate in the Local Section. Under Grants-in-aid and Payments by Results the saving in Burma (32), was due to an over-estimate, partly counterbalanced by a special building grant of 12 ; in Bengal (60), to smaller building grants than were provided for, and in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (22), to the building grant of 20 provided for the Muhamadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, not having been paid. These savings were partly counterbalanced by excesses in the Central Provinces (20), the Punjab (20), and Bombay (61), due to special building grants. The excess over the previous year was contributed by all the Provinces but chiefly by Bengal (1,00), the Punjab (62), Madras (52) and Bombay (73). Uuder Other Charges the saving in Bengal (1,39), was mainly due to the provision of 1,25 for contribution to the Provident Fund for teachers in Primary schools not having been utilized ; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (18), it was due to the Book Depôt system in District Board schools not having been introduced in the Province of Agra to the extent anticipated ; and in Bombay (42), to low charges for the purchase and publication of books. The excess over the previous year in Burma (19) was due to enhanced contribu- tions to the Educational Syndicate. The excess in the North-West Frontier Province has already been sanctioned.

141. The excess in the expenditure in England (£1,0 or R15) was mainly due to payments to Educational officers on special duty.

Savings under Exchange Compensation Allowance											[illegible]

142. The Indian expenditure was less than the Budget Estimate, and the actuals of the previous year by 1,57 and 50, respectively. Of the former, 74 was due to the transfer from the Civil to the Military Department of the capitation and travelling allowances of Wesleyan and Presbyterian Ministers in accordance with Finance and Commerce Department Resolution No. 3565A dated 10th July 1901. The rest was as usual mainly due to variations in the number of senior and junior chaplains on duty or on leave. The saving in India was, however, chiefly accounted for by the absence on leave of the Lord Bishop and his domestic chaplain. The excess in the North-West Frontier Province has already been sanctioned; of the excess of 15 in Bengal 14 have been sanctioned and 1 requires to be sanctioned.

143 The excess in expenditure in England was due to ten chaplains having been provided with passages against eight provided for in the Budget.

144. The Indian expenditure was less than the Budget Estimate, and the actuals of the previous year by 18,73 and 11,50 respectively. As compared with the Budget the decrease occurred under Grants for Medical Purposes, almost entirely in expenditure connected with the plague, and was contributed by all the Provinces except the Punjab and Madras, in which the charges exceeded both the Budget and the actuals of the previous year. The decrease as compared with the previous year was entirely in plague expenditure.

145. Under Medical Establishments the variations were mainly under Salaries, due to the absence of officers. The excess of 91 in Bombay was chiefly due to the appointment of special officers and establishments for famine duty, and to high travelling charges, while that in the Punjab, taken with the North-West Frontier Province, (9) was due to the new appointment of Administrative Medical Officer for the latter. Under Government Hospitals and Dispensaries, the saving in Burma (30) was due to the number of Assistant Surgeons, and Hospital Assistants having been below the sanctioned scale (25), and to low expenditure on medicines and instruments (5); in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (58) it occurred chiefly in Salaries (35), and establishments (9), and was due in some measure to the demand for Medical officers for plague duty; in Madras (59) there was an over-estimate in the local section, while in Bombay (73) it was due to charges on account of famine having been shown under Medical Establishments, and to a decrease in dietary charges of St. George's Hospital. Against these savings there were excesses of 12 in the Central Provinces, owing to a revision of the scale of pay of Hospital Assistants; of 20 in Bengal, due to increased expenditure under supplies and services and contingencies of the General Hospital (46), reduced by savings in the Medical College (14), and Campbell (12) Hospitals. Under Vaccine Establishments and Sanitary Commissioner the most important decrease occurred in Madras (1,33) and was due to the provisions for a Central Vaccine Institute (29) not having been utilized, to the grant of furlough to the Sanitary Commissioner (15), and to an over-estimate in the local section (85). The savings in the other Provinces were mainly under Salaries, due to the absence of officers, enhanced in Burma by the provision for the re-organization of the Vaccination establishment not having been used, in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh by the lapse of the provision for the Bovine Lymph Depôt, and by low expenditure on village sanitary improvements (15), and in Bombay by decrease in grants to village Sanitation Committees, and Sanitary Boards, and savings in the grant for holiday inspection fees. The variations under Medical Schools and Colleges occurred chiefly under Salaries. Under Lunatic Asylums the saving in the Central Provinces (6) was in dietary charges; that in Bengal (10) in establishment and contingent charges; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (10), it is mainly attributable to small expenditure for purchase and feed of cattle in the Diary Farm attached to the Bareilly Lunatic Asylum, and in Bombay to low expenditure for the removal of lunatics. Under Other Charges the additional provision of 8 for the Chemical Examiner in Bengal was not untilized, while in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh the excess (5) was mainly due to the purchase of machinery for the Chemical Examiner's Laboratory, and that in Bombay (5) to an increase under Salaries in the Chemical Examiner's Department. Of the excesses in the Punjab (2,54) and in the North-West Frontier Province (42), 23 and 39 respectively have been sanctioned, and the balances 2,31 (Provincial) in the former, and 3 (Imperial) in the latter require to be sanctioned.

146. The Indian expenditure showed a saving of 14,08, as compared with the Budget Estimate, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 17,60. The saving as compared with the Budget occurred in India under Political Subsidies, and was due to the subsidy of the Amir of Afghanistan not having been fully drawn. The excess as compared with the previous year, also occurred in India under the same head and was due to the drawings of the Amir of Afghanistan having exceeded those of 1900-1. An excess under Other Charges in the Punjab, and the North-West Frontier Province, taken together, on account of the Waziristan Militia, and the Mahsud Blockade, added to the difference.

147. Under Political Agents the saving in India (1,06), was due to the provision of 1,00 for the North-West Frontier Province which was not required, while in Assam (10), it was due to a reduction in the strength of the Coolie Corps in the Lushai Hills. The saving in Burma (11) was mainly under Salaries, while the excess in Bombay (50) was due to unusually high payments to officers of other Provinces (54), and to the postponement of the recovery of 27 on account of political establishments employed in the Palanpur Agency, partly counterbalanced by savings under salaries and high recoveries at Kathiawar. Under Charges on the North-West Frontier there was an under-estimate in India, on account of Seistan (31), while the expenditure in Baluchistan on Levy establishments and Jhob Levy Corps exceeded the estimate by 12. On the other hand there was a saving of 5 in Khorassan, in establishment charges. Under Entertainment of Envoys and Chiefs the excess in Burma (7) was due to the entertainment of Chiefs on the occasion of the visit of the Viceroy, while that in the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province (24), occurred in connection with the Viceregal Durbar at Peshawar, which is also accountable for the variation between the revised and the actuals in the latter province. The saving in Bombay (7) was due to the closure of the guest-house at Aden. Under Durbar Presents etc., the provisions in India and Burma proved too high, while in Bombay the excess (18) was due to special presents given at Aden. Under Refugees and State Prisoners the provision in Bengal for passage and other expenses of the family and dependents of the late Mintha Nyang Oke was not fully utilized, while in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the return of Sardar Yahia Khan and his sons to Kabul resulted in the saving of the allowances enjoyed by them. Under Other Charges the excess in India (83) was due to charges in connection with the deputation of Imperial Service Troops to Australia for the Commonwealth celebrations (19), on account of the Imperial Cadet Corps (60), for Lieutenant Colonel Showers' tour in connection with the Baluch-Mekran disturbance (13), and for expenditure connected with the Delhi Coronation Durbar, none of which were provided for, partly counterbalanced by savings due to the contribution for the expenses of the Chiengemai Vice-Consulate not having been drawn since February 1901 (15), and in the grant for secret service (17). The excess in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province (3,00) was due to the Mahsud Blockade, for which there was no provision; the excess over the Revised in the latter Province is also attributable to this cause.

148. The excess of 3 in the expenditure in England was due to contribution towards the expenses of the Kerman Consulate.

149. The Indian expenditure was less than the Budget Estimate by 10,71, but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 6,97. The saving, as compared with the Budget, occurred chiefly under Survey of India (1,69), mainly in the charges of Survey parties; under Geological and Other Surveys (1,03) chiefly in salaries; under Veterinary and Stallion Charges (1,47) chiefly in the purchase of stallions; and under Statistics (5,87) almost entirely in census charges. The excess over the previous year occurred mainly (7,16) under the last-named head, and was due to the low expenditure in 1900-1 on Census operations. This increase was partly reduced by a decrease under Survey of India (1,55) in the charge of survey parties.

150. Under Survey of India there was a saving of 7,11 in the charges of Survey parties, which was, however, counterbalanced to the extent of 5,13 due to smaller recoveries than were anticipated from other Governments. Under Geological and Other Surveys the saving in salaries was enhanced by the partial lapse of the provisions for the cost of Economic Survey (26) and for the publication of Reports and Archœological Explorations (7). Under Meteorological Department there was an excess of 23, due to high telegram charges, and a saving of 7 in allowances to observers. Under Other Scientific Departments in Burma the provision for exploration of petroleum, coal and minerals was not fully used, and that for the pay of a Curator for the Provincial Museum was not required. Under Veterinary and Stallion Charges the saving in India (70) was mainly due to low expenditure in the purchase of stallion (53) and prizes at fairs (10) to adjustment of a recovery on account of sale of animals at Babugarh Farm by deduction from charges (8), to savings in pay of establishments (11) and salaries (5), and to the partial lapse of the grant for chemicals etc., for the Bacteriological Laboratory, and for the construction of a road and bazar at Bubugarh, partly counterbalanced by an excess of 22 in the charges for feed; in Burma (42), the saving was due to the number of Veterinary Assistants being below that provided for, and to the provisions for an additional Veterinary Officer, and for the purchase of bulls and stallions not having been utilized; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the saving (12) occurred mainly in the Head Quarters and District Boards charges; in Madras (14) the provision (5) for the establishment of a Veterinary Hospital was not utilized, and savings occurred in the charges for pony and mule breeding, and in Bombay (22), the decrease was due to the absence of an officer (5), to short expenditure for the purchase of stallions, and for maintenance and stabling (12), and in contingent charges (5), while the excess in the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province (14) was due to the appointment of a third Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department. Under Other Charges the saving in India (35), was due to the new office of Inspector General of Agriculture not having been filled until the 14th October 1901 (22), to the grant for Miscellaneous expenditure at the disposal of the R venue and Agricultural Department not having been fully utilized (10), and to low expenditure on agricultural experiments (7); the saving in Burma (7), and the excess in Bombay (4), occurred in expenditure on experimental cultivation. Under Labour and Emigration the saving in Bengal (14) was due to larger recoveries than were anticipated from Assam towards the deficit in the transactions of the Inland Labour Transport Fund. The excesses in the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province and Bombay have already been sanctioned; the excess of 3 (Imperial) in the Central Provinces requires to be sanctioned.

151. The expenditure in England exceeded the Budget by £3,2 or R48. There was an increase of £4,2 in the purchase of stallions, and in the expenses of the commission on Horse-breeding, and of £2,1 on account of charges in connection with the Indian Section at the Paris Exhibition of 1900; these excesses were partly counterbalanced by a reduction in the demand for stores.

152. The total receipts in this section exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by R8,13 or £54,2 and R14,78 or £98,5, respectively. As compared with the Budget R1,43 or £9,5 occurred under Exchange, and R6,67 or £44,5 under Miscellaneous, of which £9,5 or R1,43 occurred in England in departmental expenses on stores procured for the China Expeditionary Force, and penalties incurred by Contractors, and £35,0 or R5,24 in India, chiefly in unclaimed deposits and recoveries from municipalities on account of plague charges in Bengal, and in rents in the Central Provinces and Madras. There was also a small increase of R30 or £2,0 under Stationery and Printing, which was almost covered by a decline in the receipts in aid of Superannuation allowances chiefly in England.

153. As compared with the previous year £25,5 or R3,82 of the increase occurred under Exchange ; £65,3 or R9,80 under Miscellaneous, of which £8,6 or R1,30 was contibuted by England and £56,7 or R8,50 by India, due partly to the causes stated above and partly to the recovery of famine expenditure in the Central Provinces ; and £7,3 or R 1,09 under Stationery and Printing, due chiefly to municipal forms now being printed by the Government Press in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh.

XXII.—Receipts in aid of Superannuation, Retired, and Compassionate Allowances—concluded.

154. The Indian receipts under this head show an increase of 16 over the Budget Estimate and 44 over the actuals of the previous year. The increased receipts in India (6) and Bengal (6) on account of Subscriptions to the Military, Military Orphan, and Medical Retiring Funds were due to an under-estimate in the case of the former and in the latter to the large receipts of the Orphangunge market at Kidderpur, and were partly counterbalanced by a falling off in Bombay of 7 owing to the decline in the number of subscribers to the Military Funds. Subscriptions under the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Regulations and Subscriptions to the Civil Funds showed increases of 29 and 9, respectively. The first increase is noticeable principally in the Punjab and Madras, and the latter in India, Bengal and the Punjab. The increases generally are attributable to variations in the number of subscribers and the realization of marriage donations. The decrease under Contributions was due to a falling off, generally in the number of subscribers, owing to retirement and reversions of officers on Foreign service. In India it was due to an over-estimate.

155. In England the decrease is attributable chiefly to small receipts on account of the Military Funds.

156. The receipts exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 31 and 1,10, respectively. The increase in the United Provinces under Sale of Gazettes and other Publications, owing to Municipal forms now being printed in the Government press under orders of the Local Government, is mainly responsible for both these increases. Under Receipts from sale of Stationery the high demands from Railways in Bengal, the United Provinces and the Punjab, were almost covered by the decrease in these demands in Madras, and from the Berar administration in Bombay. Under Other Press Receipts, the decrease in India was in the receipts of the Government Central Press at Calcutta, that in Bengal and the United Provinces occurs in the miscellaneous receipts.

157. The actuals under this head vary with the average rate of exchange and variations in the sterling transactions of the Railways.

158. The Budget was calculated at an average rate of 16*d.* the rupee, but the actual average rate of the year proved to be 15·988*d.* approximately. This accounts for the net debit of 1,96 under Net Expenditure in England. Under Guaranteed Companies there was a credit of R2,80 under exchange against a debit of 64 provided for in the Budget, chiefly in consequence of the transfer of the store balances of the Southern Section of the East Coast Railway to the capital account of the Madras Railway, and larger outlay on coal, timber and miscellaneous stores on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway. The credits to exchange on account of revenue stores were also greater by 43. The other variations from the Budget are unimportant and do not require any special notice.

159. The large difference in the Revised under Indian Midland Railway was due principally to adjustments in regard to the capital of £500,0 raised by the Company in October 1901 having been made at R15 = £1 instead of at the contract rate (Financial Department No. 2190A., dated 25th April 1902).

160. The Indian revenue under this head exceeded the Budget Estimate by 5,24 and the actuals of the previous year by 8,50. As compared with the Budget the increase accrued principally under the heads Unclaimed Deposits (2,54), Contributions (1,16), Rents (1,06), and Other Items (86). Receipts under Unclaimed Deposits are of a fluctuating nature and cannot therefore be accurately estimated. The receipts were exceptionally high in Bengal. The increase under Contributions was chiefly due to large recoveries in Bengal (1,84), from municipalities on account of Plague Charges. The increase under Rents was chiefly due to large realizations of Town, Civil Station and Nazul Lands rent in the Central Provinces, and to the collection in Madras of arrears, principally of choultry rents in the Tanjore District. The increase under Other Items occurred principally in the Central Provinces, Bengal and Punjab, and is attributable in the case of the first to an under-estimate of recoveries of famine expenditure, and in the two latter to the sale of old stores and materials and sale of lands etc., which are subject to fluctuation, and in the last also to increased receipts from tolls on the Khyber Road, said to be due to the fact that after the late Amir's death in November 1901, there was a great deal of smuggling resulting in an increase in the Khyber tolls. Large receipts on account of Fees and Fines of Revenue Courts, recoveries of Law charges and sale of Elephants, account for 56 of the increase in Bengal. The decrease of 1,77 in Bombay was due to the expected recovery from the Barsi-Light Railway Company for famine labour not having been effected. As compared with the previous year Bengal contributed 1,36 under Unclaimed Deposits and 1,77 under Contribution, due to the causes stated above. Under Rents the increase occurred in Madras, mainly in the choultry rents, and under Other Items the increase in the Central Provinces was due to recoveries of famine expenditure, and those in Bengal and the Punjab mainly to the causes stated above.

161. Of the increase in the receipts in England £5,9 or R88 was on account of departmental expenses on stores procured for the China Expeditionary Force, and £3,5 or R53 on account of fines and penalties incurred by contractors.

162. The total expenditure in this section exceeded the Budget Estimate by £6,9 or R1,04, and the actuals of the previous year by £152,0 or R22,80. As compared with the Budget there was an excess of £19,0 or R2,85 under Stationery and Printing, being the result of an increase of £37,2 or R5,58, due to large purchases of stationery in England to meet the demands from India, and of a decrease in India of £18,2 or R2,73 chiefly on account of the charges in Government Presses. Against this excess, there was a decrease of £9,3 or R1,40 in the payments of Territorial and Political Pensions in India.

163. As compared with the actuals of the previous year, there was an increase of £44,3 or R6,64 under Superannuation Allowances, both in India and in England, of £34,7 or R5,21 under Stationery and Printing, chiefly in England, and of £118,0 or R17,70 under Miscellaneous due to the writing-off of irrecoverable taccavi loans in the Central Provinces, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and Bombay. These increases were partly counterbalanced by decreases of £14,9 or R2,24 under Territorial and Political Pensions, chiefly in England, and of £31,8 or R4,78 under Exchange.

164. The total Indian expenditure was 1,40 below the Budget and 73 less than the actuals of the previous year. All the provinces, except India, contributed to the savings, which were due mainly to lapses and to grants remaining undrawn. The saving in Madras was reduced by the payment of certain special commutations of Carnatic Stipends (15) ordered by Government. In Bombay, the provision for the Angria family was not utilized, as the question of succession was not finally settled during the year. The excess (9), in India under the first head was due to the transfer of Carnatic Stipendiaries from Madras The net excess of 4 in India awaits the sanction of the Government of India while that of 15 in the North-West Frontier Province has been sanctioned.

167. The Indian expenditure exceeded the Budget Estimate by 37. The major portion of the excess occurred under Superannuation and Retired Allowances, and was due to the usual growth of expenditure in pension charges which was somewhat under-estimated in the Budget.

168. The following statement shows this growth during the last six years :—

1896-97	96,32
1897-98	99,83

1900-1901	1,09,17
1901-1902	1,12,15

169. The increase of 18 under Other Charges occurred chiefly in Madras, and was due to bonuses paid to Provident Funds for which sufficient provision was not made in the Local Section. As compared with the actuals of the previous year, the increase occurred under the first head.

170. In England the decrease occurred mainly in Civil Fund Pensions, partly counterbalanced by an increase in the pensions of officers of the Uncovenanted Service.

171. The Indian expenditure was less than the Budget Estimate by 2,73, but greater than the actuals of the previous year by 74. The principal saving occurred under Government Presses, mainly, in India (1,48) due to large recoveries from the Postal and Telegraph Departments for printing work. Assam and Bombay contributed 13, and 22, respectively, to the decrease, due in the former, to reductions in press establishments and savings in overtime allowances, and in Bombay, to savings in the grant for compositors for piece-work.

172. The decrease 36 under Purchase of Stationery was the result mainly of a saving of 3,26 in Madras, due to the transfer of the source of supply of certain articles of Stationery from India to England, counterbalanced by excesses in Bengal (2,44), due to large purchases of stationery for the China Expeditionary Force and Census Operations, and to the purchase of typewriters and materials from the local market, and in Bombay (63) to larger purchases than was expected. The excess was covered by a re-appropriation sanctioned by the Government of India. Under Stationery Supplied from Central Stores the Budget was exceeded in Burma, Bengal, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province, Bombay and the Post Office and Telegraph Departments. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh the extra supplies of paper required by the Superintendent, Government press, was for printing municipal forms and for increased demands for forms by other Departments notably the Police Department. Under Other Charges the increases in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (13), and Bombay (8) occurred in the charges for printing work done at private presses; the decrease in the Punjab (10) was due to certain publications provided for, not being ready for the press before the close of the year, and that in Madras, (8) to an over-estimate in the Provincial Section (23), partly counterbalanced by increased charges in the Local section for printing at private presses.

173. The excess in England was due to larger indents from India than was provided for.

174. The Indian expenditure exceeded the Budget by 43, and the actuals of the previous year by 18,47. In the former case the increase occurred principally under Petty Establishments and Special Commissions of Enquiry, counterbalanced by savings under some of the other heads, but chiefly under Other Items. The excess as compared with the previous year occurred almost entirely under Irrecoverable Loans written off.

175. Under Petty Establishments the excess in Burma (74) was due to the purchase and transit charges of elephants purchased for khedda operations in Burma, for which no provision was made. In the Punjab (20) there was an increase in the charges for the Copying Agency Account, whilst in Madras (40) the increase was due to the transfer of lighting charges to this head from Other Items which shows a corresponding saving. The increase under Special Commissions of Enquiry in India (80) was due to no provision having been made for several commissions, chiefly the Panna Commission (19), Industrial Education Conference (24), Indian Universities Commission (23), the Furniture Committee (14), and the Agricultural Bank Conference, which were organized after the Budget had been framed. In Bengal (15) it was due to charges in connection with the Port Trust Commission and deputation of Mr. Carlyle for the curtailment of reports; and in Bombay (4) to the Aden Trust Commission, which was not provided for. The increase under Rewards for Destruction of Wild Animals was due exclusively to special grants sanctioned in Bombay for the destruction of rats in the Northern Division. Under Extraordinary Items, the expenditure in India represents charges in connection with the deputation of Major-General Sir E. Collen, as a representative of the Government of India, at the celebrations in Melbourne during the opening of the first Parliament of United Australia in May 1901. Nearly all the provinces contributed to savings under Other Items, but principally the following :—India (20), Burma (16), Bengal (26), United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (22), Madras (44), and was due in India to the transfer of the contribution to the Bangalore Municipality to 45—Civil Works; in Burma, to the contribution for the maintenance of local telegraph lines having proved less than was anticipated; in Bengal to a decrease in subscriptions to periodicials, owing to the adjustment of a larger amount than was expected, in reduction of charges on account of supplies made to the several Departments in the previous year; in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh to expenditure against the grant for unforeseen charges having been adjusted under appropriate heads; and in Madras to the transfer of lighting charges to the head Petty Establishments as stated above. Under Remittance Charges the variations are due to the more or less frequent remittances of coin. Under Charitable Donations the decrease occurred principally in Bengal (32), owing to the provision for miscellaneous donations not having been utilized, and to large recoveries on account of support of pilgrims which were adjusted in reduction of charges. Under Irrecoverable Loans Written off there was an increase in Bombay of 82, on account of remissions of taccavi advances, which was counterbalanced by a decrease of 83 in the Central Provinces.

176. In England the decrease occurred in the payments for stores lost in transit to India, partly counterbalanced by increased payments on account of the Indian Plague Commission.

177. When the Budget Estimate was prepared Bombay was the only province in which large famine expenditure was required, and a provision of 99,91, was accordingly made which, with a provision of 20 in India, and 1,00 in the Central Provinces, where it was expected small relief would be required before the rains set in, brought the provision for direct Famine Relief to 1,01,11; 11,37 was assigned to the Construction of Protective Irrigation Works, and 37,52, was reserved for the Reduction or Avoidance of Debt. The expenditure on Famine Relief and Construction of Protective Irrigation works fell short of the Estimate, and accordingly the amount available for Reduction or Avoidance of Debt was increased. The increase would have been greater but for an unexpected net charge of 17,32 on the revenues (shown under the Railway Revenue account) on account of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, which reduced it to 42,70.

178. The following statement shows the total amount chargeable to this grant, and its distribution:—

179. The total expenditure in India was less than the Budget Estimate by 21,75. In the Central Provinces little more than half of the provision was needed, and in Bombay, where the distress proved less severe and extensive than was expected, the saving amounted to 22,25, chiefly in gratuitous relief. On the other hand, the charges in India exceeded the Estimate by 5, while the re-appearance of famine, conditions in the Punjab and Madras necessitated some expenditure in these provinces. The excesses in Assam, Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, and Madras have already been sanctioned. The excess of 5 (Imperial) in India requires to be sanctioned.

180. The increase in the expenditure during 1901-2 over that of the previous year was due to the commencement of work on the Dhaka and Tribeni canals, and to the cost of investigating Protective Irrigation projects. The short outlay, as compared with the Budget Estimate, was due to work on the Chankapur tank, not having been commenced, and to the progress of work on the Tribeni canal not being as rapid as was anticipated.

183. These figures show that the net result of the working of all Railways was a gain of £846,6 after meeting all charges for interest, annuities, etc., this being an increase of £521,5 or R78,23 over the gain in the previous year. Under Receipts there was an increase of £1,585,3 or R2,37,79 due generally to larger movements of passengers in connection with marriages and fairs, the result of favourable seasons, absence of famine and the removal of plague precautionary measures, and to a revival of traffic in cotton, grain and seeds following on the abundant harvests of 1901. The total charges were more by £1,063,8 or R1,59,57 of which R1,07,83 consisted of an increase in working expenses due chiefly to the increased traffic and the consequent larger train mileage. There was also an increase of £380,7 or R57,10 under Interest and Annuity charges due to the increased capital employed in the construction of Railways.

185. State Railways.—The gross receipts in India for the year 1901-2 show an increase over the figures of the previous year of 3,48,07. There was an improvement in the earnings of all the more important railway systems with the exception of the Southern Mahratta, Indian Midland and Rajputana-Malwa Railways. The principal increases occurred as follows :—On the Great Indian Peninsula Railway 1,59,11 due partly to the inclusion under this head of the figures for the full 12 months of the year as against only 9 months in 1900-1, and partly to an improvement in traffic in cotton and oil-seeds; on the North-Western Railway 1,04,22 due chiefly to the revival of the export traffic viâ Karachi in grain and seed consequent on seasonable harvests; on the East Indian Railway 35,44 due to the continued expansion of the coal traffic; on the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway 19,11 due to development of traffic on the Ghaziabad-Moradabad Railway, larger movements of passengers in connection with marriages and fairs, and a longer lead traffic in wheat; on the Bengal and North-Western Railway 15,56 due to general development of traffic on the opening up of the new extensions; on the Bengal-Nagpur Railway 13,92 due to the inclusion of the figures of the Northern Section, East Coast Railway for twelve months as against only three months in the previous year; on the South Indian Railway 13,47 due to exports of grain to Colombo and large imports of Burma rice into districts affected by drought; and on the Burma Railways 8,99 due to an improvement in both passenger and goods traffic, the result of the increasing prosperity of the country.

186. The decreases were :—Southern Mahratta Railway 6,63 due to the absence of the special troop traffic of the previous year; Indian Midland Railway 5,47 due to a falling off in traffic in wheat and other food grains; and Rajputana-Malwa Railway 3,46 due chiefly to fluctuations in suspense.

187. Compared with the Budget Estimate there was a net increase of 2,79,79. The more important increases were :—66,63 on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, 66,53 on the North-Western Railway, 46,19 on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway, 32,63 on the East Indian Railway, 15,80 on the Bengal and North-Western Railway, 15,68 on the South Indian Railway, 13,33 on the Burma Railways and 13,21 on the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway. The increases were due—in the case of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, to improved traffic in cotton and oil-seeds, in the case of the Rajputana-Malwa Railway to a more favourable export traffic than anticipated, and in the case of the other railways to the same causes generally which led to the increases compared with the actuals of the previous year. Decreases occurred, on the Bengal-Nagpur Railway 7,63 due to the absence of any large demand for food grains, and on the Southern-Mahratta Railway 5,87 owing to a general decline in both passenger and goods traffic.

188. Guaranteed Railways.—The total net receipts were less than those of the previous year by 60,29. The decrease was, however, to a certain extent nominal as the previous year's figures included the net receipts of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway for three months of the year amounting to 48,86. Eliminating these figures from the comparison the actual decrease is 11,43, viz. 6,83 on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway and 4,60 on the Madras Railway due to enhanced payments to foreign lines on account of through traffic. Compared with the Budget Estimate the decrease of 10,50 is attributable generally to the same causes and to an overestimate of the mileage of the Madras Railway Extensions that would be opened to traffic during the year.

189. The receipts for 1901-2 were better than those of the previous year by 35,44, due mainly to the continued expansion of the coal traffic and to a more favourable traffic, in general merchandise chiefly in oil-seeds, jute, piece-goods, salt and kerosine oil. Larger movements of pilgrims in connection with the solar and lunar eclipses contributed to the increase. The same causes generally account for the increase of 32,63 compared with the Budget.

190. Compared with the actuals of the previous year the receipts show a falling off of 91. Under coaching there was a decrease of 1,37, due chiefly to certain bathing festivals that usually take place at the close of the year having been held in April 1902, and to the diversion of traffic viâ Katihar on the opening of the Bengal and North-Western Railway Extensions; while Goods showed a slight increase attributable to an improvement in jute traffic. The difference between the actuals and the Budget was small.

191. Compared with the actuals of the previous year, the increase of 6,61 under Coaching, was due chiefly to a large attendance at marriages and fairs, the result of a favourable monsoon. The decrease of 1,49 under Goods is the net result of a falling off in wheat traffic, which was abnormal in the previous year owing to the famine in Guzerat and Rajputana, and of an improvement in the export traffic in oil-seeds and raw cotton due to better crops. Under Miscellaneous and Suspense the decrease of 8,58 was due to the abnormal cross traffic from contiguous railways in the previous year, and to fluctuations in suspense under the head "Traffic account." The same causes, generally, account for the variations from the Budget the increase under Goods being due to a more favourable export traffic than anticipated.

192. The receipts for the year 1901-2, are the highest ever attained in the history of the North-Western Railway, being 1,04,22 above those of the previous year, which were the lowest since 1896-97. This large increase, resulted, almost entirely, from the revival of the export traffic to Karachi in grain and seed, consequent on the abundant harvest of 1901, that followed on the famine of the previous year. The increase of 66,53 compared with the Budget was due mainly to the same cause.

193. The receipts for 1901-2 exceeded those of the previous year by 19,11, made up of increases under Coaching and Goods of 7,16 and 13,02, respectively, and a decrease under Miscellaneous and Suspense of 1,07. The increase under Coaching was due to development of traffic on the Ghaziabad-Moradabad Section, to the removal of plague restrictions admitting of free movements of passengers in connection with Hindu marriages and fairs, and to a reduction in Intermediate and 3rd class fares enabling a larger number of pilgrims to travel by train. The increase under Goods is ascribed to heavier bookings under general merchandise, chiefly in grain, metals, oil-seeds and sugar and to a longer lead traffic in wheat, and the decrease under Miscellaneous and Suspense to smaller receipts from the Ghaziabad-Moradabad Railway for hire of rolling stock The same causes generally account for the variations from the Budget.

194. Compared with the actuals of the previous year the receipts show an increase of 13,92, due to the inclusion of the figures of the Northern Section, East Coast Railway, for the full 12 months of the year as against only three months in the previous year. The decrease as compared with the Budget is the net result of a falling off in Goods traffic, owing to there being no demand for food grains from other provinces, and of an improvement in Coaching due to increased attendance of pilgrims at Puri and large movements of troops.

196. The decrease of 5,47 compared with the actuals of the previous year was due mainly to a falling off in Goods traffic, chiefly in wheat and other food grains, owing to the absence of special famine conditions; counterbalanced to some extent by an increase in 3rd class passenger traffic attributable to the improved condition of the people. Compared with Budget there were increases under both Coaching and Goods traffic, the result of an overestimate of the probable falling off in traffic, due to the absence of the special famine conditions that prevailed in the previous year.

197. Compared with the actuals of the previous year, there was a falling off in receipts of 6,63, due to a general decline in both passenger and goods ordinary traffic, and to the absence of the special troop traffic of the previous year. The same causes account for the decrease of 5,87 compared with the Budget.

198. Compared with the actuals of the previous year the receipts were better by 13,47. Favourable seasons, absence of famine, and the removal of plague-precautionary measures, secured a large Coaching traffic, while the export of grain to Colombo and large imports of Burma rice into districts affected by drought, account for the improvement in Goods traffic. The increases compared with the Budget are attributable to the same causes.

199. The receipts for the year 1901-2 are the highest on record having exceeded those of the previous year by 8,99. Under Coaching there was an increase of 2,22 mainly in the receipts from 3rd class-passenger traffic, the result of the increasing prosperity of the country, while Goods traffic, was better by 4,96 owing to favorable crops and the steady demand for Burma paddy in Indian and other markets. The increase compared with the Budget was due generally to the same causes.

200. The actuals of the previous year represent the receipts for nine months only, the Great Indian Peninsula Railway having become a State line from 1st July 1900, while those of the year under review are for the full twelve months of the year. Compared with the Budget the receipts show an increase of 66,63. The increase is partly accounted for by general development of passenger traffic, but is mainly due to the large improvement in goods traffic that followed on the excellent cotton and oil-seed crops.

201. Compared with the actuals of the previous year there was a net decrease of 5,77 made up of total decreases of 18,65 and increases of 12,88. The principal decreases were 14,05, shown against the East Coast Railway, due to the transfer of the Northern Section of the line to the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, and 3,87 against Dhond and Manmad and Wardha Coal Railways, owing to the inclusion of the figures for 1901-1902 with those of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway. The main increases were:—Jodhpore-Hyderabad 1,91, due to increased mileage on amalgamation with the Shadipali-Balotra section; Bezvada Extension 2,64, the earnings of which for the previous year were included with East Coast Railway; Assam-Bengal 2,71, due to the opening of the Lumding-Nazira portion of the line and the importation of Burma rice; Lucknow-Bareilly 1,12, due to general development of traffic; and Hardwar-Dehra 1,79, owing to the line having been open for the full twelve months of the year as against only three months in 1900-1. The actuals exceeded the Budget by 16,28. There were increases aggregating 17,36, of which the principal were 10,90 on the East Coast Railway, due to greater development of goods traffic than expected, 93 on the Bengal Central Railway, due to improvement in coaching traffic, and 92 and 1,87, respectively, on the Assam-Bengal and Lucknow-Bareilly Railways, due generally to the same causes as account for the increases compared with the actuals of the previous year; the decreases amounting to 1,08 do not call for remark.

Gross Receipts.

204. The receipts of the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway were less than those of the previous year by 18,44, due partly to a falling off in goods traffic, which was abnormal in previous years owing to the heavy imports of food grains into the famine districts of Gujarat and Rajputana, but chiefly to fluctuations in suspense resulting in increased payments to foreign lines on account of through traffic and miscellaneous receipts. On the Madras Railway the decrease of 5,20 was due mainly to fluctuations in suspense. The same causes generally account for the decreases compared with the Budget, while the decrease of 2,93 on the Madras Railway Extensions is due to the mileage opened for traffic during the year being less than was anticipated.

Working Expenses

205. The working expenses of the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway were less than those of the previous year by 11,61, due partly to the favorable effect of the adoption of the "joint-purse" arrangement under the new contract for working the State lines, and partly to special credits for outlay on the Narbada Bridge Protective works transferred to Capital. Reduced consumption of coal and smaller charges for repairs and renewals of vehicles, owing to the reduced train mileage run, also contributed to the decrease. The decrease of 8,03 compared with the Budget is attributable to the same causes. On the Madras Railway the differences compared with the actuals of the previous year and the Budget were small.

211. Compared with the actuals of the previous year the increase of 21,95 under Maintenance was due to heavy charges for maintenance and renewal of permanent-way, the relaying operations in the previous year having been hampered by an extra train service; the increase of 2,97 under Traffic is attributable to increased expenditure on the opening of additional stations, and to the heavy traffic handled, and the decrease of 8,37 under General, Miscellaneous and Suspense to small payments to foreign railways for hire of vehicles, and to a special credit for survey outlay transferred to the head 41—Miscellaneous Railway Expenditure. The same causes generally account for the variations from the Budget.

212. Compared with the actuals of the previous year there was an increase in working expenses of 5,76, due mainly to the provision of 7 new locomotive engines as renewals, to heavy renewals of boilers and to large consumption of coal per engine mile. The entertainment of additional Traffic staff and the large payments to foreign railways for hire of rolling-stock contributed to the increase. The increase of 7,19, compared with the Budget is attributable to the same causes.

The increases of 86 under Traffic and 67 under General, Miscellaneous and Suspense, were due to the higher proportion of joint charges which followed on increased earnings. Compared with the Budget the increase in working expenses of 12,68 resulted from the increase in earnings under the "joint-purse" arrangement.

The working expenses exceeded those of the previous year by 7,08, due mainly to the renewal of girders on the Ramganga Bridge, to special renewals of coaching and goods vehicles, and to increased expenditure on establishment, consequent on the heavy traffic worked. There was also an increase in payments to the East Indian Railway for running powers over the Ghaziabad-Delhi Section, and for hire of rolling-stock. Compared with the Budget the increase of 4,84, was due mainly to larger expenditure on maintenance and renewals of Locomotives than anticipated.

217. Compared with the actuals of the previous year and with the Budget Estimate, there were increases under nearly all heads of working expenses, due generally to increased open mileage and to the large volume of traffic worked. The decrease under Share of net earnings, etc., compared with the actuals of 1900-1, is due to the previous year's figures having included arrears to the extent of 3 96 and a special adjustment of 3,50 in respect of the 1894 lines.

219. The decreases in working expenses compared with the actuals of the previous year, and the Budget, were due to the extensive use of wood fuel in place of coal, to small train mileage run, and to small payments of compensation for dearness of grain. The reduction under Share of net earnings, etc., was a result of the general decline in earnings that followed on the cessation of the special famine traffic.

220. Compared with the actuals of the previous year, there was an increase in working expenses of 5,34, due chiefly to special expenditure on renewals of permanent-way, repairs to bridges and stations and the replacement of 5 condemned locomotives. Increased consumption of coal and heavy repairs of goods vehicles, following on the heavy traffic worked, contributed to the increase. The actual working expenses compared favourably with the Budget, the increase under Share of Surplus Profits, etc., being due to the increased net earnings of the line.

221. The working expenses proper exceeded those of the previous year by 6,28, due to the entertainment of extra establishments, to large consumption of coal in place of wood fuel, and to increased expenditure on repairs and renewals of engines and vehicles, consequent on the heavy traffic worked. The adjustment of outstanding freight charges on fuel and other stores, contributed to the increase. The excess over the Budget is attributable, generally, to the same causes.

The actuals of the previous year represented the working expenses for nine months only, the Great Indian Peninsula Railway having become a State line from 1st July 1900, while those of the year under review are for the full 12 months of the year. Compared with the Budget the working expenses show an increase of 31,53, due to excess expenditure under all sub-heads of the Revenue account excepting Maintenance. This result is attributable generally to the traffic worked having been larger by 66,63 than allowed for in the Budget. Owing to the improved net receipts, surplus profits were earned, the Company's share of which amounted to 2,72.

223. Compared with the actuals of the previous year, there was a net decrease under working expenses of 1,92, made up of decreases amounting to 10,30, and increases aggregating 8,38. The principal decreases were 8,83 on the East Coast Railway, due to the transfer of the Northern Section of the line to the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, and 95 against Wardha Coal Railway, owing to the inclusion of the figures for 1901-2 with those of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway. The main increases were Jodhpore-Hyderabad 1,08, Assam-Bengal 2,71 and Hardwar-Dehra 90, due to the increased earnings of these lines, and Bezwada Extension 1,20, owing to the previous year's figures having been included with those of the East Coast Railway. Compared with the Budget there was an increase of 11,73, of which 7,13 falls to the East Coast Railway, 1,16 to the Mysore Railway, and 1,96 to the Assam-Bengal Railway due to increased earnings and short provision under certain abstracts of the Revenue account.

Surplus Profits.

232. The decrease, as compared with the actuals of the previous year, was merely nominal, as the figures for 1900-1 included the Company's share of Surplus Profits of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, which has since become a State line. The increase of 12,00 on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway, was due to payments for three half years having been made during the year under review, as against a payment for only one half year in 1900-1. The excess of 4,16, compared with the Budget was due to the payment of the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company's share of surplus profits for the second half of 1900, having been made during the year under review instead of in the previous year.

Land and Supervision.

233. The decrease of 84, compared with the previous year's actuals, was due mainly to large recoveries rom Companies' lines for Government supervision and control, owing to increased open mileage, and the decrease of 1,55, compared with the Budget, to small payments for land for the Bombay, Baroda and Central India and Madras Railways, owing to delay in the acquisition proceedings; to changes in the personnel of the Consulting Engineer's Office, Bombay; and to the abolition of the Office of the Government Examiner, Indian Midland Railway. Of the excess on the total 16 requires to be sanctioned, the balance having already been sanctioned.

40.—Subsidized Companies—Land, Subsidy, and Interest—concluded.

235. Compared with the actuals of the previous year, there was a net decrease of 59, the result of decreases amounting to 1,85, and increases aggregating 1,26. The principal decreases were 68 and 23 on the Sabarmati-Dholka and Bengal Dooars Railways, respectively, owing to the acquisition of land for these railways having been practically completed, and 57 on the Nilgiri Railway, owing to no subsidy having been earned by the Company during the year. The only important increase was that of 97 in connection with the acquisition of land for the Laksam-Noakhali Railway, the construction of which was started during the year. Compared with the Budget, the lapse was due chiefly to the amounts set down for the Bara-Ajmer-Marwar, Burdwan-Cutwa, Hooghly-Cutwa, and Ranaghat-Raiganj Railways not having been utilised, and to smaller acquisition of land for the Kalka-Simla, Brahmaputra-Sultanpur and Bengal and North-Western Railways than was provided for

No useful comparison can be made between the outlay of the two years by individual projects, as surveys are being completed, and new surveys are being started every year. The excess of 2,73 under Imperial has been sanctioned by the Government of India and that of 80 in Burma under Provincial by the Local Government.

239. The actual receipts in 1901-2 were less than those of the previous year by R2,75 or £18,3. The only large difference occurred under the figures for the United Provinces, and was due to seasonable rainfall having considerably reduced the area irrigated by the canals. The excess of R7,66 or £51,1 over the Budget Estimate was the aggregate of slight differences in most provinces.

Direct Receipts—Imperial Works

240 The gross revenue in 1901-2 fell short of that of the previous year by 5,72 The decrease in the United Provinces, was due to seasonable rainfall having considerably reduced the area irrigated by the canals. The increase in the receipts in Bombay, as compared with those of the previous year and the Budget, is ascribed to an increase in the area of high-rated crops, and to increased demands for canal water. The actuals on the whole exceeded the Budget by 1,06 only.

Direct Receipts—Provincial Works.

241. The falling off of 8,05, as compared with the actuals of the previous year, occurred chiefly in the United Provinces and was due to the cause explained in the foregoing paragraph. In the Budget the revenue from the canals in Bengal was under-estimated, while that from the canals in the United Provinces was over-estimated.

242 The actuals for 1901-2 were better than those of the previous year by 9 65 and the Budget by 8,68 The increase was mainly due to the extension of irrigation from the Chenab canal in the Punjab, and to the seasons being favourable for canal irrigation in Madras.

Section J.—IRRIGATION—RECEIPTS—concluded.

Imperial Works.

243. The actual receipts in 1901-2 were more than those of the previous year by 3,58. The increase was principally in the Punjab, and was due partly to the introduction of water-rates on the Chenab Inundation canals, formerly worked by Cher labour, and partly to exceptionally good irrigation on the Upper Sutlej Inundation canals during the rabi season of 1900-1. The revenue from the canals transferred to the North-West Frontier Province was this year included as Imperial instead of Provincial as formerly. The increase over the Budget was due to the latter two causes.

Provincial and Local Works.

244. The actual receipts in 1901-2 fell short of those of the previous year by 2,21, and the Budget by 1,97. The decrease occurred chiefly in Burma, Bengal and the United Provinces. The decrease in Burma and Bengal was due to a falling off in the navigation receipts, and that, in the United Provinces, to the irrigation of a small area owing to seasonable rainfall.

245. The increase of R6,54 or £43,6 in the expenditure in India during 1901-2 over that of the previous year, was due to the maintenance and repairs of greater lengths of canals opened for irrigation, to increased interest charges on the additional capital outlay, and to a large expenditure on minor works. The short outlay of R6,18 (£41,2), as compared with the Budget was due to the requirements of certain minor works in Burma having been over-estimated.

Imperial Works.

246. The expenditure in 1901-2 exceeded that of the previous year by 2,35 The increase was due chiefly to the maintenance and repairs of greater lengths of canals opened for irrigation in the Punjab and Bombay. The actuals also exceeded the Budget by 3,37, the excess being due to heavier maintenance outlay than anticipated in the United Provinces, the Punjab and Bombay. The excess was covered to a large extent by additional grants aggregating 3,11, sanctioned by the Government of India. The balance 26 requires to be sanctioned.

Provincial Works.

247. Large credits for establishment on the cost of the work done by the Irrigation Branch, for the Buildings and Roads Branch in Bengal, account for the year's outlay being less than that in the previous year. In the United Provinces certain estimates, for which provision was made, were not sanctioned, causing the short outlay of 89, as compared with the Budget.

Imperial Works.

249. The expenditure in 1901-2 was less than that of the previous year by 1,74. The decrease was due to the adjustment, during 1901-2 of the normal cost of famine relief works, not being so large as in the previous year, and to fewer requirements in Sind. The Budget for 1901-2 was prepared for 35,61; but on a consideration of actual requirements this was reduced to 34,32 when the Revised Estimate was prepared. The actuals exceeded this by 80, due to the transfer to this head of the normal outlay on famine relief works at the close of the year.

Provincial and Local Works.

250. The increase of 2,93 in the expenditure during 1901-2, as compared with the previous year, was due chiefly to a larger programme of works in Burma and Madras. The short outlay, as compared with the Budget was due to the requirements for works in Burma and Bengal having been over-estimated. The excesses in the United Provinces, Madras and Bombay have been sanctioned.

251. The receipts in India during 1901-2 were better than those of the previous year by R2,88 or £19,2 and the Budget by R5,42 or £36,2. This increase was mainly due to a recovery from the Military Department of the value (R1,38) of certain stores, the cost of which had originally been debited to the head 47—Special Defences. But as that head had been closed, the recovery was credited to XXXI—Military Works.

A.—Public Works in charge of Departmental Officers. B.—Public Works in charge of Civil Officers.

Imperial Works.

253. The increase of 49, in the revenue realized by civil officers, over that of the previous year and the Budget represents the receipts in the North-West Frontier Province, which were formerly treated as part of the Provincial revenues of the Punjab.

Provincial Works.

254. The increase in the revenue realized by departmental officers, over that of the previous year was the net result of several small increases and decreases, due to various causes. The increase of 1,16 over the Budget was contributed chiefly by Burma, Bengal and the United Provinces. The increase in Burma was due to an improvement in the rents of buildings, and to a recovery of 20 from the Mandalay Municipality, as second instalment on account of the original cost of the town embankment. In Bengal the increase was mainly due to large profits from the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway. The increase in the United Provinces was under rents of buildings and arboriculture receipts.

255. The revenue realized by civil officers was less than that of the previous year by 71, and the Budget by 65. The decrease was chiefly due to the receipts in the North-West Frontier Province, having been treated as Imperial from the date of the constitution of that Province.

Local Works.

256. The revenue realized by civil officers in 1901-2 exceeded that of the previous year by 87. The more important increases occurred in Madras and Bombay, the increase in the former being under miscellaneous and in the latter under road tolls. The Budget Estimate of revenue during 1901-2 was placed at 32,73; but this did not take into account the transfer to this head in Madras of the sale proceeds of avenue clippings; in most provinces too the receipts from ferry and road tolls were higher than anticipated. For these reasons the Revised Estimate was raised to 35,06, against which the actuals have amounted to 35,25.

257. The expenditure in India during 1901-2 exceeded that of the previous year by R73,61 or £490,7. The increase was due to a larger programme of works in 1901-2 than in the previous year. The decrease of R41,41 or £276,1, as compared with the Budget was due to the progress of works not being so rapid as was anticipated, and the transfer of the Government share of the Mayavaram-Mutupet Railway to the head "Capital of Local Boards."

258. The actual expenditure in India during 1901-2 exceeded that of the previous year by 28,25, and the Budget by 7,79. The increase was mainly due to a number of large new works being under construction. The total expenditure of the year—both Indian and English—exceeded the Budget Estimate by 10,46. The excess in India (7,79) was covered by additional grants sanctioned by the Government of India during the course of the year.

Imperial Works.

259. Departmental Officers.—The expenditure in 1901-2 was more than that of the previous year by R26,68. The increase was due chiefly to the construction of new public offices at Calcutta, Simla and Peshawar, and partly to the expenditure on works transferred to the North-West Frontier Province having been treated as Imperial from the date of transfer, instead of Provincial as heretofore. The Budget Estimate of expenditure for 1901-2 was prepared for R66,09; but owing to the slow progress of works, it was reduced to R63,86 in the Revised Estimate, which included R7,44 on account of works transferred to the North-West Frontier Province, against which the actuals have amounted to R64,83.

260. Civil Officers.—The increase in the expenditure during 1901-2, over that of the previous year and the Budget, was due to the construction of certain works for which an additional grant was sanctioned during the course of the year, and to the transfer of the expenditure in the North-West Frontier Province from Provincial to Imperial.

Provincial Works.

261. Departmental Officers.—The expenditure in 1901-2 exceeded that of the previous year by R23,73, and the increase was due to greater activity in the way of public works being possible through the improvement in the provincial finances. In Burma the expenditure in 1900-1 was high owing to large payments for land for the Chief Court, Lower Burma, and the Provincial Museum at Rangoon. The decrease in the expenditure in Assam was due to the approaching completion of works for the restoration of the damages caused by the earthquake of 12th June 1897. The Budget Estimate for 1901-2 was framed for R3,17,08, but, owing to the slow progress of works and the transfer of the expenditure in the North-West Frontier Province, it was reduced to R2,86,59 in the Revised Estimate, against which the actuals have amounted to R2,91,71. The excess in the Central Provinces was sanctioned by the Local Government.

262. Civil Officers.—The increase in the expenditure during 1901-2 over that of the previous year was due to a larger programme of works in 1901-2 than in the previous year. The short outlay, as compared with the Budget, occurred mainly in Bengal and the Punjab, and as regards Bengal, was due to the reduction in the amount of contributions to Excluded Local Funds and Municipalities, and to an over-estimate of expenditure on certain works, and as regards the Punjab, chiefly to the work in connection with the drainage and water supply schemes in the Chenab colony, not having been executed during the year.

Section K.—OTHER PUBLIC WORKS—EXPENDITURE—concluded.

Local Works.

263. Departmental Officers.—The expenditure during 1901-2 fell short of that in 1900-1 by R1,41. The decrease was mainly made up of short outlay in Burma, Assam and the Punjâb. The short outlay, as compared with the Budget was due chiefly to the requirements for several works having been over-estimated.

264. Civil Officers.—The expenditure in 1901-2 amounted to R1,23,05 against R1,18,65 in 1900-1. This was due to the improved financial position permitting of a larger public works programme. The Budget was fixed at R1,32,55. On a consideration of the progress of expenditure, this in the Revised Estimate, was reduced to R1,16,17, but the actuals exceeded this by R6,88. The increase occurred almost entirely in Bengal, where the actuals shown at the time the Revised Estimate was framed pointed to a lower figure.

266. The credit under Imperial against the Mayavaram-Mutupet Railway represents the transfer to the head Capital of Local Boards of the amount of the Government share in the railway, which it has been decided should be treated as a loan to the Tanjore District Board bearing interest at 4% per annum. The lapse on the Jorhat Railway compared with the Budget was due to stores expected from England not having arrived during the year, and to the non-utilization of the provision made in the Budget for Rolling Stock. The lapse on the Mayavaram-Mutupet Railway under Local, is attributed to the progress of work on major bridges, on the extension, having been hampered by continuous floods, and to failure on the part of contractors to supply sleepers.

268. The receipts in India exceeded the Budget Estimate by R26,67 or £177,8, but fell short of the actuals of the preceding year by R12,53 or £83,5. Compared with the Budget, the improvement was chiefly due, to His Majesty's Imperial Government having been debited with the value of horses sent to South Africa with the 3rd and 20th Hussars, and of Europe stores issued from stock to South Africa and China and to the newly-raised regiments of Native Infantry; to large sales of malt liquor; to increased issues of ordnance stores to the Police and Jail Departments; and to large contributions towards Indian Military Service Family Pensions. The improvement would have been greater but for the decrease in the sales of commissariat provisions, stores and rum, owing partly to the absence of troops in South Africa. Compared with the actuals of the past year, the decrease was due chiefly to large credits taken in the preceding year for the value of horses and transport animals sent to South Africa and China.

269. The receipts in England exceeded the Budget Estimate by £10,0 owing chiefly to a credit for receipts on account of the Indian Troops Service, and to the enhancement of the rate of subscriptions towards Indian Military Service Family Pensions.

270. The following statement shows separately the ordinary and special charges included under expenditure in India :—

271. The total Budget provision and actual expenditure for Special Charges are shown in detail below :—

Occupation of Chitral and its Communications	14,51	11,86

Kohat-Kurrum Force	3,50	1,86
North-West Frontier Field Operations	...	14
	30,25	46,46

272. The large excess under Special Charges was mainly due to more charges on account of Blockade of the Mahsud Waziris, owing chiefly to the prolongation of operations and the subsequent increase of the force forming the blockade, and to the inclusion under this head of the charges on account of the Wano, Kajuri Kach and Jandola Garrisons. There was also an increase under Tochi Garrison, due chiefly to more charges for batta than was anticipated, while the charge under North-West Frontier Field Operations represents certain arrear charges for which there was no provision. These excesses were partly counterbalanced by reduced charges under Occupation of Chitral and its Communications, Gilgit Agency and Kohat-Kurrum Force. The decrease under the first was due to a reduction in the strength of the Khar moveable column, and to lower rates of food supplies ; that under the second, to the withdrawal of the Political Agent's escort, and to reduction of establishments ; and that under the last, to the withdrawal of certain concessions.

273. The details of the reduction of 95,11 in the ordinary expenditure, as compared with the Budget, are shown by the following figures :—

		R
(1) Absence of troops in South Africa, China and Jubaland, which caused large savings in pay and subsistence charges, the entire cost of the Forces having been borne by His Majesty's Imperial Government. These savings were augmented by the difference between the credits taken for issue of local stores, and the cost of replacement thereof to the extent required; while the saving on account of South Africa has been reduced by the cost of the replacement of 130 of the horses sent to that country with 3rd and 20th Hussars in December 1901; and that for China by the value of local stores returned from that country		1,16,76
(2) Deputation of officers and others to the Civil Department on plague duty		1,08

(13) Larger issues of Medical and Ordnance stores to the Civil Department	2,50
		1,79,59

275. The more important excesses were :—

(1) Grant of special bounties and gratuities to British soldiers for extension of their service in India	58,25
(2) Larger purchases of malt liquor	4,00
(3) Larger consignments of commissariat and ordnance stores by rail and water	7,00

(9) Purchase of land for extension of the Quetta Cantonment	3,50
(10) Extra expenditure in connection with the Military Accounts Committee	53
(11) Extra expenditure in connection with the Khusalgarh-Kohat-Thal Railway	1,20
(12) More non-effective charges	1,34
		84,95

276. The grant heads, under which the expenditure exceeded the Budget, were :—

Remount and Veterinary Establishments, Supplies and Services	94
Ecclesiastical	57
Sea Transport charges	5,33
Miscellaneous Services	23,69
Military Pensions to Europeans	89
Military Pensions to Natives	61
Family Pensions and Compassionate allowances to Europeans	9
Departmental Pensions and Gratuities	4

277. The excess under Ecclesiastical has already been sanctioned. The other excesses still require the sanction of the Government of India.

278. As compared with the preceding year, there were excesses of 7,47 and 1,03,13, respectively, under Special Charges and Other Charges. Under the former the increase was due principally to the high charges on account of the Blockade of the Mahsud Waziris (19,83) partly counterbalanced by reduced charges under Occupation of Chitral and its Communications (3,46) Wano Garrison (1,52) Tochi Garrison (2,54) Gilgit Agency (1,32) and Kohat-Kurrum Force (2,03). Under the latter there was an excess of 67,36 under Regimental Pay, due mainly to the grant of special bounties and gratuities to British soldiers for extension of service in India, and to the formation of native infantry regiments to replace those serving in the colonies; of 26,45 under Supply and Transport, due to the re-organization and improvement of the Commissariat-Transport service, to large purchases of malt liquor, to increased movements of European troops by train, owing to the suspension of home reliefs, to large consignments of commissariat and ordnance stores by water and train, to smaller credits, than in the previous year, for value of local stores sent to South Africa and China, and to a charge for the value of stores returned from China, partly reduced by a fall in the prices of food for men and animals; and of 25,54 under Ordnance, due chiefly to smaller issues of local stores to South Africa and China, and to charges for stores returned from China and taken over by the Government of India. There was on the other hand a decrease of 20,86 under Remount and Veterinary, due mainly to the large purchase of horses in 1900-1 for remounting British Cavalry Regiments and batteries of artillery on their return from service in South Africa.

Section L.—ARMY SERVICES—concluded.

179. The expenditure in England showed a saving of £845,4, chiefly under Effective Charges. The saving was mainly due to small payments to the War Office in respect of British troops serving in India, owing to the absence of troops in South Africa, to the refund by the War Office of over-payments of the two previous years, and on account of a moiety of the special bounties granted to British soldiers for extension of service in India, and to the dislocation of arrangements regarding Indian reliefs in consequence of the despatch of troops to South Africa.

280. The total receipts in India during the year were more than the Budget Estimate by 26,68. Of this a large portion was purely fortuitous, representing merely the value of Europe stores issued from stock, and of horses sent to South Africa and China and debited to His Majesty's Imperial Government. The improvement was spread over almost all the heads, and the principal variations are noted below.

281. Under Supply and Transport there was a decrease of 4,77, due chiefly to the absence of troops in South Africa and China, of 1,52 in sales of provisions, stores and rum; and of 14 due to credit afforded to the Imperial Government on account of the value of mules returned from China. On the other hand, there was an increase of 2,38 by large sales of malt liquor, of 1,33 by debit to the Imperial Government on account of the value of stores sent to South Africa and China, and for departmental charges on the value of stores and transport animals sent to those countries, and of 78, by the sale of a large number of cast transport animals. The large increase under Remount (10,84) was chiefly due to a credit for the value of horses sent to South Africa, and for departmental charges on the value of other horses sent to South Africa and China. Under Clothing and Medical there were increases of 2,71 and 70, respectively, arising chiefly from credits for the value of Europe stores issued for South Africa and China, and in the latter also to larger recoveries than were anticipated from famine, plague and Cantonment Hospitals. Under Ordnance there was a credit of 4,60 for the value of Europe stores despatched to South Africa and China, and of those issued to the regiments of native infantry recently raised in replacement of those serving in the colonies, and of 2,78 due to larger issues to the Police and Jail Departments. There were also increases of 1,49, due chiefly to extensive sales of Ordnance stores from Arsenals and Factories, and of 1,04, due to issues of arms and ammunition to the Hyderabad Contingent and re-armament of the 4th Lancers with the new pattern carbines. Large recoveries of table money account for the increase of 21 under Sea Transport Charges. Under Miscellaneous there was an increase of 1,36 in the recoveries on account of the blockade of Mahsud Waziris, partly counterbalanced by short receipts (22) on account of Kohat-Kurrum Force. There was also an increase of 11 in fines and forfeitures from contractors, and of 46 on account of a credit afforded by the Public Works Department (Railway Branch) for working pay of soldiers serving in Khusalgarh-Kohat-Thal Railway. Under Family Pensions and Compassionate Allowances to Europeans the increase of 2,02 was chiefly due to enhanced rates of subscription to the Indian Military Service. Family Pensions from 1st July 1901.

282. The receipts in England were also more than the Budget by £10,0. Under Effective Services the account includes £10,9 in respect of the Indian Troop Service, which in the Budget was deducted from payments. On the other hand there was a decrease of £3,7 in the value of articles in possession of regiments on their transfer from the Indian to the British Establishment. The increase of £ 2,7 under Non-effective Services was due to the rates of subscriptions and donations towards Indian Military Service Family Pensions having been increased by 20 per cent, with effect from 1st July 1901.

283. The saving of 89 under this head, as compared with the Budget, occurred chiefly under salaries (1,63) and was mainly due to the absence of officers and establishments on furlough and on field service in South Africa and China, to vacancies and to increased emoluments provided for Lieutenant-Generals not having been sanctioned; and in tour expenses (32) of the Commander-in-Chief and of the Lieutenant-Generals Commanding the Forces. These savings were partly counterbalanced by variations under Exchange Compensation Allowance (6), and by excess expenditure under Musketry Inspection (14) chiefly on account of musketry instruction classes and travelling; under Quarter Master General (16) and under District Commands staff (24) in travelling and contingent charges, and 68 under Mounted Infantry Schools, provision for which had been made in the grant for Miscellaneous Services. The saving of 9 under Special Services occurred in the charges on account of occupation of Chitral and its communications, and the Wano and Tochi Garrisons. The excess over the previous year was mainly due to the absence of charges on account of Mounted Infantry School in 1900-1.

284. The principal decreases under this head were 10 under Central Branch, 16 under Accounts Branch, 9 under Supply and Transport Branch and 46 under Inspections, etc., and were chiefly due to too small a deduction for probable savings, to the absence of certain clerical establishment on service in China, and, in the last case, to fewer Officers having been employed on Inspection and Special duties.

285. The large decrease under this grant, as compared with the Budget, was chiefly due to the absence of troops in South Africa, China and Jubaland, to the deputation of Officers to the Civil Department for plague duty, to savings in the provision for an additional Company of Royal Garrison Artillery, for augmenting the Sub-marine Mining Establishments, for the addition of British Officers to the Native Infantry, and for additional officers of the staff corps, to the lapse of the provision for recurring expenditure for howitzer batteries, which did not arrive in India during the year, and to less charges for reservists, owing to short strength, and to men not having been called out for training in consequence of plague, and to low charges for special services on account of the occupation of Chitral and its communications, due to the reduction of the strength of the Khar moveable column, partly counterbalanced by the grant of special bounties and gratuities to British soldiers for extension of their services in India, and by large special grants for lines to Native Troops. As compared with the actuals of the previous year, the increase was chiefly due to the grant of special bounties and gratuities to British soldiers for extension of their services in India, to new regiments having been raised in India, to replace those serving in the Colonies, to accelerated promotion of staff corps officers, to expenditure on account of additional officers sanctioned for native infantry regiments, and to special grants having been sanctioned for lines of native troops at Mooltan and Nowshera.

286. The details of the principal sub-heads of the European Army are given below :—

3,83	Other Charges	5,16	65,17	62,42
3,29,49	TOTAL	3,89,79	3,90,77	3,85,88

287. Under Artillery the decrease was due partly to less charges for salaries of officers and pay of warrant and non-commissioned officers, rank and file, owing to the absence of certain batteries in South Africa and China, and partly to the provision for an additional company of Royal Garrison Artillery not having been used in full, and to the lapse of the grant for howitzer batteries, owing to their not having arrived in India during the year. The whole of the savings under Cavalry and 31,46 under Infantry were due to the absence of troops in South Africa on service. The latter was partly counterbalanced by the detention of time-expired men in India owing to the South African War. The partial lapse of the provisions on account of additional Staff Corps officers was mainly responsible for the saving under Staff Corps while under Colonel's Allowances there were fewer recipients. Under Other Charges the large increase was chiefly due to the grant of special bounties and gratuities to British soldiers for extension of their service in India, (a moiety of which has been recovered at home from the War Office) partly counterbalanced by the partial lapse of the provision for the augmentation of the Sub-marine mining establishments.

288. The details of the principal sub-heads under the Native Army are as follows :—

Regimental Pay—concluded.

289. Under Native Army the saving under Cavalry (8,13), Sappers and Miners (1,49) and Infantry (34,76) occurred chiefly in the salaries and allowances of officers and establishments due to the absence of troops on duty in China, South Africa and Jubaland and to the deputation of officers to the Civil Department on plague duty. The decrease under Infantry was augmented by the partial lapse of the provision for an additional officer per regiment. The smaller savings under Artillery (8), Annual grant-in-aid of half mounting (46) and Kit-money for Recruits (47) are also attributable to the same cause. The saving of 1,18 under Reserve Forces, was chiefly due to the lapse of the provision for certain proposals connected with the reserve of officers for the Indian Army, to short strength of reservists, and to the grant to reservists, not called out for training owing to plague, of reserve pay instead of full pay admissible for the month of training. The most noticeable increase occurred under Hutting money (79), and was chiefly due to a special grant for lines at Mooltan and Nowshera. The excess of 10 under Other Charges was due to larger payments of batta than were anticipated (18), and to heavy telegram charges (25), partly counterbalanced by the partial lapse of the provision for an improved system of recruiting in the Madras Command, owing to the scheme having been sanctioned with effect from 1st August.

Supply and Transport Charges.

3,90,49	TOTAL	4,29,32	3,90,76	4,09,65

290. The decrease occurred chiefly under Establishment, Supplies and Special Services, and was mainly due to the absence of troops, and of certain Commissariat officers and establishments on service in South Africa and China, to the absence of troops in Jubaland on service, to the partial lapse of the provisions for additional officers for the Commissariat-Transport Department, and for the re-organization of Commissariat-Transport service, to the transfer of charges for railway works and water-supply for mobilization rest-camps to the Military Works Department; to a fall in rates of food supplies for men and animals in the Bengal, Punjab and Madras Commands; to small payments of compensation for forage, owing to supplies having been made from grass farms; to tinned meat having been obtained by indent from England; to low expenditure for renewing stores in forts and fortresses; to charges on account of feed of horses purchased in replacement of those sent to South Africa, and maintained at the temporary remount depôts at Umballa and Bangalore, having been compiled under the head Veterinary Establishments; to small purchases of transport animals; to credits for value of local stores issued from stock to South Africa, China and Jubaland and British Central Africa Protectorate; and to a decrease in the charges on account of Special Services owing to the reduction in the strength of the Khar moveable column, low rates for food supplies and to charges on account of the Wano, Kajuri Kach and Jandola Garrisons having been compiled against the head Blockade of the Mahsud Waziris under Miscellaneous Services. These savings were partly counterbalanced by increase of expenditure under Services and Transport Branch due to high prices of grain and fodder in the Bombay Command; large consumption of malt liquor; heavy consignments of stores by rail and water; feed of horses of the mounted infantry schools for which provision was made under the head Miscellaneous; extra expenditure connected with the Mekran Escort and Ad-dareja Field force; to manufacture of Army Transport carts; replacement of stores sent to South Africa and China; and to debits for the value of stores returned from China.

291. The details of the expenditure under Establishment are given below:—

292. The large reduction under Executive Establishment was chiefly due to the partial lapse of the provision of 15,75 for the reorganisation and improvement of the Commissariat-Transport Service (12,07), and partly also to the savings in salaries, etc., (52) owing to the absence of officers and establishments in South Africa, China and Jubaland, and to savings (60) in the provision for additional officers for the Commissariat-Transport Department. Under Subordinate Establishment the saving was due chiefly to the transfer to the Military Works Department of the provision for railway works and water-supply for the mobilization rest-camps (2,83), partly counterbalanced by a charge for metal tanks and buckets for water-supply to British troops provided for under Barrack Establishments, etc. Short strength of bearers, and the absence of bearers on service in South Africa resulted in a saving of 29 under Ambulance Transport, while the increase of 22 under Other Heads mainly represents short recoveries by the Agent for Government Consignments for stores landed for other departments.

293. Under Supplies the details are as follows:—

1900-01. Accounts.		1901-02 Budget	1901-02 Revised.	1901-02 Accounts.
87,12	Provisions for Europeans	99,98	85,73	87,27

1,66,62	NET TOTAL	1,85,86	1,62,79	1,74,70

294. Under Provisions for Europeans, charges for messing allowance and for supply of bread, meat and other ration articles, and miscellaneous expenses were less than the Budget Estimate by 11,73, owing chiefly to the absence of British troops in South Africa and China. A fall in the prices of food supplies in all the Commands except Bombay resulted in a further reduction of 98. The excess of 78 under Provisions for Natives was due to increased charges for provisions owing to unfavourable rates; to charges for conveyance of large quantities of wheat and other ration articles to Keng Tung; and to money allowance in lieu of free rations to native troops and followers in the Quetta District, Aden and Persian Gulf. Under Compensation to Natives for dearness of provisions, there was an excess of 5,14 due chiefly to high prices of food supplies, partly counterbalanced by the absence of troops in South Africa, China, and Jubaland (2,56), while the saving of 1,53 under Dearness of Forage was due to grass having been supplied from grass farms, and to the absence in China of certain cavalry regiments. The saving of 1,21 under Purchase of Reserve Stock was due to tinned meat having been obtained by indent from England, and to less expenditure than was expected for renewing stores in forts and fortresses. Under Malt Liquor purchased locally there was a saving of 4,79 due to the absence of troops in South Africa which was, however, reduced by larger purchases than were anticipated. Under Dairy Farms the excess of 17 was chiefly due to extra expenditure sanctioned in connection with certain dairy farms, partly counterbalanced by the partial lapse of the provision made for the Quetta Farm. The debit under Value of Supplies to other Departments represents the difference between the credit for value of local stores issued from stock to South Africa, China, Jubaland and to the Civil Department, and the debit on account of the value of articles returned from China, and for which credit was afforded to His Majesty's Imperial Government.

295. Under Services the following details are supplied:—

Supply and Transport Charges—concluded.

296. The increase of expenditure under Hire of Transport was chiefly due to small utilization of Government transport, and more charges for conveyance of European and Native troops in connection with the Ad-dareja Field Force and Mekran Escort; those under Sea and Inland Water Charges and Railway Charges, to large consignments of Commissariat and Ordnance stores, partly counterbalanced by low charges for conveyance of European and Native troops, due chiefly to reliefs having been carried out on a smaller scale than was expected and to the absence of troops in South Africa. The decrease under Feed of Horses, etc., was chiefly due to the charges for feed of horses, purchased in replacement of those sent to South Africa and maintained at the temporary remount depôts at Umballa and Bangalore, having been compiled under the head Remount and Veterinary, to low prices for grain and fodder, and to short strength of mules, yaboos and battery bullocks; that under Regimental Equipment, etc., to small condemnations and to the absence of troops in South Africa. The increase under Implements, etc., was due to larger purchases of bags from the Jail Department and of implements than were anticipated, and to large purchases of tarpaulins for stock. Under Other Heads there were heavy charges for the replacement of articles of warm clothing issued from stock to South Africa and China (2,01). The excess was enhanced, by the adjustment under this head, of miscellaneous charges in connection with the horses maintained in the remount depôts for issue to corps on return from South Africa.

297. The details of the charges in the Transport Branch are as follows :—

60	Ambulance Transport	57	54	38
50,32	TOTAL .	49,04	50,16	54,03

298. The increase of expenditure, as compared with the Budget, under Depôt and Regimental was chiefly due to large purchases of articles of food for stock, and of blankets and uniform clothing to replace those sent to South Africa and China; to purchase and repair of gear, carts and equipment due to large condemnations and consequent replacements, to the manufacture of certain Army Transport carts for which there was no provision; to expenditure on account of the Mekran Escort and Ad-dareja Field Force, and to charges incurred in connection with the reorganization of the Commissariat-Transport Service. Low charges for uniform clothing and for purchase and repair of doolies, gear, carts and equipment due to less condemnations, resulted in a saving under Ambulance Transport.

Remount and Veterinary—concluded.

299. Under Depôt Establishments there was a saving of (19) due chiefly to the absence of officers on furlough, and to the maintenance of a small remount and cattle establishment owing to short strength of horses at the depôts (26), counterbalanced by increased charges for travelling (7). Under Veterinary Inspection (7), and Station Veterinary Hospitals (1,06), the savings occurred chiefly in salaries due in the former case to leave, and in the latter chiefly to short strength of officers and to the absence of certain officers in South Africa and China. The charge of 3,61 under Temporary Remount Depôts represents the cost of feed, at the temporary depôts established at Umballa and Bangalore for the accommodation of horses purchased for corps and batteries on service in South Africa, provision for which was made under the head Supply and Transport. The increase of 81 under Purchase of Remounts, was chiefly due to the purchase of ponies for mounted infantry schools, for which a lump sum provision was made in the Budget under Miscellaneous Services, partly counterbalanced by smaller purchases of remounts, young stock and Ordnance mules than was anticipated. The saving of 2,37 under Feed of Cattle and Remounts, was due chiefly to fewer horses having been maintained in the depôts, and to favourable rates paid for grain and fodder.

300. Under Supplies and Services—Factories the excess was due to large local purchases of stores for making up field service clothing in replacement of those despatched to South Africa (3,16) and China (94), partly counterbalanced by certain articles having been obtained from home instead of locally (55); by the non-purchase of certain other articles (52); and by short purchases of putties, helmets and badges (34). The saving of 1,25 under Regimental was the net result of a decrease in the charges for making up clothing at head-quarters of regiments, owing partly to the absence of troops in South Africa (89), and partly to short issues of clothing to drafts and corps (52); and of an increase in the charges for reserve forces (16) due to a large number of men having been transferred to the reserve. The excess of 90 under Compensation in lieu of clothing represents compensation drawn by certain British officers in consequence of a change in their uniform, and extra compensation paid to time-expired men detained in India owing to the South African War. The credit under Value of Stores supplied to other Departments was due to the adjustment of the value of local stores issued from Stock to South Africa and China.

301. Under Barrack Establishments there were savings in all the heads, except Barrack Bedding, due principally to the absence of troops in South Africa and China. The principal decreases occurred under Subordinate Establishments (86) and Miscellaneous (83), the particular heads affected in the former being Conservancy and Punkha-pulling establishments, while in the latter it was due to small purchases of miscellaneous articles consequent on less condemnations; to the transfer of charges for metal tanks and buckets for water supply to British troops to the head Supply and Transport; and to the utilization of Government transport for drawing water for plunge baths. More charges for purchase of barrack bedding to replace those sent to South Africa, and larger purchases of blankets for ordinary requirements than were anticipated, resulted in the excess of 89 under Barrack Bedding. The credit under Value of Supplies to other Departments was due to the adjustment of the value of local stores issued from stock to South Africa and China.

303. The large decrease under Medical Establishment—Districts was due to savings in salaries, owing mainly to short strength of officers on duty, and to the deduction for probable savings having proved insufficient, but partly also to the absence of officers and subordinates on field service in South Africa (95) and China (78), and to the deputation of officers and others to the Civil Department on plague duty (9). The saving under Sanitation of Cantonments, etc., was chiefly due to the lapse of the provision for the sanitary improvement of the Rangoon Cantonment Sudder Bazar (1,04); to grants-in-aid not having been fully drawn (36); and to the appointment of the Sanitary Officer, Madras Command, having been vacant for 10 months of the year (13). These decreases were partly counterbalanced by extra grants for new Cantonment hospitals at certain stations (49) met by, transfer from the Military Works estimates. The saving of 16 under Medical Store Depôts was in salaries, due to the grant of leave (11) and to variations in army rank (5). Under Miscellaneous the saving was chiefly due to the small number of Military pupils under tuition at Medical Colleges, and to low expenditure on book. The absence of troops in South Africa and China, and a decrease in the number of patients in hospitals, reduced the charges for hospital supplies and diet under Medical Supplies. The decrease in the deduction under Issues to other Departments was due to the adjustment by deduction under this head of the value of stores returned from China (1,31), partly counterbalanced by credits for the value of local stores issued from stock to South Africa and China, and by larger issues than anticipated to the Civil Departments. Under Special Services there was a decrease of 20 in the charges on account of Chitral and its communications, owing to a reduction in the strength of the Khar moveable column, and to charges not having been incurred to the extent estimated for.

304. Under Establishments—Arsenals and Depôts the increase over the Budget was due chiefly to the entertainment of extra temporary artificers and others, to more travelling charges than were expected and to heavy charges on account of conveyance of stationery and printed forms by rail. The decrease under Factories was chiefly due to the deputation of certain officers and European employés to England; to savings in the provision for additional establishment at the Proof Department, Balasore; to the employment of fewer extra temporary artificers and others than anticipated, and to the special provision for establishments for the Cordite Factory at Wellington not having been used in full. Under Stores for Arsenals and Depôts, the large decrease was chiefly due to smaller purchases of local stores than were anticipated; to the lapse of the special provisions for bandolier equipment, maxim guns, Grenfell sights, and for stores for howitzer batteries; and to the partial lapse of the provision for the re-armament of the native army; partly counterbalanced by the replacement of stores sent to South Africa and China. The increase under Stores for Factories was due chiefly to large purchases of hides for the manufacture of scabbards and carbine buckets for the re-armament of the native army; that under Camp Equipage to the replacement of tents despatched to South Africa and China; to increase in cost of tents owing to a change in colour from white to khaki; to purchase of tents for mobilization rest-camps, certain field hospitals and mounted infantry schools, provision for which was made under the head Miscellaneous Services, and to the purchase of tents for issue to the Ordnance Officer, Cairo, the cost of which will be adjusted in 1902-03. Under Other Charges the decrease was chiefly due to the absence of troops in South Africa and China, to saving in the provision for stores for the Balloon section and to less charges of a miscellaneous nature than were anticipated; that under Special Services to decreased charges on account of the Occupation of Chitral and its communications due to a reduction in the strength of the Khar moveable column. The excess deduction under Supplies to other Departments was due chiefly to the adjustment of the value of local stores issued from stock to South Africa (7,91) and China (49), and to the newly-raised regiments of native infantry (1,60); to the issue of local stores to the Australian Government (3,31), and to larger issues to other Departments.

Other Effective Charges.

305. There was an increase of 57 under Ecclesiastical due chiefly to charges on account of capitation and travelling allowances to Presbyterian and Wesleyan Ministers having been transferred from the Civil to the Military Accounts. The variations under Education were small and call for no remarks. Under Sea Transport Charges there was an increase of 5,33 over the Budget, chiefly due to the employment of hired transports for the conveyance of troops between India and England, and to the provision of a larger number of passages by private steamers for officers and men than was estimated for. Under Volunteer Corps there was a decrease of 1,10, owing chiefly to the partial lapse of the provision for improving the efficiency of the volunteer force in India; and to fewer volunteers having qualified for capitation grants than anticipated (91), and to the appointment of the Commandant of the Calcutta Volunteer Rifles having been vacant throughout the year, and that of the Inspector General of Volunteers for a part of the year.

306. The figures under Miscellaneous Services may be sub-divided as follows :—

1900-1. Accounts.		1901-2. Budget.	1901-2. Revised.	1901-2. Accounts.
12,14	Special Charges	5,77	26,03	27,64
16,38	Other Items	19,08	19,99	20,91
28,52	TOTAL	24,85	46,02	48,55

307. The variations under Special Charges have been explained in para 272. Under Other Items the increase was chiefly due to the purchase of land for extension of the Quetta Cantonment (3,50), to telegram charges (3,34), owing to the extension of the debit-note system ; to extra expenditure in connection with the Khusalgarh-Kohat-Thal Railway (83) and to charges on account of the Military Accounts Committee and Lord Cecil's Committee in connection with the system of horse and mule breeding (63), partly counterbalanced by the lapse of a portion of the provision for mounted infantry schools, and to expenditure incurred on this account having been compiled under other heads (6,50) and by less charges for camps of exercise and instruction (52).

Non-Effective Charges.

308. Under Rewards for Military Services the chief saving was 13 in the cost of decorations and medals. There was an increase of 89 over the Budget under Military Pensions to Europeans chiefly due to large payments of capitalized pensions (99) ; to new admissions for pensions of commissioned officers (27), and to the payment of arrears of wound pension to a Quarter-Master Sergeant of the late Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry (17) ; partly counterbalanced by casualties among combatant warrant officers (26) and re-employment of certain medical warrant officers (28). Under Military Pensions to Natives the increase was due to a large number of native soldiers and regimental followers of the active reserve having been discharged with gratuities. The excess was small under Family Pensions, etc., and was due to there being more recipients of the Indian Military Service Family Pensions.

Expenditure in England.

309. As compared with the Budget, the English expenditure showed a saving of £845,5, made up of £782,6 under Effective Charges and £62,9 under Non-Effective Charges. The saving under Effective Charges occurred chiefly in payments to the War Office in respect of British Forces serving in India, owing to the absence of troops in South Africa, and to refunds by the War Office of over-payments of the previous two years, and of the moiety of special bounties granted to British soldiers for extension of their services in India. Despatch of troops to South Africa, and the consequent dislocation of the arrangements regarding Indian reliefs, resulted in savings under most of the other heads of effective charges. There was saving under Furlough of officers of the Indian service owing to fewer officers being at home than was expected, while there were small increases under miscellaneous charges and stores. Under Non-Effective Charges, payments to the War Office for retired pay, etc., of British Forces for service in India, were less than the Budget by £45,4, as a refund was made in respect of 1900. The decrease in the pay and pensions of non-effective and retired officers of the Indian service was due to an over-estimate.

* Represents balance transferred from the Punjab in the course of the year.

310. The figures shown under this head represent the surplus or deficit of each Provincial Government in respect of the revenues and charges assigned to it, including Incorporated Local Funds. The Revenue and Expenditure under the various major heads have been shown in detail in the foregoing pages, and the share of these pertaining to the Provincial and Local sections of the accounts, for the several groups, is given below separately for each Province. The Budget provided for an expenditure from Provincial balances, of R8,85 or £59,0 and from Local balances, of R18,55 or £123,7 but the accounts show a net addition to those balances of R1,41,86 or £945,7 and R18,98 or £126,5, respectively. Compared with the Budget, therefore, there was an increase of R1,88,24 or £1,254,9 in the Provincial and Local net receipts taken together. These figures do not, however, give a correct idea of the actual transactions of the year, for, R78,46 or £523,1 of the total direct Famine charges in India, amounting to R79,36 or £529,1, for which Provincial and Local Revenues are in the first instance responsible, were, as provided for in the Budget, charged to the Imperial Revenues, which also made special contributions in aid of Provincial Revenues to the Central Provinces (33,39), Assam (2,00), the Punjab (16,40), Madras (42,14) and Bombay (1,10,50), against a total estimate of 1,64,43.

311. The improvement was distributed over all the Provinces except India. The more important increases were 42,65 in Bombay, 38,39 in Madras, 35,36 in Burma, 23,80 in Bengal, 20,06 in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and 17,86 in the Central Provinces. The better result was mainly due to an increase in the receipts under principal heads of Revenue, specially in Land Revenue, Stamps, Excise and Assessed Taxes, and to a decrease in expenditure, chiefly under Land Revenue and Forest, under Civil Departments, principally Police, Medical, and Political and under Other Public Works.

315. As regards Lines under construction, the lapse on the Assam-Bengal Railway, Part II, was due to the contracts for rolling-stock not having been placed in time to admit of their being complied with during the year, and to an outbreak of cholera having hindered the progress of earthwork. The excess on the Khushalghar-Kohat Railway was due to work having been pushed on with a view to the early completion of the line, and the excess on the Rungpur-Dhubri Extension to the inclusion in the actuals of the liability for English stores which should have arrived in the previous year. The lapse on doubling the line between Tiljala and Dum-Dum was due to the programme of works not being carried out in full, and the excess on the Chitpore Extensions to larger progress having been made than was anticipated. On the Allahabad-Fyzabad- Railway an expenditure of 5,78 was incurred, for which no provision was made in the Budget, the construction of the line not having been sanctioned at the time. The excess on the Ghaziabad-Moradabad Railway was due to larger outlay on Permanent-way and Rolling-Stock than anticipated; the excess on the Nowshera-Dargai Railway to additional grants having been sanctioned to meet outlay on the Bridge over the Kabul River at Nowshera, and the lapse on the Madura Pamban and Tinnevelly-Quilon Railway (British and Native State's sections) to stores indented for from England not having arrived during the year.

48.—State Railways—concluded.

316. As regards Open lines, the lapses were due,—on the East Indian Railway, to short outlay in England on Permanent-way and Rolling-Stock, to the provision for the Burdwan-Howrah chord not being required, and to a larger reduction in stores balances than anticipated; on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway, to short expenditure on Rolling-Stock and to the postponement of a number of works for which provision was made in the Budget; on the Eastern Bengal State Railway, to work on the Ichamutti and Kumarkhali Bridges not having been executed, and to non-utilization of the provision for petty works; on the North-Western Railway, to the programme of works under Station and Buildings and Rolling-Stock not having been carried out in full; on the South Indian Railway, to the lapse on the provision for outlay on English stores, and the postponement of certain works provided for in the Budget; on the Southern Section, East Coast Railway, to the transfer of the stores balances to the capital account of the Madras Railway; and on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, to the suspension of works in connection with the transfer of the Locomotive Depôt to Dhond, the lapse of the provision for acquisition of land at Byculla, and unexpected credits for material returned from the Khandesh Extensions.

317. The decrease of R6,44, as compared with the actuals of the previous year, and that of R17,87, as compared with the Budget grant, are both due to the various Local Governments finding themselves unable to carry out works to the extent originally contemplated, through estimates being under question or for other reasons.

318 As explained in former reports, these are all net sums The Indian figures represent the difference between the advances taken by the Companies, and the credits given to them, chiefly on account of stores used on Revenue account. The English figures represent the difference between the capital deposited by the Companies with the Secretary of State, and the withdrawals for expenditure on Stores, Establishment charges, etc. These figures are necessarily liable to great fluctuations, but the following general explanations are furnished :—

319. Guaranteed Companies, Madras Railway.—The difference under India was due chiefly to no provision having been made in the Budget for the transfer of the Stores balances of the Southern section, East Coast Railway, to the capital account of the line, and to heavier purchases of timber than anticipated.

320. Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway.—The difference under India was owing principally to an over-estimate of the credits for stores issued to Revenue, Foreign Railways, etc., and to heavier purchases of stores and larger outlay on works than provided for.

321. Under England there was a lapse of 90,3 in payments on account of establishments and purchases of stores for all lines, while receipts on account of subscribed capital were more by 50,0 than antciipated.

322. In India under Assisted Companies, the lapse on the Bengal-Nagpur was due to the curtailment, early in the year, of the programme for works outlay, owing to the insufficiency of the grant allotted in Budget orders for expenditure in England. The excess on the Burma Railways, was due to larger expenditure on bridge work on the main line and Lashio Branch than anticipated, and to the Thazi-Myingyan and Sagaing-Alon Branches not having been completed in the previous year as expected. The lapse on the Indian Midland Railway, was due to larger credits for stores issued to Revenue than anticipated at the time the Budget was framed. The excess on the Lucknow-Bareilly Railway, was due to anticipated credits for rolling stock for the Rohilkhand-Kumaon Railway and Powyan Steam Tramway, not having been realized, and the excess on the Southern Mahratta and Mysore Railways, to the return to stock of materials from the subsitution of 50 lb. rails for 41½ lb. rails on the Castle Rock Section.

323. The Branch Line Companies deposit capital in Government treasuries, and draw against these deposits for expenditure on construction according to requirements. During the year 45,0 were deposited and 27,6 withdrawn as against 53,4 and 54,6, respectively provided in the Budget.

325. The debit under Special Loans represents the commutation value of Wasika Pensions lapsed to Government. The decrease of 78 under Deposits of Service Funds was due chiefly to an overestimate of the receipts of the Bengal Uncovenanted Service Family Pension Fund. The details of Savings Bank Deposits transactions are as follows:—

326. Under Post Office Savings Banks the absence of famine generally resulted in a large increase in the transactions of the Department. Under State Railway Provident Institutions the decline was mainly due to the transfer of the Provident Fund of the East Coast Railway to the Madras Railway. The Opium Department Provident Fund and the Cemetery Endowment Fund were established during the course of the year under the orders of the Government of India in Financial Department No.4282-P., dated 13th August 1901, and Home Department Notification No. 247, dated 7th June 1901, respectively. The Regimental Savings Banks were closed on the 31st March 1902 under the orders of the Government of India in the Military Department No. 600-F., dated 7th March 1902, and the large debit represents the withdrawal of the balances on that day. The decrease under Special Accounts (44) was due chiefly to fluctuations in the transactions of the General Family Pension Fund, the Hindu Family Annuity Fund, and the Post Office Life Insurance Fund.

327. The net credits under Provincial Balances and Appropriation for Reduction or Avoidance of Debt have been explained in paragraphs 310 and 177.

328. Under Excluded Local Funds the largest variations occurred in Madras and Bombay. The credits in Madras include sale proceeds of Government Paper to the extent of 21,2. In Bombay large withdrawals were necessitated by the construction of a Dispensary building at Matheran, and by increased famine expenditure of the Kathiawar Funds. The increase in Railway Funds was due principally to fluctuations in the transactions of the Provident Funds. The balance due to the Gold Reserve Fund was paid off in full in the current year. Under Departmental and Judicial Deposits the Budget included a payment of 1,333,3 on account of the Gold Reserve Fund. Excluding this amount, the net credit anticipated in the Budget was 90,6, against which the actuals amounted to 392,6. The increased receipts occurred chiefly in Bengal, United Provinces, Punjab and Madras.

329. The net figures entered against the head Advances may be divided as follows :—

	1901-2. Budget. R	£	Revised. R	£	Accounts. R	£

	+1,13,32	+755,5	+85,95	+573,0	+84,60	+564,0

330. Under Coinage Accounts the credit of 82,02 was made up principally of net credits of 50,93 and 92,84 under Mint Certificates and Bullion Advances for Coinage respectively, and a net debit of 59,87 under Currency Silver in process of Coinage. The variations occurred chiefly in the Bombay Mint. The credit under Mint Certificates was due principally to the receipt of silver for Dollar coinage which was not coined during the year, and that under Bullion Advances to issues in connection with Native States coinage conversions. The debit under the last head was due to the coinage of Currency Department silver purchased in England, which remained uncoined at the end of last year.

331. The net credit under Other Advances is the final outcome of a number of transactions ; the cause of the net credit of R2,58 or £17,2 is however brought out by the following figures :—

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 5th March 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

During the week under review the weather has been disturbed over Northern India, while it has been quiet and settled over Tropical India. At the commencement of the week a feeble storm over Lower Bengal gave light rain to Cherra Poonjee and Chittagong on the 27th, heavy rain to Chittagong on the 28th and moderate rain to the same station on the 1st March. At the same time a storm appeared over the Indus Valley on the 27th. The storm advanced to the Punjab on the 28th February and 1st March, to the United Provinces on the 2nd, to West Bengal on the 3rd and to North Bengal on the 4th, where it filled up. It occasioned showers at Sialkot and Rawalpindi on the 28th February and 1st of March and gave moderately general rain to Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley and the East Gangetic Plain between the 3rd and the 5th when the heaviest falls reported were 2·81 inches at Silchar and 4·30 inches at Cherra Poonjee on the 4th. On the 2nd another storm appeared over the Punjab and lay over that province until the 5th, during which period snow fell over Kashmir and rain over the North-West Himalayas and at the stations of Ludhiana, Rawalpindi, Peshawar, Cherat and Sialkot. The snowfall was moderately heavy in Kashmir but the rainfall over the Himalayas and Sub-Himalaya West was only light

The following table shows that rain averaging over 0·10 inch in amount has been received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz., the Narayanganj sub-division, the Brahmaputra Valley, the Burdwan sub-division, the Simla sub-division, the Ranchi sub-division and the Calicut sub-division. Elsewhere the weather during the week was actually or practically rainless. The week's rainfall was considerably heavier than usual over the Brahmaputra Valley and the Calicut sub-division and slightly heavier in the Burdwan sub-division. The average actual rainfall ranged from 0·11 inch in the Ranchi sub-division to 1·77 inches in the Narayanganj sub-division. There has been no change of importance in the seasonal conditions, except in the case of Narayanganj, where the seasonal excess is now large.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 28th February, 1903.

Madras.—The rainfall was light in parts of the Circars, the Carnatic and in the Central Districts. There was none elsewhere. Water for irrigation is insufficient in a part of Ganjam, the Deccan and in Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue in certain parts. The condition of the standing crops is generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. Prices are generally stationary with some fluctuations.

Bombay.—No rain fell during the week. Rain is needed in parts of Hyderabad. Standing crops have been damaged by locusts or drought in parts of Hyderabad and by frost in parts of Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Ahmedabad and are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Sukkur, Larkana and Nasik, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops continues in parts of Khandesh and Dharwar. Threshing is almost over in Colaba and Ahmednagar and continues in parts of Larkana, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Nasik and Dharwar. The harvesting of spring crops continues in parts of Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, and Thar and Parkar, Broach, Surat, the Deccan, Carnatic, Kanara and Baroda. Threshing has commenced in parts of Poona and Satara. Cotton is in good condition in Wadhwan and generally in fair condition elsewhere. Cotton picking continues in parts of Broach, Surat, Bijapur, Belgaum, Rajkot and Baroda. The preparation of lands for next season's sowings has commenced in parts of Thana, Colaba, Nasik, Satara and Belgaum. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is generally in good condition and sufficient. The water-supply is deficient in parts of Bijapur Prices have fallen in four districts, have risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The price of rice is slightly below normal in the Carnatic, about normal in the Konkan and slightly over normal in Gujarat and the Deccan, and compared with 1902 slightly easier in the Konkan and Carnatic; about the same in the Deccan but slightly higher in Gujarat. The price of bajri is below normal in Gujarat and the Deccan, considerably below normal in the Carnatic and slightly over normal in the Konkan, and compared with 1902 easier in Gujarat, the Deccan and Konkan, and considerably easier in the Carnatic. The price of juari is below normal in Gujarat, the Deccan and the Carnatic and is over normal in the Konkan, and compared with 1902 slightly higher in the Konkan and generally easier elsewhere. The price of wheat is over normal in Gujarat, the Deccan and the Konkan, and considerably over normal in the Carnatic, and compared with 1902 about the same in Gujarat and Konkan and easier elsewhere.

Bengal.—Rain fell during the week in most of the districts of Bengal Proper, in Malda, Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh and Manbhum In Chittagong the fall was heavy. More rain is wanted in Mymensingh, Tippera and Purnea. Slight damage to crops by insects is reported from Murshedabad, Tippera and Palamau. Prospects are otherwise good. Poppy is promising well. Pressing of sugarcane and preparation of lands for early rice and jute are in progress. The price of common rice has risen in 11 districts, has fallen in 14, and is stationary in the rest.

United Provinces.—No rain fell during the week except in Almora where a slight shower was recorded. Rain is reported to be urgently required in Muttra, but the condition of the standing crops is generally good. The harvesting of spring and other crops is going on. Extra crops are being grown and fields are being prepared for cane and autumn crops. The poppy crop is flourishing and opium is being extracted in eight districts. The sugarcane crop has suffered slightly from frost in Meerut, and grain and linseed from insects in a few villages in Hamirpur. Fodder is reported to be scarce in Hardoi and parts of Agra and Rae Bareli. Prices continue stationary.

The prices of other food grains remain generally unchanged. Sugarcane is being pressed in Delhi, Jullundur and Lahore. Ploughings for autumn crops and sowings of extra spring crops have commenced in some districts The prospects of the standing crops are generally good on irrigated lands. The crops on unirrigated lands are withering for want of rain in most districts. Rain is urgently needed throughout the province. Caterpillars are damaging the crops in parts of Ferozepore. Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any railway or tramway subject to the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether energy is or is not supplied or to be supplied for electric traction or to the public for any purpose within the meaning of sub-section (1), the matter shall be referred to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

Grant and revocation of licenses.

4. (1) The Local Government may grant a license to any person to supply energy for any purpose in any specified local area, and also to lay down electric supply-lines for the conveyance and transmission of energy from a generating station situated outside such specified local area to the boundary of such specified local area in any case in which the energy to be supplied is to be generated outside such specified local area; and in respect of every such license and the grant thereof the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) Before granting a license under this Part the Local Government shall consult every local authority concerned, and where such local authority advances any objection to the grant of a license, the Local Government shall take such objection into consideration and, if in its opinion it is insufficient, shall record in writing and communicate to such local authority its reasons for such opinion.

(b) Any person applying for a license under this Part shall publish a notice of his application in such manner and with such particulars as the Governor General in Council may by rule direct, and no such license shall be granted until three months from the date of the first publication of such notice as aforesaid have expired and until all representations or objections received by the Local Government within that period with reference thereto have been considered by it.

(c) No application for a license under this Part shall be made by any local authority except in pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of such authority held after one month's previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof has been given in the manner in which notices of meetings of such local authority are usually given.

(d) A license under this Part may prescribe such terms as to the limits within which, and the conditions under which, the supply of energy is to be compulsory or permissive, and as to the limits of price to be charged in respect of the supply of energy, and generally as to such other matters as the Local Government may think fit.

(e) The grant of a license under this Part for any purpose shall not in any way hinder or restrict the grant of another license to another person within the same area of supply for a like purpose.

(f) The provisions contained in the schedule shall be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under this Part, save in so far as they are expressly added to, varied or excepted by the license, and shall, subject to such additions, variations or exceptions (if any) which the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, is hereby empowered to make, apply to the undertaking authorized by the license, and shall be binding in like manner and to the same extent as if enacted in this Act.

(2) The Local Government may, if in its opinion the public interest so requires, revoke a license, as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, in any of the following cases, namely:—

(a) where the licensee, in the opinion of the Local Government, makes wilful and unreasonably prolonged default in doing anything required of him by or under this Act;

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Section 5.)

(d) where the licensee is, in the opinion of the Local Government, unable, by reason of his insolvency, fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license;

(e) where the licensee, not being a local authority, shows, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, at any time after the commencement of his license, that his undertaking cannot be carried on with profit and ought to be abandoned;

(f) where the licensee supplies energy by means of some system not approved by the Local Government;

(g) in any other case, with the consent of the licensee and, if the licensee is not a local authority, with that of the local authority (if any) concerned, and upon such terms and conditions as it thinks just:

Provided that the Local Government shall not revoke the license as to part only of the area of supply if the licensee represents that he desires to be relieved of his liabilities in respect of the whole.

(3) Where the Local Government might, under sub-section (2), revoke a license, it may, instead of revoking the license, permit it to remain in force subject to such further terms and conditions as it thinks fit, and any further terms or conditions shall be binding upon, and be observed by, the licensee, and shall be of like force and effect as if they were contained in the license.

Provisions where license of licensee, not being a local authority, is revoked.

(b) Within one month after the service of such notice as aforesaid any local authority concerned may, if the Local Government has intimated to the local authority that it is at liberty so to do, by notice in writing, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, to the local authority the undertaking or such part thereof as is carried on within the area for which it is constituted, on payment of the value of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant of the licensee suitable to, and used by him for, the purpose of the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid, such value to be, in case of difference or dispute, determined by arbitration:

Provided that the value of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant shall be deemed to be their fair market-value at the time of purchase, due regard being had to the nature and condition for the time being of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant, and to the state of repair thereof, and to the circumstance that they are in such a position as to be ready for immediate working, and to the suitability of the same for the purposes of the undertaking, and, where a part only of the undertaking is purchased, to any loss occasioned by severance, but without any addition in respect of compulsory purchase or of goodwill or of any profits which may be or might have been made from the undertaking, or of any similar considerations.

(c) Where no purchase has been effected by a local authority under clause (b), and any other person is willing to purchase the undertaking or such part of it as aforesaid, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, with the consent of the licensee, or without the consent of the licensee in case the price is not less than that for which the local authority might have purchased the same, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, to such other person the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid.

(d) Where a purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c), the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, shall vest in the purchasers free from any debts, mortgages or similar obligations of the licensee or attaching to the undertaking; and the revocation of the license shall extend only to the revocation of the rights, powers, authorities, duties and obligations of the licensee from whom the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, is purchased, and, save as aforesaid, the license shall remain in full force, and the purchaser shall be deemed to be the licensee.

(e) Where no purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c), the

(f) Where no purchase has been effected under any of the foregoing clauses, the Local Government may forthwith cause the works of the licensee to be removed and the street to be reinstated and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

(g) If the licensee has been required to sell the undertaking or any part thereof, and if the sale has not been completed by the date fixed in the notice issued under clause (a), the purchaser may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, work the undertaking or such part thereof pending the completion of the sale.

Provisions where license of local authority is revoked.

6. Where the Local Government revokes the license of a local authority as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, it may forthwith cause the works of the licensee to be removed and the street to be reinstated, and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

Purchase of undertaking.

7. (1) Where a license has been granted, a local authority shall, on the expiration of such period, not exceeding forty-two years, and of every such subsequent period, not exceeding ten years, as shall be specified in this behalf in the license, have the option of purchasing such portion of the undertaking as is in the area for which it is constituted, and, if the local authority, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, elects to purchase, the licensee shall sell the undertaking or part thereof to it upon terms and conditions similar to those set forth in section 5, clauses (b) and (d).

(2) In any such case as aforesaid, if a local authority does not elect to purchase, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions save that where the Local Government purchases the undertaking or any part thereof under such option the license shall, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation.

(3) Where, in exercise of the option conferred by sub-section (1), a local authority has elected to purchase the portion of the undertaking which is within the area for which it is constituted, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions in respect to any portion of the undertaking which is without such area.

(4) Not less than twelve months' notice in writing of any election to purchase under this section shall be served upon the licensee by the local authority or the Local Government, as the case may be.

(5) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the local authority may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, waive its option of purchase and enter into an agreement with the licensee for the working by him of the undertaking, or such portion thereof as is in the area for which such authority is constituted, until the expiration of the next subsequent period referred to in sub-section (1), upon such terms and conditions as may be stated in such agreement.

Provisions where no purchase and license revoked with consent of licensee.

8. Where, on the expiration of any of the periods referred to in section 7, sub-section (1), neither the local authority nor the Local Government purchases the undertaking or any portion thereof, and the license is, with the consent of the licensee, revoked, the licensee shall have the option of disposing of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant belonging to the undertaking in such manner as he may think fit :

Provided that, if the licensee does not exercise such option within a period of six months, the Local Government may proceed to take action as provided in section 5, clause (f).

Licensee not to purchase, or associate himself with, other licensed undertakings or transfer his undertaking.

9. (1) The licensee shall not, at any time without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government, acquire, by purchase or otherwise, the undertaking of, or associate himself with, any person supplying, or intending to supply, energy under any other license, and, before applying for such consent, the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice of the application to every local authority, both in the licensee's area of supply, and also in the area or district in which such other person supplies, or intends to supply, energy.

(2) The licensee shall not at any time transfer his undertaking, or any part thereof, by sale, mortgage, leave, exchange or otherwise without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government.

(3) Any agreement relating to any transaction of the nature described in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) which may be made without such consent as aforesaid shall be void.

General power for Local Government to vary terms of purchase.

10. Notwithstanding anything in sections 5, 7 and 8, the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, in any license granted under this Act, vary the terms upon which a licensee shall be bound to sell his undertaking.

Annual accounts of licensee.

11. (1) Every licensee shall prepare and render to the Local Government, on or before such date in each year as the Local Government may by rule fix, an annual statement of accounts of his undertaking made up to such date, in such form, and containing such particulars, as may be prescribed by the said rule.

(2) The licensee shall keep copies of such annual statement at his office and sell the same to any applicant at a price not exceeding one rupee per copy.

Provisions as to the opening and breaking up of streets, railways and tramways.

12. (1) Any licensee may, from time to time but subject always to the terms and conditions of his license,—

(a) open and break up the soil and pavement of any street, railway or tramway within the area of supply;

(b) open and break up any sewer, drain or tunnel in or under any such street, railway or tramway;

(c) lay down and place within the area of supply electric supply-lines and other works;

(d) repair, alter or remove the same; and

(e) do all other acts necessary for the due supply of energy within the area of supply.

(2) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee, without the consent of the local authority or of the owner and occupier concerned, as the case may be, to lay down or place any electric supply-line or other work in, through or against any building, or on, over or under any land not dedicated to public use, whereon, whereover or whereunder any electric supply-line or work has not already been lawfully laid down or placed by such licensee:

Provided that any stay or strut required for the sole purpose of securing in position any support of an aërial electric supply-line may be fixed on any building or land or, having been so fixed, may be altered, notwithstanding the objection of the owner or occupier of such building or land, if the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, by order in writing so directs:

Provided also that if at any time the owne or occupier of any building or land on which any such stay or strut has been fixed shows sufficient cause, the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, may by order in writing direct any such stay or strut to be removed or altered.

(3) Every order made by a District Magistrate or a Commissioner of Police under sub-section (2) shall be subject to revision by the Local Government.

(4) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to open or break up any street not repairable by a local authority, or any railway or tramway, without the consent of the person by whom the same is repairable, unless with the written consent of the Local Government:

Provided that the Local Government shall not give any such consent as aforesaid, until notice has been given, by advertisement or otherwise as the Local Government may direct, to the person by whom the street, railway, or tramway concerned is repairable, and until all representations or objections received in accordance with the notice have been considered by the Local Government.

Notice of new works.

13. (1) Where the exercise of any of the powers of a licensee in relation to the execution of any works involves the placing of any works in, under, over, along or across any street, part of a street, railway, tramway, canal or waterway, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) Not less than one month before commencing the execution of the works (not being a house-service or the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered), the licensee shall serve upon the person or authority responsible for the repair of the street or part of a street (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the repairing authority") or upon the person or authority for the time being entitled to work the railway, tramway, canal or waterway (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), as the case may be, a notice in writing describing the proposed works, together with a detailed plan thereof, on a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch, or such other scale as the Local Government may approve, and intimating the manner in which, and the time at which, it is proposed to interfere with or alter any existing works, and shall, upon being required to do so by the repairing authority or owner, as the case may be, from time to time give such further information in relation thereto as may be desired.

(b) If the repairing authority intimates to the licensee that it disapproves of such works or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, the licensee may within one week of receiving such intimation appeal to the Local Government, whose decision, after considering the reasons given by the repairing anthority for its action, shall be final.

(c) If the repairing authority fails to give notice in writing of its approval or disapproval to the licensee within one month, it shall be deemed to have approved of the works and plan, and the licensee, after giving not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing to the repairing authority, may proceed to carry out the works in accordance with the notice and plan served under clause (a).

(d) If the owner disapproves of such works or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, he may, within three weeks after the service of the notice under clause (a), serve a requisition upon the licensee demanding that any question in relation to the works, or to compensation, or to his obligations to others in respect thereof, shall be determined by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration.

(e) Where no requisition has been served by the owner upon the licensee under clause (d), the owner shall be deemed to have approved of the works and plan, and in that case, or where after a requisition for arbitration the matter has been determined by arbitration, the works may, upon payment or securing of compensation, be executed according to the notice and plan, subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties.

(f) Where the works to be executed consist of the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered, the licensee shall, except in cases of emergency, give to the repairing authority, or to the owner, as the case may be, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention to execute such works, and, on the expiry of such notice, such works shall be commenced forthwith and shall be carried on with all reasonable despatch and, if possible, both by day and by night until completed.

(2) Where the licensee makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the licensee may, in case of emergency due to the breakdown of an underground electric supply-line, after giving notice in writing to the repairing authority or the owner, as the case may be, of his intention to do so, place an aërial line without complying with the provisions of sub-section (1):

Provided that such aërial line shall be used only until the defect in the under-ground electric supply-line can be made good, and in no case for a period exceeding six weeks, and shall be removed as soon as may be after such defect is removed.

Alteration of pipes or wires.

14. (1) Any licensee may alter the position of any pipe (not forming, in a case where the licensee is not a local authority, part of a local authority's main sewer), or of any wire under or over any place which he is authorized to open or break up, if such pipe or wire is likely to interfere with the exercise of his powers under this Act; and any person may alter the position of any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee under or over any such place as aforesaid, if such electric supply-lines or works are likely to interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in him.

(2) In any such case as aforesaid the following provisions shall, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary between the parties concerned, apply, namely:—

(a) Not less than one month before commencing any alteration, the licensee or other person desiring to make the same (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall serve upon the person for the time being entitled to the pipe, wire, electric supply-lines or works, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), a notice in writing, together with a plan, on a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch, or such other scale as the Local Government may approve, describing the proposed alteration, and intimating the time when it is to be commenced, and shall subsequently give such further information in relation thereto as the owner may desire.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(b) Within fourteen days after the service of the notice and plan upon the owner, the owner may serve upon the operator a requisition to the effect that any question arising upon the notice or plan shall be settled by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration.

(c) Every arbitrator to whom a reference is made under clause (b), shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owner is under, and may require the operator to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid as far as possible interference therewith.

(d) Where no requisition is served upon the operator under clause (b), or where such a requisition has been served and the matter has been settled by agreement or determined by arbitration, the alteration may, upon payment or securing of any compensation accepted or determined by arbitration, be executed in accordance with the notice and plan and subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties.

(e) The owner may, at any time before the operator is entitled to commence the alteration, serve upon the operator a statement in writing to the effect that he desires to execute the alteration himself and requires the operator to give such security for the repayment of any expenses as may be agreed upon or, in default of agreement, settled by arbitration.

(f) Where a statement is served upon the operator under clause (e), he shall not less than forty-eight hours before the execution of the alteration is required to be commenced, furnish such security and serve upon the owner a notification in writing intimating the time when the alteration is required to be commenced, and the manner in which it is required to be made; and thereupon the owner may proceed to execute the alteration as required by the operator.

(g) Where the owner declines to comply, or does not, within the time and in the manner prescribed by a notification served upon him under clause (f), comply, with the notification, the operator may himself execute the alteration.

(h) All expenses properly incurred by the owner in complying with a notification served upon him by the operator under clause (f) may be recovered by him from the operator.

(i) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Laying of electric supply-lines, or other works near sewers, pipes or other electric supply-lines or works.

15. (1) Where a licensee requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down any new electric supply-lines (not being service-lines) or other works, near to which any sewer, drain, watercourse or work under the control of the Local Government or of any local authority, or any main, pipe, syphon, electric supply-line or other work belonging to any duly authorized person, has been lawfully placed, or where any duly authorized person requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down or constructing any new mains or pipes (not being service-pipes) or other works, near to which any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee have been lawfully placed, the licensee or such duly authorized person, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall, unless it is otherwise agreed upon between the parties interested or in case of sudden emergency, give to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorized person, or to the licensee, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing before commencing to dig or sink the trench, and the owner shall have the right to be present during the execution of the work, which shall be executed to the reasonable satisfaction of the owner.

(2) Where the operator finds it necessary to undermine, but not to alter, the position of any pipe, electric supply-line or work, he shall temporarily support it in position during the execution of the work, and before completion shall provide a suitable and proper foundation for it where so undermined.

(3) Where the operator (being the licensee) lays any electric supply-line across, or so as to be liable to touch, any mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines belonging to any duly authorized person or to any person supplying or using energy under this Act, he shall not, except with the consent of such person and of the Local Government, lay his electric supply-lines so as to come into contact with any such mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines, or, except with the like consent, employ any such mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines as conductors for the purpose of supplying energy.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 16-19.)

(4) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof.

(5) Where any difference or dispute arises under this section, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(6) Where the licensee is a local authority, the references in this section to the local authority and to sewers, drains, water courses or works under its control shall not apply.

Streets, railways or tramways broken up to be reinstated without delay.

16. (1) Where any person, in excercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, opens or breaks up the soil or pavement of any street, railway or tramway, or any sewer, drain or tunnel, he shall—

(a) immediately cause the part opened or broken up to be fenced and guarded;

(b) before sunset cause a light, sufficient for the warning of passengers, to be set up and maintained until sunrise against or near the part opened or broken up;

(c) with all reasonable speed fill in the ground and reinstate and make good the soil or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned by such opening or breaking up; and,

(d) after reinstating and making good the soil or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, broken or opened up, keep the same in good repair for three months and for any further period, not exceeding nine months, during which subsidence continues.

(2) Where any person fails to comply with any of the provisions of sub-section (1), the person having the control or management of the street, railway, tramway, sewer, drain or tunnel in respect of which the default has occurred, may cause to be executed the work which the defaulter has delayed or omitted to execute, and may recover from him the expenses incurred in such execution.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of the expenses incurred under sub-section (2), the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Aërial lines.

17. (1) Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee to place any aërial line along or across any street unless and until the Local Government, after consulting the local authority, has communicated to him a general approval in writing of the methods of construction which he proposes to adopt:

Provided that the communication of such approval shall in no way relieve the licensee of his obligations with respect to any other consent required by or under this Act.

(2) Where any aërial line has been placed or maintained by a licensee in breach of the provisions of sub-section (1), the Local Government may require the licensee forthwith to remove the same, or may cause the same to be removed and recover from the licensee the expenses incurred in such removal.

(3) Where any tree, standing or lying near an aërial line, interrupts or interferes with, or is likely to interrupt or interfere with, the conveyance or transmission of energy, a Magistrate of the first class may, on the application of the licensee, cause the tree to be removed or otherwise dealt with as he thinks fit.

(4) When disposing of an application under sub-section (3), the Magistrate shall, in the case of any tree in existence before the placing of the aërial line, award to the person interested in the tree such compensation as he thinks reasonable, and such person may recover the same from the licensee.

Compensation for damage.

18. (1) A licensee shall, in exercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, cause as little damage, detriment and inconvenience as may be, and shall make full compensation for any damage caused by him or by any one employed by him.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount or the application of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Power for licensee to enter premises for ascertaining energy consumed, or to remove fittings or other apparatus of licensee.

19. (1) A licensee or any person duly authorized by a licensee may at any reasonable time, and on informing the occupier of his intention, enter any premises to which energy is or has been supplied by him, for the purpose of—

(a) inspecting and testing the electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus for the supply of energy belonging to the licensee;

(b) ascertaining the quantity of energy consumed or supplied; or

(c) removing, where a supply of energy is no longer required, or where the licensee is authorized to take away and cut off such supply, any electric supply-lines, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to the licensee.

(2) A licensee or any person authorized as aforesaid may also, in pursuance of a special order in this behalf made by the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town, by the Commissioner of Police, and after giving not less than twenty-four hours' notice in writing to the consumer, enter any premises to which energy is or has been supplied, or is to be supplied, by him, for the purpose of examining and testing the electric wires, fittings, works and apparatus for the use of energy belonging to the consumer.

Restrictions on licensee's controlling or interfering with use of energy.

20. (1) A licensee shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of appliance for utilizing energy supplied by him, or, save as provided by section 23, sub-section (2), or by section 30, sub-section (6), in any way to control or interfere with the use of such energy:

Provided that no person may adopt any form of appliance, or use the energy supplied to him, so as unduly or improperly to interfere with the supply by the licensee of energy to any other person.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises under this section, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Obligation on licensee to supply energy.

21. Where energy is supplied by a licensee, every person within the area of supply shall, except in so far as is otherwise provided by the terms and conditions of the license, be entitled, on application, to a supply on the same terms as those on which any other person in the same area is entitled in similar circumstances to a corresponding supply:

Provided that no person having a private generating plant shall be entitled to demand a connection with the mains of the licensee in order to use the energy of the licensee only in the event of accident to the plant of such person.

Maximum electrical power.

22. (1) The electrical power at which any consumer shall be entitled to be supplied by a licensee, shall not exceed what is necessary for the maximum consumption of energy on his premises:

Provided that, where a consumer has required a licensee to supply him at a specified maximum power, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum except after one month's notice in writing to the licensee, and the licensee may recover from the consumer any expenses incurred by him by reason of the alteration in respect of the service-lines by which energy is supplied to the consumer's premises, or of any fittings or apparatus of the licensee upon those premises.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between a consumer and a licensee as to the power at which energy is to be supplied under sub-section (1) or as to the amount of the expenses incurred under the proviso thereto, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Charges for energy to be made without undue preference.

23. (1) A licensee shall not, in making any agreement for the supply of energy, show undue preference to any person, but may, save as aforesaid, make such charges for the supply of energy as may be agreed upon, not exceeding the limits imposed by his license, and may allow rebates thereon according to the quantity supplied, either in relation to the maximum power to which the consumer is entitled under section 22, or to the total quantity, or to the time at which the supply is needed.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (1), the licensee may, with the consent of the Local Government, charge at one rate for the supply of energy for lighting purposes, and at other rates for the supply of energy for purposes other than lighting; and no person shall be entitled to utilize for one purpose energy supplied to him at a lower rate for any other purpose.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises between a consumer and a licensee as to any matter provided for in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Discontinuance of supply to consumer neglecting to pay charge.

24. Where any person neglects to pay any charge for energy or any other sum due from him to a licensee in respect of the supply of energy to him, the licensee may, after giving not less than seven clear days' notice in writing to such person and without prejudice to his right to recover such charge or other sum by suit, cut off the supply and for that purpose cut or disconnect any electric supply-line or other works through which energy may be supplied, and may discontinue the supply until such charge or other sum, together with any expenses incurred by him in cutting off and re-connecting the supply, are paid, but no longer:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply in any case in which any difference, or dispute of the nature described in section 30, sub-section (7), has been referred for determination by an Electric Inspector or other person as therein provided until such Inspector or other person has given his decision.

Exemption of electric supply-lines, or other apparatus from attachment in certain cases.

25. Where any electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to a licensee are placed in or upon any premises, not being in the possession of the licensee, for the purpose of supplying energy, such electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus shall not be liable to be taken in execution under any process of any Civil Court or in any proceedings in insolvency against the person in whose possession the same may be.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 26-29.)

Protection of railways and canals, docks, wharves and piers.

26. No licensee shall, in exercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, in any way injure any railway, tramway or canal or (in cases where the licensee is not a local authority) any dock, wharf or pier vested in or controlled by a local authority or obstruct or interfere with the traffic on any railway, tramway or canal.

Protection of telegraphic, telephonic and electric-signalling lines.

27. (1) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to lay down any underground, or place any aërial, electric supply-line or other works, or to make any alterations in any telegraph line, maintained or worked by the Government or by any person licensed under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, without the previous sanction of the telegraph-authority, to whom the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice in writing of his intention, specifying the course of the works or alterations proposed, the manner in which the works are to be utilized, the amount and nature of the energy to be transmitted, and the extent to, and manner in, which (if at all) earth returns are to be used; and the licensee shall conform with such reasonable requirements, either general or special, as may be laid down by the telegraph-authority for preventing any telegraph line from being injuriously affected by such works or alterations:

XIII of 1885.

Provided that, in case of emergency (which shall be stated by the licensee in writing to the telegraph-authority) arising from defects in any of the electric supply-lines or other works of the licensee, the licensee shall be required to give only such notice as may be possible after the necessity for the proposed new works or alterations has arisen.

(2) Every licensee shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, laying down and placing his electric supply-lines and other works and in working his undertaking, so as not injuriously to affect, whether by induction or otherwise, the working of any wire or line used for the purpose of telegraphic, telephonic or electric-signalling communication, or the currents in such wire or line.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises between the licensee and the telegraph-authority or any person licensed under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, as to whether the licensee has constructed, laid down or placed his electric supply-lines or other works, or made alterations in a telegraph line, or worked his undertaking, in contravention of sub-section (1), or sub-section (2), or as to whether the working of any wire, line or current is or is not injuriously affected thereby, the matter shall be referred to the Governor General in Council; and the Governor General in Council, unless he is of opinion that the wire or line has been placed in unreasonable proximity to the electric supply-lines or works of the licensee after the construction of such lines or works, may direct the licensee to make such alterations in, or additions to, his system as may be necessary in order to comply with the provisions of this section, and the licensee shall make such alterations or additions accordingly:

XIII of 1885.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the repair, renewal or amendment of any electric supply-line, so long as the course of the electric supply-line and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby are not altered.

(4) Where a licensee makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a telegraph-line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected by a work if telegraphic communication by means of such line is, whether through induction or otherwise, prejudicially interfered with by such work or by any use made thereof.

Notice of and inquiry into accidents.

28. (1) Every licensee shall, within twenty-four hours of the occurrence, send to the Local Government and to the District Magistrate, or in a Presidency-town, to the Commissioner of Police, notice in writing of any accident by explosion, fire, electric shock or fall of an aërial line and also of any other accident resulting or likely to have resulted in loss of life or personal injury in any part of the licensee's works or circuits, or in connection with the same, and also notice of any loss of life or personal injury actually occasioned by any such accident

(2) The Local Government may also, if it thinks fit, appoint any Electric Inspector or other competent person to inquire and report as to the cause of any accident affecting the safety of the public, which may have been occasioned by or in connection with a licensee's works, or as to the manner in, and extent to, which the provisions of the license and of this Act, so far as these provisions affect the safety of the public, have been complied with by the licensee.

Power for Local Government to interfere in certain cases of default by licensee.

29. If at any time it is established, to the satisfaction of the Local Government,—

(a) that a licensee is supplying energy otherwise than by means of a system which has been approved of by the Local Government or (except in accordance with the provisions of his license) has permitted any part of his circuits to be connected with earth, or

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Section 30.)

(b) that any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee are defective ; or

(c) that any works of a licensee or his supply of energy are or is attended with danger to the public safety ;

the Local Government may, by order in writing, specify the matter complained of and require the licensee to remedy it in such manner as shall be specified in the order, and may also in like manner forbid the use of any electric supply-line or works until the order is complied with or for such time as is specified in the order.

Meters.

30. (1) In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the amount of energy supplied to a consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply (such amount or quantity being hereinafter referred to as "the value of the supply") shall be ascertained by means of a duly certified meter, and the licensee shall, if required by the consumer, cause the consumer to be supplied with such a meter :

Provided that the licensee may require the consumer to give him security for the price of a meter and enter into an agreement for the hire thereof, unless the consumer elects to purchase a meter.

(2) Where the consumer so enters into an agreement for the hire of a meter, the licensee shall keep the meter in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, and, in default of his doing so, the consumer shall, for so long as the default continues, cease to be liable to pay for the hire of the meter.

(3) Where the meter is the property of the consumer, he shall keep the meter in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, and, in default of his doing so, the licensee may, for so long as the default continues cease to supply energy through the meter.

(4) The licensee or any person duly authorized by the licensee shall, at any reasonable time and on informing the consumer of his intention, have access to, and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect and replace, any meter whereby the value of the supply is ascertained or to be ascertained ; and, except where the meter is so hired as aforesaid, all reasonable expenses of, and incidental to, such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting and replacing, and the procuring the meter to be again duly certified, where that is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter is found to be otherwise than in proper order, be recovered from the consumer ; and where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such reasonable expenses, the matter shall be determined by arbitration :

Provided that the licensee shall not be at liberty to take off or remove any such meter if any difference or dispute of the nature described in sub-section (7) has arisen until the matter has been determined as therein provided.

(5) A consumer shall not connect any meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained or to be ascertained with any electric supply-line through which energy is supplied by a licensee, or disconnect the same from any such electric supply-line, without giving to the licensee not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention.

(6) In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of a consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the licensee may place upon such premises such meter or other apparatus as he may think fit for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to the consumer, or the number of hours during which the supply is given, or the maximum power taken by the consumer, or any other quantity or time connected with the supply :

Provided that the meter or apparatus shall be of a construction and pattern approved of by the Local Government, and shall be fixed and connected with the service-lines in a manner so approved, and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the licensee, and shall not, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the licensee and the consumer's terminals.

(7) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether any meter, whereby the value of the supply as to pressure or quantity is ascertained or to be ascertained, is or is not in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, or as to whether such value has in any case been correctly registered by the meter, the matter shall be determined, upon the application of either party, by an Electric Inspector or by a competent person specially appointed by the Local Government in this behalf ; and, where the meter has, in the opinion of such Inspector or person, ceased to work for a period not exceeding one month, such Inspector or person shall estimate the value of the supply for such period on the basis of the value of the previous supply ; and the decision of such Inspector or person shall be final, and the costs of or incidental to such determination shall be recoverable as such Inspector or person may direct : but, save as aforesaid, the register of the meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive proof of such value.

Explanation.—A meter shall be deemed to be "duly certified" if it is certified by an Electric Inspector or by a competent person appointed by the Local Government in this behalf to be a correct meter, and to be of a construction and pattern approved by the Local Government, and to have been fixed and connected with the electric supply-lines in a manner so approved :

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part III.—Restrictions on Use of Energy not supplied under Part II.—Section 31.—Part IV.—General—Sections 32-33.)

Provided that, where any alteration is made in a duly certified meter, or where any such meter is unfixed or disconnected from the electric supply-lines, it shall cease to be a duly certified meter unless and until it is again duly certified as aforesaid.

PART III.

(b) The licensee shall afford to the auditor, his clerks and assistants, access to all such books and documents relating to the undertaking as are necessary for the purposes of the audit, and shall, when required, furnish to him and them all vouchers and information requisite for that purpose, and afford to him and them all facilities for the proper execution of his and their duty.

(c) The audit shall be made and conducted in such manner as the Local Government may direct.

(d) Any report made by the auditor, or such portion thereof as the Local Government may direct, shall be appended to the annual statement of accounts of the licensee, and shall thenceforth form part thereof.

Separate accounts.

III. The licensee shall, unless the Local Government otherwise directs, at all times keep the accounts of the capital employed for the purposes of the undertaking distinct from the accounts kept by him of any other undertaking or business.

Nature and mode of supply.

Systems of supply.

IV. Energy shall be supplied by the licensee only by means of some system approved in writing by the Local Government, and save as otherwise provided by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903, the licensee shall not permit any part of any circuit to be connected with earth unless the connection is for the time being approved by the Local Government, with the concurrence of the telegraph-authority.

Provisions as to electric railways and tramways.

V. Where and in so far as energy is supplied to a tramway for purposes of electric traction, the following provisions shall apply, namely:—

(a) The licensee shall employ either insulated metallic returns, or uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance, save in the case of vehicles in which the motive power is entirely self-contained.

(b) The licensee shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, placing and maintaining his electric supply-lines and circuits, and other works of all descriptions, and also in working his undertaking, so as not injuriously to affect, by fusion or electrolytic action, any gas or water pipes, or other metallic pipes, structures or substances.

Compulsory works.

Power of Local Government to order licensee to lay down distributing mains.

VI. The licensee shall, within a period of two years after the commencement of his license, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout such streets or parts of streets as the Local Government may, by order in writing issued within six months of the commencement of the license, direct.

Provisions as to laying electric supply-lines under special agreement.

VII. Every licensee shall, not less than one month before commencing to lay in any street any electric supply-line for the supply of energy to any particular consumer, and not for the purposes of general supply, serve upon the local authority (if any) and upon the owner or occupier of all premises abutting on so much of the street as lies between the points of origin and termination of the electric supply-line so to be laid, a notice stating that the licensee intends to lay the electric supply-line, and intimating that, if within the said period any two or more of such owners or occupiers require in accordance with the provisions of the license that a supply shall be given to their premises, the necessary distributing main will be laid by the licensee at the same time as the electric supply-line intended for the particular consumer.

Provisions as to laying down of further distributing mains.

VIII. (1) Where, after the expiration of eighteen months from the commencement of the license, a requisition is made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises in or upon any street or part of street within the area of supply or by the Local Government or a local authority charged with the public lighting thereof, requiring the licensee to provide and lay down distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout such street or part thereof, the licensee shall comply within six months with the requisition, unless,—

(a) where it is made by such owners or occupiers as aforesaid, the owners or occupiers making it do not, within fourteen clear days after the service on them by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, tender to the licensee a written contract, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding themselves to take or guaranteeing that there shall be taken, a supply of energy for not less than three years to such amount as will in the aggregate produce annually, at the current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee; or,

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II.)

(b) where it is made by the Local Government or a local authority, the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, does not, within the like period, tender a like agreement binding itself to take a supply of energy for not less than three years for the public lighting of such street or part thereof.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between the licensee, and such owners, occupiers or local authority as to the sufficiency of the security offered under this clause, or as to the amount of energy to be taken or guaranteed as aforesaid, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government and either decided by it or, if the Local Government so directs, determined by arbitration.

(3) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

Requisition for supply to owners or occupiers in vicinity.

IX. (1) Where a requisition is made by the owners or occupiers of any premises situate within one hundred yards from any distributing main in which the licensee is required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply, requiring the licensee to supply energy for such premises, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy in accordance with the requisition, unless the person making it fails, within fourteen days after the service on him by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, to tender to the licensee a written contract, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding himself to take a supply of energy for not less than two years to such amount as will produce, at current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee:

Provided, first, that the cost of so much of any electric supply-line as may be laid for the purposes of the supply upon the property in respect of which the requisition is made, and of so much of any electric supply-line as it may be necessary for the said purposes to lay for a greater distance than one hundred feet from the licensee's distributing main, although not on that property, shall, if the licensee so requires, be paid by the owner or occupier making the requisition:

Provided, secondly, that the licensee may, after he has furnished a supply of energy for any premises, by notice in writing require the owner or occupier within seven days after the date of the service of the notice, to give him security for the payment of all money which may become due to him in respect of the supply, in case the owner or occupier has not already given that security, or in case any security given has become invalid or is insufficient; and, if the owner or occupier fails to comply with the terms of the notice, the licensee may discontinue to supply energy for such premises so long as such failure continues:

Provided, thirdly, that if the owner or occupier of any such premises as aforesaid adopts any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the licensee for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner, so as to interfere unduly or improperly with the efficient supply of energy to any other person by the licensee, or fails to keep his meter in proper order, the licensee may discontinue the supply of energy for such premises so long as such lamp or burner is so adopted, or the energy is so used or dealt with, or the meter is not kept in proper order, as the case may be:

Provided, fourthly, that the licensee shall not be bound to furnish a supply of energy to any premises if an Electric Inspector or other competent person appointed by the Local Government is satisfied that the electric line, fittings, works and apparatus therein are not in good order and condition and are likely to affect injuriously the use of energy by the licensee or by other persons:

Provided, fifthly, that in the event of any alterations of, or additions to, any electric wires fittings, works or apparatus within such premises as aforesaid, all such alterations or additions shall be notified to the licensee by the owner or occupier before being connected to the source of supply, with a view to their being examined and tested: and

Provided, sixthly, that, in the event of any requisition being made for a supply of energy from any distributing main of which the licensee can prove, to the satisfaction of an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf,—

(a) that it is already loaded up to its full-current-carrying capacity, or

(b) that, in case of a larger amount of current being transmitted by it, the loss of pressure will seriously affect the efficiency of the supply to other consumers in the vicinity,

the licensee may refuse to accede to the requisition for such reasonable period, not exceeding six months, as such officer may think sufficient for the purpose of amending the distributing main or laying down a further distributing main,

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II.)

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the sufficiency of the security offered by such owner or occupier or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any wires, fittings, works or apparatus, or as to any alleged excess or defect in the pressure or quantity of the energy supplied, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government and either decided by it or, if the Local Government so directs, determined by arbitration.

(3) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

Supply for public lamps.

X. (1) Where a requisition is made by the Local Government or by a local authority requiring the licensee to supply for a period of not less than one year energy for any public lamps within the distance of one hundred yards from any distributing main in which the licensee is required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy for such lamps in such quantities as the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, may require.

(2) The provisions contained in the first, fourth, fifth and sixth provisos to sub-clause (1) and in sub-clause (2) of Clause IX shall, so far as may be, apply to every case in which a requisition for the supply of energy is made under this clause as if the Local Government or local authority were an owner or occupier within the meaning of those provisions.

Charges.

Methods of charging.

XI. In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the licensee may charge for energy supplied by him to any consumer—

(a) by the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(b) by the electrical quantity contained in the supply; or

(c) by such other method as may be approved by the Local Government:

Provided, first, that, where the licensee charges by any method so approved by the Local Government, any consumer who objects to that method may, by not less than one month's notice in writing, require the licensee to charge him, at the licensee's option, either by the actual amount of energy supplied to him or by the electrical quantity contained in the supply, and thereafter the licensee shall not, except with the consent of the consumer, charge him by another method:

Provided, secondly, that, before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the licensee shall give notice, by public advertisement, of the method by which he proposes to charge for energy so supplied; and, where the licensee has given such notice, he shall not be entitled to change that method of charging without giving not less than one month's notice in writing of such change to the Local Government, to the local authority (if any) concerned, and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by him from such distributing main:

Provided, thirdly, that, if the consumer is provided with a duly certified meter for the purposes of ascertaining the value of the supply and the licensee changes the method of charging for the energy supplied by him from the distributing main, the licensee shall bear the expense of providing a new duly certified meter if such is necessary for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to the new method of charging.

Maximum charges.

XII. The price charged by the licensee for energy supplied by him shall not exceed the maximum fixed by his license, or, in the case of a method of charge approved by the Local Government, such maximum as the Local Government shall fix on approving the method:

Provided that, if, at any time after the expiration of seven years from the commencement of the license, the Local Government considers or is satisfied that the maximum so fixed or approved as aforesaid should be altered, it may, after such inquiry (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order accordingly, which shall have effect from such date as may be mentioned therein:

Provided, also, that where an order in pursuance of the foregoing proviso has been made, no further order altering the maximum fixed thereby shall be made until the expiration of another period of seven years.

Charge for supply for public lamps.

XIII. The price to be charged by the licensee and to be paid to him for energy supplied for the public lamps, and the mode in which those charges are to be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the licensee and the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, and, where any difference or dispute arises the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

The Indian Electricity Act 1903.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II.)

Testing and inspection.

Licensee to establish testing station and keep instruments for testing.

XIV. The licensee shall, at any place within reasonable distance from any main, establish at his own cost and keep in proper condition such number of testing stations as the Local Government may direct for the purpose of testing the supply of energy in the main, and shall supply and keep in proper condition thereat, and on all premises from which he supplies energy, such instruments for testing as the Local Government may approve, and shall connect all such testing stations, by means of proper and sufficient electric supply-lines, with the distributing mains, and shall supply energy to each testing station for the purpose of testing.

Licensee to give facilities for testing.

XV. The licensee shall afford all facilities for inspection and testing of his generating, converting and testing stations and all other parts of his electric system and for the reading, testing and inspection of instruments.

Representation of licensee at testings.

XVI. The licensee may, on each occasion of the testing of any distributing main or electric supply-line or the testing or inspection of any instruments, be represented by an agent who may be present but shall not interfere with the testing or inspection.

Testing of mains.

XVII. On the occasion of the testing of any main of the licensee by an Electric Inspector, reasonable notice thereof shall be given to the licensee, and the testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of the Electric Inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the licensee, and in such manner as the Electric Inspector may think fit; but, except under the provisions of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government, the Electric Inspector shall not be entitled to have access to, or interfere with, the mains of the licensee at any points other than those at which the licensee has reserved for himself access to the same:

Provided that the licensee shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by or required by the Electric Inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid:

Provided, also, that the testing shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government.

Plans.

Plan of area of supply to be made and kept open for inspection.

XVIII. (1) The licensee shall, after commencing to supply energy, forthwith cause a plan to be made of the area of supply, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line and the height above or the depth below the surface of all his then existing mains, electric supply-lines, street distributing boxes and other works, and shall once in every year cause that plan to be duly corrected so as to show the mains, electric supply-lines, street distributing boxes and other works for the time being in existence. The licensee shall also, if so required by the Local Government, cause to be made sections showing the level of all his existing distributing mains and underground works other than service-lines.

(2) Every such plan shall be drawn to a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch or to such other scale as may be approved by the Local Government.

(3) Every such section shall be drawn to a horizontal scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch and to a vertical scale which shall not be smaller than eleven feet to an inch, or to such other horizontal and vertical scales as may be approved by the Local Government.

(4) Every plan and section so made or corrected, or a copy thereof, marked with the date when it was so made or corrected, shall be kept by the licensee at his principal office or place of business within the area of supply, and shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of all applicants, and copies thereof shall be supplied on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(5) The licensee shall, if required by the Local Government, or, where the licensee is not a local authority, by the local authority (if any) concerned, supply to the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, a copy of every such plan or section duly corrected so as to agree with the original kept at the principal office or place of business of the licensee.

Additional notice of certain works.

Notice to Electric Inspector.

XIX. On the day next preceding the commencement of any such works as are referred to in section 13 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1903, the licensee shall, in addition to any other notices which he may be required to give, serve upon the Electric Inspector or such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf for the area of supply a notice in writing stating that he is about to commence the works and the nature and position of the same.

RESOLUTION.

Rule 14 of Part II of the General Rules for open lines of railway promulgated under the Government of India circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, and published under this Department's notification No. 118, dated the 21st March 1895, declares certain goods, including any article which is an explosive as defined in section 4, clause (1), of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), to be "dangerous goods", while rule 16 (1) of those rules prescribes conditions as to the packing of such goods prior to their acceptance for carriage.

2. Capped safety cartridge cases are not specifically included in the said rules 14 and 16 (1), nor has any special provision been made for their packing or transport. Although such cartridge cases may be considered to be explosives, inasmuch as they contain percussion caps which are explosives, there is not the same risk involved in their conveyance as there would be in the carriage of percussion caps in bulk. It is accordingly considered that capped safety cartridge cases, if otherwise empty, should be exempted from the operation of the said rules.

(2) This section shall not take effect in any municipality until it has been specially applied thereto by the Local Government.

(1) Where the circumstances of any municipality are such that, in the opinion of the Local Government, any of the provisions of this Act are unsuited thereto, the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, except the municipality from the operation of those provisions; and thereupon those provisions shall not apply to the municipality until again applied thereto by a like notification.

(2) While the exception remains in force, the Local Government may make rules for the guidance of the committee and public officers in respect of the matters excepted from the operation of the said provisions.

(2) A local area in regard to which a notification has been issued under sub-section (1) is hereinafter called a "notified area".

(3) No local area shall be made a notified area if it contains more than ten thousand inhabitants according to the returns of the most recent official census, or unless it contains a town or bazar and is not a purely agricultural village.

(Chapter XI.—Small Towns—Sections 173-175.)

(b) apply or adapt to the notified area, for the assessment and recovery of any tax imposed under clause (a), any of the provisions of this Act, or of any rules for the time being in force, with respect to the assessment and recovery of any tax imposed under this Act;

(c) arrange for the due expenditure of the proceeds of taxes imposed under clause (a), and for the preparation and maintenance of proper accounts;

(d) appoint a committee of one or more persons for the purposes of clauses (b) and (c); and

(e) extend to any notified area the provisions of any section of this Act subject to such restrictions and modifications (if any) as the Local Government may think fit.

(2) The proceeds of any tax levied in any notified area under this section shall be expended only in some manner in which the municipal fund of such notified area might be expended if the notified area were a municipality.

Application of Act to notified areas.

173. Where any section of this Act is for the time being extended to a notified area under section 172, sub-section (1), the committee appointed for such notified area under section 172, shall be deemed to be a committee, and the notified area, a municipality, within the meaning of the section so extended.

Effect of cancellation of notification issued under section 171.

174. Where the Local Government cancels a notification published under section 171, the unexpended proceeds of any taxes levied in the local area to which the notification refers, under section 172, shall be applied for the benefit of the inhabitants of such area in such manner as the Local Government may think fit.

Repeals.

175. (1) The Central Provinces Municipal Act, 1889, and so much of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1891, as relates thereto, are hereby repealed.

[2.] XVIII of 1889. XII of 1891.

(2) But all municipalities declared, committees established, limits defined, appointments, rules, orders and by-laws made, notifications and notices issued, taxes and rates imposed, contracts entered into and suits instituted under the said Act, or under any enactment thereby repealed, shall, so far as may be, be deemed to have been respectively declared, established, defined, made, issued, imposed, entered into and instituted under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE main object of this Bill is to provide for the realisation of municipal taxes and to prevent the accrual of arrears. Certain changes have been made so as to legalize existing taxation, and the procedure for the imposition of taxes has been simplified. It is not considered necessary that rules for the assessment of taxes should be made by the Government. Such rules should form part of the proposals for taxation submitted by municipal committees, their validity being made to depend upon the sanction of the Local Government or of the Governor General in Council, as the case may be. Provisions have been inserted as to the assessment on Government houses or buildings and as to the amount of conservancy tax and water rates that may be collected. Express provisions have been added regarding the collection of taxes, the need for these having been strongly emphasized by complaints received from municipal committees as to their inability to prevent the accrual of arrears. Proposals for remedying this state of things by framing rules under the existing Act have been under consideration, but it is understood that no such action would be legally satisfactory.

2. Important additions have been proposed in order to provide for the suppression of disorderly houses and the prevention of solicitation for immoral purposes. The expediency of legislation on these subjects has been impressed upon the Local Government, not only by representations received from the military authorities, but by petitions submitted by residents and representative bodies in the city of Nagpur.

3. There is a general feeling in favour of legalizing the action generally taken for the destruction of stray dogs. Provision has been made for this, and an addition has been made under which, if it is deemed desirable, the imposition of a tax on dogs will be possible. The general introduction of such taxation is not contemplated, and, where it is introduced, it will probably be rather as a check on the practice of feeding ownerless pariah dogs than as a means of raising income.

4. The addition of Chapter XI, dealing with small towns, is important. The Central Provinces Village-sanitation Act, 1889 (XIX of 1889), is not unsuitable in the case of purely agricultural villages; but in small towns, in which there is a considerable body of the inhabitants supporting themselves by trade or handicraft, or the importance of which is due mainly to the holding of a weekly bazar, arrangements might more suitably be made for sanitation and public improvements by the introduction of taxation and the establishment of a small managing committee on the lines followed in municipal areas. The amendment of the Act above referred to is also in contemplation, but its provisions, even after amendment, will be more suited to agricultural villages, where the authority of the mukaddam and the panchayat is stronger, than in places where traders and handicraftsmen are in the majority.

5. Some changes in procedure have been suggested in order to provide for bringing certain classes of offenders more speedily to justice, and also for the composition of offences.

6. Various other amendments of minor importance have been made, and these are noticed in detail in the NOTES ON CLAUSES annexed.

DENZIL IBBETSON

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Chapter II.

To this chapter have been transferred the provisions regulating the constitution of municipalities which are out of place in a "preliminary" chapter. Following in the main the Burma Act, the draft gathers together all the provisions concerning the creation, alteration in limits, and abolition of municipalities. The material changes proposed are (1) the substitution of a period of six weeks for the unnecessarily long period of three months allowed by the present Act for objections, and (2) the avoidance of the need for the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council to the abolition of a municipality.

Chapter III.

Clause 9.—It is here proposed to introduce section 6 of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1891 (XX of 1891), and a provision has been added as to the resignation of a member.

Clause 10.—A slight alteration has been made by the omission of the provision rendering the transfer of property by a municipal committee subject to rules. The Burma provision appears simpler and has been adopted.

Clause 14.—This clause refers to the delegation of powers to Commissioners of divisions and is based upon section 41 of the Punjab Act. It is to be noted that the Bengal Act (section 20) gives to the Commissioner of the division power to remove municipal commissioners in certain cases of the kind falling under clauses (a) and (b) of section 10 of the present Central Provinces Act. The United Provinces and Punjab Acts do not provide for such a delegation of power. In cases falling under clauses (a) and (b) it will tend merely to diminish correspondence. Removal under clause (c) would be of rare occurrence; and power under it need not be delegated. Accordingly in the draft the words "appointment, resignation or removal" have been made use of, and a proviso has been added against the delegation of the power of removal.

Clause 21.—Section 17 (1) (d) of the present Act it is here proposed to amend so as to provide clearly for working through sub-committees. The expression "with the previous sanction of the Local Government" has been omitted, but the same matter has been reproduced in sub-clause (2). In the United Provinces confirmation by the Local Government is not needed under the Act. In the Punjab the Act requires the confirmation of by-laws on certain subjects only. The Burma Act requires confirmation in all cases, and for the sake of maintaining uniformity the Burma rule has been followed. The existing sub-section (2) has been omitted, as the power to attach a penalty to the breach of such by-laws is not needed.

To avoid the chance of any conflict of authority, the words "appointment, suspension, fining and removal" have been omitted in sub-clause (e), because these are matters in connection with which the Local Government is empowered to make rules.

The existing section 19, providing for the creation of a sub-committee for the management of a ward or wards, has been omitted. The object aimed at can apparently be reached by means of by-laws.

Clause 22.—This is similar to section 26 of the Punjab Act and has been added to meet the wishes of the Nagpur and Hoshangabad Committees. The object is to give a free hand to the president and vice-president in cases of emergency. This is at present done by means of by-laws, but they are of doubtful validity and are not found to work satisfactorily.

Clause 27.—It is proposed to amend section 22 of the present Act so as to give increased power to the Commissioner of the division to insist on efficiency in municipal employés. The Local Government attaches much importance to this provision.

Clause 29.—The existing provision is here altered so as to avoid the unnecessary application for the sanction of the Government to leave allowances and gratuities. The draft in this respect follows the Punjab, United Provinces and Burma Acts. The omission of the words "if he is not entitled to pension or" is in accordance with the United Provinces Act: their presence would seem to be calculated only to cause confusion. Sub-clause (ii), as drafted, puts it within the power of the Local Government to give general or special sanction to certain acts of committees. Though it is the almost invariable practice to require special sanction in such cases, circumstances may arise in which action should be taken in pursuance of a general sanction.

Clause 31.—The minimum value of contracts which must be in writing, has been raised from Rs. 20 to Rs. 50. Under the Burma Act the minimum fixed is Rs. 100, while in the Punjab it is Rs. 100 or Rs. 50, according to the class of municipality concerned.

Chapter IV.

Clause 35.—The draft proposes to allow a tax on dogs, following in this the law of the United Provinces, the Punjab and Burma. An amendment has been made in sub-clause (ix) removing the illegality of a private latrine-cess on all latrines irrespective of the agency by which they are cleansed. The word 'persons' has been substituted for 'dealers' in sub-clause (vii) as being more suitable.

Clause 36.—This clause is new and deals with the method of determining the gross annual letting value of houses for purposes of taxation. It has been inserted in order to avoid difficulties in assessing Government buildings, and is based on the United Provinces Municipalities Act, 1900 (U. P. Act I of 1900), section 3 (10) (c).

Clause 37.—Is also new and follows the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, sections 89 and 101.

Clause 38.—Is new and places a limitation on amount of conservancy and water taxes.

Clause 39.—A change of some importance is here proposed in connection with the procedure for imposing taxes. Under the existing law, the final introduction of a tax rests with the committee, after all the formalities of proposal and sanction have been gone through. The Burma Act is more practical and gives to the Local Government power to notify the imposition of the tax from a specified date; and this principle is followed in the draft. Paragraph (7) is intended to make it clear to what extent alterations in proposals submitted entail a reference back to the committee.

Clause 41.—The addition here proposed is made in deference to a suggestion put forward by the Hoshangabad Municipal Committee; and it is safeguarded by the fact that the approval of the Local Government will be a condition precedent to the exercise of the power of exempting from taxation any person or class of persons.

Clause 43.—Section 67 of the United Provinces Act, imposing the duty of furnishing true information regarding liability to taxation, is similar to section 55 of the Punjab Act; and the adoption of such a provision has been recommended.

Clause 44.—This clause is new and provides that interest at the rate of 12½ per centum per annum may be charged on arrears of taxes at discretion of magistrate, together with court fees or the prescribed process fees. It is very desirable that there should be such a provision, although it will not be used except in case of necessity.

An alteration in the present section 35 is proposed so as to provide for the recovery of penalties and process-fees; also for recovery beyond jurisdiction.

Clause 45.—This provision as to the charging of fees is taken from the Bombay Act. It is likely to be of use in bringing in income and checking frivolous applications.

Clauses 46—48.—The experiment has been tried of leaving the subject of appeals against taxation to be dealt with by rules, but it has not been found satisfactory. It is, therefore, thought desirable to apply the law on the subject which obtains in other Provinces. The sections of the Punjab Act dealing with it have been taken with slight alterations as being most suited to the requirements of the Central Provinces.

Clause 50.—A change is proposed in paragraph (2), sub-clause (l), regarding the application of municipal funds, so as to bring the law into line with the United Provinces, the Punjab and the Burma Acts. The want of such a provision has been felt on several occasions.

Chapter VI.

Clause 66.—As regards the power to regulate new buildings, the United Provinces Act has been followed. Notice should be given in every municipality, however small it may be, of the erection of any building abutting on the main street or on a public place, and for this no rule is needed. Except in the case of such buildings, notice is not required unless it has been made compulsory by a by-law for the particular municipality concerned.

The submission of a plan is not always required, but the committee should have power to call for one.

The effect of negligence or delay on the part of a committee in dealing with these applications is set forth, and the effect of failure to act within a reasonable time on permission granted is also stated. A penalty is provided in connection with the power to require alteration or demolition. Clause 105 (r) (n) of the draft proposes to give the committee power to frame by-laws for the regulation of building.

Clause 68.—The Burma Act exempts Government buildings from the operation of sections regarding buildings. The United Provinces and Punjab Acts have no such provision; but it is considered desirable that the Burma provision should be adopted.

Clause 73.—Provision for the disposal of the dead bodies of animals is needed. It is also proposed to legalize the levy of fees for the removal of dead animals under the authority of the committee.

Clause 83—The necessity for power to search for inflammable material has been urged by the Hoshangabad Municipal Committee. There is a similar provision in the Punjab Act.

Clause 87.—An addition is here proposed with a view to enabling a committee to require persons to connect their drains with public drains. The careful exercise of this power will be safeguarded by the appealability of the order under clause 163.

Clause 101.—Power to control milkmen and others is much needed. The adoption of section 263 of the Bengal Act will in some measure meet this want.

Clause 102.—Power is needed to regulate the sale and manner of transport of meat. The introduction of by-laws on the subject is limited by the clause which requires confirmation by the Local Government.

Clause 103.—The introduction of the United Provinces provision for dealing with stray dogs is generally desired.

Clause 105.—Most of the changes made in the existing provision are formal. The words "at a special meeting" have been omitted, as in the United Provinces and Punjab Acts. The safeguard of previous publication and sanction by the Local Government will, it is considered, be sufficient. The additions explain themselves, but it may be observed that paragraph (1), sub-clause (p), is directed against the generally experienced nuisance of milkmen allowing their cattle to roam about at night grazing in private gardens.

Chapter VII.

Clauses 109—142.—The changes proposed in the penalty clauses are not numerous. Provision has been made—clause 114—for observance of the rule of the road. Clause 131 is new, to match the provisions introduced by clause 73; and clause 140 deals, on the lines of other recent legislation, with solicitation for the purposes of prostitution and immorality.

Chapter VIII.

This chapter is new, following the United Provinces and Punjab Acts. No portion of it is to be applicable without special extension at the request of the committee concerned.

Chapter IX.

Clause 152.—Little change has been made, except with regard to the incorporation of the matters referred to in section 7 of the present Act. Clause (d) of the existing section 129 (1) has been reproduced in altered shape as sub-clause (e) in paragraph (1), clause (f) has been omitted as superfluous; and the draft from 'sub-clause (e) onwards gives the combined effect of the Burma Act and the present Act.

In sub-clause (a) all reference to assessment and the prevention of evasion has been omitted. The provisions of the present Act, in so far as they give the Local Government power to make rules for the assessment and collection of taxes and for preventing evasion of the same, are merely a source of confusion. A reference to clause 39 will show that it is contemplated that a committee's proposals should embrace the system of assessment and, apart from such proposals, no separate rules for the prevention of evasion seem to be needed. The provisions which have been added in clause 44 render the existence of a special power on the part of the Local Government to frame rules to prevent evasion unnecessary.

The omission of the existing clauses (b) and (c) is on the lines of the Burma Act, and it is to be noted that no rules under clause (c) seem ever to have been made. The terms of the proposed sub-clause (h) and the words added to paragraph (1) on the lines of the existing clause (m) would cover any provisions in the Municipal Account Rules purporting to be framed under sub-clause (b). It is not desirable to multiply these sub-clauses so as to make an exhaustive enumeration. Sub-clauses (i), (k) and (l) are new. Their inclusion is necessitated by the addition of new provisions on the subjects to which they relate. Sub-section (2) of section 129 of the present Act has been omitted: no penalty clause is needed for rules framed by the Local Government under this provision.

Chapter X.

This chapter contains provisions for which no suitable place has been found elsewhere in the Bill. They are for the most part old. The provision for the suppression of brothels is new and has been introduced in response to various petitions and representations received. Where provisions in the present Act, which formerly found a place among supplemental provisions, appear no longer, it will be found in almost every instance that they have been transposed to some other part of the Bill. The second part of the existing section 144 has, however, been omitted as unnecessary: the first has become clause 11

Clause 155.—This clause is, in substance, similar to the present section 88, but the drafting follows that of section 147 of the Punjab Act, which appears more suitable.

Clauses 160 to 162.—The provisions as to information of offences, arrest and the compounding of offences are borrowed mainly from the Burma Act. Some such provisions are much needed.

Clause 163.—The number of appealable orders has been increased.

Clause 164.—Express provision has been made as to the admissibility and finality of appeals.

Clause 169.—It is considered expedient to limit this clause to municipalities to which it is specially applied by the Local Government.

Chapter XI.

The need for these provisions, which are to be found in the law of the United Provinces, the Punjab and Burma, has been referred to in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. Proposals for the withdrawal of the Municipal Act from several small municipalities have been sanctioned by the Government of India, and there are other villages still under it to which the provisions as to notified areas might usefully be applied.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 12th March 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The unsettled and disturbed weather which appeared over Northern India last week has continued during the week under review. At the commencement of the week a storm was shown over the East Punjab and light snow was falling in Kashmir. At the same time showery weather was reported from North-East India and light rain had fallen at Silchar, Narayanganj, Burdwan and Darbhanga. Showery weather continued over parts of Northern India on the 7th, but on the following day rain practically ceased. The reports of the 9th showed very showery weather in Assam and Bengal, the heaviest rainfall in this area having been 0·87 inch at Mymensingh. They likewise showed a rapid fall of the barometer in Baluchistan and the advance of unsettled weather from Persia to North-West India. Both at Quetta and Chaman rain had been received. On the 10th the weather was disturbed all over Baluchistan, the extreme north-west of India and Kashmir, the heaviest falls of rain and snow having been 1·50 inches at Quetta and 1·03 inches at Chaman. By the 11th the disturbed weather had advanced as far east as Delhi, the heaviest falls of rain having been 2 inches at Cherat, 1·52 inches at Peshawar, 1 inch at Quetta and 0·88 inch at Rawalpindi. The reports of the 12th showed that unsettled conditions had extended as far east as Darbhanga and Benares, and that the rainfall was general over the Punjab and scattered over the United Provinces and the Central India Plateau. The largest amounts reported were 1·55 inches at Srinagar, about 1 inch at Sialkot, Rawalpindi, Murree and Cherat, and about 0·50 inch at Ludhiana, Chakrata, Peshawar, Khushab and Veraval.

The following table shows that rainfall, averaging more than 0·10 inch in amount was received during the week over Bengal, the Burdwan sub-division, the West Himalayas, the Lahore sub-division, the North-West Dry Area, Baluchistan and the Rajkot sub-division. The average actual rainfall ranged from 2·61 inches in Baluchistan and 1 inch in the Simla sub-division to 0·15 inch in the Rajkot sub-division. Over the Peninsula the weather was fine during the week, but over the central parts of the country, the East Himalayas and Burma it was feebly disturbed and showery. Though the total rainfall of the week was practically nil, the week's rainfall was slightly to largely in excess of the normal over a large part of North-West India and was very heavy in Baluchistan. This heavy rainfall in the north-west has reduced the deficiency in the seasonal variation considerably, but otherwise there has been no important change in the seasonal condition.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 7th March, 1903.

Madras.—No rain. Water for irrigation is insufficient in parts of Ganjam, the Deccan, North Arcot and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have risen in the south, the Nilgiris and parts of the Carnatic, but are stationary or have fallen elsewhere.

Bombay.—Very slight rain fell during the week in parts of Larkana and Belgaum. Rain is needed in parts of the Upper Sindh Frontier. The standing crops have been damaged by insects in parts of Surat, by blight in parts of Poona and by locusts or frost in parts of Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Ahmedabad. They are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Sukkur, Larkana, Hyderabad and Nasik and are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops is almost over in Sholapur and continues in parts of Khandesh and Dharwar. Threshing has been completed in the Upper Sindh Frontier and Ahmednagar, is almost over in Colaba and continues in parts of Larkana, Nasik, Poona and Dharwar. The harvesting of spring crops is generally progressing in the Presidency proper and in parts of Hyderabad and Thar and Parkar. Threshing has commenced in Ahmednagar, Poona, and Satara. The cotton crop has been slightly damaged in parts of Ahmedabad, Surat and Dharwar and is generally in fair condition elsewhere. Picking continues in parts of Broach, Surat, the Carnatic and Baroda. The collection of materials for manure is almost completed in Ratnagiri and continues in parts of Thana, Colaba and Nasik. Lands are being prepared for next season's sowings in parts of Thana, Colaba, Nasik, Satara, Belgaum and Rajkot. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and generally sufficient. The water supply is deficient in parts of Bijapur. Prices have fallen in six districts and are stationary elsewhere.

Bengal.—Rain fell during the week in every district except Bankura, Howrah, Chittagong, Champaran, Malda, Cuttack, Angul, Puri, and Singhbhum. The fall was generally light. More rain is wanted in Howrah, Rangpur, Mymensingh, Tippera, Purnea and Malda. Poppy has been slightly damaged by a hail storm in Monghyr. Damage due to insects is reported from Murshidabad and Palamau. Prospects are otherwise good. The harvesting of spring crops, pressing of sugarcane and the preparation of lands for early rice and jute continue. The price of common rice has risen in 11 districts, has fallen in 9 and is stationary in the rest.

United Provinces.—Slight rain fell in fourteen districts. The standing crops continue in good condition and harvesting and sugarcane pressing are in progress. Extra crops are being sown and sugarcane planted in some districts. The poppy crop is good, and the extraction of opium is now generally in progress. Supplies are adequate, but fodder is reported to be insufficient in Hardoi and Lucknow. Prices are stationary.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of the Amballa, Jullundur, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur and Rawalpindi districts. The price of wheat is slightly falling in Delhi and Rawal-Pindi and is slightly rising in Ferozepore. The prices of other food grains remain generally unchanged. Ploughing for autumn crops and sowing of extra spring crops have commenced in some districts. Sugarcane is being pressed in Lahore. The condition and prospects of standing crops are generally good on irrigated lands. The crops on unirrigated lands are withering for want of rain in most districts. Rain is badly wanted throughout the province. Caterpillars and insects are still damaging the crops in parts of Ferozepore. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, Mooltan, and parts of Ferozepore and Shahpur.

North-West Frontier Province.—The rainfall was 9 cents at Dera Ismail Khan and 35 cents at Hazara, and an average of 23 cents is reported from Peshawar where it is still raining. The prospects of wheat have much improved except in Dera Ismail Khan where more rain is badly wanted. A slight fall of hail is reported from the Nowshera tahsil of Peshawar. Fodder is procurable but scarce in Dera Ismail Khan. Canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices are steady in Peshawar but rising in Dera Ismail Khan.

Burma.—Slight rain fell in two districts. Winnowing of paddy still continues in two districts in Lower Burma. In Upper Burma the pulse crops are being harvested.

Transplanting of dry weather paddy still continues in parts. Hill-side clearings and ploughing for early wet weather paddy have been commenced here and there. The dry weather paddy crop promises well, and the miscellaneous pulse and other crops are average except on the mainland in Mandalay and the Seikpyu township of Pakokku. The price of paddy has risen in Magwe, is rising in Rangoon and Prome, and has fallen in Amherst.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been occasionally cloudy but there has been no rain. The harvesting of winter crops is in full swing and the outturns are generally good. Caterpillars continue to cause some damage to gram in the Jubbulpore district. Some damage by hail is also reported from the Dindori tahsil of the Mandla district. In Narsinghpur a full outturn of wheat is anticipated, and for other crops the yields are but little below the average. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices show a tendency to fall in the Damoh, Jubbulpore and Hoshangabad districts. The price of rice has again risen in Chanda and Balaghat to 10 seers to the rupee. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 18, gram 26, rice 16½ and juar 33. The highest prices are—wheat 10, gram 12, rice 8, and juar 18½. The numbers on relief works were as follows:—Relief workers—Public Works Department—Raipur:—adults 21,208; children 3,490; total 24,698. Gratuitous relief—otherwise relieved—Raipur:—adults 7,236; children 2,403; total 9,639; Bhandara:—adults 313; children 44; total 357; Bilaspur:—adults 297; children 61; total 358: total gratuitous relief 10,354. Dependants—Raipur:—adults 13; children 1,703; total 1,716. Poor-houses—Raipur:—adults 23; children 34; total 57. Total on all forms of relief, 36,825.

Assam.—The weather is seasonable. Moderate rain has fallen in Cachar and light rain in other districts except Goalpara and Sibsagar. Ploughing for rice has been facilitated by rain in Sylhet. More rain is wanted in Kamrup. Hoeing and pruning of tea, pressing of sugarcane and ploughing for rice and jute are in progress. The gathering of mustard has been finished in Cachar and has been nearly finished in most other districts. Its outturn is poor, but the area sown is larger than average. The gathering of pulse and linseed has been nearly finished in Sylhet. The outturn of linseed is fair and of pulse bad. The outturn of sugarcane is good in Lakhimpur, bad in Cachar, Kamrup and Nowgong, and fair in other districts. Fodder is insufficient in Goalpara, the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Water is scarce in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Sylhet and Tezpur 14, Gauhati 13, Dhubri and Sibsagar 12, and Nowgong and Dibrugarh 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices have fallen generally. Water and fodder are sufficient except in parts of Tumkur.

Coorg.—Threshing of ragi continues. Prices of food grains are normal. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is hot during the day and cool at night. The harvesting of winter crops is in progress. Land is being prepared for monsoon crops. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are almost stationery.

Hyderabad.—No rain fell during the week. Harvesting of spring crops continues and in some taluks they are approaching completion. Winter rice sowings are practically completed. The standing crops are in fairly good condition. Prices:—wheat 8¾, coarse rice 9, jawari 27 seers per halli sicca rupee.

Rajputana.—Rainfall nil. Spring cultivation is in progress. The standing crops are reported not good in Bikanir for want of rain. They are fair in Jaisalmer, Sirohi, Kishengarh and Ajmer-Merwara, and good elsewhere. Unirrigated crops have withered for want of rain in Alwar. Rats are damaging crops in parts of Kotah. The condition of cotton is good generally. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grain in seers per rupee was—Bundi 36$\frac{9}{16}$ and the highest—Sirohi 14.

Central India.—No rain fell in Central India during the week. Agricultural operations have been completed in Gwalior and are in progress elsewhere. Crops are fair in Baghelkhand and Indore and are good elsewhere. They have been slightly damaged by rats in the Indore district. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good except in Bhopawar. Prices are steady in Gwalior, normal in Bhopal, Bundelkhand and are low in Malwa. Average prices—25¾ to 35¼ in Gwalior; 33¾ in Bhopal; 21 to 28 in Bundelkhand; 31½ in Malwa; 33 to 40 in Bhopawar and 9½ to 34 in Indore. Opium is good in Gwalior, Malwa, Bhopawar and Indore and fair in Bhopal.

Kashmir.—The weather is cloudy, rainy and chilly. Prices are stationary. JAMMU.—There was good rain. The condition of the standing crops is generally fair but is poor in the Kandi tracts. Fodder is insufficient in certain parts. The rain is very beneficial to standing crops. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat sells from 12 to 24, and maize from 20 to 30 seers the rupee.

Nepal.—Rain fall 0·14. The weather is cloudy and cold. The price of rice is 8 seers for the rupee.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

REPORT ON THE TRADE VIA LADAKH, BETWEEN INDIA AND CHINESE AND RUSSIAN TURKISTAN, DURING THE YEAR ENDING ON THE 31ST MARCH 1902.

An examination of the Leh office Trade Statistics for 1900-1901 would show that in that year, the total value of the trade carried on, viâ Ladakh, between India and Yarkand, had increased by about 1¼ lakh of rupees as compared with the previous twelve months. This result is probably more apparent than real, and seems to be due to the enumeration, in the list of exports from Turkistan, of Russian notes and specie which, in 1900-1901, were valued at nearly 4 lakhs of rupees, and of mules and ponies valued at about R53,000, whilst Russian notes and specie, mules and ponies had been omitted in the previous year's (1899-1900) list, although they were then largely exported, and must have attained to a value far above 1¼ lakh of rupees.

2. If this be so, 1900-19 01 trade (imports and expotts considered together) should in reality have been smaller than that of the preceding year, and, indeed, the smallest, possibly, since the period of depression which began in 1895-1896.

3. But there can be no doubt that a turning point was reached in the year now under review. Both exports to, and, especially, imports from, India have expanded. This improvement has not been a surprise to traders, indeed it was foreshadowed in paragraph 11 of this office Trade Report for 1900-1901, and probably the causes for it were chiefly those then mentioned, namely (a) the profitable remittance to India, throughout 1900-1901, of Russian notes and specie, the value of which returned in the present year to this country in the form of merchandise, and (b) the activity of the charas market in India in 1900-1901, when all the drug received was quickly absorbed, realizing prices sometimes as high as R150 a maund.

4. The present year's imports, taken as a whole, will not, unlikely, show an increased value of from 40 to 60 per cent., in comparison with the previous year's.

5. For purposes of analysis, imports may be roughly divided off into three large groups, viz., (a) English, (b) European Continental, and (c) Asiatic and especially Indian.

6. English goods are now restricted to manufactured cottons, in the form of muslins, handkerchiefs and such materials as are known under the Indian names of dhoti, nainu, sainu, doublezin, nainsuk, alwan, khesi, etc. In chintz, the demand for which is practically unlimited, because it is used by the natives in every day clothing, we have had to cede the place to Russia, whose factories have obtained the monopoly of supplying Turkistan with that class of goods. In long cloth, the competition with Russia is still being carried on with various fortunes. Despite everything it is satisfactory to note that, in the general expansion of trade, English cottons have maintained their proportionate part, which during the last five years should have been about 48 per cent. of the total value of the imports. In former years, however, this proportionate part was higher.

7. Imports of European Continental origin consist chiefly of coral from Italy, and of velvet, broad cloth and certain miscellaneous (such as knives, mirrors, needles, buttons, etc., which the natives designate under the name of Miniari)—all from Germany. The coral that reached Yarkand in 1901-1902 should have been considerably in excess of the import of the previous year. The demand for this commodity is small in Kashgaria, but is very great in Russian Turkistan, whither, despite the heavy duty of 4·7 roubles per lb charged by the Russian customs in Kashgar, not less than R1,00,000 worth of coral is said to have been exported within the last six months. Italy's share in the total import trade may be reckoned as about 12 per cent.

8. The trade in German goods, which consist chiefly of velvet, appears to have had a steady expansion within the last five or six years, and at present, in 1901-1902, it should have reached the respectable dimension represented by a lakh of rupees, which traders estimate as about 10 per cent. of the value of the total import. A few years ago, however, Germany's trade was far from attaining so significant a percentage.

9. As regards imports of Asiatic and especially Indian origin a notable increase will probably be found in indigo, spices, lungis and Surat brocades. Otter skins will also doubtless show an advance, but in a manner less pronounced, probably owing to the fact that otter fur hats have somewhat gone out of fashion with Turki women.

10. The import of goat skins from the Punjab seems to have lost in lucrativeness in late years, by reason that the natives in Yarkand and Kashgar have now themselves learned the art of tanning.

11. The trade in Indian tea during 1901-1902 does not strike one as having made any special progress—at least, if any has been made, it does not appear to have been proportionate to the general expansion of imports. This slackness is the more extraordinary because, as explained in this office 1900-1901 Trade Report, the quantity of Chinese tea, on account of transport difficulties in Kansu, has been diminishing in the market here, resulting in a gradual rise in price. The Indian tea brought to Yarkand last autumn consisted mainly of the three following sorts:—

"Green"—forming about ¾ of total import. Price at Palampur about 7½ annas a seer. All obtained from native gardens.

"Bohea"—forming about ⅛ of total import. Price at Palampur about 4 annas a seer. All obtained from native gardens.

"Black"—forming about ⅛ of total import. Price at Palampur about 6½ annas a seer. Partly from native, and partly from European, gardens.

It may be noted from the above that whatever be the trade in Indian tea with this country, it is almost exclusively in the hands of native growers, the European planters of the Indian Tea Association having apparently only had an infinitesimal share in it.

Regarding the present demand for Indian tea, the following information given by traders may be of interest. The "Green" tea is mostly taken by the Chinese, and penetrates to regions as distant as Kuchar and Ili. This preparation is not in special request with the natives of Turkistan, who prefer the Chinese brick tea. Since, however, the latter has risen in price by reason of diminished supply, Indian "Bohea" has gained somewhat in favour in Yarkand, where it is said a few Tunganis buy it up secretly, and mould it into bricks for native consumption. The reason why the "brick" form is adhered to is that the people are accustomed to it, and that it permits of adulteration.

A few maunds of Chinese tea, received viâ Bombay, came to Yarkand in the year under notice. The importation of this tea, though never large, has been a persistent feature in the Indo-Yarkand trade during at least the last decade. One cannot help remarking the sense of irony in the fact that, whilst our planters are trying to gain a market in these parts for their tea by competing with Chinese growers, our own traders should, all the while, assist the latter by importing the Chinese production.

12. The trade under the heading of "Asiatic and especially Indian" may be put down as 30 per cent. of the total import.

13. Turning to the exports to India, we will undoubtedly find that the amount of charas despatched from Yarkand in 1901-1902 was considerably greater than that of the previous year. This increase is due less to cheapness in Yarkand than to good prices in India.

14. The trade in carpets and namdahs seems to have remained stationary. These goods are largely exported to Russia, and owing to the demand in that country, their prices here have doubled within the last four or five years.

15. There were, until lately, signs of a growing trade between Yarkand and Ladakh in a native crimson cotton cloth known as "chakman"—much in request amongst the lamas. In consequence, however, of high prices obtained for this material in Yarkand, caused by the recent phenominal export of cotton to Russia, the carriage to Ladakh of "chakman" cloth received a sudden check in the year under report.

16. Pashm will probably show a falling off, and there is no hope of future expansion for the trade in this wool, and this not so much because pashm has locally advanced in price, as because its demand has decreased in Kashmir, where the shawl industry has lost something of its former importance.

17. The prospects of Khotan raw silk are, however, rather encouraging. The export to Ladakh in the year under review should show an increase as compared with the previous twelve months. The 1901-1902 export, considerable as it was, does not appear to have raised Khotan prices, and there is no reason to suppose that that year's rate of export would not be maintained in future, provided always that the demand in India did not fall.

18. The mule trade seems to have receded as compared with 1900-1901. Owing to the difficulty experienced in the search for mules and to the cost of their feed, this class of export has never gained favour with traders who, generally speaking, will have little or nothing to do with it, so long as they can transfer their capital to India in goods of a less inconvenient nature, such as charas and raw silk.

19. Amongst the exports, Russian notes and specie have for the last three years been playing a rôle as marked as it has been beneficial to our trade. The goods imported to Yarkand invariably exceed in value the goods exported therefrom to India; and the equalization of the trade in both directions cannot take place without the remittance of treasure from Yarkand to India; but owing to causes traceable to the artificially enhanced value of the rupee, Chinese silver can no longer be profitably sent. A piece of this silver of the weight of one yambu would exchange in India now for about Rs. 110; but the same silver would buy 94 roubles in Kashgar; and 94 roubles, in their turn, would exchange in India for Rs. 146. Hence a value represented by a yambu of silver, remitted to India through the medium of roubles, would exchange by Rs. 36, more than if it was remitted in silver. Traders estimate that about 2½ lakh rupees worth of roubles were sent in the year under report. This should be somewhat less than the remittance of the previous twelve months. The falling off being due to the increased export of charas and silk, may be regarded as a not unhealthy sign for the trade.

20. Marked as is the upward movement that has taken place in the 1901-1902 trade, yet it is doubtful that this movement will be sustained in the next year. The matter is very intimately associated with the two following conditions of things. First, the way in which the 1901-1902 charas, the export of which was unusually large, will eventually sell in India. Already it is reported that the charas market there has become flat again, and this is re-acting on traders in Yarkand, who at present show no special eagerness to convert their Indian goods into money, in order to lay in, immediately, a large stock of charas for export in the coming season. Then there is the rouble question. The present price of the rouble in Kashgar, which is about nine tengas, would not be unfavourable to the remittance of Russian notes and specie to India, should the export of charas and raw silk be found unremunerative. But it is impossible to say what will be the tenga value of the rouble a few months hence, especially as the Russo-Chinese Bank in Kashgar is importing silver, and is endeavouring to gain a control over the Chinese minting operations.

21. Our trade, via Kashgaria, with Russian Turkistan may be dismissed with a very few remarks. Throughout 1901-1902 India received, as has already been said, about 2½ lakh rupees worth of Russian notes and specie. Some pony loads of Russian cotton goods, no doubt, found their way, through Sarikol, to Hunza and Gilgit; and about Rs. 1,500 worth of a cloth known as "shaitan teri" was exported to Ladakh.

Russia, in her turn, received from us about one lakh of rupees worth of Italian coral, on which her custom house at Kashgar is said to have taken duties equivalent to Rs. 40,000.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

LADAKH TRADE REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH 1902.

In last year's report two returns were given, in the first of which were shown—

(a) Imports from India—(i) viâ Lahoul, (ii) viâ Kashmir.

(b) Imports from Turkistan and Chang Tang (Tibet).

These were totalled and considered as "Imports."

Again in the second return were shown—

(c) Exports to India—(i) viâ Lahoul, (ii) viâ Kashmir.

(d) Exports from Ladakh to Turkistan and Chang Tang (Tibet).

These were totalled together and treated as "Exports." I understand that a report is required of the actual trade passing between British India and Central Asia, and it appears to me that the above method is most misleading. Though, doubtless, a considerable amount of merchandise actually changes hands in Leh, it is in itself merely a small village which chance and geographical position have made a convenient spot for registration. What comes into it from either direction mostly goes out again in the other without delay. It is not the central market of an extensive intervening country lying between India and Central Asia, the imports and exports of which are required to be separately registered; it is practically a mere registering "douane" established on an imaginary border between two countries. For this reason I would treat (a) above, "Imports from India", as in reality "Exports from India to Central Asia" and (b), i.e., "Imports from Turkistan and Tibet", as true "Imports from Central Asia to India." Thus the two tables of the first return would approximately give the whole of the statistics required. However, turning to the second return, it is true that under certain headings there is some discrepancy between that which enters and that which leaves Leh in either direction. This is due chiefly to local consumption in and around Ladakh, Baltistan and Chang Tang, and other reasons which I will notice below.

2. In consideration of these objections to the old returns, I have adopted the following forms:—

TABLE I.—Imports sub-divided into—

A. Imports from Central Asia into Leh (Ladakh).

B. Imports from (Leh) Ladakh into British India.

TABLE II.—Exports sub-divided into—

A. Exports to Ladakh from British India.

B. Exports to Central Asia from Ladakh (Leh).

To show the amounts of the discrepancies referred to above, I have, in tables I and II respectively, balanced A against B, these balances showing the amounts of imports and exports which do not apparently pass through, but which are disposed of in the surrounding districts of Ladakh or, in a very small degree, remain stored in Leh awaiting a good market either in Yarkand, Tibet or India, as the case may be.

3. Taking the tables IA [old (b)] and IIA [old (a)] as practically representing the whole of the actual imports and exports between India and Central Asia, the value of the trade during the year under report amounted to:—

IA. Imports	12,80,668
IIA. Exports	13,14,149
TOTAL	25,94,817

against last year's

Imports (b)	10,95,293*
Exports (a)	9,91,347
TOTAL	20,86,640

showing an increase of R5,08,177 or 24 per cent. during the year 1901-02 over the figures of 1900-01. For the purpose of comparing actual figures, as previously reported, with those of the present year, we must take the total of all four tables, I A and I B and II A and B, viz. :—

* This was not totalled in the last year's report: it consists of the totals of Imports from Turkistan and imports from Chang Tang (Tibet).

	R
I A	12,80,668
I B	11,74,462
II A	13,14,149
II B	10,93,256
TOTAL	48,62,535
Against last year's	39,00,000

which again shows a nett increase of a little over 24 per cent. Looking at this result, it may be said that there is little or no difference as to which method of return is followed, but I venture to think that, for the purpose of general comparison of the trade with that in other parts of the country, the single record will be more satisfactory

4. Reviewing the figures as given in tables IA and IIA, we find that the value of exports for 1901-02 exceeds the value of imports by a sum of R33,480, in spite of the fact that nearly four lakhs of the latter consists of Russian coins and notes. During the year 1900-01 the imports exceeded the exports by R1,03,946, some R4,70,000 of gold coins and notes forming part of the imports.

Of the total increase in the value of trade, viz., R5,08,177 given in the last paragraph, a sum of R1,85,375 belongs to imports, and the balance R3,22,802 to exports. The increase of R1,85,375 in imports represents the difference between an increase of R2,13,845 in imports from Turkistan, and a decrease of R28,470 in imports from Tibet (Chang Tang). The increase in exports has been uniform.

5. Wth regard to exports the chief articles in which an increase has occurred are—

	Increase. R
Indigo about	76,500
Skins (various) about	40,000
Coral about	1,03,000
Silk (manufactured), European, about	20,000
Silk (manufactured), Indian, about	44,000
Spices about	26,000
Tea (Chinese viâ Bombay and India) about	16,000

As against the above we find decreases under—

	Decrease. R
Cotton, manufactured (European)	47,000
Turquoises	0,000
Leather (unmanufactured)	44,000
Miscellaneous metal goods	11,865

The increase in the export of indigo, coral and spices in one year is surprising; but it can hardly be hoped that such progress can be maintained in the future. It is said to be largely due to the great import of charas exciting the traffic in both directions, indigo and coral being especially selected for countervailing export, owing to the exceptionally favourable prices obtainable in Yarkand. The rise under coral is especially gratifying, as there were indications during 1900-01 that this trade was likely to be transferred from the Indian route to that overland through Russian Turkistan.

Of the increase amounting to R16,000 in the value of tea exported from India, R6,000 refers to the ordinary green and black teas from the native gardens round Palampur, and the remaining 10,000 to Chinese teas exported through Bombay. The former shows a rise of about 12 per cent., and, I fear, does little to indicate improved prospects of putting Indian tea on Central Asian markets. My experience on the Sikkim side of Tibet was in this respect the same as here. Indian teas are generally unpopular among Tibetans and other Central Asian peoples. Until an altogether different article can be produced more in conformity with Chinese brick tea, traffic in Indian teas will make no considerable advance. On the other hand, though the total figures are still on a small scale, the increase in export of Chinese tea viâ Bombay, amounting to 270 per cent., is significant and interesting. It is probably due to the recently diminished supply of Chinese brick tea brought overland to Yarkand. If present difficulties in bringing this tea overland continue, it seems probable that the supply viâ Bombay will become an important item in the trade viâ Ladakh.

The decline in the export of leather is due to the introduction of the art of tanning in Yarkand : it is probable that the export of this article will cease altogether. On the other hand, there has been a rise in the export of skins, chiefly otter, for which there appears to be a steady demand.

6. Turning to "Imports", the chief headings showing an advance are—

	Increase. R
Charas about	3,00,000
Raw silk about	1,20,000

On the other hand, there was a decline of about 1,00,000 in gold dust and gold, and of 19,000 under namdahs. Though Russian gold coins show an increase of 1½ lakhs, when these are taken together with Russian and silver specie, there is a nett fall of 1,73,000 of treasure.

The continued large increase in import of charas forms the chief feature in the trade transactions of the year. It will be noticed that not only has the moundage carried risen by 63 per cent., but the average price in the Leh bazar has advanced from R35 per maund during 1900-01 to R86 per maund during the past year. The great activity in the traffic in this article during the past two years is undoubtedly due to the exceptionally high prices and great demand in the Indian markets. There are, however, already signs of a decline. The drug fetched R100 a maund in May 1901, and only R82 a maund in December 1901, in the Leh market. Most of the merchants I have met seem to anticipate a continual fall during the present year, and there seem to be decided indications that the Indian markets are becoming overstocked.

The rise in the import of raw silk is one of the most hopeful features of the year's trade, and those engaged in carrying it seem to hope the progress may continue.

The large sum of 3½ lakhs carried to India in the form of Russian roubles must be due to the favourable exchange value obtainable, as compared with silver, thus rendering them the most suitable medium for balancing the difference of value between ordinary exports and Imports.

Mr. Macartney has explained this fully though even his anticipations as to the amount exported were exceeded.

The nett fall under notes and specie is probably due to the great increase in the import of charas and silk making a smaller sum necessary to adjust the balance of trade.

9. Though the results of the year are, on the whole, decidedly satisfactory, it would, I think, be premature to hope that we are entering on a period of great prosperity, and that we may shortly attain to the flourishing conditions prevailing in 1894-96.

The statistics of the past five years show that the general activity of trade is to a great extent governed by the traffic in charas. It is difficult to anticipate the future of this; but, as already noted, at the present moment it shows a decided decline. In the matter of exports of English cotton and manufactured goods, Russian competition becomes keener year by year. As an old merchant remarked to me the other day, "We have no chance against them (the Russians). As soon as any cloth or foreign thing imported by us becomes popular in Yarkand or Turkistan, they send agents who take samples, and they quickly copy them in their own factories, and, of course, can undersell us by reason of distance."

The Yarkand and Indian traders continue to make complaints in regard to the old question of drawbacks so frequently referred to by Mr. Macartney and my predecessors. In reply to the remark made by Colonel Deane (in his letter to the Government of India of last year forwarding the annual trade reports) to the effect that "the remedy would seem to lie with the traders", the merchants say that in the export of the larger part of European merchandise they can only obtain the benefit of drawback on consignments of such weight and bulk that, when brought to Rawal Pindi or Sultanpur, they cannot be carried further on animal transport. In order to make suitable loads they must break the seals and thus lose their drawback. They also urge that the trade with Central Asia is fitful and fluctuating, and the time within which news of such fluctuations can be obtained is so great, further, that the routes over which goods have to be carried are so distant, that wholesale purchases from Europe must always be extremely speculative and risky. For these reasons any individual trader will prefer to invest his capital in purchases in the Indian bazars and, under existing rules, no drawbacks are obtainable on such merchandise.

The Leh traders are therefore very desirous that posts may be established at, say, Sultanpur and Kohala, where they may declare their goods, have their bales sealed, and on landing them with seals unbroken at Leh, may receive an ad valorem drawback proportionate to the duty which has been paid on foreign imports to India.

8. In paragraph 1 above, I have referred to certain discrepancies which appear between the exports to Leh from British India and those from Leh to Central Asia, and again, between imports from Central Asia to Leh and those which are forwarded to India and Kashmir proper. For the purpose of showing these, I have submitted Tables IB and IIB corresponding with tables (c) and (d) of last year.

These show, when compared respectively with tables IA and IIA, that merchandise to the value of R4,12,779 came into Leh during the year and was never returned as being imported to India or Kashmir proper, or exported to Central Asia or Tibet. As far as I have been able to gather, this can only be accounted for under three heads :—

(a) That which is locally consumed in Leh.

(b) That which may be warehoused in Leh, awaiting a favourable market in the country for which it is destined.

(c) That which owing to the very inferior staff and means of registration, happens to be registered on import, but not on export, or vice versâ.

(a) may be taken to be inconsiderable.

The available building accommodation, etc., in Leh is so limited that (b) must necessarily be comparatively small during any one season. It consists chiefly amongst imports of wool, silk, Lhassa tea and turquoises, and amongst exports of spices, cotton (manufactured), drugs, rice and Indian manufactured silk.

The only conclusion is that a very considerable proportion of the difference is due to inaccuracy of record and to intentional avoidance of declaration. This latter is frequently done with a view to disposing of articles in Kashmir territory outside the trade route, without payment of custom duties.

9. In paragraph 14 of Captain Kennion's report of last year, he mentions certain arrangements which were being made for registering trade carried on between the Chang Tang province of Tibet and Ladakh and Baltistan on the Kashmir side. These arrangements consisted of establishing three posts respectively at Darkup in the Shyok valley, at Chimary on the right bank of the Indus at the exit of the Chang-la pass on the Chang Tang road to Ladakh, and at Nimu Muth on the road leading from Southern Chang Tang to both Baltistan on the north-west and to Kulu on the south-west.

The trade thus registered, to the value of 3½ lakhs, is a simple form of local barter between Chang Tang on one side and Baltistan and Ladakh on the other. Baltistan and Ladakh owners of ponies, yaks, etc., of Kargil and Skardu can get no grazing in their own districts during the late summer and autumn months, and they take their animals to Chang Tang where grass is plentiful. On their road up, they take a certain quantity of fruit, vegetables and the grain known as grim (buck wheat) which they barter in Chang Tang for Tibetan salt and wool (pasham); the value of these latter considerably exceeds that which they export, but comparatively little money passes. The only portion of this trade which actually passes between India and Tibet, is a part of that registered at Nimu Muth, which goes and comes on the road to Kulu. During the year under report the value of this amounted to imports to Kulu R82,000, and exports to Chang Tang R56,000, the former chiefly consisting of Tibetan salt and wool, the latter of manufactured cotton goods and rice.

I propose to abolish the ports at Darkup and Chimary and to retain that at Nimu Muth for another year in the interest of the traffic to Kulu.

10. The undermentioned works besides the ordinary repairs to the Treaty High Road were completed during the year:—

(a) A new road was constructed by the British Joint Commissioner up to the Khamdan ravine between Panamik in Nubra, and Sassar in the Upper Shyok valley. I regret to say this has proved a failure. Much of it has already been destroyed by avalanches and merchants are afraid to travel by it. It has been necessary to revert to the old route known as the M[illegible]gha road to Sassar, which I am now having restored and put in repair.

(b) An excellent piece of road some 3 miles in length, on an entirely new alignment, was completed on the stage between Lamayuru and Kalatsi. The old road involved four crossings of the Lamayuru stream and was constantly being destroyed by floods. The new alignment follows the left bank of the stream throughout, and is cut in solid rock high above the stream. It should require little repair in ordinary years.

(c) A good road has been made between the Khardong pass and Satti, where a suspension bridge over the Shyok river is now under construction by the Public Works Department.

(d) The road between Machoi (the summit of the Zoji-la pass) and Mataiyan in the Dras valley, has been greatly improved and in many places re-aligned.

(e) A new piece of road some 2 miles in length had to be constructed along the left bank of the Kargil stream to meet the new suspension bridge constructed by the Public Works Department. The old bridge has fallen into ruins.

(f) A very fine new sarai was built at Kharbu between Dras and Kargil.

It is to be hoped that during next year the Darbar will undertake the construction of a good suspension bridge over the Indus at Kalsi. The present timber transom bridge is very shaky and may go at any time. If it does, as occurred some six years ago, the trade route will be practically closed. It is therefore desirable that the work should be commenced in the early spring, so as, if possible, to be ready for the trading season which commences in September.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

OF THE

INDO-EUROPEAN TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT

FOR

1901-1902.

CAPITAL AND REVENUE ACCOUNT.

1. Capital.—The transactions of the year under this head resulted in a net debit of R7,06,004, which increased the capital expenditure to the end of the year to R1,22,81,205. The increase includes an outlay of R5,70,781 on the new cable laid between Jask and Muscat for which a special grant of R7,35,000 was sanctioned in Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 660-C.W.—T., dated 6th June 1901.

The remainder of the increase represents chiefly addition to the stores suspense balance.

—	Increase.	Decrease.	Total.
	R	R	R
Works	5,75,829	—	5,75,829
Suspense:—
Stores	1,31,617	—	1,31,617
Other heads	—	1,442	—1,442
TOTAL	7,07,446	1,442	7,06,004

A summary of the year's transactions on Capital account is given in Appendix A.

2. Revenue.—Appendix B is a summary of the earnings and expenditure.* The earnings amounted to R18,29,035, or an increase of R76,660 as compared with 1900-1901, when the sum realised was R17,52,375. The expenditure during the year was R8,59,653, against R8,43,657 in the previous year, or an increase of R15,996. The net result is a profit of R9,69,382 on the year's working, against that of R9,08,718 in 1900-1901, or an increase of R60,664 as compared with that year.

3. The following statements show the chief differences between the earnings and expenditure of the current and previous years. For details, see Appendix B:—

EARNINGS.

TOTAL	8,43,657	8,59,653	33,540	17,544
Net Increase	—	—	15,996	—

The increase under signalling includes annual increases of pay to the Signalling Staff and the cost of establishment of the new telegraph office open at Muscat. The decrease under cable maintenance represents less expenditure on repairs to cables an on cable steamer stores.

* Excluding the cost of the London Office Establishment (1,840*l.*), which is included as part of the Establishment of the Secretary of State.

NET REVENUE.

4. On a total Capital expenditure of R1,22,81,205 a net profit of R9,69,382 was earned, which gives a dividend of 7·89 per cent. (Appendix D). The dividends earned during the past five years are as follows:—

Year.	Interest on Capital.
1897-98	6·57
1898-99	6·03
1899-1900	6·02
1900-1901	7·85
1901-1902	7·89

CIS-INDIAN JOINT PURSE.

5. Appendix C deals with the transactions in connection with this Agreement, which was entered into in 1878. The Department's share of the whole Purse shows an increase of 6,244*l.* 1*s.* 1*d.*, due to—

	£	s.	d.
A recovery from the Indo-European Telegraph Company amounting to	8,215	10	7
Add to this on account of increase to Indian traffic	1,067	4	9
	9,282	15	4
Less decrease in Australasian traffic	3,038	14	3
Net increase	6,244	1	1

6. Interruptions affecting Joint Purse Traffic.—There were two interruptions stopping traffic between Karachi and Teheran—one in the Gulf section lasting for 2 days 9 hours 55 minutes in May 1901, and the other in the Persian section lasting for 2 hours 45 minutes on 29th August. Between Teheran and London the Indo-European Company's lines were totally interrupted for an aggregate of 2 days 16 hours 5 minutes.

7. On the Turkish route interruptions occurred between Fao and Constantinople lasting 40 days 3 hours 40 minutes. The working of this route continues to be unsatisfactory. The Fao-Bushire cable was interrupted for 15 days 10 hours 35 minutes.

1897-98.			1898-99.			1899-1900.			1900-1901.			1901-1902.
Days.	H.	M.	Days.	H.	M.	Days.	H.	M.	Days.	H.	M.	Days.	H.	M.
74	16	21	54	4	16	48	6	29	37	6	37	40	3	40

The Department was liable to the Joint Purse for 23 days' interruptions between Constantinople and Bushire at Fcs. 50 per diem.

AUSTRALASIAN MESSAGE FUND.

8. The Departmental receipts for this year show an increase of 2,004*l.* over the receipts in 1889, on which the original Australasian Message Fund was based. See Appendix C. (1).

TRAFFIC.

9. The following table gives the amounts paid into the Joint Purse by the Department as compared with its independent traffic revenue:—*

—	For Joint Purse, etc.		Independent Revenue.	Total.
	Indian.	Trans-Indian.
	Fcs. cts.	Fcs. cts.	Fcs. cts.	Fcs. cts.
Persian Gulf Section	2,132,189·66	649,969·02½	26,904·29¼	2,809,062·97¾
TOTAL FRANCS	2,446,637·65 7/16	743,764·88⅛	39,076·42 5/16	3,229,478·96

* NOTE.—The independent traffic revenue is that obtained from traffic dealt with by this Department and not touching India, such as for telegrams between the stations of Jask and Bushire.

10. Appendix E. gives the number of messages and words carried under the different classes—(1) State (2) Commercial and Private, (3) Press, (4) "Times" (special rate), during the past five years.

11. The average length of "private and commercial" messages was 13·35 words in 1901-1902 as compared with 12·90 words in the previous year. The average length, calculated from the averages of the past seven years, is 13·05 words.

1901-1902	0·073 „

13. Complaints and Errors.—The number received for investigation amounted to 158, being 22 less than the total for the year 1900-1901. Of this number 100 were from Europe and 58 from India; 8 related to messages viâ Turkey.

Of the above, 46 were not admitted by the Administrations concerned, or are still being investigated by them, and of the remaining 112 this Department is responsible for 20.

OFFICES.

14. The number of offices open to the public throughout the year, excluding those on the Teheran-Meshed (Persian Government) line, was in the Persian Gulf Section 9, and in the Persian Section 9.

PERSIAN GULF SECTION.

CABLES.

15. The total length of the various cables on 31st March 1902 was 1,941·876 knots, as against 1,722·017 knots in the former year, the increase being due to repairs and to the laying of the Jask-Muscat cable.

Eight faults occurred during the year, and one ran into this year from the previous year, making a total of nine faults. All were due to corrosion except two, of which one was apparently due to a submarine earthquake, and in the other the cable could not be recovered, being too deeply buried in the mud, the cause is therefore unknown.

There were two interruptions on the Bushire-Fao Cable, lasting altogether 15 days 10 hours 35 minutes. The first one was carried forward from the previous year, and was not repaired until the 4th April. The Bushire-Manora Cables were interrupted for 35 days 22 hours 32 minutes, but, as an alternate cable or the Mekran Coast land line was available, through communication was only interrupted on one occasion for 2 days 9 hours and 55 minutes, when the cable and land lines were simultaneously interrupted by a cyclone in May 1901.

The expenditure of cable amounted to 54·229 knots, the lengths recovered from the sea being 40·558 knots, but most of this was only fit for stripping.

So far as can be conjectured, the calebs are in fair order.

Manora Cable Factory.

16. The expenditure of cable during the year and cable in stock at the end of the year was as follows:—

	Knots.	Knots.

4. (1) The Local Government may grant a license to any person to supply energy for any purpose in any specified local area, and also to lay down electric supply-lines for the conveyance and transmission of energy from a generating station situated outside such specified local area to the boundary of such specified local area in any case in which the energy to be supplied is to be generated outside such specified local area; and in respect of every such license and the grant thereof the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) Before granting a license under this Part the Local Government shall consult every local authority concerned, and where such local authority advances any objection to the grant of a license, the Local Government shall take such objection into consideration and, if in its opinion it is insufficient, shall record in writing and communicate to such local authority its reasons for such opinion.

(b) Any person applying for a license under this Part shall publish a notice of his application in such manner and with such particulars as the Governor General in Council may by rule direct, and no such license shall be granted until three months from the date of the first publication of such notice as aforesaid have expired and until all representations or objections received by the Local Government within that period with reference thereto have been considered by it.

(c) No application for a license under this Part shall be made by any local authority except in pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of such authority held after one month's previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof has been given in the manner in which notices of meetings of such local authority are usually given.

(d) A license under this Part may prescribe such terms as to the limits within which, and the conditions under which, the supply of energy is to be compulsory or permissive, and as to the limits of price to be charged in respect of the supply of energy, and generally as to such other matters as the Local Government may think fit.

(e) The grant of a license under this Part for any purpose shall not in any way hinder or restrict the grant of another license to another person within the same area of supply for a like purpose.

(f) The provisions contained in the schedule shall be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under this Part, save in so far as they are expressly added to, varied or excepted by the license, and shall, subject to such additions, variations or exceptions (if any) which the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, is hereby empowered to make, apply to the undertaking authorized by the license, and shall be binding in like manner and to the same extent as if enacted in this Act.

(2) The Local Government may, if in its opinion the public interest so requires, revoke a license, as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, in any of the following cases, namely:—

(a) where the licensee, in the opinion of the Local Government, makes wilful and unreasonably prolonged default in doing anything required of him by or under this Act;

(b) where the licensee breaks any of the terms or conditions of his license the breach of which is expressly declared by such license to render it liable to revocation;

(c) where the licensee not being a local authority fails, within a period of six months after the date of his license or such further period as the Local Government may determine and before exercising any of the powers conferred on him thereby in relation to the execution of works, to show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that he is in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license, or fails to make the deposit or furnish the security required by his license;

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Section 5.)

(d) where the licensee is, in the opinion of the Local Government, unable, by reason of his insolvency, fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license;

(e) where the licensee, not being a local authority, shows, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, at any time after the commencement of his license, that his undertaking cannot be carried on with profit and ought to be abandoned;

(f) where the licensee supplies energy by means of some system not approved by the Local Government;

(g) in any other case, with the consent of the licensee and, if the licensee is not a local authority, with that of the local authority (if any) concerned, and upon such terms and conditions as it thinks just:

Provided that the Local Government shall not revoke the license as to part only of the area of supply if the licensee represents that he desires to be relieved of his liabilities in respect of the whole.

(3) Where the Local Government might, under sub-section (2), revoke a license, it may, instead of revoking the license, permit it to remain in force subject to such further terms and conditions as it thinks fit, and any further terms or conditions shall be binding upon, and be observed by, the licensee, and shall be of like force and effect as if they were contained in the license.

Provisions where license of licensee, not being a local authority, is revoked.

5. Where the Local Government revokes the license of any licensee, not being a local authority, as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) The Local Government shall serve a notice of the revocation upon the licensee and upon any local authority concerned, and shall in the notice fix a date on which the revocation shall take effect, and on and with effect from that date all the powers and liabilities of the licensee under this Act shall absolutely cease and determine.

(b) Within one month after the service of such notice as aforesaid any local authority concerned may, if the Local Government has intimated to the local authority that it is at liberty so to do, by notice in writing, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, to the local authority the undertaking or such part thereof as is carried on within the area for which it is constituted, on payment of the value of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant of the licensee suitable to, and used by him for, the purpose of the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid, such value to be, in case of difference or dispute, determined by arbitration:

Provided that the value of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant shall be deemed to be their fair market-value at the time of purchase, due regard being had to the nature and condition for the time being of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant, and to the state of repair thereof, and to the circumstance that they are in such a position as to be ready for immediate working, and to the suitability of the same for the purposes of the undertaking, and, where a part only of the undertaking is purchased, to any loss occasioned by severance, but without any addition in respect of compulsory purchase or of goodwill or of any profits which may be or might have been made from the undertaking, or of any similar considerations.

(c) Where no purchase has been effected by a local authority under clause (b), and any other person is willing to purchase the undertaking or such part of it as aforesaid, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, with the consent of the licensee, or without the consent of the licensee in case the price is not less than that for which the local authority might have purchased the same, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, to such other person the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid.

(d) Where a purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c), the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, shall vest in the purchasers free from any debts, mortgages or similar obligations of the licensee or attaching to the undertaking; and the revocation of the license shall extend only to the revocation of the rights, powers, authorities, duties and obligations of the licensee from whom the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, is purchased, and, save as aforesaid, the license shall remain in full force, and the purchaser shall be deemed to be the licensee.

(e) Where no purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c), the

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 6-7.)

Local Government shall have the option of purchasing the undertaking, or such part thereof as aforesaid, and, if the Local Government elects to purchase, the licensee shall sell the undertaking or part thereof to the Local Government upon terms and conditions similar to those set forth in clauses (b) and (d) save that where the Local Government is the purchaser the license shall, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation.

(f) Where no purchase has been effected under any of the foregoing clauses, the Local Government may forthwith cause the works of the licensee to be removed and the street to be reinstated and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

(g) If the licensee has been required to sell the undertaking or any part thereof, and if the sale has not been completed by the date fixed in the notice issued under clause (a), the purchaser may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, work the undertaking or such part thereof pending the completion of the sale.

Provisions where license of local authority is revoked.

6. Where the Local Government revokes the license of a local authority as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, it may forthwith cause the works of the licensee to be removed and the street to be reinstated, and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

Purchase of undertaking.

7. (1) Where a license has been granted, a local authority shall, on the expiration of such period, not exceeding forty-two years, and of every such subsequent period, not exceeding ten years, as shall be specified in this behalf in the license, have the option of purchasing such portion of the undertaking as is in the area for which it is constituted, and, if the local authority, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, elects to purchase, the licensee shall sell the undertaking or part thereof to it upon terms and conditions similar to those set forth in section 5, clauses (b) and (d).

(2) In any such case as aforesaid, if a local authority does not elect to purchase, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions save that where the Local Government purchases the undertaking or any part thereof under such option the license shall, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation.

(3) Where, in exercise of the option conferred by sub-section (1), a local authority has elected to purchase the portion of the undertaking which is within the area for which it is constituted, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions in respect to any portion of the undertaking which is without such area.

(4) Not less than twelve months' notice in writing of any election to purchase under this section shall be served upon the licensee by the local authority or the Local Government, as the case may be.

(5) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the local authority may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, waive its option of purchase and enter into an agreement with the licensee for the working by him of the undertaking, or such portion thereof as is in the area for which such authority is constituted, until the expiration of the next subsequent period referred to in sub-section (1), upon such terms and conditions as may be stated in such agreement.

Provisions where no purchase and license revoked with consent of licensee.

8. Where, on the expiration of any of the periods referred to in section 7, sub-section (1), neither the local authority nor the Local Government purchases the undertaking or any portion thereof, and the license is, with the consent of the licensee, revoked, the licensee shall have the option of disposing of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant belonging to the undertaking in such manner as he may think fit:

Provided that, if the licensee does not exercise such option within a period of six months, the Local Government may proceed to take action as provided in section 5, clause (f).

Licensee not to purchase, or associate himself with, other licensed undertakings or transfer his undertaking.

9. (1) The licensee shall not, at any time without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government, acquire, by purchase or otherwise, the undertaking of, or associate himself with, any person supplying, or intending to supply, energy under any other license, and, before applying for such consent, the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice of the application to every local authority, both in the licensee's area of supply, and also in the area or district in which such other person supplies, or intends to supply, energy.

(2) The licensee shall not at any time transfer his undertaking, or any part thereof, by sale, mortgage, leave, exchange or otherwise without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government.

(3) Any agreement relating to any transaction of the nature described in sub-section (1)

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 10-13.)

or sub-section (2) which may be made without such consent as aforesaid shall be void.

General power for Local Government to vary terms of purchase.

10. Notwithstanding anything in sections 5, 7 and 8, the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, in any license granted under this Act, vary the terms upon which a licensee shall be bound to sell his undertaking.

Annual accounts of licensee.

11. (1) Every licensee shall prepare and render to the Local Government, on or before such date in each year as the Local Government may by rule fix, an annual statement of accounts of his undertaking made up to such date, in such form, and containing such particulars, as may be prescribed by the said rule.

(2) The licensee shall keep copies of such annual statement at his office and sell the same to any applicant at a price not exceeding one rupee per copy.

Provisions as to the opening and breaking up of streets, railways and tramways.

12. (1) Any licensee may, from time to time but subject always to the terms and conditions of his license,—

(a) open and break up the soil and pavement of any street, railway or tramway within the area of supply;

(b) open and break up any sewer, drain or tunnel in or under any such street, railway or tramway;

(c) lay down and place within the area of supply electric supply-lines and other works;

(d) repair, alter or remove the same; and

(e) do all other acts necessary for the due supply of energy within the area of supply.

(2) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee, without the consent of the local authority or of the owner and occupier concerned, as the case may be, to lay down or place any electric supply-line or other work in, through or against any building, or on, over or under any land not dedicated to public use, whereon, whereover or whereunder any electric supply-line or work has not already been lawfully laid down or placed by such licensee:

Provided that any stay or strut required for the sole purpose of securing in position any support of an aërial electric supply-line may be fixed on any building or land or, having been so fixed, may be altered, notwithstanding the objection of the owner or occupier of such building or land, if the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, by order in writing so directs:

Provided also that if at any time the owner or occupier of any building or land on which any such stay or strut has been fixed shows sufficient cause, the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, may by order in writing direct any such stay or strut to be removed or altered.

(3) Every order made by a District Magistrate or a Commissioner of Police under sub-section (2) shall be subject to revision by the Local Government.

(4) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to open or break up any street not repairable by a local authority, or any railway or tramway, without the consent of the person by whom the same is repairable, unless with the written consent of the Local Government:

Provided that the Local Government shall not give any such consent as aforesaid, until notice has been given, by advertisement or otherwise as the Local Government may direct, to the person by whom the street, railway, or tramway concerned is repairable, and until all representations or objections received in accordance with the notice have been considered by the Local Government.

Notice of new works.

13. (1) Where the exercise of any of the powers of a licensee in relation to the execution of any works involves the placing of any works in, under, over, along or across any street, part of a street, railway, tramway, canal or waterway, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) Not less than one month before commencing the execution of the works (not being a house-service or the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered), the licensee shall serve upon the person or authority responsible for the repair of the street or part of a street (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the repairing authority") or upon the person or authority for the time being entitled to work the railway, tramway, canal or waterway (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), as the case may be, a notice in writing describing the proposed works, together with a detailed plan thereof, on a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch, or such other scale as the Local Government may approve and intimating the manner in which, and the time at which, it is proposed to interfere with or alter any existing works, and shall, upon being required to do so by the repairing authority or owner, as the case may be, from time to time give such further information in relation thereto as may be desired.

(b) If the repairing authority intimates to the licensee that it disapproves of such works or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, the licensee may within one week of receiving such intimation appeal to the Local Government, whose decision, after considering the reasons given by the repairing anthority for its action, shall be final.

(c) If the repairing authority fails to give notice in writing of its approval or disapproval to the licensee within one month, it shall be deemed to have approved of the works and plan, and the licensee, after giving not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing to the repairing authority, may proceed to carry out the works in accordance with the notice and plan served under clause (a).

(d) If the owner disapproves of such works or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, he may, within three weeks after the service of the notice under clause (a), serve a requisition upon the licensee demanding that any question in relation to the works, or to compensation, or to his obligations to others in respect thereof, shall be determined by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration.

(e) Where no requisition has been served by the owner upon the licensee under clause (d), the owner shall be deemed to have approved of the works and plan, and in that case, or where after a requisition for arbitration the matter has been determined by arbitration, the works may, upon payment or securing of compensation, be executed according to the notice and plan, subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties.

(f) Where the works to be executed consist of the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered, the licensee shall, except in cases of emergency, give to the repairing authority, or to the owner, as the case may be, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention to execute such works, and, on the expiry of such notice, such works shall be commenced forthwith and shall be carried on with all reasonable despatch and, if possible, both by day and by night until completed.

(2) Where the licensee makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the licensee may, in case of emergency due to the breakdown of an underground electric supply-line, after giving notice in writing to the repairing authority or the owner, as the case may be, of his intention to do so, place an aërial line without complying with the provisions of sub-section (1):

Provided that such aërial line shall be used only until the defect in the under-ground electric supply-line can be made good, and in no case for a period exceeding six weeks, and shall be removed as soon as may be after such defect is removed.

Alteration of pipes or wires.

14. (1) Any licensee may alter the position of any pipe (not forming, in a case where the licensee is not a local authority, part of a local authority's main sewer), or of any wire under or over any place which he is authorized to open or break up, if such pipe or wire is likely to interfere with the exercise of his powers under this Act; and any person may alter the position of any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee under or over any such place as aforesaid, if such electric supply-lines or works are likely to interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in him.

(2) In any such case as aforesaid the following provisions shall, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary between the parties concerned, apply, namely:—

(a) Not less than one month before commencing any alteration, the licensee or other person desiring to make the same (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall serve upon the person for the time being entitled to the pipe, wire, electric supply-lines or works, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), a notice in writing, together with a plan, on a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch, or such other scale as the Local Government may approve, describing the proposed alteration, and intimating the time when it is to be commenced, and shall subsequently give such further information in relation thereto as the owner may desire.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 14-15.)

(b) Within fourteen days after the service of the notice and plan upon the owner, the owner may serve upon the operator a requisition to the effect that any question arising upon the notice or plan shall be settled by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration.

(c) Every arbitrator to whom a reference is made under clause (b), shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owner is under, and may require the operator to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid as far as possible interference therewith.

(d) Where no requisition is served upon the operator under clause (b), or where such a requisition has been served and the matter has been settled by agreement or determined by arbitration, the alteration may, upon payment or securing of any compensation accepted or determined by arbitration, be executed in accordance with the notice and plan and subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties.

(e) The owner may, at any time before the operator is entitled to commence the alteration, serve upon the operator a statement in writing to the effect that he desires to execute the alteration himself and requires the operator to give such security for the repayment of any expenses as may be agreed upon or, in default of agreement, settled by arbitration.

(f) Where a statement is served upon the operator under clause (e), he shall not less than forty-eight hours before the execution of the alteration is required to be commenced, furnish such security and serve upon the owner a notification in writing intimating the time when the alteration is required to be commenced, and the manner in which it is required to be made; and thereupon the owner may proceed to execute the alteration as required by the operator.

(g) Where the owner declines to comply, or does not, within the time and in the manner prescribed by a notification served upon him under clause (f), comply, with the notification, the operator may himself execute the alteration.

(h) All expenses properly incurred by the owner in complying with a notification served upon him by the operator under clause (f) may be recovered by him from the operator.

(i) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Laying of electric supply-lines, or other works near sewers, pipes or other electric supply-lines or works.

15. (1) Where a licensee requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down any new electric supply-lines (not being service-lines) or other works, near to which any sewer, drain, watercourse or work under the control of the Local Government or of any local authority, or any main, pipe, syphon, electric supply-line or other work belonging to any duly authorized person, has been lawfully placed, or where any duly authorized person requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down or constructing any new mains or pipes (not being service-pipes) or other works, near to which any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee have been lawfully placed, the licensee or such duly authorized person, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall, unless it is otherwise agreed upon between the parties interested or in case of sudden emergency, give to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorized person, or to the licensee, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing before commencing to dig or sink the trench, and the owner shall have the right to be present during the execution of the work, which shall be executed to the reasonable satisfaction of the owner.

(2) Where the operator finds it necessary to undermine, but not to alter, the position of any pipe, electric supply-line or work, he shall temporarily support it in position during the execution of the work, and before completion shall provide a suitable and proper foundation for it where so undermined.

(3) Where the operator (being the licensee) lays any electric supply-line across, or so as to be liable to touch, any mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines belonging to any duly authorized person or to any person supplying or using energy under this Act, he shall not, except with the consent of such person and of the Local Government, lay his electric supply-lines so as to come into contact with any such mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines, or, except with the like consent, employ any such mains, pipes, lines or service-pipes or lines as conductors for the purpose of supplying energy.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 16-19.)

(4) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof.

(5) Where any difference or dispute arises under this section, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(6) Where the licensee is a local authority, the references in this section to the local authority and to sewers, drains, water courses or works under its control shall not apply.

Streets, railways or tramways broken up to be reinstated without delay.

16. (1) Where any person, in excercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, opens or breaks up the soil or pavement of any street, railway or tramway, or any sewer, drain or tunnel, he shall—

(a) immediately cause the part opened or broken up to be fenced and guarded;

(b) before sunset cause a light, sufficient for the warning of passengers, to be set up and maintained until sunrise against or near the part opened or broken up;

(c) with all reasonable speed fill in the ground and reinstate and make good the soil or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned by such opening or breaking up; and,

(d) after reinstating and making good the soil or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, broken or opened up, keep the same in good repair for three months and for any further period, not exceeding nine months, during which subsidence continues.

(2) Where any person fails to comply with any of the provisions of sub-section (1), the person having the control or management of the street, railway, tramway, sewer, drain or tunnel in respect of which the default has occurred, may cause to be executed the work which the defaulter has delayed or omitted to execute, and may recover from him the expenses incurred in such execution.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of the expenses incurred under sub-section (2), the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Aërial lines.

17. (1) Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee to place any aërial line along or across any street unless and until the Local Government, after consulting the local authority, has communicated to him a general approval in writing of the methods of construction which he proposes to adopt:

Provided that the communication of such approval shall in no way relieve the licensee of his obligations with respect to any other consent required by or under this Act.

(2) Where any aërial line has been placed or maintained by a licensee in breach of the provisions of sub-section (1), the Local Government may require the licensee forthwith to remove the same, or may cause the same to be removed and recover from the licensee the expenses incurred in such removal.

(3) Where any tree, standing or lying near an aërial line, interrupts or interferes with, or is likely to interrupt or interfere with, the conveyance or transmission of energy, a Magistrate of the first class may, on the application of the licensee, cause the tree to be removed or otherwise dealt with as he thinks fit.

(4) When disposing of an application under sub-section (3), the Magistrate shall, in the case of any tree in existence before the placing of the aërial line, award to the person interested in the tree such compensation as he thinks reasonable, and such person may recover the same from the licensee.

Compensation for damage.

18. (1) A licensee shall, in exercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, cause as little damage, detriment and inconvenience as may be, and shall make full compensation for any damage caused by him or by any one employed by him.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount or the application of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Power for licensee to enter premises for ascertaining energy consumed, or to remove fittings or other apparatus of licensee.

19. (1) A licensee or any person duly authorized by a licensee may at any reasonable time, and on informing the occupier of his intention, enter any premises to which energy is or has been supplied by him, for the purpose of—

(a) inspecting and testing the electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus for the supply of energy belonging to the licensee;

(b) ascertaining the quantity of energy consumed or supplied; or

(c) removing, where a supply of energy is no longer required, or where the licensee is authorized to take away and cut off such supply, any electric supply-lines, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to the licensee.

(2) A licensee or any person authorized as aforesaid may also, in pursuance of a special order in this behalf made by the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town, by the Commissioner of Police, and after giving not less than twenty-four hours' notice in writing to the consumer, enter any premises to which energy is or has been supplied, or is to be supplied, by him, for the purpose of examining and testing the electric wires, fittings, works and apparatus for the use of energy belonging to the consumer.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

Restrictions on licensee's controlling or interfering with use of energy.

20. (1) A licensee shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of appliance for utilizing energy supplied by him, or, save as provided by section 23, sub-section (2), or by section 30, sub-section (6), in any way to control or interfere with the use of such energy:

Provided that no person may adopt any form of appliance, or use the energy supplied to him, so as unduly or improperly to interfere with the supply by the licensee of energy to any other person.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises under this section, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Obligation on licensee to supply energy.

21. Where energy is supplied by a licensee, every person within the area of supply shall, except in so far as is otherwise provided by the terms and conditions of the license, be entitled, on application, to a supply on the same terms as those on which any other person in the same area is entitled in similar circumstances to a corresponding supply:

Provided that no person having a private generating plant shall be entitled to demand a connection with the mains of the licensee in order to use the energy of the licensee only in the event of accident to the plant of such person.

Maximum electrical power.

22. (1) The electrical power at which any consumer shall be entitled to be supplied by a licensee, shall not exceed what is necessary for the maximum consumption of energy on his premises:

Provided that, where a consumer has required a licensee to supply him at a specified maximum power, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum except after one month's notice in writing to the licensee, and the licensee may recover from the consumer any expenses incurred by him by reason of the alteration in respect of the service-lines by which energy is supplied to the consumer's premises, or of any fittings or apparatus of the licensee upon those premises.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between a consumer and a licensee as to the power at which energy is to be supplied under sub-section (1) or as to the amount of the expenses incurred under the proviso thereto, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Charges for energy to be made without undue preference.

23. (1) A licensee shall not, in making any agreement for the supply of energy, show undue preference to any person, but may, save as aforesaid, make such charges for the supply of energy as may be agreed upon, not exceeding the limits imposed by his license, and may allow rebates thereon according to the quantity supplied, either in relation to the maximum power to which the consumer is entitled under section 22, or to the total quantity, or to the time at which the supply is needed.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (1), the licensee may, with the consent of the Local Government, charge at one rate for the supply of energy for lighting purposes, and at other rates for the supply of energy for purposes other than lighting; and no person shall be entitled to utilize for one purpose energy supplied to him at a lower rate for any other purpose.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises between a consumer and a licensee as to any matter provided for in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Discontinuance of supply to consumer neglecting to pay charge.

24. Where any person neglects to pay any charge for energy or any other sum due from him to a licensee in respect of the supply of energy to him, the licensee may, after giving not less than seven clear days' notice in writing to such person and without prejudice to his right to recover such charge or other sum by suit, cut off the supply and for that purpose cut or disconnect any electric supply-line or other works through which energy may be supplied, and may discontinue the supply until such charge or other sum, together with any expenses incurred by him in cutting off and re-connecting the supply, are paid, but no longer:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply in any case in which any difference, or dispute of the nature described in section 30, sub-section (7), has been referred for determination by an Electric Inspector or other person as therein provided until such Inspector or other person has given his decision.

Exemption of electric supply-lines, or other apparatus from attachment in certain cases.

25. Where any electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to a licensee are placed in or upon any premises, not being in the possession of the licensee, for the purpose of supplying energy, such electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus shall not be liable to be taken in execution under any process of any Civil Court or in any proceedings in insolvency against the person in whose possession the same may be.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Sections 26-29.)

26. No licensee shall, in exercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, in any way injure any railway, tramway or canal or (in cases where the licensee is not a local authority) any dock, wharf or pier vested in or controlled by a local authority or obstruct or interfere with the traffic on any railway, tramway or canal.

Protection of railways and canals, docks, wharves and piers.

27. (1) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to lay down any underground, or place any aërial, electric supply-line or other works, or to make any alterations in any telegraph line, maintained or worked by the Government or by any person licensed under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, without the previous sanction of the telegraph-authority, to whom the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice in writing of his intention, specifying the course of the works or alterations proposed, the manner in which the works are to be utilized, the amount and nature of the energy to be transmitted, and the extent to, and manner in, which (if at all) earth returns are to be used; and the licensee shall conform with such reasonable requirements, either general or special, as may be laid down by the telegraph-authority for preventing any telegraph line from being injuriously affected by such works or alterations:

Protection of telegraphic, telephonic and electric-signalling lines.

XIII of 1885.

Provided that, in case of emergency (which shall be stated by the licensee in writing to the telegraph-authority) arising from defects in any of the electric supply-lines or other works of the licensee, the licensee shall be required to give only such notice as may be possible after the necessity for the proposed new works or alterations has arisen.

(2) Every licensee shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, laying down and placing his electric supply-lines and other works and in working his undertaking, so as not injuriously to affect, whether by induction or otherwise, the working of any wire or line used for the purpose of telegraphic, telephonic or electric-signalling communication, or the currents in such wire or line.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises between the licensee and the telegraph-authority or any person licensed under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, as to whether the licensee has constructed, laid down or placed his electric supply-lines or other works, or made alterations in a telegraph line, or worked his undertaking, in contravention of sub-section (1), or sub-section (2), or as to whether the working of any wire, line or current is or is not injuriously affected thereby, the matter shall be referred to the Governor General in Council; and the Governor General in Council, unless he is of opinion that the wire or line has been placed in unreasonable proximity to the electric supply-lines or works of the licensee after the construction of such lines or works, may direct the licensee to make such alterations in, or additions to, his system as may be necessary in order to comply with the provisions of this section, and the licensee shall make such alterations or additions accordingly:

XIII of 1885.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the repair, renewal or amendment of any electric supply-line, so long as the course of the electric supply-line and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby are not altered.

(4) Where a licensee makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a telegraph-line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected by a work if telegraphic communication by means of such line is, whether through induction or otherwise, prejudicially interfered with by such work or by any use made thereof.

28. (1) Every licensee shall, within twenty-four hours of the occurrence, send to the Local Government and to the District Magistrate, or in a Presidency-town, to the Commissioner of Police, notice in writing of any accident by explosion, fire, electric shock or fall of an aërial line and also of any other accident resulting or likely to have resulted in loss of life or personal injury in any part of the licensee's works or circuits, or in connection with the same, and also notice of any loss of life or personal injury actually occasioned by any such accident.

Notice of and inquiry into accidents.

(2) The Local Government may also, if it thinks fit, appoint any Electric Inspector or other competent person to inquire and report as to the cause of any accident affecting the safety of the public, which may have been occasioned by or in connection with a licensee's works, or as to the manner in, and extent to, which the provisions of the license and of this Act, so far as these provisions affect the safety of the public, have been complied with by the licensee.

29. If at any time it is established, to the satisfaction of the Local Government,—

Power for Local Government to interfere in certain cases of default by licensee.

(a) that a licensee is supplying energy otherwise than by means of a system which has been approved of by the Local Government or (except in accordance with the provisions of his license) has permitted any part of his circuits to be connected with earth, or

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy to the Public.—Section 30.)

(b) that any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee are defective ; or

(c) that any works of a licensee or his supply of energy are or is attended with danger to the public safety ;

the Local Government may, by order in writing, specify the matter complained of and require the licensee to remedy it in such manner as shall be specified in the order, and may also in like manner forbid the use of any electric supply-line or works until the order is complied with or for such time as is specified in the order.

Meters.

30. (1) In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the amount of energy supplied to a consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply (such amount or quantity being hereinafter referred to as "the value of the supply") shall be ascertained by means of a duly certified meter, and the licensee shall, if required by the consumer, cause the consumer to be supplied with such a meter :

Provided that the licensee may require the consumer to give him security for the price of a meter and enter into an agreement for the hire thereof, unless the consumer elects to purchase a meter.

(2) Where the consumer so enters into an agreement for the hire of a meter, the licensee shall keep the meter in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, and, in default of his doing so, the consumer shall, for so long as the default continues, cease to be liable to pay for the hire of the meter.

(3) Where the meter is the property of the consumer, he shall keep the meter in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, and, in default of his doing so, the licensee may, for so long as the default continues cease to supply energy through the meter.

(4) The licensee or any person duly authorized by the licensee shall, at any reasonable time and on informing the consumer of his intention, have access to, and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect and replace, any meter whereby the value of the supply is ascertained or to be ascertained ; and, except where the meter is so hired as aforesaid, all reasonable expenses of, and incidental to, such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting and replacing, and the procuring the meter to be again duly certified, where that is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter is found to be otherwise than in proper order, be recovered from the consumer ; and where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such reasonable expenses, the matter shall be determined by arbitration :

Provided that the licensee shall not be at liberty to take off or remove any such meter if any difference or dispute of the nature described in sub-section (7) has arisen until the matter has been determined as therein provided.

(5) A consumer shall not connect any meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained or to be ascertained with any electric supply-line through which energy is supplied by a licensee, or disconnect the same from any such electric supply-line, without giving to the licensee not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention.

(6) In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of a consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the licensee may place upon such premises such meter or other apparatus as he may think fit for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to the consumer, or the number of hours during which the supply is given, or the maximum power taken by the consumer, or any other quantity or time connected with the supply :

Provided that the meter or apparatus shall be of a construction and pattern approved of by the Local Government, and shall be fixed and connected with the service-lines in a manner so approved, and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the licensee, and shall not, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the licensee and the consumer's terminals.

(7) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether any meter, whereby the value of the supply as to pressure or quantity is ascertained or to be ascertained, is or is not in proper order for correctly registering the value of the supply, or as to whether such value has in any case been correctly registered by the meter, the matter shall be determined, upon the application of either party, by an Electric Inspector or by a competent person specially appointed by the Local Government in this behalf ; and, where the meter has, in the opinion of such Inspector or person, ceased to work for a period not exceeding one month, such Inspector or person shall estimate the value of the supply for such period on the basis of the value of the previous supply ; and the decision of such Inspector or person shall be final, and the costs of or incidental to such determination shall be recoverable as such Inspector or person may direct : but, save as aforesaid, the register of the meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive proof of such value.

Explanation.—A meter shall be deemed to be "duly certified" if it is certified by an Electric Inspector or by a competent person appointed by the Local Government in this behalf to be a correct meter, and to be of a construction and pattern approved by the Local Government, and to have been fixed and connected with the electric supply-lines in a manner so approved :

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(Part III.—Restrictions on Use of Energy not supplied under Part II.—Section 31.-Part IV.—General—Sections 32-33.)

Provided that, where any alteration is made in a duly certified meter, or where any such meter is unfixed or disconnected from the electric supply-lines, it shall cease to be a duly certified meter unless and until it is again duly certified as aforesaid.

PART III.

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF ENERGY NOT SUPPLIED UNDER PART II.

Use of energy not supplied under Part II to be subject to rules.

31. (1) No person shall, for any purpose, in any street, or in any place in which one hundred or more persons are likely ordinarily to be assembled or which is a factory within the meaning of the Indian Factories Act, 1881, use energy which is not supplied to him under Part II, without giving not less than seven clear days' notice in writing of his intention to the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town, to the Commissioner of Police, and complying with such rules as may be made in this behalf under section 33:

XV of 1881.

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any railway or tramway subject to the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

IX of 1890.

Provided also that the Local Government may, by general or special order and subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be specified therein, exempt any person or class of persons using energy on premises upon or in connection with which it is generated, from the application of this section or of any such rule as aforesaid.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether a place is or is not one in which one hundred or more persons are likely ordinarily to be assembled, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

PART IV.

GENERAL.

Advisory Boards.

32. (1) The Governor General in Council may, for the whole or any part of British India, and each Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, for the whole or any part of the Province, by notification in the Gazette of India or the local official Gazette, as the case may be, constitute an Advisory Board.

(2) Every such Board shall consist of—

(a) A Chairman and two other members, or where the Board is to consist of only three members, one other member nominated by the Governor General in Council or the Local Government as the case may be, and

I. Where the licensee is not a local authority, the following provisions as to giving security shall apply, namely :—

(a) The licensee shall, within a period of six months after the commencement of the license and before exercising any of the powers by the license conferred on him in relation to the execution of works, show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that he is in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon him by the license throughout the area of supply.

(b) The licensee shall also, within six months after the commencement of the license or within such extended period as may be approved by the Local Government and before exercising any of the powers conferred on him in relation to the execution of works, deposit or secure, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, such sum if any as may be fixed by the license or, if not so fixed, by the Local Government.

(c) The said sum deposited or secured by the licensee under the provisions of this clause shall be repaid or released to him in equal moieties, when and so soon as it may be certified by an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf that amounts equal to the sums so to be repaid or released have been expended by the licensee upon works executed for the purposes of the undertaking, or that distributing mains have been duly laid down by the licensee in every street or part of a street in which he is required to lay them down within a limited time, or shall be repaid or released at such earlier dates, and by such instalments, as may be approved by the Local Government.

(d) Where the area of supply includes two or more local areas for which local authorities are constituted, the Local Government may require the deposit to be made or the security to be given in respect of such local areas severally, and in that case the deposit or security shall be repaid or released separately as to each local area.

(b) The licensee shall afford to the auditor, his clerks and assistants, access to all such books and documents relating to the undertaking as are necessary for the purposes of the audit, and shall, when required, furnish to him and them all vouchers and information requisite for that purpose, and afford to him and them all facilities for the proper execution of his and their duty.

(c) The audit shall be made and conducted in such manner as the Local Government may direct.

(d) Any report made by the auditor, or such portion thereof as the Local Government may direct, shall be appended to the annual statement of accounts of the licensee, and shall thenceforth form part thereof.

Nature and mode of supply.

Systems of supply.

IV. Energy shall be supplied by the licensee only by means of some system approved in writing by the Local Government, and save as otherwise provided by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903, the licensee shall not permit any part of any circuit to be connected with earth unless the connection is for the time being approved by the Local Government, with the concurrence of the telegraph-authority.

Provisions as to electric railways and tramways.

V. Where and in so far as energy is supplied to a tramway for purposes of electric traction, the following provisions shall apply, namely:—

(a) The licensee shall employ either insulated metallic returns, or uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance, save in the case of vehicles in which the motive power is entirely self-contained.

(b) The licensee shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, placing and maintaining his electric supply-lines and circuits, and other works of all descriptions, and also in working his undertaking, so as not injuriously to affect, by fusion or electrolytic action, any gas or water pipes, or other metallic pipes, structures or substances.

Compulsory works.

Power of Local Government to order licensee to lay down distributing mains.

VI. The licensee shall, within a period of two years after the commencement of his license, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout such streets or parts of streets as the Local Government may, by order in writing issued within six months of the commencement of the license, direct.

Provisions as to laying electric supply-lines under special agreement.

VII. Every licensee shall, not less than one month before commencing to lay in any street any electric supply-line for the supply of energy to any particular consumer, and not for the purposes of general supply, serve upon the local authority (if any) and upon the owner or occupier of all premises abutting on so much of the street as lies between the points of origin and termination of the electric supply-line so to be laid, a notice stating that the licensee intends to lay the electric supply-line, and intimating that, if within the said period any two or more of such owners or occupiers require in accordance with the provisions of the license that a supply shall be given to their premises, the necessary distributing main will be laid by the licensee at the same time as the electric supply-line intended for the particular consumer.

Provisions as to laying down of further distributing mains.

VIII. (1) Where, after the expiration of eighteen months from the commencement of the license, a requisition is made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises in or upon any street or part of street within the area of supply or by the Local Government or a local authority charged with the public lighting thereof, requiring the licensee to provide and lay down distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout such street or part thereof, the licensee shall comply within six months with the requisition, unless,—

(a) where it is made by such owners or occupiers as aforesaid, the owners or occupiers making it do not, within fourteen clear days after the service on them by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, tender to the licensee a written contract, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding themselves to take or guaranteeing that there shall be taken, a supply of energy for not less than three years to such amount as will in the aggregate produce annually, at the current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee; or,

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II.)

(b) where it is made by the Local Government or a local authority, the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, does not, within the like period, tender a like agreement binding itself to take a supply of energy for not less than three years for the public lighting of such street or part thereof.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between the licensee, and such owners, occupiers or local authority as to the sufficiency of the security offered under this clause, or as to the amount of energy to be taken or guaranteed as aforesaid, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government and either decided by it or, if the Local Government so directs, determined by arbitration.

(3) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

Requisition for supply to owners or occupiers in vicinity.

IX. (1) Where a requisition is made by the owners or occupiers of any premises situate within one hundred yards from any distributing main in which the licensee is required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply, requiring the licensee to supply energy for such premises, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy in accordance with the requisition, unless the person making it fails, within fourteen days after the service on him by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, to tender to the licensee a written contract, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding himself to take a supply of energy for not less than two years to such amount as will produce, at current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee:

Provided, first, that the cost of so much of any electric supply-line as may be laid for the purposes of the supply upon the property in respect of which the requisition is made, and of so much of any electric supply-line as it may be necessary for the said purposes to lay for a greater distance than one hundred feet from the licensee's distributing main, although not on that property, shall, if the licensee so requires, be paid by the owner or occupier making the requisition:

Provided, secondly, that the licensee may, after he has furnished a supply of energy for any premises, by notice in writing require the owner or occupier within seven days after the date of the service of the notice, to give him security for the payment of all money which may become due to him in respect of the supply, in case the owner or occupier has not already given that security, or in case any security given has become invalid or is insufficient; and, if the owner or occupier fails to comply with the terms of the notice, the licensee may discontinue to supply energy for such premises so long as such failure continues:

Provided, thirdly, that if the owner or occupier of any such premises as aforesaid adopts any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the licensee for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner, so as to interfere unduly or improperly with the efficient supply of energy to any other person by the licensee, or fails to keep his meter in proper order, the licensee may discontinue the supply of energy for such premises so long as such lamp or burner is so adopted, or the energy is so used or dealt with, or the meter is not kept in proper order, as the case may be:

Provided, fourthly, that the licensee shall not be bound to furnish a supply of energy to any premises if an Electric Inspector or other competent person appointed by the Local Government is satisfied that the electric line, fittings, works and apparatus therein are not in good order and condition and are likely to affect injuriously the use of energy by the licensee or by other persons:

Provided, fifthly, that in the event of any alterations of, or additions to, any electric wires fittings, works or apparatus within such premises as aforesaid, all such alterations or additions shall be notified to the licensee by the owner or occupier before being connected to the source of supply, with a view to their being examined and tested: and

Provided, sixthly, that, in the event of any requisition being made for a supply of energy from any distributing main of which the licensee can prove, to the satisfaction of an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf,—

(a) that it is already loaded up to its full-current-carrying capacity, or

(b) that, in case of a larger amount of current being transmitted by it, the loss of pressure will seriously affect the efficiency of the supply to other consumers in the vicinity,

the licensee may refuse to accede to the requisition for such reasonable period, not exceeding six months, as such officer may think sufficient for the purpose of amending the distributing main or laying down a further distributing main,

The Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II.)

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the sufficiency of the security offered by such owner or occupier or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any wires, fittings, works or apparatus, or as to any alleged excess or defect in the pressure or quantity of the energy supplied, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government and either decided by it or, if the Local Government so directs, determined by arbitration.

(3) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

Supply for public lamps.

X. (1) Where a requisition is made by the Local Government or by a local authority requiring the licensee to supply for a period of not less than one year energy for any public lamps within the distance of one hundred yards from any distributing main in which the licensee is required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy for such lamps in such quantities as the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, may require.

(2) The provisions contained in the first, fourth, fifth and sixth provisos to sub clause (1) and in sub-clause (2) of Clause IX shall, so far as may be, apply to every case in which a requisition for the supply of energy is made under this clause as if the Local Government or local authority were an owner or occupier within the meaning of those provisions.

Charges.

Methods of charging.

XI. In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the licensee may charge for energy supplied by him to any consumer—

(a) by the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(b) by the electrical quantity contained in the supply; or

(c) by such other method as may be approved by the Local Government:

Provided, first, that, where the licensee charges by any method so approved by the Local Government, any consumer who objects to that method may, by not less than one month's notice in writing, require the licensee to charge him, at the licensee's option, either by the actual amount of energy supplied to him or by the electrical quantity contained in the supply, and thereafter the licensee shall not, except with the consent of the consumer, charge him by another method:

Provided, secondly, that, before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the licensee shall give notice, by public advertisement, of the method by which he proposes to charge for energy so supplied; and, where the licensee has given such notice, he shall not be entitled to change that method of charging without giving not less than one month's notice in writing of such change to the Local Government, to the local authority (if any) concerned, and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by him from such distributing main:

Provided, thirdly, that, if the consumer is provided with a duly certified meter for the purposes of ascertaining the value of the supply and the licensee changes the method of charging for the energy supplied by him from the distributing main, the licensee shall bear the expense of providing a new duly certified meter if such is necessary for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to the new method of charging.

Maximum charges.

XII. The price charged by the licensee for energy supplied by him shall not exceed the maximum fixed by his license or, in the case of a method of charge approved by the Local Government, such maximum as the Local Government shall fix on approving the method:

Provided that, if, at any time after the expiration of seven years from the commencement of the license, the Local Government considers or is satisfied that the maximum so fixed or approved as aforesaid should be altered, it may, after such inquiry (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order accordingly, which shall have effect from such date as may be mentioned therein:

Provided, also, that where an order in pursuance of the foregoing proviso has been made, no further order altering the maximum fixed thereby shall be made until the expiration of another period of seven years.

Charge for supply for public lamps.

XIII. The price to be charged by the licensee and to be paid to him for energy supplied for the public lamps, and the mode in which those charges are to be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the licensee and the Local Government or the local authority as the case may be, and, where any difference or dispute arises the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II.)

Testing and inspection.

Licensee to establish testing station and keep instruments for testing.

XIV. The licensee shall, at any place within reasonable distance from any main, establish at his own cost and keep in proper condition such number of testing stations as the Local Government may direct for the purpose of testing the supply of energy in the main, and shall supply and keep in proper condition thereat, and on all premises from which he supplies energy, such instruments for testing as the Local Government may approve, and shall connect all such testing stations, by means of proper and sufficient electric supply-lines, with the distributing mains, and shall supply energy to each testing station for the purpose of testing.

Licensee to give facilities for testing.

XV. The licensee shall afford all facilities for inspection and testing of his generating, converting and testing stations and all other parts of his electric system and for the reading, testing and inspection of instruments.

Representation of licensee at testings.

XVI. The licensee may, on each occasion of the testing of any distributing main or electric supply-line or the testing or inspection of any instruments, be represented by an agent who may be present but shall not interfere with the testing or inspection.

Testing of mains.

XVII. On the occasion of the testing of any main of the licensee by an Electric Inspector, reasonable notice thereof shall be given to the licensee, and the testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of the Electric Inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the licensee, and in such manner as the Electric Inspector may think fit; but, except under the provisions of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government, the Electric Inspector shall not be entitled to have access to, or interfere with, the mains of the licensee at any points other than those at which the licensee has reserved for himself access to the same :

Provided that the licensee shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by or required by the Electric Inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid :

Provided, also, that the testing shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government.

Plans.

Plan of area of supply to be made and kept open for inspection.

XVIII. (1) The licensee shall, after commencing to supply energy, forthwith cause a plan to be made of the area of supply, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line and the height above or the depth below the surface of all his then existing mains, electric supply-lines, street distributing boxes and other works, and shall once in every year cause that plan to be duly corrected so as to show the mains, electric supply-lines, street distributing boxes and other works for the time being in existence. The licensee shall also, if so required by the Local Government, cause to be made sections showing the level of all his existing distributing mains and underground works other than service-lines.

(2) Every such plan shall be drawn to a scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch or to such other scale as may be approved by the Local Government.

(3) Every such section shall be drawn to a horizontal scale which shall not be smaller than eighty-eight feet to the inch and to a vertical scale which shall not be smaller than eleven feet to an inch, or to such other horizontal and vertical scales as may be approved by the Local Government.

(4) Every plan and section so made or corrected, or a copy thereof, marked with the date when it was so made or corrected, shall be kept by the licensee at his principal office or place of business within the area of supply, and shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of all applicants, and copies thereof shall be supplied on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903.

(5) The licensee shall, if required by the Local Government, or, where the licensee is not a local authority, by the local authority (if any) concerned, supply to the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, a copy of every such plan or section duly corrected so as to agree with the original kept at the principal office or place of business of the licensee.

Additional notice of certain works.

Notice to Electric Inspector.

XIX. On the day next preceding the commencement of any such works as are referred to in section 13 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1903, the licensee shall, in addition to any other notices which he may be required to give, serve upon the Electric Inspector or such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf for the area of supply a notice in writing stating that he is about to commence the works and the nature and position of the same.

Reference to Court.

18. (1) Any person interested who has not accepted the award may, by written application to the Collector, require that the matter be referred by the Collector for the determination of the Court, whether his objection be to the measurement of the land, the amount of the compensation, the persons to whom it is payable, or the apportionment of the compensation among the persons interested:

The Indian Works of Defence Act, 1903.

(Part III.—Reference to Court and Procedure thereon.—Section 23-28. Part IV.—Apportionment of Compensation.—Section 29.)

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

23. (1) In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded for damage caused, or to be caused, or for restrictions imposed under this Act, the Court shall take into consideration—

(b) the damage sustained by the person interested, by reason of the removal of any standing crops in the exercise of any power conferred by section 6;

(d) the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested by anything done or ordered under sections 6 and 7 injuriously affecting his other property, moveable or immoveable, in any other manner, or his earnings; and,

(e) if, in consequence of the imposition of restrictions, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change.

(2) In addition to the amount representing the actual decrease in the market-value of the land as above provided, the Court shall in every case award a further sum of fifteen per centum on such amount.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

24. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded for damage caused, or to be caused, or for restrictions imposed under this Act, the Court shall not take into consideration—

(a) the degree of urgency which has led to the damage or the imposition of restrictions;

(b) any disinclination of the person interested to submit to damage or restrictions;

(c) any damage sustained by him, which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to a suit;

(d) any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested, accruing or likely to accrue from anything done under this Act; or

(e) any outlay or improvements on, or disposal of, the land commenced, made or effected without the sanction of the Collector after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 3.

Rules as to amount of compensation.

25. (1) When the applicant has made a claim to compensation, pursuant to any notice given under section 9, the amount awarded to him by the Court shall not exceed the amount so claimed or be less than the amount awarded by the Collector under section 12.

(2) When the applicant has refused to make such claim or has omitted without sufficient reason (to be allowed by the Judge) to make such claim, the amount awarded by the Court shall in no case exceed the amount awarded by the Collector.

(3) When the applicant has omitted for a sufficient reason (to be allowed by the Judge) to make such claim, the amount awarded to him by the Court shall not be less than, and may exceed, the amount awarded by the Collector.

Form of awards.

26. Every award under this Part shall be in writing signed by the Judge and shall specify the amount awarded under section 23, sub-section (1), clause (a), and also the amounts (if any) respectively awarded under each of the other clauses of the same sub-section, together with the grounds of awarding each of the said amounts.

Costs.

27. (1) Every such award shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the proceedings under this Part, and by what persons and in what proportion they are to be paid.

(2) When the award of the Collector is not upheld, the costs shall ordinarily be paid by the Collector, unless the Court is of opinion that the claim of the applicant was so extravagant or that he was so negligent in putting his case before the Collector that some deduction from his costs should be made or that he should pay a part of the Collector's costs.

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation.

28. If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the Court may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of his award to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

PART IV.

APPORTIONMENT OF COMPENSATION.

Particulars of apportionment to be specified.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the Collector may, with the sanction of the Local Government, instead of awarding a money-compensation in respect of any land, make any arrangement with a person having a limited interest in such land, either by the grant of other lands in exchange, or by the remission of land-revenue on the same or on other lands held under the same title, or in such other way as may be equitable having regard to the interests of the parties concerned.

Investment of money deposited in other cases.

33. If any money is deposited in Court under this Act for any cause other than that mentioned in section 32, the Court may, on the application of any party interested or claiming an interest in such money, order the same to be invested in such Government or other approved securities as it thinks fit, and may direct the interest or other proceeds of any such investment to be accumulated and paid in such manner as will, in its opinion, give the parties interested therein the same benefit therefrom as they might have had from the land in respect of which such money was deposited or as near thereto as may be.

Payment of interest.

34. When the amount of any compensation awarded under this Act is not paid or deposited within fifteen days of making the award, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded with interest thereon at the
